Has Come at Last!

Ready-made Clothing at Panic Prices.

We're determined to relieve the pressure caused by our gigantic stock. At no time in the last ten years has there been such excitement in the wholesale Clothing trade as in the past six weeks. Owing to the exceedingly mild weather trade has been disappointing, consequently immense stocks are on hand. When the demand is light prices are low. This season trade was so light that prices were simply paralysed. We were offered from time to time the very finest clothing at prices usually asked for the lowest grade. Unable to resist such tempting offers we bought almost $20.000 worth of Clothing. Now that we have it we find ourselves with a "white elephant" on our hands. The Clothing was bought at our own prices, but as there is little demand for heavy goods these mild days our position is about the same as the farmer and his apple crop. Sighing and thinking of what might have been will do no good. Quick action is necessary. For the balance of this season we close our eyes to real worth and inaugurate a selling soiree that is destined to stand unequalled in our mercantile history.

CASE OF MR. FARROW

Brussels' Postmaster Before the Commissioner

CHARGED WITH ACTIVE PARTISANSHIP

Spoke Against the Liberal Party During the Last Election Campaign—The Postmaster Said to Have Taken the Place of the Candidate, Who Was Ill.

Brussels, Ont., Dec. 15.—This afternoon Barrister Lazier, Q.C., of Belleville, began an investigation into charges laid against Postmaster Farrow, of Brussels, for offensive partisanship in connection with the last Dominion election contest in the Town Hall, Brussels, a large audience being present.

After the commissioner had stated the object of his visit, Lawyer Sinclair, on behalf of complainant, and Lawyer Taylor, for the respondent, discussed some preliminary points, as what should be included in the investigation.

Charge 3 was taken up. The first witness called was Jonathan Moore of Walton, who testified that he had heard Mr. Farrow speak at a Conservative meeting last June in Walton village, in the interest of Mr. Dickenson, the Conservative candidate, and in opposition to the Liberal party.

James McDonald, a ratepayer in Grey Township, was also at the Walton meeting. Mr. Farrow opened the meeting. There were three Conservative speakers against one Liberal. Mr. Farrow's speech was entirely partisan. He showed that if the Liberals were elected the duties would be removed and American wheat, oats, and barley would come pouring into Canada to the sacrifice of the home market. "I interrupted Mr. Farrow and he asked me to take the platform, which I declined."

James McFadyean of Grey Township attended the Walton meeting at which Mr. Farrow was one of the speakers on the Conservative side, and compared the expenditures of the late Government with the Mackenzie regime. "I considered it an unfair criticism. He showed that the times were prosperous and warned the electors of what the result would be if the Liberals were returned. As to free trade, is was a partisan speech. I never heard Mr. Farrow before. He closed with an appeal to have the electors support the Government."

David Campbell of Grey attended the Walton meeting and heard Mr. Farrow speak on behalf of the Conservative party and closed his speech in the usual way. "The speech was jughandled, but can't remember the statements made. I don't want to do Mr. Farrow any harm."

Andrew Johnston saw Mr. Farrow at the Walton meeting and heard him speak on the Conservative side. He heard him speak once before. The speech he made last June was good for his side of politics. No doubt as to which side he was speaking on. He said when the people asked Mackenzie for bread he gave them a stone. Mr. Farrow said the Postoffice Department had checked him for using two envelopes when one would have done.

Jas. J. Denman of Morris was called as witness for the respondent. He was agent for the Conservative candidate, and spoke at the Walton meeting. "Mr. Farrow spoke at the instance of Mr. Dickenson, as the latter was ill. Mr. Farrow was at the meeting, and I asked him to speak for Mr. Dickenson, and he consented, after pressure. He said he was not there intending to speak, but that he had driven out to hear the addresses. Did not think his speech was partisan; thought it weak. I thought he could have done better, comparing it with former efforts. He dwelt on the development of Canada and its growth, nothing a Liberal could take offence at. Did not hear him mention the name of either candidate nor request electors to vote for either party. I asked Mr. Farrow to do some canvassing, but he declined owing to his position. Have known Mr. Farrow for years, and looked upon him as out of politics, since taking the Brussels Postoffice."

Mr. Blair conducted the cross-examination.

Mr. Denman said he thought he was not asking Mr. Farrow to do an improper act in soliciting his aid, as a citizen has a right to have a say in the laws by which he shall be governed. Mr. Farrow said he would do no canvassing owing to his position as postmaster. Speaking may be done from an independent standpoint, but in canvassing it narrows down to party lines. I wanted Mr. Farrow, at Walton, to take the place of Mr. Dickenson as the latter was ill. He spoke of the progress of the country, and contrasted it with the Mackenzie regime. Don't remember the National Policy being mentioned, but he spoke of removal of duties; not positive whether he referred to expenditures or revenues. It was a loyal speech, but don't think it helped the Conservative party. He did not refer to either candidate. Was present at a convention at Gorrie, when Mr. Dickenson was nominated. Mr. Farrow's name was mentioned as a candidate. The persons so proposed adjourned to a room to discuss this subject; remember meeting Mr. Farrow in the convention club room. Mr. Farrow was proposed as a Conservative candidate at Gorrie, but an adjournment was made before a decision was arrived at, and another convention called. Was present at the American Hotel, Brussels, to arrange for a protest against Dr. McDonald; among others present was Mr. Farrow; don't remember Mr. Farrow speaking. He was there about 20 minutes. He spoke and said he did not think the protest would be successful. A subscription was to be taken to defray expenses, but I didn't see the Brussels list.

Charge seven was taken up. Charles Eaket of Grey swore he knew Mr. Farrow for about two years, and knew him to be postmaster at Brussels. He heard him make remarks about Dr. McDonald. He said Dr. McDonald was the biggest political liar he ever knew. Alex. McDonald was present; it was before voting. The statement was made before Mr. Barker of Brussels. Mr. Sinclair served me with a subpoena.

An adjournment was made until Wednesday morning at 9.30 o'clock.

COUNTERFEITING VERY EASY.

No Trouble at All to Make Bogus Silver Coins That Defy Detection—A Government Test.

Washington, Dec. 15.—Treasury officials are in a worse quandary than ever over the question of how to stop the counterfeiting of silver coins. It has been ascertained and proved to their great dissatisfaction that the expensive engraved dies used for stamping the coin can be duplicated at a trifling expense from the coin itself, by what is known as the "hot metal" process.

These "hot metal" dies will do as good work as will the engraved dies, the only difference being that they have not as long life. A set of these dies were made by a mint employe in Philadelphia, and coins were struck from them so perfect that they withstood all tests. This was done at the suggestion, and in the presence of mint officials, who had doubted the possibility of the feat.

The conclusion is reached that counterfeiting is being carried on extensively in several places. Occasionally a counterfeit coin is found which, on assay, is found to be of different fineness from the standard, 900 fine, or of different weight, but since it otherwise defies the tests the inference is plain that by making the coin 900 fine and of just the right weight, any quantity of counterfeit silver can be coined and floated with safety from detection.

No change of device will afford any protection, so long as millions of the old coins are outstanding, nor has any device been suggested which in reality offers any great difficulty for counterfeiters to overcome.

Where the counterfeiting is being done is equally a mystery. If the director of the mint had directly under his control a number of special officers he might be able to break up the gang of operators, but the secret service is a separate branch and has so far proven unable to grapple with the situation.

When it is remembered that the thousands of internal revenue officers and deputy marshals can only in a degree check the making of moonshine whiskey, it is small wonder that the immensely profitable work of counterfeiting silver coin should be rapidly developing.

There is a strong suspicion that machinery from some of the numerous independent Mexican mints, which have of recent years been bought in and closed by the Mexican Government, has been transported to quiet places in the mountains in the vicinity of one of the railroads and near the border line, and that its output gets across the line in the form of United States dollars.

It is an easy matter to dispose of coins which defy Treasury experts, and there does not seem to be any remedy for the situation except free coinage.

SLAVE TRADE STILL FLOURISHING

Half a Million Lives Sacrificed Every Year in the Hideous Traffic in Africa.

New York, Dec. 15.—Hell Chatelain, a traveler in the Dark Continent, lectured before the American Geographical Society at Chickering Hall last evening on "The Internal Slave Trade in Africa."

"If anyone thinks that slave trading is a thing of the past," he said, "he is mistaken. Among the 200,000,000 of people in Africa, at least 50,000,000 are slaves." If a British estimate, to which he referred, was correct, Mr. Chatelain said 500,000 lives were sacrificed every year in the traffic. In a large part of the interior slaves were the regular currency. Parents sold their children.

"In Morocco," the lecturer added, "slave trading is carried on under the protection of our Stars and Stripes. Moroccan Jews, who are prohibited by law from holding slaves, place themselves under the protection of our flag in order to carry on the traffic." He showed pictures of slaves who had been abandoned to die along the caravan roads. According to the report of a German Consul, strangers who knew not the road to one city had only to keep in the middle between the two lines of bleaching bones of slaves who had been left there to die, and they could not miss their way.

Attempted Murder and Suicide.

Detroit, Dec. 14—Dr. Chase, a son of old Dr. Chase of Ann Arbor, author of Chase's Recipe Book, shot his wife and then suicided to-day.

He married his wife, a Miss Hankin, in Toledo, 18 years ago. At that time Chase was well-to-do, but became dissipated and ran through his property. The physicians at the hospital now say that Mr. and Mrs. Chase have a slight chance to live.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

Rich Lumbermen to Have a Big Lawsuit

MEDICAL MEN HOLD A MEETING

To Arrange for Unionmity With the Old Country—The Government Asked to Buy Bale des Chaleurs Railroad and Make it a Part of the Intercolonial System.

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 15.—(Special.)—Alex. Fraser, the millionaire lumberman, has entered suit against the Hull Lumber Company to compel them to remove the power-house and sawmill off the northwest corner of the celebrated Table Rock at Chaudiere. Successful termination of the suit for Mr. Fraser would practically drive the Hull Company from the Chaudiere, as the claim is made for the portion of Table Rock at which the power to run the mills is derived. The suit is the outcome of the dissatisfaction over the merging of the old Buell-Hurdman Company into the Hull Lumber Company, and it is a significant fact that this suit is entered in the Quebec Court simultaneously with the action entered by the Hurdmans in the Ontario courts.

A number of Quebec politicians were here to-day in reference to the Baie des Chaleurs Railway matter. The delegates was headed by Senator Thibaudeau and Mr. Prefontaine, M.P. The report of the two engineers who were deputed to go over the line is now under the consideration of the Government. The railway is about 80 miles long and extends from Metapedia Junction, on the Intercolonial Railway, to Paspebiac, in Bonaventure County. It is ultimately intended to build to Gaspe Basin, 120 miles further east. Senator Thibaudeau and his associates want the Government to buy the line and operate it as a branch of the Intercolonial Railway.

Over forty of the medical practitioners of the city met to-night and organized an Ottawa branch of the British Medical Association. Similar branches have been formed in Montreal, Halifax and Winnipeg. The object is to assist in unification of the laws bearing on the practice of medicine throughout the British Empire. The formation of these branches in Canada is opportune in view of the approaching annual meeting of the parent association, which is to be held in Montreal next August. Dr. Roddick, M.P., of Montreal, president of the Medical Association, was present to-night, and spoke of the importance to Canada of the contemplated visit of 1000 British medical men next year. He mentioned incidentally that two of the Allan steamers, which it had been proposed to engage to convey delegates to Canada, were in the meantime chartered by the Spanish Government to carry troops to Cuba. Dr. Roddick is the first colonial president of this important body. The officers elected to-night were C. R. Church, president; L. C. Provost, vice-president; W. C. Cousens, treasurer; C. P. Dewar, secretary. The meeting was a most enthusiastic one. The local doctors are highly pleased at the prospective visit to Ottawa of this important body.

Sir Richard Cartwright and Hon. Mr. Fielding left for Montreal this afternoon to resume the tariff inquiry. The Controller of Customs leaves in the morning.

The Premier and Hon. W. R. Scott will address a meeting in Cornwall tomorrow.

Thomas P. Anderson of Napanee has been appointed collector of customs at that port.

Sir John Carling is in town, also Hon. Peter Mitchell.

The Marine Department is inviting tenders for the crib work substructure for Rainy River range lights. The plans will be on view at Rat Portage.

A free Dominion dairy school in the Maritime Provinces will be held at Sussex, N.B., from January to March. Last year 54 students attended a similar school.

A blue book, which will be of great benefit to settlers in the west, has just been issued by the Interior Department. It deals with the progress of irrigation in the territories.

Mr. Mara, ex-M.P. for Yale, was in the city to-day. He left for Toronto to-night.

Mr. Bostock, M.P., who was Mr. Mara's successful opponent in the last election, arrived from England to-day. He says there is a growing interest in England in British Columbia as a field for investment.

There are 10,399 voters on the Ottawa municipal lists.

Through trains between Ottawa and Parry Sound will commence to run next Monday.

Mr. Harwood, M.P., and Mr. Beausoleil, M.P., were in the city to-day.

The investigation into the manner in which the recent fire on Sparks-street was handled by the brigade is being held with closed doors.

WINNIPEG NOTES.

W. F. McCreary Elected Mayor in a Quintangular Fight—Sifton Banquet a Big Success.

Winnipeg, Dec. 16.—(Special.)—Winnipeg had an exciting fight to-day for the mayoralty. There were five candidates, Ald. W. F. McCreary heading the poll, but only a hundred or so ahead of E. F. Hutchings. Alex. Black was third, Alex McMicken fourth and Ald. Sproule last.

The Sifton banquet to-night at the Hotel Manitoba was a great success. A number of prominent Conservatives attended and made the affair politically colorless. Mayor Jameson presided and Mr. Sifton made a splendid speech, declaring that population was the great need of the west, and to obtain population he would earnestly labor.

Mr. Sifton goes east to-morrow with Premier Greenway.

Drowned Like Rats in a Hole

London, Dec. 14.—While the British steamer Orotava, which arrived here Dec. 2 from Sydney, was coaling to-day at Tilbury, 20 miles below London, she suddenly careened and an immense quantity of water poured through her port holes, which were open. Four men who were working below were drowned before they could reach the companion ways.

Mate Brann on Trial.

Boston, Dec. 14.—The trial of Thomas Brann, mate of the barque Herbert Fuller, who is charged with murdering Captain Nash and his wife, was begun here to-day. A jury was impannelled after a good deal of difficulty and the court adjourned till to-morrow.

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of blood, to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and prevent such eruptions and suffering.

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our built me up and restored my health so that, although the doctor said I would not be able to work hard, I have since done the work for 20 people. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured my husband of the boils, and we regard it a wonderful medicine." MRS. ANNA PETERSON, Latimer, Kansas.

THE HARVEY SCHOOL QUESTION.

To the Editor of the Examiner

DEAR SIR,—I wish you would allow me space in the columns of your paper to correct some of the statements made by L. T. H., under the heading "The Harvey School Question," in your last week's issue. In it L. T. H. said that he thought a half truth was more misleading than a whole falsehood. Well, I suppose he lived up to his belief and wrote accordingly. Be this as it may we will not discuss it at length, neither will we discuss the merits of the respective teachers, but just some of the main facts. In the first place he said that the account of the affair was garbled by the correspondent who wrote it, which is not the case, as it was true in every particular, only it did not suit the dissatisfied ones, hence the letter. Then he goes on about the secretary-treasurer supressing part of the inspector's report, but there is no need of touching on that subject here, as it will be fully threshed out at the annual meeting, which is the proper place for such matters. The charges then can can be answered to the satisfaction of parties interested. With regard to the petition that was sent to the inspector, many who signed it did so more from a wish to keep the salary as low as possible, rather than a wish to retain the teacher and not, as L. T. H. would have us believe, by incensed parents who wished to retain her services. As to the choice of a trustee to fill Mr. Gerrard's place, as he represented one part of the section, it was no more than fair that they should have another in his place. As Mr. Richmond lived in that part of the section, he was chosen, and I think they made a very good choice, as he is well respected by all, and although younger than Mr. Ventress, is possessed of just as clear and impartial a judgment, and they will find that Mr. Richmond can assert himself as well as Mr. Ventress, and not make any noise over it either. About the distance he lives from the school, I never knew before that a trustee had to live in sight of the school house. I don't think such a thing has been called in question before, so long as they lived in the section. L. T. H. makes a very misleading statement when he says that Mr. Ventress received sixteen votes out of twenty eight of men who had children attending school from their homes, and only gives Mr. Richmond credit for eleven heads of families. Where this statement is misleading is that those sixteen are mostly farmers' sons, who have votes. As near as I can make out, Mr. Ventress had only eight heads of families who had children going to school, but L. T. H. did not give Mr. Richmond credit for any votes, only heads of families, which was hardly fair, to say the least. I think if it was sifted, the sixteen votes would be made smaller, so where is the great victory, and people awakening out of their lethargy, that L. T. H. raves about? Those true statements that he gathered so carefully are too much exaggerated, and his comparisons too far-reaching (as he goes all the way to England after them) to be taken seriously. I am afraid he will be worse off than Mr. Richmond's bugler, for he won't have breath enough left after such a long winded epistle even to blow his own trumpet, unless it was intended for his death song.

Thanking you for the space kindly given in your valuable paper, I remain,

Respectfully yours,

A LOVER OF FAIR PLAY.

Women are not the only ones who are sensitive about their ages. A man doesn't like to be told that he is getting old. Health keeps a man young. It doesn't make any difference if he has lived eighty years. If they have been healthy years, he will be hale and hearty and won't look within twenty years as old as he is. Good digestion and rich, red blood make people look youthful. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood. It makes health in the right way. It works according to the right theory, and in 30 years of practice, it has proved that the theory is absolutely correct. It begins at the beginning—begins by putting the stomach, liver and bowels into perfect order, but it begins its good work on the blood before it finishes with the digestive system. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be and forces them out of the body. All druggists keep the "Discovery."

HARVEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. C. Fairbairn, ex-M. P., of Verulam, has put a small gang of men to take out wood and logs. We understand that he has sold the land to Jas. Richmond, but he retains the timber, which he has the privilege of taking out in a limited time.

Mr. McGrath, culler for the Rathbun Co., has been around visiting the jobbers on Squaw river for the past week.

John O'Donnell has over seven thousand pieces cut and James Richmond has upwards of a thousand.

Now that the time of the year is fast approaching for the election of the new county councillors the ratepayers of Harvey should be united in their support of Robert Shaw to the office. He has been in the council now for several years and has performed the duties of his office both with credit to himself and benefit to those he represented. We see no reason therefore why Mr. Shaw should not receive the loyal support of all and let Harvey have the honour of having a representative in the first of the new county councils.

Louis King, who has resided here for a number of years, has removed to the neighbourhood of Sandy Lake.

KINMOUNT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The union Sunday school is preparing for a grand time on the first Sunday and Monday of January. They intend having Conductor Snider preach two sermons on Sunday, and lecture on Monday evening. Subject of lecture, "On the road and the people we meet." The choir is working hard to give the best musical treat on this occasion ever produced in Kinmount. Every person should hear Conductor Snider, and help along the Sunday school as the proceeds are to be spent in purchasing suitable reading matter for the young people of our village.

Mr. John Oglestone returned from the shanty with a bad cut in his foot. He is able to go about with crutches.

Mr. Jas. Ritchie, while chopping in the woods last week gave himself a bad cut in the foot. Angus Gillespie did the same thing.

Mr. J. C. Craig of our village, the well known lock inventor, is now the inventor of a gearless lever mowing machine. Preparations are being made for a field trial in July of 1897. Several mechanics who have carefully examined the construction of the invention, think that a field trial is scarcely necessary, the construction being so simple and practically constructed, that no doubt exists as to the utility of the machine or success of a field trial. The invention is said to be one of the most peculiar constructions of mowing machines that the scrutineers of the patent office have had to contend with for years. No long pitman is used, no pitman shaft and no gearing. Not one single cog wheel is used in the entire construction. The chains are very strong which, together with the drawings, were prepared by Henry Grist, of Ottawa, Mr. Craig's attorney, one of the smartest patent counsellors in Canada. A brass model, in perfect working order, has been on exhibition for some time. The cutting bar of this machine folds up without stopping the reciprocation motion of the knives, and having many other advantages together with the working parts being constructed with many pieces less than the Toronto mower.

Mr. Craig intends proceeding with the construction of a steel binder to tie the sheaves with its own straws, if his success is good in a field trial of the mower in July. An invention of this kind is well known to be worth hundreds of thousands of dollars. Mr. Craig has already built a model of a binder of this kind, but some further valuable improvements, which he has lately thought out, will necessitate the building of a new model.

It is often a mystery how a cold has been "caught." The fact is, however, that when the blood is poor and the system depressed, one becomes peculiarly liable to diseases. When the appetite or the strength fails, Ayer's Sarsaparilla should be taken without delay.

A FARMER IN TROUBLE.

A Grenville County Man Speaks his Mind—Feels Like a New Man—Cured by Four Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Cardinal, Dec. 7 (Special)—Mr. Robert McIntosh, a farmer widely known in this county, and living near this village, has been in a painful and dangerous condition as the result of kidney disease affecting the bladder. When called upon he said:

"During three years, until quite recently cured by using four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, I have been an intense sufferer from kidney disease which kept going from bad to worse though I was doctoring all the time."

Under advice I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills, at once realizing great help. I now feel like a new man and am perfectly cured of kidney trouble in any form.

A General Massacre in the Philippine Islands.

SOLDIERS KILLED BY PRISONERS.

The Latter in Turn Shot Down Indiscriminately—English Papers Caution the United States in Regard to Spain and Cuba—French Steamer Lost With All Hands—European News.

Madrid, Dec. 15.—A despatch received from Singapore says that the natives of Mindanao Island, which, after Luzon, is the largest of the Philippine Islands, have revolted and that many of the native troops are deserting to the insurgents. It is further stated that the situation at Manila is full of anxiety. Bands of insurgents frequently approach that town, which is the capital of the Philippine Islands, and situated on the Island of Luzon, and at night time fire volleys into the place.

A despatch to The Imparcial from Singapore admits that there has been a general massacre at Caville, the fortified seaport town on the Island of Luzon. It adds that 150 prisoners revolted, killed six soldiers, seized arms and tried to raise the native inhabitants against the garrison. The advices say that the revolt failed, that the rebels were shot down in the streets and that a general massacre followed during the night. Scores of corpses were picked up, and many of the prisoners who were recaptured were shot the following morning.

A despatch to The Imparcial from Manila, the capital of the Philippine Islands, says the rebellion in those islands is spreading, and bands of insurgents infest the outskirts of the city of Manila. Advices from the Caroline and Marianne Islands say risings are imminent there. The Cabinet Council, which was held yesterday, decided to purchase the English transport steamer Prince of Wales in order to expedite the transportation of troops to Manila, and it was also decided to purchase a complete equipment of new rifles for the troops.

A WORD OF WARNING.

London Papers Caution the Yankees in Regard to Spain and Cuba.

London, Dec. 15.—The Times, commenting on the Cuban situation, expresses the hope that the Spaniards will "continue to disregard the vituperation of the Jingo Senators and abstain from imitating them," adding: "The American Government maintains a correct and neutral attitude, and as long as it does so Spain can afford to smile at Senator Chandler's off-hand recognition of the Cuban Republic."

The Globe says: "When these wild men rave at England, British feeling regards them as amusing lunatics, whose grotesque antics do not carry much danger to either country. But the Spanish are more easily inflamed in danger. There are many indications that this passive submission to insult will not last much longer. It would be well, therefore, for the Washington Government to place restraint on Senator Chandler and his colleagues. If Spain is goaded to uphold her honor by arms, a naval war might have results not at all agreeable to the American Chauvinists."

Newburg, N.Y., Dec. 15.—A few weeks ago the Associated Charities Organization here found a home for a colored girl of 14 years, named Rosa King, in the family of Rev. J. Wood, at Mountainville, this county. The family did what they could for her, but she proved incorrigible. One evening they noticed that their tea had a peculiar taste, and it was thrown away. The girl confessed that she emptied a bottle of medicine into the teapot, and it has been ascertained that the medicine contained arsenic. A few days ago Rev. Mr. Wood's barn was burned and the girl, upon being questioned by Marshal Perrott today, confessed she set fire to it. She said the devil told her to do it. At another time she built a fire on the floor of a room in the Wood residence, but failed to burn the house down. She will be examined in the Recorder's Court to-morrow.

INJURY AND NEGLECT.

He Failed in Health and Strength—His Kidneys Ached and he Took Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Deseronto, Dec. 14 (Special)—Among business people here, and especially by his fellow workmen, great interest has been taken in the case of Mr. James Stokes, who for the past fifteen years has been shipper for the Rathbun Company.

Lately he had run down in health and strength to the point of being compelled to quit work, and his recovery now as the result of using Dodd's Kidney Pills is the talk of the town. On seeing Mr. Stokes he said:—

"From over-lifting and strain I suffered greatly from kidney trouble, being advised, after all else had failed, to use Dodd's Kidney Pills; from the first dose I got relief, and hundreds of people here can vouch for my cure."

Must Handle it Gingerly.

New York, Dec. 14.—Nathan M. Murphy, delegate to Congress, came from Washington Saturday night to stay over Sunday. In talking about the Cuban question last night he said: "A majority of both Houses is unquestionably in favor of doing something to help the Cubans, but the Senators and Representatives do not know precisely what to do or how to do it. I sat near Chairman R. R. Hitt of the Foreign Affairs Committee, and I gathered from what he said that nothing would be done this week, but that the question might be brought before the House by the committee next week.

"The financial interests of this country have enormous influence in legislation, as no doubt they should have. The money interests do not want anything to happen that shall disturb credit and confidence. I suppose every Senator and every member of Congress has received telegrams, and letters from prominent persons whom they know, asking that the Cuban question be treated with great caution and deprecating any course that might result in war."

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Has Come at Last!

Ready-made Clothing at Panic Prices.

We're determined to relieve the pressure caused by our gigantic stock. At no time in the last ten years has there been such excitement in the wholesale Clothing trade as in the past six weeks. Owing to the exceedingly mild weather trade has been disappointing, consequently immense stocks are on hand. When the demand is light prices are low. This season trade was so light that prices were simply paralysed. We were offered from time to time the very finest clothing at prices usually asked for the lowest grade. Unable to resist such tempting offers we bought almost $20.000 worth of Clothing. Now that we have it we find ourselves with a "white elephant" on our hands. The Clothing was bought at our own prices, but as there is little demand for heavy goods these mild days our position is about the same as the farmer and his apple crop. Sighing and thinking of what might have been will do no good. Quick action is necessary. For the balance of this season we close our eyes to real worth and inaugurate a selling soiree that is destined to stand unequalled in our mercantile history.

WEDDED IN LONDON.

Nuptials of Captain Kirkpatrick and Miss Helen Dennistoun.

The following cablegram refers to a wedding, which took place in London, England, this morning, and in which Peterborough is deeply interested, the lady being one of our most charming and accomplished young ladies, Miss Helen Dennistoun. THE EXAMINER extends the cordial congratulations the occasion calls for.

London Dec. 16.—Capt. C. M. Kirkpatrick, son of Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick, Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, was married in St. Peter's church, in this city, this morning, his bride being Miss Helen Dennistoun, daughter of the late J. F. Dennistoun, Q. C., Peterborough, Ontario.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon A. F. Kirkpatrick. The service was full choral. The bride wore a dress of white satin trimmed with chiffon lace and orange blossoms. The groomsman was Captain George Cartwright, of Kingston, Ontario. The bride's mother gave a large reception after the wedding. Among the guests were Sir Donald A. Smith, Canadian High Commissioner, Hon. R. R. Dobell and wife, John Paton and wife, J. D. Mackenzie and wife and Admiral Dennistoun. The brid's travelling dress was of fawn coloured cloth trimmed with blue velvet.

THE MAYORALTY ELECTION.

Mr. W. H. Moore Accepts the Candidature.

The following indicates that Mr. W. H. Moore, councillor for No. 3 Ward, has accepted the candidature for the mayoralty of the town :

16th Dec., 1896.

Messrs. Thos. Brady, Thos. Irwin, J. W. Miller, Jas. Burnett, Wm. Might, W. S. Cocks, Jas. Montgomery, Adam Kernaghan, Wm. Saxby, Wm. Curtis, Wm. Hartley, Wm. Cooper, John Kemp, Fred Mitchell, E. B. Clegg, H. B Mcharry, J.J. Turner, Henry Green, E. F. Mason, Thos. A. Redner, Arthur Smith, M. Boyce, Wm. A. Henry, and over 150 other municipal electors :

DEAR SIRS,—I beg to acknowledge the honour done to me by your presentation of so large and representative a request asking that I permit myself to be put in nomination as a candidate for the mayoralty for 1897. I accept the responsibility implied, and I assure you and the ratepayers of the town generally, that if elected, I shall, on all occasions, exert myself to the utmost to advance in every respect the best interests of the town.

It will be impossible for me to make any general canvas of the town, and I have suggested to Mr. Yelland, who I believe is to be a candidate, that neither of us solicit votes personally of the electors, but instead call a public meeting to discuss the various municipal matters, in which the ratepayers are interested, and leave it with them to decide whom they prefer. He has declined to do this, and therefore, as the time is limited, and my business cannot be wholly neglected, I must ask these electors who requested me to be a candidate, and the many others who have personally me urged to the same course, that they do their share in assisting in my election. I am,

Dear sirs,
Your very obedient servant,
W. H. MOORE.

A CORDIAL WELCOME TO REV. A. T. DYKEMAN.

THE MURRAY STREET BAPTISTS GREET THEIR NEW PASTOR.

The Right Hand of Fellowship—Town Pastors Join in the Greeting and Welcome—The Preliminary Banquet.

Last night the congregation of the Murray street Baptist church most heartily united in extending a most hearty welcome to their new pastor, Rev. A. T. Dykeman, and his estimable wife.

From six to eight a banquet was enjoyed in the basement—banquet because the refreshments provided were of a quality and abundance, and served with an elegance that fully justifies the term. There was a large attendance of the congregation, besides many from other churches.

Adjournment was made after supper to the auditorium of the church. Mr. E. A. Stanley occupied the chair and briefly stated that they were assembled to signalize the occasion of formally welcoming a new pastor, Rev. A. T. Dykeman, to the pastorate of the church. The further purpose was to give an opportunity to the members of the congregation to become acquainted with the pastor and his wife.

The proceedings began by the hearty singing by choir and congregation of the hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus name. A selection by the choir was also sung—"Come Holy Spirit," the solo being taken by Mrs. (Dr.) Scott.

Mr. Benjamin Matthews, the senior deacon of the church, on behalf of the church, extended the right hand of welcome to Rev. A. T. Dykeman, and added a few words of verbal welcome, coupled with the prayer that his pastorate might be fruitful of good works, and that his stay amongst the people of the congregation and in the town would be a happy one.

At this point two charming little girls—Rosie Kidd and Pansy Kemp, advanced to the pulpit platform, fairly bending under the weight of a large and beautiful bouquet of flowers, which they gracefully presented to Rev. Mr. Dykeman.

THE PASTOR'S REPLY.

Rev. Mr. Dykeman said he did not know what words to use to express his thankfulness and heartfelt gratitude for the warm-hearted and cordial welcome that had been extended him. He believed God put it into their hearts to call him to this work, and that God had put it in his heart to accept. He said that he had left, in his flock in Digby, the best and warmest-hearted people on the face of God's footshot. Their farewell remembrance of him was something he and his wife would not soon forget. Yet he felt that it was his duty to leave them and accept the call to Peterborough. Though he felt very deeply the welcome of the adults, what touched his heart most deeply was this (holding up the beautiful bouquet of flowers)—the tribute of the little ones. He regarded it as an indication that the bond of sympathy extended through all the conditions of his flock.

A vocal trio was well given by Misses Grace and Nellie Stanley and Miss May Routley.

REV. DR. TORRANCE, of St. Paul's, opened his remarks by a playful reference to the chairman's hint that speakers were to be brief, but in his case it was obviously a physical impossibility for him to be brief. (Laughter.) After telling a pleasant story, Dr. Torrance said it gave him a great deal of pleasure to be present to welcome Mr. Dykeman to Peterborough, whom he regarded as a general would regard the arrival of reinforcements to his army. He was glad to welcome Mr. Dykeman as a strong addition to the forces in Peterborough that were fighting all the forms of evil. Dr. Torrance concluded by saying that he had been present at the reception of Mr. Trotter, and though it gave him great pleasure to be present to welcome Mr. Dykeman, he hoped that he would never again be called upon to attend another such occasion in the Baptist church in Peterborough.

MR. JAMES KENDRY, M P.,

gave a few words of welcome on behalf of the public laity of the town, and hoped Rev. Mr. Dykeman's stay would be long and pleasant.

REV. MR. KIRKPATRICK, the pastor of the Baptist church, Bailliieboro, also extended a cordial welcome to the new pastor, as one of the Baptist pastors of this Association. He felt sure that under his pastorate the church would prosper.

REV. E. C. MCLEOD, of the Gilmour Memorial Baptist church, as the oldest pastor, with one exception, in the Association, gave a graceful welcome and the right hand of fellowship. A pastor might labour faithfully, but if he laboured successfully he must have the earnest co-operation of the people. Pastors and officials and people ought to be one in extending help in sustaining his hands.

Miss Grace Stanley contributed a pleasing vocal solo.

Rev. Mr. Tapecott of the Baptist Mission could not be present, but sent a letter of regret as well as welcome to the new pastor.

Rev. J. G. Potter of St. Andrews, in a brief speech, referred to the fact that the Maritime Provinces had furnished three pastors to Peterborough—Rev. Dr. Dykeman, late of Digby, N. S., Rev. Father Scanlan of the Cathedral, late of Halifax, and Mr. Potter himself, late of Halifax. He most warmly welcomed Rev. Mr. Dykeman as a co-worker in the common work for God in which all the churches are engaged. He, (Mr Potter) though only a short time resident in Peterborough, could speak very highly of the hearty hospitality of the citizens, and Mr. Dykeman could be assured that the longer he lived in Peterborough the better he would like it and its people.

Rev. W. C. Beer of Ashburnham, wished to heartily join with others who had spoken in cordially welcoming Rev. Mr. Dykeman to the pastorate of the church, and to the town. The flock would best show their appreciation of their pastor's work by practising what he preaches.

Mrs. (Dr.) Scott contributed a well sung solo, "Come unto Me."

The chairman stated that Mr. Stratton, M. P. P., who was present earlier in the evening, had to leave on account of an engagement, but he left a message of welcome and congratulation.

REV. W. R. YOUNG,

of the George street church, on behalf of his congregation extended a most hearty welcome to Rev. Mr. Dykeman both as a Christian co-worker and as a citizen, feeling sure that he would always be found on the side of the right. He could speak from experience very highly of the hospitality of the people of Peterborough, and he particularly emphasized the warm welcome he had enjoyed outside the social circles of his own flock.

Rev. Mr. Dykeman, who seemed deeply touched, acknowledged in feeling terms the cordial reception that had been extended himself and Mrs. Dykeman. Before he came to Peterborough he heard a good report of the place and his experience since he came seemed to fully justify such a reputation.

The occasion was brought to a close by the singing of "Blest be the Tie that Binds."

THE MAYORALTY CONTEST.

By an announcement appearing in another column, it will be seen that Mr. W. H. Moore, at present a councillor in No. 3 Ward, has accepted the candidature for the office of mayor, and will therefore oppose Mr. Mayor Yelland, in the contest thus brought about. As has before been pointed out it is an understood arrangement that a mayor who has been elected after a contest is entitled to a second term unopposed : and it would seem that Mr. Yelland's services to the town during the past year justify him in claiming the benefit of such an understanding as to an unopposed return. However, Mr. Moore, as he has a right to do, has seen fit to ignore the understanding referred to, and, as he has a similiar right to do, announced himself as a candidate for the mayoralty. Mr. Moore has been in the council on various terms and his record is before the people. During the past year he has been chairman of the Finance Committee and now aspires to the highest municipal office in the gift of the people. The contest will likely be an animated one as both candidates claim to have a good following and both enter the field with a determination to win.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT SHOWS A SURPLUS.

Nine-tenths of Last Year's Extra Mill was Eaten up by Uncontrollable Expenditure—Seven-tenths went to the Schools.

The statutory meeting of the Town Council was held last night, and the members did not go into session until a quarter to ten o'clock. Those present were the Mayor, and Councillors Best, W. White, Mills, Weir, Sawers, Moore, Langford, Graham and John White.

COMMUNICATIONS

were received and referred as follows:

From Emmeline Lilly, applying for remission of taxes.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

From Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson, enclosing plan showing poles to be erected by the Auburn Power Co., and asking the council's approval.—Received.

From Mrs. Mary Godfrey, asking remission of taxes.—Remitted on motion of Councillors Sawers and Wm. White.

From Robt. Grant, stating that if a cheque for $378 46 be not immediately issued him by the town he would issue a writ.—Ordered to be paid when certified to by the Town Engineer.

From Peter Hamilton Mfg. Co. as follows:—Your petitioners would respectfully ask your attention to the following:—That we were connected with the old sewer at the intersection of King and Water streets: that the connection so far as we were concerned was all that was required: that owing to the falling in of the old sewer east of Water street and the filling up of the same by the town officials we were compelled to have connection made to the new sewer: that when the new part of the sewer was being constructed on King and Water streets we were not connected with it. We know that all those on George street that were connected with the old sewer were protected and provision made in the contract for the new sewer to make these connections. We feel that are quite within our rights to ask you to give us the same consideration given to others and assume the cost incurred making the connection to the new sewer on King street.—Granted on motion of Councillors Best and Wm. White.

From W. J. Overend asking remission of dog tax.—Granted on his taking the statutory declaration.

From Stewart Fanning asking remission of poll tax.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

1. The amount paid out on charity account this year, up to date, is $2,248.25, but we have on hand wood to the value of $242.75, which makes the actual expenditure to date $2,005.50, as compared with $2,293.75 expended last year up to the same date, showing a saving of $288.25, as compared with last year.

2. Your committee desires to acknowledge and return thanks for the valuable assistance it has received during the year from charitable citizens and especially the clergymen of all denominations and the officers of the Children's Aid Society, and we would commend the Children's Aid Society to the support of all citizens.

In commenting on the statement Councillor Moore drew attention to the following particulars. The Charity Committee's expenditure is $300 less than last year, and its disbursements were not given in a niggardly spirit but were properly applied. Elections cost $108 last year and $72 in 1896. The Fire Department cost $3,409 in 1895, and $3,209 in 1896, and yet 100 extra feet of hose was purchased and a team of horses. The interest account is $50 less. Law cost $393 more, without taking into account the costs of the Jackson suit.

The Mayor stated that the costs of the Mason suit should not be charged to this year, as they were incurred about four years ago.

Councillor Moore pointed out that lighting was costing $100 more, and in reference to a $100 fine imposed by the town and paid over to the county, he thought that legislation should be asked concerning such matters, as although the criminal code directed the payments of fines imposed in indictable cases to be paid to the county, yet the town was apart from the county and therefore should demand special legislation on this point. The grant to Roman Catholic schools was increased by $250. The Streets and Bridges account was swelled on account of the extra expenditure on the new bridge across the creek on George street and the raising of that thoroughfare to more thoroughly cover the mains. The special grants amounted to about $450 less this year than last. The street watering account had run into larger figures, but a new cart had been purchased. The amount of the roll showed that nearly $5,000.00 more had been raised this year than last. The rate had been a mill higher, but only one-tenth of this amount had gone to the town proper. Seven-tenths had been given the schools and two-tenths had to be raised for the Town Trust. Therefore, nine-tenths of the extra mill should be credited to the uncontrollable expenditure.

SOME RESOLUTIONS.

It was moved by Councillors Moore and Langford, "That the town treasurer be instructed to credit the streets and bridges account and carry to the debit of the town sewers account, on Sewer No. 3, north of Townsend street, the sum of $2,000, the cost of raising George street, required to be done to protect the sewer mains."—Carried.

A bylaw was introduced by Councillor Moore to provide for the transfer of surplus moneys from the accounts of certain committees to the accounts of others at present overdrawn. It received its several readings and was passed.

Councillors John White and Graham moved that a light be placed on the corner of Smith street and Benson avenue at the railroad crossing.—Carried.

The council then adjourned.

Mercer's

Even baby understands that it is not right that mother should be always sickly, nervous, fretful and cross. Baby wonders what is the matter. Baby would willingly help if he could. It lies with the woman herself to help herself. No one else can do it. She can help herself if she will. If a woman will take proper care of her womanly self; if she will use the right remedy for weakness and disease of the organs that bear the burdens of maternity, she will soon be healthy, vigorous and amiable. She will be able to help baby, instead of leaving baby to try and help her.

A wonderful remedy for weakness and disease of the organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible is found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on these organs. It makes them strong and healthy. It has transformed thousands of suffering, pain-racked women into healthy, happy wives and mothers. It allays inflammation, soothes pain, and steadies and invigorates the nerves. It prepares for wifehood and motherhood. It insures inherently healthy children. All good druggists sell it. There is nothing "just the same" or "just as good." The druggist who tells you there is, is either mistaken or dishonest.

Mrs. Joseph Simmons, of Hazelgreen, Grant County, Wis., writes: "Inclosed find postage stamps, for which please send me the 'People's Common Sense Medical Adviser.' I have used your Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and his Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pellets' and have received a great deal of benefit from them."

When a story writer puts in a doctor he is always said to "Look wise." Over one million people have looked wise and acted wisely. They have bought Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Of these wise folks, 680,000 of them paid $1.50 a copy for the book. It was cheap at that. It is a book of 1008 pages, with 300 illustrations. Think of that. A medical book too. Everybody knows how expensive a medical education is. Now there is a great edition of this book, that is being given away. You pay the cost of customs and mailing, that's all. You send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in strong manilla covers. If you desire a fine embossed cloth cover, send 50 one-cent stamps. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

A statute was passed which defines the conditions for obtaining an scholarship as "first-class honors in the department to which the scholarship is attached."

A statute was passed which relieves the students of the present third year in Mathematics and Physics of the Physical Chemistry of the second year.

Hereafter on special application to the Senate it may be possible for the payment of a scholarship to be deferred for a period longer than the one year which is permissible under the present regulations.

AGAINST CANADA.

Congressmen Mahony and Wilbur Want to Keep Our Young Men Out of the Great Republic.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Two drastic bills have been introduced in Congress, which, while they do not make any distinction between nationalities, have been evidently framed with the express purpose of operation against Canadians.

One of the bills, introduced by Congressman Mahony of Buffalo, N. Y., aims at the more complete shutting out of Canadian labor in the cities along the border. It reads as follows: "Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, that on and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for aliens, unless they have declared their intentions to become citizens of the United States, and can show an uninterrupted residence in this country of one year from the date of such declaration, to be employed in any capacity on work to be constructed or completed by the Government, or by contractors under contracts entered into subsequent to the passage of this act.

"That for each and every violation thereof there shall be imposed a fine of not less than $100 or more than $500, or imprisonment for not less than one month nor more than three, or both penalties, in the discretion of the court."

The other bill is by Congressman Wilbur of New York. It provides that every male immigrant of 18 years and over shall pay a duty of $100; each immigrant shall bring from the American consul of his sailing port a certificate that the amount of duty has not been advanced by any syndicate, corporation or employer, and that the bearer is a man of good repute; each immigrant shall read and write; immediately upon landing he shall renounce his allegiance to his mother country and declare his intention of becoming an American citizen, to which he shall take a prescribed oath.

OLD BOXERS AT IT.

Jem Mace and Donovan Greeted by a Large Crowd at Broadway Athletic Club.

New York, Dec. 14.—About 2500 people attended the Mace-Donovan benefit at the Broadway Athletic Club to-night. In addition to the ex-heavyweight champion of the world and the one-time American middleweight champion, a host of other bygone stars were in evidence. The science of the present day was represented by James J. Corbett. Among the spectators were men well-known in the higher walks of life, who were present to show their appreciation of the manly art. The fun commenced with a three-round bout between Charley Norton and Dan Keefe of Newark. Jim Hall, the Australian, and Pete Burns of Harlem then gave a lively go, which pleased the crowd immensely. Old veterans George Rooke and John Donaldson, both of whom have felt the force of John L. Sullivan's blows, were the next pair. They smiled as they played at jab and counter for three one-minute rounds, and got a great ovation.

A tremendous burst of applause greeted John L. Sullivan as he was announced to make a short speech. He spoke briefly, thanking the audience for their hearty reception, and bespeaking for pugilism a successful revival in this country if the managers of the sport were true to it and careful of keeping faith with the public. He was received with an ovation as he retired.

Billy Edwards, the ex-lightweight champion, and Arthur Chambers of Philadelphia, his old rival, then sparred three rounds. Chambers was quite fat, but Billy was down fine. They did not bother about the gong, but sat down when they were tired, and the three rounds were more than enough for them.

Bob Armstrong, the colored heavyweight, from Chicago, was pounds heavier and inches taller than Tommy Kelly of Hoboken, and the latter had a hard time to keep away for the three rounds. Barney Aaron and Dooney Harris followed. Barney got a big floral horseshoe before he put on the gloves. George Dixon was heartily cheered when he was introduced, as was Kid Lavigne. Neither would make the loudly-requested speech. A great reception was accorded to Corbett as he came into the ring to box three rounds with Jim McVey, his sparring partner. The champion looked in good shape. They gave a good exhibition of science.

Joe Choynski and Peter Maher were next introduced and bowed their acknowledgments.

When the stars of the evening came on there were 2500 people in the house. Mace and Donovan entered the ring at 10.30. Parson Davies acted as master of ceremonies. He spoke in behalf of the beneficiaries, thanking the press and public for the generous support accorded to the enterprise. He especially thanked Al. Smith, and that gentleman was called to the platform and cheered loudly.

The veterans had on long white trousers and were stripped above the belt. Parson Davies, who acted as referee, stated that there would be no decision, as the set-to was to be a scientific exhibition of a friendly nature. Donovan was very active on his feet and danced all around the Englishman, tapping him lightly on the face and body with open gloves. Mace, despite his years, was quick, and used his left well.

In the second round Mace took out his false teeth and threw them to his seconds. In the third round Mace shoved his left in straight a couple of times, and Mike sent a pretty hot one to the jaw. They did some lively tapping in the last round, and the old fellows looked to be in earnest for a second, when Parson Davies called time. They shook hands and there were loud cries of draw. Both men were loudly cheered at the conclusion.

The final event was a ten-round bout between Jack McKeek and Jimmy Rose, both of New York, at 115 pounds. Dick Roche was the referee. In the earlier rounds McKeek did the better work by far, shooting his left to the heart frequently. He stopped nearly all of Rose's rushes with straight punches on the face. Rose woke up in the eighth and reached McKeek's jaw several times. The ninth was evenly contested. McKeek did most of the leading in the tenth, though Rose did some clever stopping. The referee awarded the bout to McKeek.

PRIZES FOR THEM ALL.

Tail Enders in the Six Days' Race at New York Get $75 Each.

New York, Dec. 14.—The closing scene of the big six-day bicycle race, held at Madison-square Garden last week, was enacted at the Hotel Bartholdi to-day. At noon the successful competitors gathered at the hotel and received their rewards for their long hours of pedaling.

Hale, the winner, received $1200. He was unable to get all the big double gold eagles into his pockets, so he used his cap for a money bag. Rice received $800. For finishing third, Reading received $500, and $50 additional for remaining on his wheel the greatest number of hours at a stretch. The other prizes were: Forster $250, Schock $300, Pierce $200, Smith $150, Taylor $125, Ashinger $100, Moore $100 and Maddox $75. When the prizes had been awarded, Managers Powers and Kennedy gave Cassidy, Gannon, McLeod and Glick $75 each.

Hale will soon start on a tour of the country giving exhibitions. Most of the others will go to Washington to take part in a six-day race to be held there beginning Dec. 28. The local management has decided to hold a six-day race annually, and has already secured the Garden for next December.

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM
C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

THE CHRISTMAS CALF.

By EMILY MEREDYTH AYLWARD.

"Yes, but isn't the comical side of those Willoughbys delicious?" remarked the philosophic Holt. "I tell you their obliviousness is a superlative joke. Can't help relishing it even when it's against myself. When I complained to Willoughby of the damage done my terrace, he made not a word of apology; simply pointed round his own devastated place and said it was the same everywhere. You can't get at those people; they won't see incongruities."

"They'll be got at before long," chimed in a chorus of voices. "Percy's got to be dinned at till he gets at them and has that calf either killed or locked up. Something must positively be done."

It was a large gathering next day at Elmhurst. Not for a long time had Miss Minna looked so well. The day was glorious, everything was a success, and in the general satisfaction and excitement she looked more like her old buoyant self than she had managed to look since the calf had entered into her existence. For the time being she forgot the dark and cruel episode which had cast such a shadow on her horizon, and in the sympathy of genuine enjoyment the guests forgot it too. She had gone out little during the later spring. The fact was she had a cowardly shrinking from any allusion to the calf, and now, on the eve of her departure for Europe, she was satisfied in the realization that her farewell-entertainment was going off with eclat. Deep down in her heart she had qualms and anxieties about the calf. Her feelings were a mixture of longing and dread for news of it, and a sort of blind hope that its existence might have gone into safer keeping. She had long made up her mind that indirect appeal was useless, and that direct appeal would only sever the Willoughby connection. They were not voluntarily cruel, she knew. Their sins were sins of omission, and they would never forgive the cause of cruelty being directly brought home to them. And so things had gone, and today for the first time in months the ever gnawing recollection had for the moment ceased to oppress her.

Refreshments were served on the lawn, and then there was a crush for the drawing room to hear the last fashionable tenor sing. After that there would be the final leavetakings of Miss Minna, and tomorrow she would set sail for Europe and try to forget the calf.

The tenor had his music unfolded. The guests were bonneted and wrapped ready for departure when he would have sung. Suddenly there was a noise, as though a late party of the guests were coming inside from out of doors. Whoever they were, they made a big noise about it and seemed to be bringing down tables and chairs in their wake. There was a sound as of the overturning of a hatrack, on top of it the unmistakable smash of a lamp, on top of that a rush and a rumble as of a domestic earthquake, finally a flinging backward of the drawing room door, as though from the momentum of a thousand fists, and then in the midst of the waiting party stood the calf.

"Hi, there!" screamed Mrs. Willoughby, darting forward and wrenching his umbrella from beneath the tenor, who, being gracefully propped upon it in a picturesque attitude to sing, nearly lost his balance and barely escaped being prostrated on the carpet. "Hi, there—sh—out, out, hi! Did you ever in your life! Hey—hi—out!"

And under vigorous brandishes and pokes of the umbrella, through flying columns of tittering women and men swearing under their breath, beneath the dazed melancholy of Miss Minna's fixed gaze, the calf, having made a double circuit of the room, was finally driven out through the French window.

"Well," gasped Mrs. Willoughby, dropping in sheer physical exhaustion on a divan, "the idea, poking in here at such a time! Did you ever know such a contrary animal? Thank goodness, I got it out so soon. Here, Mr. Armitage, here's your umbrella. I'm so glad you can go on with your song. If I hadn't got that calf out, you couldn't."

"Oblige me; sing it. Do," stammered Miss Minna, who was on the borders of collapse, and who stood by in silent torture while the bewildered tenor made the supreme effort of his life."

She knew everything. Christmas—poor, lank, lean Christmas—was still with the Willoughbys. She was still starved.

"Blowed," said Mr. Armitage, tenor, when he got to town that night, "if ever I got my nose into such a bewildering circus of surprises—wild, starved calf tearing round a drawing room; women tittering; men swearing; woman owner grabbing my umbrella and nearly upsetting me to poke it out; hostess repressing hysteria; man in love with her glowering at the whole community; host looking as if last straw had been piled on his endurance; host's son howling with delight and nearly strangling himself on sofa. What's the secret of the whole business? What is up in that blooming village?"

Late that night, after an evening spent in gloomy quietude by all except Jack, who snickered all over the house and made more than one allusion to "the bully show," Miss Minna said goodby to Greville. For the first time in his life he saw her in tears.

And now it was Christmas again. In one week more the bells would ring out the joyful good wishes of the nativity. It was a cold, clear, glistening Christmas, with its trees decked with diamonds and its paths white and crisp with little crackling furrows of ice. Miss Minna had just got home, and, aided by Jack, was hanging up the ivy garlands with the rich, bright mixture of scarlet holly berries intwined.

"I am so happy to be home," she said. "I hardly know what to say or do first. Jack, I feel somehow now you won't laugh at me as much as you would a year ago, but do you know I could be utterly, completely happy but for the calf."

"I've never laid eyes on her since the autumn," said Jack. "She didn't look very bully then. Every one seems to have shut up about her, though from time to time, I'll admit, I've heard what Jeames Plush would call 'gashly tails.'"

"Then let's not say any more about her now," said Miss Minna. "I know Cousin George can't bear it, and I don't want to get worked up so that he might suspect anything. I'm running in to town for an hour after lunch to finish up my presents."

An hour earlier than expected Miss Minna got her train back. There was no carriage to meet her, and as she faced to walk homeward her old friend, Colonel Holbrook, testy, crusty, but sterling, overtook her with his trap and offered to drive her home. She took her seat beside him cheerfully and chatted brightly of everything at home and getting back to it all with a zest in which the colonel sympathized, for he was thoroughly glad to see her.

As they turned into the drive the colonel slackened speed, conversation lapsed suddenly, and his face assumed a grave and portentous expression.

Miss Minna was wise from experience, for how many weary months had she not learned to read any graveness of aspect in the neighbor's face as the preface to some recital about the calf? She felt what was coming, and she could almost have gone on her knees to the old soldier to implore him to keep it back from her.

"Miss Gascoigne," he began gravely, "I'm sorry to be obliged to speak. I wouldn't spoil your home coming willingly for the world. But it can't be helped, you know; something has got to be done. Will you, my dear Miss Gascoigne, for pity's sake, for charity's sake, do something about that calf?"

Poor Miss Minna! Her worst enemy would have been sorry for her then. She buried her face in her hands in an attitude of absolute shrinking, and the colonel could barely catch her little timorous question, "Are things so very bad, then?"

"Bad!" echoed the colonel, who, in the excitement of a year's recollections, was fast letting his testy side come uppermost. "Bad? They're devilish. It's a case for the intervention of a savage."

"What—what," said Miss Minna feebly, "is to be done?"

"I don't know what's to be done. You alone, Miss Gascoigne, can tell that. That's what we've all been waiting for, and, for God Almighty's sake, I implore of you—not for my sake, but for God Almighty's sake—to do something."

"Oh," said Miss Minna, wringing her hands despairingly, "I would do anything! What can I—what shall I do?"

"I repeat," said the colonel, "I don't know myself what you can do, but you're the only one who can do anything, and I beg of you again to do something. You gave it to them, and you must get it away from them. It's the most pitiful object in all Axminster county. Why it's not dead long ago no one can tell, but it can't last another week as things are."

Miss Minna was too choked to say goodby. She jumped from the trap, up the steps into the hall, her veil well pulled down, so that her distress could not be seen by Mr. Percy, whom she brushed past quickly on the staircase. "I've asked Greville to dinner," he said to her, and she managed to gasp out a usual sounding "All right" before she closed the room door on her despair.

It was bitter, black despair. She flung herself upon the bed and made up her mind there and then that, with the wretched existence of the calf to face, life was an unbearable burden. "Only this morning," she thought, "I said I could be utterly happy but for the calf. I little imagined then how bad things were. Now I feel because of it that I can never be happy again. It has been the bitter current of my life—poor, innocent Christmas!"

"MAY I KEEP IT FOR ALWAYS?" HE SAID.

"Mr. Greville, miss, would like to see you," put in the maid, who could not see Miss Minna's tear stained face in the wintry dusk.

"Yes, he is dining," answered Miss Minna. "I shall be down to dinner."

"But he says he wants to see you urgently before, miss, and begs you to come down now."

Miss Minna rose, bathed her face and mournfully descended the staircase.

"I want you to stroll down the avenue a moment before dinner," said Greville. "It will do you good."

She turned out with him without asking why. It didn't occur to her to ask why about anything. Again it was beneath the rays of a shining section of white moon. "Do you remember," said Greville, "it was just this night one year ago that you took me down to show me Christmas for the first time?" And here they had just reached the very door which then he had pushed open for her.

He opened it once more. Within, a fresh blue ribbon round her slender neck, stood also Christmas again. "I brought her back to you," said Greville. "I thought you would like her for a Christmas gift. We'll have her jolly and fat again in no time. Everything's all right, and the Willoughbys are coming to see you tomorrow. Do just tell me once that you are glad."

Miss Minna could say nothing. One arm she placed round Christmas' neck and laid her head down upon it, undone for the moment in her glad surprise. The other she stretched forward and across the back of the Christmas calf laid her hand in Greville's.

"May I keep it for always?" he said. And with a little answering pressure she let it lie in his.

* * * * * * *

"And just to think," said Greville, "that we should have found each other out over the calf."

"And just to think," said Mr. Percy, "that the harrowing tale could have ended so delightfully."

"And just to think," said Jack, "that we're going to have a bully wedding, and that our dear Phil and Philkins should join hands over the Christmas calf.'"

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease. It may lead directly to consumption. Catarrh is caused by impure blood, and the true way to cure it is by purifying the blood. Mason & Risch Pianos

Probably the most striking fact in connection with MASON & RISCH PIANOS is their suitability to all conditions. That they satisfy the social and aesthetic sense is evidenced by the fact that our cultured homes, from Rideau Hall down, use them. The fact that of importance in Canada is supplied with them, gives testimony to their musical excellence, and even in the homes of far off British Columbia, deep in the forest and far removed from the tuner's visit or care, they are still to be found standing hard usage like a rock, and cheering the distant home with their musical tone.

WEST RIDING FARMERS LISTEN TO ADDRESSES.

A SUCCESSFUL MEETING OF THE INSTITUTE.

Addresses on Topics of Interest to Farmers—Dairying, Farm Buildings and Poultry Dealt With—Mr. S. R. Payne Talks on Winter Dairying.

A fairly largely attended meeting of the West Riding Farmers Institute opened in the County Council Chamber, Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Wm. Collins, president, occupied the chair, and introduced the first speaker,

Mr. A. A. Elliott, of Galt, who gave an address on "The Dairy Farm." At present our best market for the Canadian farmer was the British market, in case we supplied what was wanted. We had gained the cheese market by furnishing good cheese of honest character. It was a hard market to get a foothold in but easy to hold if the quality of the produce was kept up. Dishonesty or lack of knowledge were hinderances to introducing Canadian goods into the British market. It should be the object of the Canadian farmer to meet the conditions and the best way was keep the right kind of dairy stock. The better the stock the better we should care for them, for we would naturally not feed an animal so well that would give a poor return. The true milk form was common to all breeds. The Shorthorn grade was perhaps the best general purpose cow, but those who wished to pay special attention to dairying could not afford to keep a general purpose cow. He cited the chief points that constituted the best form of a dairy cow—head fine, full eye, broad forehead, fine neck, rather inclined to "ewe-neck"; fine shoulder like that of race horse rather than a beef cow; spine, long and large jointed, showing a large spinal cord as a continuation of the brain; the back need not be broad, the pelvis should be roomy, tail long, thigh incurved and the flank curved upward; brisket broad but not pendant, the general shape, wedge-shape from all points of view. The udder was the important part, all other points of good form might be present, but if the udder is not right the dairy cow was not there. The udder, the business part of the cow—should extend well up behind and well forward, should not be fleshy nor flabby nor pendent, teats should be of fair size, placed well apart and hang straight down. Calves for the dairy herd should be taken from the best cow, and carefully fed. The milking habit should be formed after the first calf. The importance of a well-balanced ration for milch cows was urged. Special importance was placed upon keeping cows in the greatest comfort. A large part of food was spent in providing natural animal heat, and the warmer cows were kept the less food would be required for this purpose. Keep cows as comfortable as possible, and fed to the full extent of their capacity. Speaking of the management of factories, the speaker advocated cheese making in summer, and butter making in winter. Have our cows come in in the fall and we should be able to make a full bill of cheese and a profitable butter product in the winter. Corn was the model food for dairy purposes. He favoured the silo as the cheapest form of keeping corn. Co-operation was advocated for farmers as the condition of success, and prosperity invariably followed co-operative dairy farming, which also developed the intelligence of the farmers.

In answer to a question Mr. Elliott said the round silo was the best form of silo; there being no corners there was less spoiled silage. In a silo depth was better than large area — there would be less waste while using. Silos could be underground if there was perfect drainage.

Milking should be done before feeding in the morning. Good silage will not taint milk or butter. Oat sheaves cut, paid better than feeding chopped oats. About 5 lbs of turnips fed after milking was all it was safe to feed.

EVERY FARMER HIS OWN MASON.

Mr. A. McNeil, of Windsor, spoke on the subject, "Every Farmer his own Mason." By the use of concrete, composed of one part water lime, two parts of sand and three or four parts of gravel, every farmer could be his own mason. Concrete is strong—a one-foot wall would support any building on the farm, and one foot of concrete is as frost proof as two feet of stone wall. Concrete will never gather moisture in winter. Concrete floors for stables were healthy and the liquid parts—the most valuable in manure—are saved. Points in making walls and floors for all sorts of farm structures, cisterns, ben houses, etc., were given. The speaker went into interesting details of the manner of putting a concrete wall under a standing building, of laying collars and stable floors and even of making a pig feeding trough, etc., etc. A good deal of interest was shown in this subject by numerous questions asked.

A TALK ON POULTRY.

Mr. Thomas A. Duff, of Toronto, gave an admirable address on "Diseases of Poultry and Simple Cures." He referred to poultry raising as an industry that, for the capital invested, yielded the largest returns. The real cause of disease in poultry was neglect—especially in cleaning pens. Another cause was the lack of ventilation. Ventilators should reach from outside the roof to within a foot of the floor. Poultry houses should be built on dry sites and with a southern exposure. Cleanliness is the best preventive of disease—houses should be cleaned out at least once a week—once a day is better. Two teaspoonfuls of carbolic acid to a gallon of water should be sprayed about the building. Coal oil also should be used to destroy vermin on perches. Distemper was not roup. A remedy for distemper: Bathe the fowl's face twice a day with vinegar and water, one to ten, and give a 1-grain quinine pill, once a day, and this would cure the distemper, which, if neglected, would end in roup. Dry roup is treated by rubbing scales off the scabs and burning the scabs with caustic—this was a certain cure. Canker called for isolation. Clean out the throat with a match and remove the white scales and rub the bleeding spots with caustic, and several applications will cure. Canker is hereditary, and a fowl once troubled with canker should not be used for breeding. "Bumblefoot" is cured by lancing, squeezing out matter and poulticing. Chicken diarrhœa could be cured by mixing equal parts of cayenne pepper and rhubarb and black antimony with a quart of shorts and feeding to the infected fowls which must be isolated. Cholera is cured by five grains rhubarb, two grains cayenne pepper and ten drops of laudnum given twice a day with a teaspoonful of brandy between doses. Cramps from clogged crops is cured by giving sweet oil and manipulating the bunch in in the crop till it softens; if this fails cut open crop and remove. This is a simple operation and had always been successful in the speaker's hands. "Feather-eating" was due to lack of exercise and of fresh meat. To cure egg-eating, starve fowls for a couple of days, and then feed egg shells; a better way was to feed eggs dosed with thin mustard. To destroy lice, remove fowl and wash the inside of house with 1 gallon of limewash to 3 or 4 tablespoonfuls of refined carbolic acid, fumigate with sulphur and cover perches with coal oil. The speaker concluded by asserting that poultry, carefully treated to prevent disease, etc., was one of the best investments on the farm.—(Hear, hear!) Ninety-nine per cent. of the poultry in the country was over-fed, and they required a properly balanced ration as well as cows did. Mr. Duff's incidental remark that he had taken the highest prizes three years in succession at the Crystal Palace Exhibition, London, England, for his exhibits of barred Plymouth Rocks, and that he was willing to share the secrets of his success with all who wished the information was received with loud cheers. He advised that the Poultry Association should hold its next annual meeting either in Peterborough or Lindsay, and after the meeting he had a conference with local poultry men with a view of reviving the Peterborough Poultry Association.

WINTER DAIRYING.

Mr. S. R. Payne made a few remarks on "Preparing for Winter Dairying." He thought we should make as great success of winter as we had of summer dairying. The longer cows are milked the less the cost of production. If other competing countries milk their cows ten months a year, while we milked them only seven months, we could not expect to keep the lead. The Americans were waking up and we must be prepared to meet their competition. One of the obstacles to winter dairying was the bad roads through the winter. Our position was improving in the English butter market which shows in increased demand of 500 per cent. in two years. And we must have improved stables, warmer and better, and change our cheese factories as the need requires. He had hopes of winter dairying so coming to the front that before long our wives and daughters would no more think of making butter than they do now of making cheese. The establishment of creameries would stimulate farmers to better milk production—when they knew that they could get better a market for their milk. Better attention should be paid to housing our cows and feeding them properly and teaching them to milk longer.

FODDER CROPS.

Mr. J. B. Ewing, of Dartford, spoke a few minutes on "Fodder Crops." Scarce fodder has taught us the value of straws. He had found pea straw valuable for feeding sheep. He cut his pea crop when it was about half ripe; they threshed well and left a straw that was as valuable for food as good clover hay. Nearly all straws cut on the green side had their feeding value greatly increased. He planted his corn always in hills, because thus it grew more leaves. He cultivated both ways. He had grown turnips as large as his head between rows of corn 3½ feet apart, but he could only cultivate one way. Clover was our best crop and should be cut in full bloom.

Mr. Duff stated that clover hay—being a balanced ratio—was one of the best foods for poultry.

The meeting then adjourned.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

The trainmasters under Superintendent Fitzhugh, of the middle division, have been given full powers over all matters regarding transportation, including charge of trains, engineers, agents, operators and station employees, with the right of dismissal.

The patent interlocking switch and signal system in now in working operation at the Fenelon Falls bridge. Under the new system it will be impossible to open the bridge until the danger semaphore is up against trains coming from either direction, and the bridge cannot be closed until the semaphores are down and locked. The system cost the Grand Trunk about $800.

It is stated that J. R. Quick, general baggage agent of the G.T.R., is gradually accomplishing the re-organization of his department, and that when the heavy traffic commences in the spring an entirely new system will be in vogue. He is engaged at present preparing a code of rules similar to that now in force for lines west of the St. Clair river, but which has hitherto not been used in Canada. These regulations contain instructions to officials on every conceivable subject, and are intended to obviate the necessity of frequent telegraph messages with regard to baggage misplaced or lost. It is believed that after they come into force more of the articles left on trains and in stations will be recovered and that passengers' effects generally will be more carefully guarded.

FOUND A JEWEL.

An Important Find by a Brockville Jeweller.

Mr. Joseph Lane, the well-known jeweller of Brockville, says: "For some years I have suffered with severe pains in my back and sides and flashes of heat between my shoulders. I had a tired, wornout felling.

"The numerous medicines that I took gave me very little relief. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I thought I would try a box, and got one at Curry's drugstore.

"After the first two or three doses I felt much relieved, and the longer I took them the greater the change for the better in my condition. I am much better in every respect and recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble as the best remedy I know of."

BRUSSELS ENQUIRY.

The Taking of Evidence Was Concluded Yesterday.

MR. FARROW ON HIS OWN BEHALF

Mr. Lazier Says He Will Give His Decision on the Evidence, and That Party Considerations Will Not be Allowed to Influence—Thanks for Courtesy.

Brussels, Ont., Dec. 16.—The examination of Postmaster Farrow was resumed this morning at 9.30 o'clock, taking up charges five and six.

Thompson Snider of Brussels related a conversation with Mr. Farrow at the Conservative Committee room prior to last election, in which Mr. Farrow canvassed him for his vote. Mr. Gerry was reading letters in the room; Mr. Farrow asked Mr. Gerry if he had canvassed certain parties. Went to committee room to see Mr. Lindsay; did not go there as a spy; told Mr. Birt about it, but did not mention it to Mr. Scott; had received one dollar from witness for coming here.

F. S. Scott, Brussels, knew Mr. Farrow, and had heard him speak at every election for years. Was Conservative M.P. for a number of sessions, and had lived in Brussels for about seven years as postmaster; had taken part in municipal elections here; heard him speak three times on political platform since being postmaster; twice in the '91 election and once in '96, the meetings being at Brussels and Walton; had seen Mr. Farrow in Conservative committee rooms in '91. He spoke against Dr. McDonald himself at two meetings at Brussels. He referred to increase in expenditure under Mackenzie regime and the advantage of the National Policy for support for the then Government. Considered it a strong party speech, never heard him deliver anything else; closed his speech by asking for support from the then Government. I am an active worker for the Liberal party, and knew that in case of a change of Government, my head would be taken off within twenty-four hours. A circular was printed by the local president of the Liberal Association, asking the opinion of outside Liberals. Have aided in preparing the statement; have no fault to find with Mr. Farrow as postmaster.

James Ferguson, Grey, knew Mr. Farrow, and had heard him speak on various occasions, once in the last campaign at Brussels, before nomination; thought he spoke a half hour on the political questions, making reference to the National Policy; his speech was much like that delivered by him on former occasions, and was one-sided.

W. F. Scott, Brussels, knew Mr. Farrow, and heard him open Mr. Dickenson's meeting, and he spoke one half hour, in which he praised the Conservative party and denounced the Liberals. Personally have nothing to say against Mr. Farrow, but am opposed to him politically.

John R. Smith, Brussels, had known Mr. Farrow for ten or fifteen years, and heard him speak several times, the last time in Brussels in the last campaign. It was a Conservative speech. I am and always was a Liberal; might be an applicant for bailiff if Mr. Scott were appointed postmaster.

Thomas Miller, Morris, testified as to charge one. Was present at a Conservative meeting in the Town Hall, Morris. Mr. Farrow was in the audience, and interrupted the meeting by questioning the speakers. Reeve Mooney was in the chair, and asked to have the harangue stopped.

W. H. Kerr, Brussels, was at Brussels and Morris Town Halls; heard Mr. Farrow speak at former meeting and interrupt at the latter; the speech was made in the interest of the Conservative party, but was not other than witness expected. Had no grudge against Mr. Farrow.

G. F. Blair, barrister at Brussels, took part in the campaign, as did Mr. Farrow; heard him at Brussels when he had half an hour; it was not a strong speech, the leading questions being left to Mr. Dickenson. Was at Morris Town Hall meeting; heard him interrupt Mr. Kerr; was at a local meeting in Brussels, and issued the circulars spoken of by Mr. Scott.

An adjournment was then made for dinner.

In the afternoon the inquiry was continued, A. Hislop, Deputy Reeve of Grey being the first witness, who testified to Mr. Farrow being at the Walton meeting; his speech was mild and had reference to the National Policy and other political questions; it was not an unfair speech from his standpoint; have said I disapprove of the attempt to have Mr. Farrow removed from office.

The first witness called was S. B. Smale. Always have been a Liberal; attended the Liberal meeting at the Queen's Hotel as referred to; would not swear to how many were present; there were four kicked against the resolutions passed; I objected to Mr. Farrow's dismissal, as it would mean the removal of the postoffice; I only told Mr. Baeker at the meeting that I was an applicant for the position. Made a copy of the resolution out of my head that night.

Allan Cochrane, Morris, had charge of the Conservative committee room in Brussels during the last election; saw Mr. Farrow three times in ten days; took no part in the work there; thought he was careless as an old politician, and inactive; Liberals occasionally dropped into committee rooms.

B. Gerry, Brussels: Am president of the Conservative Association for East Huron; had superintendence of the committee room in Brussels; saw Mr. Farrow at the rooms twice, but he took no active part; only knew of one meeting held in Brussels to consider the protest against Dr. McDonald. I asked Mr. Farrow to go and he said he would see, but he did not go.

Mr. Denman was recalled and said he was of the impression now that Mr. Farrow was not at the protest meeting in the American Hotel, of which he testified yesterday, and wished to correct the statement.

George Beaker, Brussels, was present at the protest meeting held in town. Mr. Farrow was not there, nor did he remember him being at a meeting to look over voters' lists. Made no threats to boycott witnesses in the enquiry.

W. F. Van Stone, Brussels, did not see Mr. Farrow at the protest meeting at the American Hotel. Mr. Farrow was not at the meeting for the revision of the voters' lists. Mr. Farrow did not attend the convention at Gorrie on May 11. Heard Mr. Farrow's speech at Walton and did not think it partisan. It was not offensive.

E. B. Dickenson, barrister, of Wingham: Was Conservative candidate at the last election in East Huron and spoke at a number of meetings. Mr. Farrow was a speaker at Walton at my request, as my throat failed me owing to five weeks' campaign. Asked Mr. Farrow at the opening of the campaign to speak at meetings and he declined. He spoke at Walton to oblige me. It was a moderate speech. Don't recollect him asking the electors to vote for me. At Brussels his speech was short and dealt largely with provincial politics. Don't think Mr. Farrow's speech won me a vote. Sir James Grant was billed for Brussels, but failed to come and I pressed Mr. Farrow to open the meeting. He spoke twenty minutes. Was at the American Hotel protest meeting. Did not see Mr. Farrow there, nor was he at the meeting last May in Gorrie.

James Bolgar, Morris: Was chairman at the Walton meeting and remembered Mr. Farrow speaking at it. The prosperity of the country was his theme, and he found fault with the penuriousness of the Government. Don't remember him asking electors to vote for Dickenson.

Robert Armstrong, Brussels: I am a Liberal in politics and know Mr. Farrow. I built the postoffice. He is a first-class officer and have heard no complaint against him.

Henry Mooney, Reeve of Morris: Was chairman at the town hall meeting and think Mr. Farrow's interruption was about the close of Mr. Kerr's speech. My opinion was that Mr. Farrow wanted to show by his question that Mr. Laurier's platform was no better than the other party on the temperance question.

Mr. Farrow: Am respondent in this case. I attended Walton after tea. Met W. F. Van Stone and went with him to Walton at his request; would not have gone otherwise. Mr. Denman told me Mr. Dickenson was poorly with his throat and Mr. Dickenson urged me to fill the gap and I did. Am an Englishman and delight in the progress of the country. From my storekeeping experience I showed the difference in prices. Showed my Eaton two-ninety suit. Did not mention the name of either candidate. Made no unfair comparisons, nor did I intend making a party speech. I had no intention of speaking at this meeting, but did so at the request of Mr. Dickenson. Had declined earlier in the campaign to assist. Don't think it was offensively partisan. I spoke for twenty minutes. Did not touch on the N. P., but spoke on provincial affairs and showed their financial standing, and called up the expenditure and debt of the Dominion. Did not denounce Liberal party; made no appeal to electors; was at the committee room twice; rendered no assistance and gave no advice. I asked Mr. Snider to vote for a municipal candidate last January, but he had no vote; don't recollect asking him to vote at the June election; if I said what Snider swore to I said it as a joke. Offered a reward of fifty dollars to anyone who could prove that I canvassed a vote; no one ever came to claim the reward; was at the Morris meeting in 1894 when a Conservative candidate was to be brought out. Had heard my name might be proposed, so went to object to it; five or six were mentioned; said I declined in a short speech, that I considered myself out of politics; don't remember being at a second meeting there; was not at the Morris meeting last May; attended no meeting in Brussels as to the revision of the voters' lists; was not at the meeting asking for the protest against Dr. McDonald, M. P.; don't remember being scrutineer at the McDonald-Holmes election, but acted for a municipal election. Elections are not run here on party lines, as I was elected a school trustee by acclamation. Had been asked to do some canvassing for the Conservative party, but declined even to influence some of my relatives who voted for Dr. McDonald. Have been postmaster for seven years and have had no complaints as to my work. I built a convenient postoffice here. My position is a matter of importance to me at my time of life.

An adjournment was made for supper.

The evening session did not open until nearly 9 p.m., when Mr. Blair proceeded with the cross-examination of Mr. Farrow, but nothing new was brought out.

J. J. Denman swore he asked Mr. Farrow to attend a meeting at Sperain's school house, but he declined to go and said it was too far.

Alex Ross, deputy postmaster, had been in the office for four years. Mr. Farrow attended to business as regularly as usual during the election campaign. All parties were treated alike at the office. My politics is Liberal. Attended a jollification in honor of Dr. McDonald's election. Mr. Farrow did not bring me to task for it.

Other unimportant evidence was taken. There was no argument by the counsel engaged.

Barrister Lazier returned thanks for the courtesy shown him and for the good order. He did not know what the result would be, but, as far as he was concerned, the decision would be given on the evidence produced; no political bias would influence him in arriving at conclusions. He did not believe in Government officials taking part in elections except to vote. He had been grossly maligned over the last election by newspapers, and, while many editors said what was square many others did not. He hoped this investigation would be taken as a warning for all time to come. This was his first visit to Brussels and he hoped it would be the last on any such mission.

OVER THE SPUR LINE.

First Train Over the Link That is to Furnish Another Railroad Between Hamilton and Toronto.

Hamilton, Dec. 16.—(Special.)—The connection between the T., H. and B. spur and the Grand Trunk main line has been completed and the first train was run over the Desjardins Canal bridge and onto the tracks of the older road this morning. The completion of the spur connecting the main lines of the T., H. and B. and G. T. R. is in accordance with the conditions of the agreement entered into between the Canadian Pacific, as lessees of the T., H. and B., and the management of the Grand Trunk, and signalizes an important epoch in the railway history of Hamilton.

A number of prominent railroad men were present at this informal opening, among them being the following, who reached this city by special train shortly after 11 o'clock: Sir William Van Horne, President of the C. P. R.; President Ledyard of the Michigan Central Railway, General Superintendent E. VanEtten of the New York Central, R. H. L'Hommedieu, general superintendent of the M. C. R.; Thomas Tait, Assistant General Manager of the C. P. R.; J. W. Leonard, General Superintendent of the C. P. R.; N. Kingsmill, Q. C., Toronto, solicitor for the C. P. R.; O. W. Ruggles, General Passenger Agent of the C. P. R.; Chief Engineer Torey of the M. C. R., Chief Engineer Peterson of the C. P. R., Col. Pope, Boston; H. D. Hyde, Boston, director of the T., H. and B.; H. P. Dwight, Toronto; Senator Meinnes, this city, director of the C. P. R.; J. N. Beckley, President of the T., H. and B.; F. S. Upton, J. N. Young, H. Carscallen, Q. C., solicitor of the T., H. and B.; J. G. Shewan, secretary of Thomas Tate, and C. R. Smith.

Chauncey M. Depew, President of the New York Central, had been expected to be present, but he found it impossible to tear himself away from the cares of business.

The party went over the spur line to the G. T. R. connection and seemed thoroughly pleased with the appearance of all they saw. They declined to state, however, when the regular running of trains to Toronto would begin, further than that the details would all be shortly arranged at New York city.

The distinguished gentlemen did not remain beyond half an hour in the city, and proceeded immediately on their journey to Waterford, where at 3.30 o'clock several of the party repaired to New York, where they will arrange the details of the transfer of the T., H. and B. Railway to the Michigan Central and Canadian Pacific Companies. While in the city Sir William Van Horne took occasion to pronounce his reported resignation from the presidency of the C. P. R. as entirely groundless.

REV. A. M. PHILLIPS DEAD.

The Well-Known Methodist Minister Passed Away Last Evening—Sketch of His Career.

Montreal, Dec. 16.—(Special.)—Rev. A. M. Phillips of the Douglas Methodist Church and formerly of Toronto and Brampton, died this evening, aged 59 years. He was born in Prince Edward County. The remains will leave her Friday morning, and will be buried in Toronto. Deceased was pastor of St. Paul's, Brampton, Euclid-avenue and Avenue-road churches, Toronto.

Mr. Phillips was a Canadian, the son of a United Empire Loyalist. He began life as a school teacher, subsequently entering Victoria College, where he graduated in divinity in 1873, in which year he was ordained. His ministerial work has been spread over a wide area, embracing Sombra, Sarnia, Oil Springs, Chatham, St. Thomas, Galt, St. Mary's and Toronto. His activity in many spheres was marked. He was the first secretary of the Theological Union, from which sprung The Methodist Quarterly, which Mr. Phillips edited. He filled various posts in temperance organizations. He was formerly chairman of the St. Mary's district and secretary of the Conference Board of Examiners. He was also College Examiner in Hebrew and Old Testament exegesis. Whilst in charge of Euclid-avenue Church, Toronto, a charge of heresy was preferred against him, but the Committee of Enquiry found that in his broad church views he had not exceeded Methodist liberty.

SHERMAN NOT IN IT.

Can Be More Good in the Senate Than in the Cabinet A Horde of Place Hunters.

Canton, O., Dec. 16.—It is now known that Senator John Sherman will not be a member of the Cabinet. His feeling is that he can be of more service to Major McKinley's Administration and to the Republican party by remaining in the Senate, and he will be a candidate for re-election.

Mark Hanna said to a friend to-day that more than 5000 citizens of Ohio had filed applications for appointments to Federal office under the McKinley Administration.

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. NORTH MONAGHAN.

Evening Meeting of West Peterborough Farmers' Institute Held at North Monaghan on Tuesday Night.

A well attended evening session of leading farmers was held at the town hall, North Monaghan. Mr. Collins, President, in the chair, made a brief addresss.

Mr. H. D. Williamson gave a well received cornet solo.

Mr. McNeil, of Windsor, gave an interesting address on the "Social Side of Life." He dwelt on the importance of farmers cultivating the social instinct by frequent meetings to enjoy games, chat and other amusements. Mr. McNeil closed with the broad statement that farmers have the best opportunities for success, of any other class, on the farm.

Mr. Benson's comic song in costume was loudly encored and he responded.

Mr. Thos. A. Duff, of Toronto, gave an address on "Canada our Home." Canadians were justly proud of their country. Ontario was described as the most fertile agricultural country on the continent. Our thrift, energy and industry, and the natural advantages of the soil have placed us in the front rank in agricultural matters. For instance, Canadians captured $900 of the $953 offered in prizes at the New York horse show, and Canadians brought back $1,100 out of the $1,200 offered in prizes at the poultry show in the same city, besides two pianos offered as premiums. Canada was no longer regarded as a country of frost and snow, but had one of the finest climates and was one of the finest farming countries in the world. In conclusion Mr. Dent pointed out the advantage of the Agricultural College and of Farmers' Institutes.

Mr. Williamson contributed another fine cornet solo.

Mr. Elliott, of Galt, spoke on Economy. He began by pointing out the economy involved in furnishing comfortable housing shelter and inside water for stock. He showed the waste of leaving implements lying loose about fields during the winter. A good education is good economy, but the trend of our education to send sons off the farms was to be deplored. Our aim in education should be to give practical knowledge, such as would instil a taste for farm life.

Mr. Benson gave another of his side-splitting character songs, and Miss Dearborn, of Oshawa, closed the programme with a splendid reading.

Council Meeting.

The council met at the town Hall at one o'clock p.m. on Tuesday, the 15th December, pursuant to the statutes, all the members present, the reeve, Mr. Jos. Forster, presiding. The minutes of the meeting of Nov. 6, 1896, were read.

On motion of Messrs. Hunter and May, the figures $20.50, in paragraph No. 7, page 243, minutes of Nov. 6th, were struck out and the figures $23 substituted therefor, and as this carried the minutes were confirmed.

From Mr. McIntosh, commissioner on digging drain and grading on quarter line in con. 9, reporting the work done in a satisfactory manner, and certifying to accounts for same as follows:—Jas. Boyd, 3 days, $3.00; J. W. Taylor, 3 days and team, $7.50; J. Armstrong, 3 days and team, $7.50; J. McIntosh, 4 days and team, $10.00; R. Coin, 2 days and team, $5.00.

Mr. Forster, for Finance Committee, reported in conjunction with clerk having issued an order for the sum of $200 to retire note due Dec. 3, 1896, and also for the purpose of supplying funds to pay pay-sheet No. 1, in Commutation Fund, until the collector makes sufficient returns—having borrowed the sum of $200 for one month: also an examination of certified accounts filed by Mr. McIntosh for work done on the fourth line. We have issued orders in payment thereof. We have also issued an order for the sum of $4 to J. Boyd for underbrushing on fourth line on certificate of J. Johnston, pathmaster. Of all of which I would respectfully ask your approval.

J. FORSTER, Reeve.

A communication was read from W. J. Payne regarding wrong assessment for a dog in 1895, and asking to have his statute labour expended next year in front of his lot. No action was taken re dog, and statute labour application left over. A communication was read from Mr. J. F. Poulsom, complaining of a pond of water requiring proper drainage in front of his lot.—Referred, and clerk instructed to notify Mr. Poulsom that no action can be taken in regard to the matter this fall.

From T. Bradburn, enclosing financial statement of the treasurer for 1896, as required, received and referred to clerk to have 150 copies posted and distributed.

Moved by Mr. May and Mr. Hunter, that the report of Mr. McIntosh and Mr. Foster be received, and the transactions as therein detailed are hereby confirmed—Carried.

It is often a mystery how a cold has been "caught." The fact is, however, that when the blood is poor and the system depressed, one becomes peculiarly liable to diseases. When the appetite or the strength fails, Ayer's Sarsaparilla should be taken without delay.

NORWOOD.

Last Friday the closing exercises of the Model School were held in the town hall. W. H. Stephenson occupied the chair. The programme consisted of choruses, solos, duets, recitations, etc., and selections by the Model School orchestra. INJURY AND NEGLECT.

He Failed in Health and Strength—His Kidneys Ached and he Took Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Deseronto, Dec. 14 (Special)—Among business people here, and especially by his fellow workmen, great interest has been taken in the case of Mr. James Stokes, who for the past fifteen years has been shipper for the Rathbun Company.

Lately he had run down in health and strength to the point of being compelled to quit work, and his recovery now as the result of using Dodd's Kidney Pills is the talk of the town. On seeing Mr. Stokes he said:—

"From over-lifting and strain I suffered greatly from kidney trouble, being advised, after all else had failed, to use Dodd's Kidney Pills; from the first dose I got relief, and hundreds of people here can vouch for my cure."

Women are not the only ones who are sensitive about their ages. A man doesn't like to be told that he is getting old. Health keeps a man young. It doesn't make any difference if he has lived eighty years. If they have been healthy years, he will be hale and hearty and won't look within twenty years as old as he is. Good digestion and rich, red blood make people look youthful. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood. It makes health in the right way. It works according to the right theory, and in 30 years of practice, it has proved that the theory is absolutely correct. It begins at the beginning—begins by putting the stomach, liver and bowels into perfect order, but it begins its good work on the blood before it finishes with the digestive system. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be and forces them out of the body. All druggists keep the "Discovery."

BAIE CHALEURS ROAD

Has Not Yet Been Taken Over by the Government.

BUT WORK IS BEING DONE UPON IT

Hundreds of Tons of Canadian Flour Ordered in Australia—It is Shipped to Hong Kong and From There to Sydney and Queensland—News From Ottawa.

Ottawa, Dec. 16—(Special)—So far no formal transfer of the Baie des Chaleurs Railway to the Dominion authorities has taken place, but the company are putting the road in condition to be operated this winter. Heretofore the Baie des Chaleurs has been run merely as a summer route, so that considerable improvement will require to be done to get the line into shape for winter traffic. The cost of keeping this road open during the winter months will add considerably to the expenditure of the Intercolonial system, on account of the great depth of snow which prevails throughout the district which it traverses.

In a recent interview Mr. John Mather of the Lake of the Woods Milling Co. stated that large consignments the company's flour were being sent direct to the Australasian markets. Since then it has been learned that the company has engaged space for 500 tons of flour on each of the C.P.R. steamers, leaving Vancouver for Hong-Kong for the three months ending with March. The flour will be reshipped at Hong-Kong for Sydney and Queensland. The steamer Warrimoo took 20 tons of flour and 10 tons of hops for Australia on her last clearance from Victoria.

Captain Spain, R.N., will leave to-morrow for Owen Sound to conduct an investigation into a collision which took place last summer between the cruiser Petrel and a merchant vessel in the St. Clair Canal. The damage resulting from the collision was inconsequential, but the Minister considered that an enquiry was desirable under the circumstances.

Six dollars and thirty cents in conscience money reached the Controller of Customs to-day through the usual confidential channel of Her Majesty's mails. A slip of paper accompanying the cash informed the department that it represented the duty at twenty per cent. upon a consignment of "seven revolvers at $4.50 each." The duty was neatly figured out at $6.30, and appended to the statement were the simple words; "Conscience money."

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. T. W. Scott and Mr. C. R. Devlin, M. P., left for Cornwall to-day. The Premier speaks at Cornwall to-night and at Moose Creek to-morrow. The contest is said to be so close that betting is about even. Mr. Devlin is taking the place of Solicitor-General Fitzpatrick, who is in the west.

Hon. L. H. Davies, since his arrival on the Pacific coast, has been busy examining the signal stations and lighthouses and enquiring into the necessity for new structures. Mr. Davies left for the east to-day.

Their Excellencies the Governor-General and the Countess of Aberdeen, accompanied by Lady Marjorie Gordon, the Hon. Archie Gordon and Capt. Sinclair, the Governor-General's secretary, are now on their way from the west and are expected to reach Ottawa to-morrow afternoon, proceeding by a later train the same evening to Montreal for a few hours' stay there, and returning to Ottawa on Friday for the winter.

Mme. Albani and her company appeared in the opera house to-night to a large and fashionable audience. The diva was never in better voice.

The temporary staff in the Government service will be paid on Dec. 23. An order-in-council has been passed permitting this.

The Department of the Interior has prepared a return showing that 1400 homestead entries were made, representing 4174 persons, against 1950 entries in 1895, representing 5689 persons. In 1896, 40 entries were made by returned Canadians from the United States, against 88 in 1895.

Archbishop Langevin passed through the city to-day on his way to Montreal to visit Mgr. Fabre, who is dying. The Archbishop spent a few hours with Archbishop Duhamel at the Palace.

The Kingfisher, the last of the fisheries protection fleet, has gone into winter quarters, having escorted the American fishing fleet away from our coasts.

Of all the nerve-tonics—bromos, celeries or nervines—your doctor will tell you that the Hypophosphites are best understood. So thoroughly related is the nervous system to disease that some physicians prescribe Hypophosphites alone in the early stages of Consumption. Scott's Emulsion is Cod-liver Oil, emulsified, with the Hypophosphites, happily blended. The result of its use is greater strength and activity of the brain, the spinal cord and the nerves.

SUICIDE AT WINNIPEG.

Ernie Butler, Formerly of Toronto, Quarrels With His Wife and Takes a Dose of Carbolic Acid.

Winnipeg, Dec. 16.—(Special.)—Ernie Butler, a prominent and popular young Winnipegger, has suicided. He was a nephew of Mr. Hammond of Osler & Hammond, financial firm, Toronto, and came here from Toronto several years ago, being connected with prominent families there. A year or so ago he met a young Englishwoman, Mrs. Gillingham, who was then seeking a divorce in Dakota. When she obtained the divorce Butler married her, and a few weeks ago a child was born to them. One day last week the young couple had their first quarrel, and it deeply affected the young husband. He went to his office, arranged carefully all his affairs, and then procured a dose of carbolic acid. Engaging an apartment at a city hotel, he there took the deadly dose. He died in great agony early this morning. To-morrow the body will be taken to Toronto for interment.

Frank Maxwell of Winnipeg, teacher of languages, last night attempted to force his way into the residence of his wife, from whom he had been separated for a year. The woman seized a dipper full of boiling lye and dashed it in Maxwell's face. If he recovers he will likely be sightless and will certainly be terribly disfigured. Both are well known in the city. Maxwell says he visited his wife on her invitation.

W. W. Ogilvie, the milling king, who is visiting here to-day, sent his cheque to the Winnipeg Hospital for $1000 and to St. Boniface Hospital for $500.

Premier Greenway left for Ottawa to-day. Hon. Mr. Sifton goes to-morrow.

F. W. Ferguson has resigned as liquidator of the defunct Commercial Bank. I. M. Ross succeeds him. The cost of liquidation to date has been $96,000.

The Mate Was Lost

TOOK ROUGH ON RATS.

A Methodist Preacher and His Family and Guests Had a Narrow Escape.

St, Louis, Dec. 15.—Rev. Barada McKane, pastor of the Rock Springs M.E. Church, and his wife and 6-year-old son, with Yampey Henry and R. W. Everett, friends of the family, were poisoned while eating supper last night, and the condition of Rev. Mr. McKane and Mr. Everett is critical. An examination showed that they were suffering from a dose of "Rought on Rats," which is supposed to have been accidentally mixed with the potatoes while they were being prepared for the meal by the wife of the minister.

WEYLER DENIES IT.

Says Maceo Was Killed in Battle and He Can Prove It.

New York, Dec. 15.—The World publishes a despatch from Havana, signed by Captain-General Weyler, in which that officer states that Maceo's death was due to the feeble state of the insurgent bands at Havana. He says Maceo placed himself at the head of these bands, and his death was the result. He denies that Maceo was ambushed. He says he can prove that Maceo died in action, and points to the fact that the insurgents were strong enough to re-take the bodies of Maceo and young Gomes. He denies that Maceo was en route to hold a conference with him. He gives two reasons to prove that such was not the case: First, that, being in the Province of Pinar del Rio, he could not summon Maceo to the Province of Havana; second, that, knowing the desperate situation that Maceo was in in Pinar del Rio, he (Weyler) would not be so innocent as to agree to a conference with Maceo, where the latter would be out of the trocha.

Key West, Fla., Dec. 15.—Havana advices state that on Dec. 10 the rebels entered Placites, the most important town in Santa Clara Province, remaining from 7 p.m. until 4 a.m. They sacked the stores, but burned no houses. Twenty Spaniards were killed. The rebels were commanded by Chico Montiagudo, and it is said he entered the town without resistance on account of the officers of the garrison being relatives of some of the insurgents.

Every person who is deprived of outdoor air and exercise should take Miller's Compound Iron Pills. They keep the bowels regular and tone up the nervous system. 50 doses for 25 cents. Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

CRESPO CALLS IN GUNS.

Venezuela's President is Apparently in Fear of a Revolution Citizens Must be Unarmed

Caracas, Venezuela, via Hayti, Dec. 16.—A decree has just been issued ordering private citizens owning arms and ammunition to deposit them at the Ministry of the Interior. The time set by the decree will expire on the day that Congress convenes. Much comment has been caused by this action of the executive. It has not developed whether it was due to a fear of a revolution as the outcome of the hostility to Crespo on account of his willingness to agree to the Olney-Pauncefote arbitration treaty.

What Wool Growers Want.

Washington, Dec. 16.—The National Wool Growers' Association of the United States met at the Ebbitt House to-night and adopted resolutions opposing the passage of the Dingley bill unless these amendments are incorporated therein: First, removing the provision that the law shall continue until 1898, and second, that the duties on woolen shoddies, wastes and other wool substitutes shall be practically prohibitory.

The association also passed resolutions urging Congress to incorporate in any tariff bill that may be passed this session or next the wool schedules adopted by the Wool Growers' Association at its meeting held in Washington in December, 1895.

Two Children Burned to Death.

Windsor, N. S., Dec. 16.—At Wentworth, near Windsor, this morning Frederick Cochrane's house was destroyed by fire and his two children, aged two and four years, were burned to death. Cochrane had gone to work and Mrs. Cochrane was outside milking a cow when the fire occurred, the supposed cause being the upsetting of a lighted lamp.

Goods were Slaughtered

Last night at the auction sale. This is one chance of a life time. Come and see for yourself. Newton's old stand.

Suicide of Ernie Butler.

A reference is made on the third page to the suicide of Ernie Butler. He will be remembered by many as the clerk at the Grand Central Hotel here some years ago.

Notice.

All persons indebted to Mr. R. Nimmo, dentist, are respectfully requested to settle their accounts without further notice. After the 31st Dec. his solicitors will be instructed to collect over-due accounts. 3d

Children's Aid Society.

The agent of the Children's Aid Society states that he has three little girls who are badly in need of clothing, being unable to attend school on account of their need. Their ages range from three to ten years.

Children Free.

Adams & Son's Co., 11 and 13 Jarvis street, Toronto, Ont., are sending out some very handsome paper dolls with moveable heads and bodies. They send a set of sixteen for nine cents in stamps, or a sample one for the children free.

Marks Bros.

"Counterfeiters" was put on by the above Company to a good house last night. The story of rustic life seems to be just as popular as ever. It pictures life in old England in a manner that is always pleasing. To-night—"An Irish Hero."

St. Joseph's Christmas Tree.

The public are reminded that the Christmas Tree entertainment, under the auspices of the Sisters of St. Joseph, will be held in the Catholic Association rooms, Cox block, on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and evenings, Dec. 22nd and 23rd. Admission 10 cents. Those desiring luncheon can procure it for 15 cents. 3d

The Banquet to Senator Cox.

The banquet to be given to Hon. Senator Cox, in recognition of the honour conferred by his elevation to the Senate, takes place at the Oriental Hotel to-night. All the arrangements are complete, and the indications are that the banquet will be the grandest occasion of the kind which has ever taken place in Peterborough. The prominent public men who have accepted invitations to be present, will give a large importance to the addresses to be delivered.

An Old Landmark.

The great house at corner of Elizabeth and Lake streets, Ashburnham, erected over fifty years ago, will soon disappear, as the property is to be sold by auction. A new plate glass front grocery will no doubt go up in its stead, as the site is the best in the village. A peculiarity of the place is that all traffic east of the river concentrates at and is compelled to pass that corner. Many attempts have been made to buy the property, but the Ellsworth family held on to it, knowing its value. Mr. Cahill offered $3,000 for it but the offer was refused. Death, however, makes many changes and now it is offered in five parcels, which will no doubt be eagerly sought after.

DIPHTHERIA IN THE NORTH COUNTRY.

The Disease has Spread from the Lumber Camps.

There has been an outbreak of diphtheria in five or six different townships in the northern part of this and the adjoining counties. The disease is traced directly to the lumber camps, from which patients have been sent to their homes, and thus the infection spread into the townships named. The Provincial Health authorities have been advised of the state of affairs and have taken prompt measures to prevent any further developments. The lumber camps have been rigidly inspected, and all possible precautions taken. The owners of camps have had their duty in the premises very strongly impressed upon them, and will no doubt be more careful in the future. Diphtheria is something like a forest fire; if taken at the start and isolated it will be confined to the place of origin, and can be easily controlled.

AUTUMN SITTINGS.

The Court Adjourned Yesterday Afternoon.

The docket was cleared yesterday afternoon at the Autumn sittings and Justice MacMahon has returned to Toronto. Judgment has been reserved in a great many of the cases.

Henderson vs. Henderson was an action by the executors of the late David Henderson, of Otonabee, to recover the possession of the west half of lot 13, in the ninth concession of Otonabee, devised to them trust under the will of Mr. Henderson. An action had been brought by the plaintiffs against Mrs. Robert Henderson, which was heard on the 19th March, 1895, when Justice Street gave judgment to the plaintiffs. The defendants appealed to the Divisional Court, which was divided in opinion, Justices Robertson and Ferguson holding that the defendant was entitled to the lands, while Justice Meredith took an opposite view. The majority being in favour of the defendant, the judgement of the trial judge was set aside. The plaintiffs then appealed to the Court of Appeal of four judges, and on June 30th, 1896, a unanimous judgment was given holding that the plaintiffs were entitled to the land and the trial judge's judgment was restored. Upon proceeding to enforce this judgment a claim was set up in behalf of Mosie Henderson, a daughter of the defendant. Mrs. Henderson then gave up possession, but left here little daughter there in charge of her uncle, Mr. G. Helson. And this action was then commenced by the plaintiffs in the former action against the daughter. At the present trial the same evidence was adduced with some additional evidence as on the former trial and, in order to save time, the printed evidence used in the Court of Appeal in the former action was put in to be read by the judge, and to give him an opportunity of doing so, judgment was reserved. George H. Watson, Q.C., and L. M. Hayes for the plaintiffs, David and John Henderson; and E. B. Edwards for the defendant, Mosie Henderson.

Roy vs. G.T.R. Co.—Mr. R. M. Roy was engaged by Mr. Hannaford, Chief Engineer of the G.T.R. Co., to act in the capacity of tie inspector at a salary of $500. Mr. Roy's salary increased from time to time until 1884 when it amounted to $1,000 per annum. At that time the tie and lumber department was transferred from the Chief Engineer's into the store department under the charge of Mr. John Taylor, who in 1889, recommended an increase of salary of $200 a year, which was duly approved. On the 14th of May last Mr. Roy received notice from the company that his services would be dispensed with on the 31st of the month, and he was offered his salary up to 15th of June. This he declined to accept, contending that he was entitled to proper notice, which could only take effect on 1st March, 1897—the end of this year. The company refused to acknowledge his position and the present action was consequently brought to recover $1,000 damages for wrongful dismissal made up of 9 months' salary at the rate of $1,200 a year, together with the value of full allowance to which he was entitled. The evidence was all taken, except that which had been taken under commission in London, England, which has not been returned. The trial has been adjourned until the return of the commission and is to be finished in Toronto some time in Christmas week. A. P. Poussette, Q.C., for the plaintiff; B. B. Osler, Q.C., and John Bell, Q.C., for the Grand Trunk railway.

Brasley vs. Brasley—Action brought by Wm. Brasley against J. J. Brasley to recover possession of a house and lot on Water street. The land was formerly owned by the late Charles Brasley, who died in July, 1895, and by his will devised the land to the plaintiff. The defendant went into possession as tenant of Charles Brasley and afterwards refused to give up possession.

Judgment for the plaintiff for possession of the land with costs of action. Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson for plaintiff; Jas. J. Brasley for defendant in person.

Fordham vs. Scarlett.—Settled out of court. Stratton & Hall for plaintiff; J. E. Hellwell for defendant.

Aunger vs. Boyd.—Action regarding the fixing of a side line. The plaintiff claimed $200 for damage to his property by the defendant and the costs of the action. John Burnham, Q.C., for the plaintiff, E. B. Edwards for the defendant. Judgment reserved.

PERSONAL.

Miss O'Sullivan is reported to be very low to-day. Her recovery is almost despaired of.

Rev. W. L. Armitage arrived in town last evening to assume his duties in connection with St. John's church.

Mr. D. A. McFee and family, who have been visiting friends in this vicinity, returned to their home, Lennox, Iowa, this morning.

The marriage in England yesterday of Miss Mamie Dennistoun appears to be exciting great social interest in Toronto. The daily papers publish pleasing references to the affair.

Messrs. Connal, Ferguson, Burnham and McKibbon, are all home for the holidays from McGill University. On the occasion of the visit of the McGill Glee Club on New Years they will be tendered a reception by the above named young gentlemen at the Huffman House.

DR. HOOPER'S LECTURE.

A Letter Commendatory From Rev. J. G. Potter.

To the Editor of the Examiner :

DEAR SIR,—In the interests of truth, righteousness and common sense, I desire to testify to the value of the lecture on "Popular Modern Cures," to be given by the Rev. R. Hooper, M.D., of the Beverly street Baptist church, Toronto, to morrow night in Sons of England Hall.

How many silly men and women are often drawn away because of the semblance of pietism about the "dealers-out" of mind-cure, faith-cure; and as we might next expect to see in the near future, teeth-cured or extracted in some other way than the natural and providential. Dr. Hooper deals very fairly, yet respectfully with all these.

Yours sincerely,
JAMES G. POTTER.

MARMORA GOLD MINING.

British Gold to Develop Canadian Gold.

There is at present considerable development of the gold mines in Marmora, and promises of a big boom in the spring.

An English syndicate, at the head of which is supposed to be Barney Barnato, the African gold king, has purchased the Delora mine in Marmora, besides having obtained options on 17,000 acres of mining lands. The company has at present about 125 men employed, but in the spring it is reported the number will be increased to 1,000. There has been about half a million spent already, and there is promise of a big boom when the season opens. A large crusher is being built alongside the railway, and a spur line will be built to convey the ore from the Delora mine to this crusher. The indications are that the mineral wealth of this district will be very largely developed in the near future.

They are the originators of the peculiar combinations that are now so popular in Men's Cycle and Golf Hose. The leg is of a quiet heather mixture. Also Scotch Wool Travelling Rugs. We have fine qualities in Half Hose as well.

TWO VOTES FOR A COUNTY COUNCIL CANDIDATE.

The Clause of the Act Bearing on the Subject—A Sample Ballot in Explanation.

Some persons have difficulty in understanding the provision of the County Councils Act of 1896, permitting a municipal elector to vote twice at the same election for one county council candidate. Therefore the following section of the Act is given in explanation:

25. When county councillors are to be elected, and the voter desires to give two votes for one candidate, he shall place two crosses thus, x x, on the right hand side opposite the name of the candidate for whom he votes, or at any place in the division which contains the name of such candidate; but no person is allowed to give two votes for one candidate except two county councillors are to be elected.

This means that each elector is entitled to two votes; he may give one to each of two candidates, or he may give both to one candidate. To make this clearer a sample ballot is here presented:

JOHN OATS, Farmer.	X X
JAMES WHEAT, Farmer.

This ballot indicates that there are two candidates and that the elector has given both votes to John Oats. If he wished to divide his vote he could vote once only for each candidate if he so desired.

WEST RIDING FARMERS LISTEN TO ADDRESSES.

A SUCCESSFUL MEETING OF THE INSTITUTE AT LAKEFIELD.

Addresses on Topics of Interest to Farmers—Dairying, Farm Buildings and Poultry Dealt With—Three Sessions Held.

Three sessions of the Farmers' Institute were held at Lakefield yesterday.

There was a large attendance at all the meetings, especially afternoon and evening, and the gatherings were in every way successful. Mr. McNeil, of Windsor, gave an address on "Every Farmer his Own Mason," already reported in the EXAMINER and Mr. Elliot, of Galt, an instructive address on "Growing and Feeding of Turnips."

At the afternoon meeting interesting papers were presented, particular attention being given the poultry talk by Mr. T. A. Duff, of Toronto, already reported in the EXAMINER.

At the evening session the hall was well filled and the following excellent programme presented:

Chairman's address	W H Casement
Song	Miss Tully
Address—"social side of Life,"	A McNeil, Windsor
Song	Mrs McKibbon
Reading	Mr C J Bloomfield
Address—"The Value of Farmers' Institutes,"	Thos A Duff, Toronto
Instrumental	Messrs Wilson and Miss Wilson
Address	W A Evans
Duet	Misses Wilson
Club swinging	Miss Kathleen Wilson
God Save the Queen.

Mr. McNeil's address on "The Social Side of Life," was dealt with in our report of the North Monaghan meeting.

Mr. Thos A. Duff delivered a very interesting paper on "The Value of Farmers' Institute." He stated that some people had the impression that the speakers engaged for these meetings received a magnificent remuneration—well they were paid $2.50 per day, and he could tell them that it would pay better to remain at home and look after their business. The speaker then called attention to the many advantages enjoyed by farmers who had joined the institute, and said that in the matter of free literature alone they received thirty times the value of the membership fee.

Mr. Duff said he understood an effort was being made to have the provincial fat stock show held in Peterborough next year, and if proper steps were taken he thought the Ontario poultry show could be secured. The association receives a grant of $900 a year on condition that it be held at different points, and for that purpose $100 were allowed for travelling expenses, hence the town would have nothing to pay. The speaker then alluded to the prizes won by Canadians at the World's fair, and at stock and poultry shows in New York, and said no better way could be selected to bring the Dominion into prominence. He had repeatedly heard Americans say "Doesn't it beat all to have these people come here and win so many prizes." In 1883, 1884 and 1885, he had personally enjoyed the pleasure of winning the £20 premium offered at the Crystal Palace Poultry Show London, England.

Farmers should read the agricultural papers—if they did so there would be no occasion to hold farmers' institutes meetings. The best of these publications were Farming and the Farmers' Advocate, and members of the institute could get these at reduced rates. Farmers can make this country what they want it, as over 60 per cent. of the voters are agriculturists. He had been greatly impressed by the intelligent way the afternoon discussions had been conducted, and was pleased to be able to say that one farmer had told him afterward that his (Mr. Duffs) remarks about unfertile eggs were alone worth $50 to him. In concluding the speaker expressed the hope that every person present would join the institute.

THE MAYORALTY

PETERBOROUGH, 16th Dec., 1896.

Messrs. Thomas Brady, Thomas Irwin, J. W. Miller, James Burnet, William Might, W. S. Cooke, James Montgomery, Adam Kernegan, William Saxby, William Curtis, William Hatrley, William Cooper, John Kempt, Fred Mitchell, E. B. Clegg, H. B. Meharry, J. J. Turner, Henry Green, E. F. Mason, Thos. A. Redner, Arthur Smith, M. Boyce, William A. Henry and over 150 other municipal electors:

DEAR SIRS,—I beg to acknowledge the honour done to me by your presentation of so large and representative a request asking that I permit myself to be put in nomination as a candidate for the Mayoralty for 1897. I accept the responsibility implied and I assure you and the ratepayers of the town generally that if elected, I shall on all occasions exert myself to the utmost to advance in every respect the best interests of the town.

It will be impossible for me to make any general canvass of the town and I have suggested to Mr. Yelland, who I believe is to be a candidate, that neither of us solicit votes personally of the electors, but instead call a public meeting to discuss the various municipal matters in which the ratepayers are interested, and leave it to them to decide whom they prefer. He has declined to do this and, therefore, as the time is limited and my business cannot be wholly neglected, I must ask these electors, who have requested me to be a candidate and the many others who have personally urged me to the same course, that they do their share in assisting in my election,

I am, Dear Sirs,
Yours very obedient servant,
W. H. MOORE.

ADVERTISING IN THE EXAMINER PAYS

The jungles of Africa are not the only places in the world where a man courts death from an unseen foe. All the savages of all the barbarous nations of history have not slain one tithe of the men that have been killed by that dread assassin—consumption. One-sixth of all the deaths in the world are due to it.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. It cures by going to the very root of the evil—imperfect and improper nutrition. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, makes the appetite keen and assimilation perfect. It drives out the impurities from the blood and fills it with the life-giving elements that build up the body. It is the greatest blood-maker and purifier. When you pump rich, red, healthy blood into an organ it cannot long remain diseased. This is true of the lungs. New healthy tissue is built up in them and the germs of consumption are driven out. Thousands have testified to their cure by this great remedy. Druggists sell it.

Ralph Green, Esq., of Williamsburg, Callaway Co., Mo., writes: "Before I commenced your treatment I could not take a drink of water without great suffering in my stomach. I could not eat. I was fast sinking and did not weigh more than 135 pounds. To-day I weigh 157. I had five different doctors examine me, and each one treated me without doing me any good. At last I took four or five bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and to-day am in better health than I have been for five years. Whenever I see any of my friends suffering I tell them of your medicine and advise them to write to you."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure It is better to do mending while the damage is slight, than wait until the whole structure is ready to fall. Constipation is the one, all-embracing disorder that is responsible for many other diseases. Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. Druggists sell them. They never gripe. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. Nothing else is "just as good." A permanent cure.

WANT TO HELP CUBA.

Cuban League Formed in New York Having in View the Independence of the Island.

New York, Dec. 14.—The first steps towards helping Cuba in the fight with Spain by the citizens of this city were taken to-night at the Fifth-avenue Hotel, when the Cuban League of the United States of America was formally organized. The men behind this movement are so well known and carry so much weight that it is beyond a doubt that this is the beginning of a strong movement, having complete independence of Cuba from Spain for its principal object. The meeting was organized with Col. Ethan Allen as president.

LOTS OF VOLUNTEERS.

Cleveland, Dec. 14.—To-day a stream of men pourned into the rooms of A. DeArange, the local Cuban leader, and volunteered to join the Cuban army. It is estimated that there were 150 of them, a large proportion well-dressed young men of good education and apparent good circumstances. They were told that no more men were needed. Eleven women offered to go as nurses. They said they did not want pay, but thought it was their duty to nurse the sick and wounded. The majority bore marks of refinement and some had evidences of wealth. They were advised to write to the Junta in New York.

1000 MEN WILL GO.

St. Louis, Dec. 14.—Volunteers for the relief of the Cuban insurgents are being mobilized in this city, and next Friday if all plans are carried out successfully 1000 men will leave New Orleans for Cuba. Two hundred of these are residents of St. Louis, and the remainder come from East St. Louis and points south of here on the lines of the Illinois Central and Iron Mountain roads.

INCITING THEM ON.

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 14.—The Evening Press editorially urges soldiers in the United States army who may be discharged, and others of military ment. It also suggests that a fund in aid of the Cubans be raised here

HOSTS OF FIGHTERS.

New York, Dec. 14.—The Cuban Junta, in New-street, had more callers to-day than on any one previous day since its establishment. Strong-limbed Americans to the number of between 700 and 800 tramped upstairs, threw out their chests, and in resolute tones asked that they be enlisted in the army of Cuba. Not one of them was accepted. The laws of the United States prohibit the enlistment of men here for foreign armies.

The men who want to fight in the Cuban cause are so numerous that the Cuban leaders here now issue to applicants a printed form declining the services of the sympathizers.

Bodewig and Johnson Sentenced.

Detroit, Dec. 14.—John C. Bodewig and George W. Johnson, who were recently convicted in the United States Court here of train wrecking, were to-day sentenced by Judge Swan to serve 20 months each in the House of Correction and to pay a fine of $2500 each, in addition.

During the A.R.U. strike two years ago a Grand Trunk passenger train was wrecked near Battle Creek and the fireman of the locomotive was killed. Bodewig and Johnson were arrested for the crime and finally convicted.

She Sheltered Many Slaves.

Rochester, N.Y., Dec. 14.—Maria G. Porter died here Saturday night, aged 91 years. She was a well-known figure in the early history of Rochester. She was one of the best friends the anti-slavery movement ever had. The number of runaway slaves who found shelter and concealment under her roof reached into the hundreds.

Indians are Starving.

San Francisco, Dec. 14.—A special to The Examiner from Tacoma, Wash., says: A party of 17 or 18 Yakima Indians starving and freezing to death in the Cascade Mountains. They are snowbound and Judge Erwin, agent at Fort Simcoe, who has charge of the Yakimas, has organized a relief party at Chehalis. The Indians were overtaken and hemmed in by the snowstorm that swept the western part of this State a couple of weeks ago.

MRS. STERNAMAN'S CASE.

Judge Coxe Heard Arguments at Utica, But Will Not Give Decision for a Few Days.

Utica, N.Y., Dec. 15.—Before Judge Coxe in the United States District Court in this city this afternoon are being heard arguments on a writ of certiorari in the case of the Dominion of Canada against Mrs. Olive Sternaman. She was arrested in Buffalo and taken before United States Commissioner Fairchild, who decided that it was a proper case for extradition. Upon application to Judge Coxe a writ of certiorari was granted to review the proceedings before the commissioner. Assistant United States District Attorney W. F. Mackey and Charles J. Thomas of Buffalo, appeared for the Canadian authorities, and Frank C. Ferguson and Wallace Thayer, both of Buffalo, in behalf of Mrs. Sternaman. Commissioner Fairchild is also present.

Mr. Thayer opened the argument at 2.40 p.m., claiming that there was no evidence that the defendant had committed a crime, or that any crime had been committed in the premises. He then quoted authorities, holding that to come under the extradition laws there must be reasonable cause to believe that the party arrested had committed an extraditiable offence. He quoted from the treaty between the United States and Great Britain to the effect that the case must be one in which the party would reasonably be convicted under the laws of the place where apprehended. Mr. Thayer next claimed that evidence such as that taken before the commissioner was not sufficient, and held that defendant had done everything consistent with the duties of a faithful and loving wife. He said that with two exceptions—as to the evidence of the undertaker and of the insurance expert—everything alleged before the commissioner was conceded; that, therefore, the question before the court became a matter of law only. He would, however, review the evidence before the commissioner and proceeded to do so.

Judge Coxe said there were two questions to be decided: First, whether or not the facts before the committee were sufficient for him to hold the defendant. He was to say whether a prima facie case had been made out. Counsel for the defendant had conceded that Sternaman died from arsenic poisoning. There was absolute want of motive for the poisoning of Sternaman by his people in Canada. Certainly it could not be said that the commissioner's act was unjustifiable. Had this been a case which had come under his jurisdiction he would have submitted it to the grand jury to say whether an indictment should be found. The court had to decide whether, owing to the insufficiency of the complaint, the commissioner acquired jurisdiction in the case. The court said he would announce his decision in a few days.

The Dominion Government expects that Judge Coxe will decide against the prisoner, in which case extradition papers will at once be issued and Mrs. Sternaman will be taken to Haldimand County, Canada, for trial. Her counsel will use every effort to have her tried anywhere else than at Sternaman's home. Mr. Thayer says that Sternaman's mother has so aroused the people in the county that a fair trial of his client would be impossible there. He has tried to have her tried in Toronto without success. Her counsel, if the decision of Judge Coxe should be against her, will go to Secretary Olney at Washington to argue against the issuance of extradition papers. It is alleged that Mrs. Sternaman's first husband died six weeks after her marriage, his death being similar to Sternaman's.

PORT ARTHUR IS OPEN.

Lighthouse Keeper Rowed in From Thunder Cape—Sawbill Mine Continues to Show Richness.

Port Arthur, Dec. 15.—(Special.)—Port Arthur as an open harbor was never better exemplified than to-day, when Captain William Craig, lighthouse-keeper at Thunder Cape, crossed in a rowboat from the Cape to the town, 18 miles. He claims he had a most enjoyable trip.

News from the Sawbill mine to-day is to the effect that the vein in the bottom of No. 1 shaft is 7 1-2 feet wide, and continues rich. The drifts are in 50 feet, and no difference in the rich quality of the ore. A large number of extra men are being sent in, now that the roads are good, to Sawbill, Lake Harold and Hawk Bay.

ANOTHER SLAP.

The Soo Line and C. P. R. Continue to Make Trouble for the Joint Traffic Association.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—The Soo Line, backed by the Canadian Pacific Railroad, administered another slap to-day to the Board of Managers of the Joint Traffic Association for allowing the Grand Trunk, Wabash and Michigan Central lines to carry the Canadian excursion business from the Northwest via Chicago. The Soo's extension of this business to New England territory, announced last week, has now assumed a more aggravated form by the announcement of the Saa that single fare rates for the round trip will be made from St. Paul and Minneapolis proper to Maine, Vermont and Massachusetts points, to Montreal, for $27.50, and to Boston, Portland and Worcester for $29, with a return limit of three months, tickets good for going Dec 15 to 21. This is an extension of time limit and a further invasion of competitive territory.

As soon as Chairman Caldwell heard of it he sent a letter to Commissioner Donald of the Central Passenger Committee, stating that it was of the utmost importance to the Chicago-St-Paul lines to meet the Canadian Pacific's competition and trusting that immediate authority would be given on behalf of the Grand Trunk, Wabash and Michigan Central to meet the rates. He also wired Commissioner Blanchard at New York to put the eastern roads on a competitive footing, but the danger of demoralization through scalpers is believed to be too great for an order of approval to be expected from the Board of Managers.

LOSS OF VOICE
After Acute Bronchitis
CURED BY USING
AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

BRAM ON TRIAL.

The Alleged Slayer of Captain Nash and His Wife Before the Court in Boston.

Boston, Dec. 15.—The trial of Thomas Bram, accused of murdering Captain Chas. I. Nash of the barquentine Herbert Fuller, was practically begun to-day, yesterday having been consumed in securing a jury. All witnesses but experts were ordered to leave the courtroom.

District Attorney Hoare opened the case by relating the incidents of the tragedy last July. He described what a seafaring life meant in many details. Then he displayed a photograph of the barquentine Herbert Fuller and with a diagram of the ship explained the make-up of the deck, rooms, etc. Special attention was given to the arrangements of the rooms with reference to the location of the wheel. Mr. Hoare urged upon the jury the necessity of pressing to the end the investigation against the defendant, and of bringing to justice the real murderer, so that there might be assurance of safety on the high seas under the American flag as on land. Mr. Hoare pointed out that this trial is conducted under national laws, and that in a federal trial there may not be, as under the laws of the commonwealth, degrees of murder. Either he did or he did not kill. Either he is a murderer or an innocent, unoffending man.

Mr. Hoare closed at 11.30 o'clock.

The first witness was J. F. Jones, Deputy Collector of the Port of Boston. His testimony, together with that of W. N. Collins, a clerk in the Custom House, and that of E. B. Grant, United States Shipping Commissioner, was offered to establish the identity of the barquentine Herbert Fuller, her ownership, hailing port, etc.

D. H. Ingraham, United States Consul-General at Halifax, told of the arrest of the crew of the Fuller at Halifax and of their examination and their departure. Mr. Ingraham was questioned by Lawyer Cotter regarding the cross-examination of Bram by counsel for Lester Monks at Halifax.

At this point the court took a recess until 2.30 p.m.

After recess Thomas E. Klein, a Halifax police officer, who brought the crew of the Herbert Fuller to Boston, testified as to the trip, and Alfred Ellis, first mate of the steamer Halifax, on which they came to Boston, gave unimportant testimony.

United States Deputy Marshal Waters testified to meeting the crew and others from the Fuller at the wharf and taking them to the Police Station. Being closely questioned as to any effects taken from the people in custody at that time, Mr. Waters recognized a paper shown him as taken from Bram. It was his discharge from the steamship Marion, at Liverpool, in May, 1896.

Henry N. Nash, an insurance man of Boston, brother of the murdered captain, was the next important witness. He gave a description of Captain Nash and his seafaring life, also told how Captain and Mrs. Nash spent the six months previous to sailing from Boston on July 5 last. The last witness of the day was James A. Ross, a Halifax photographer, who had taken several photographs of the barque Herbert Fuller as she lay in the harbor, which were identified by him and admitted in evidence by the court.

Adjourned till to-morrow.

Guelph Board of Trade Resolves in Favor of a Grand Consolidation.

Guelph, Dec. 15.—(Special.)—A meeting of the Guelph Board of Trade was held to-night, when an interesting paper on Canada's maritime provision and responsibility was read by W. H. Dunsford. Subsequently the following resolution, moved by J. M. Bond and seconded by Mr. R. L. Torrance, was passed: "That in the opinion of the Board of Trade of the City of Guelph a scheme should be fully discussed between the Canadian and Home Governments by which lines of subsidized mercantile cruisers should be gradually established between the Mother Country and the colonies, to be manned and officered by naval reserve men, as a means of protection to our trade, the development of inter-Imperial and inter-colonial trade, and the consolidation of the Empire." The resolution is in accordance with the scheme recently proposed by the Toronto branch of the Navy League. The board also passed a resolution, signed by the chairman, Mr. James Watt, and the secretary, Mr. A. Scott, inviting the Dominion Tariff Commissioners to visit Guelph at an early date.

Mason & Risch Pianos

Probably the most striking fact in connection with MASON & RISCH PIANOS is their suitability to all conditions. That they satisfy the social and aesthetic sense is evidenced by the fact that our cultured homes, from Rideau Hall down, use them. The fact that of importance in Canada is supplied with them, gives testimony to their musical excellence, and even in the homes of far off British Columbia, deep in the forest and far removed from the tuner's visit or care, they are still to be found standing hard usage like a rock, and cheering the distant home with their musical tone.

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Miss F. Roy, who has been visiting friends in Toronto, returned home last week.

Mrs. Stevenson and son, of Norwich, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Baptie.

Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, preached the preparatory sermon in the Presbyterian church last Friday afternoon, and while here with his wife visited the families of Mr. S. Nelson and Mr. W. M. Graham, who are members of his congregation.

Mr. Albert Doidge, student at the College of Pharmacy, is home for the Christmas holidays.

Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., and wife, of Peterborough, spent Sunday in the village.

The best selection of Christmas presents for the least money, is at R. Graham & Sons.

Mrs. M. Connal and son, of Carlton, Michigan, are the guests of Mrs. H. Masters.

Mrs. W.M. Graham went on Wednesday to Centreville, and on Thursday she will go to Millbrook to address meetings of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church.

On Friday evening of last week, Mr. T. H. Benson, on the eve of joining the Benedicts, gave his bachelor friends a farewell party at the Queen's hotel. A splendid supper was served in Munro's best style, and was enjoyed by those present, and they spent a jovial hour. After supper Mr. Benson was called to his feet by Dr. Clare, who read the following address:

Mr. Thomas H. Benson, Lakefield, Ont.:

We, your bachelor friends, assembled together this evening, desire to express the esteem and respect with which you are held by us.

We are pleased to learn of the important step which you are about to take and we can assure you that you have our heartiest congratulations, not only of ourselves, but of every one who has been so fortunate as to make your acquaintance since you have resided among us.

We ask you to accept this cane as a token of our best wishes, and also as a memento of the many pleasant evenings spent among us in Lakefield.

We trust that you will accept it, not for its intrinsic merit, but in the spirit in which it is given.

In declining years when its usage may be more required, we hope it may call to your remembrance the many pleasant associations connected with it.

(Signed)

HARVEY CLARE, M.D., J. W. RIDPATH, W. G. COX, J. S. MADILL, A. SAWERS, E. A. TANNER, J. HARRY SHERIN, W. H. CASEMENT, H. A. MORROW.

At the proper time Mr. E. A. Tanner made the presentation of a beautiful ebony gold-headed cane, inscribed "To Mr. T. H. Benson, from his bachelor friends."

Mr. Benson in replying, said "that as the recipient of such kind thoughtfulness and honor, he was completely taken by surprise. He felt too full for utterance—full of joy and full of sorrow, full of surprise and thankfulness. He thanked them for the honour they had done him, and stated it was an incident in his life never to be forgotten. In this unfriendly world it was comforting to feel that there were a few, at least, true friends, who were doing their part to make life's journey smooth, and who were not envious of one's success. He appreciated the gift, not for its real worth, but he appreciated the act itself, the unmerited kindness. This evening and its associations would ever linger in his memory, and would be regarded as an oasis in life's journey."

After speechmaking and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," an adjournment was made to the parlour, where a pleasant evening was spent.

R. Graham & Son are selling 16 lbs. raisins for $1, 12 lbs. best selected raisins for $1, 12 lbs. of currants for $1, 4 tins corn for 25c, 4 tins tomatoes for 25c, pure lard 10c lb.; also new peels, English mince meat, figs nuts, mixed candy, cream candy and chocolates at lowest prices.

The Baptist Young People's Union held a very pleasant "at home" at the residence of Mr. T. Gordon, on Monday evening. After games, etc., the following programme was rendered:

Has Come at Last!

Ready-made Clothing at Panic Prices.

We're determined to relieve the pressure caused by our gigantic stock. At no time in the last ten years has there been such excitement in the wholesale Clothing trade as in the past six weeks. Owing to the exceedingly mild weather trade has been disappointing, consequently immense stocks are on hand. When the demand is light prices are low. This season trade was so light that prices were simply paralysed. We were offered from time to time the very finest clothing at prices usually asked for the lowest grade. Unable to resist such tempting offers we bought almost $20.000 worth of Clothing. Now that we have it we find ourselves with a "white elephant" on our hands. The Clothing was bought at our own prices, but as there is little demand for heavy goods these mild days our position is about the same as the farmer and his apple crop. Sighing and thinking of what might have been will do no good. Quick action is necessary. For the balance of this season we close our eyes to real worth and inaugurate a selling soiree that is destined to stand unequalled in our mercantile history.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

Parliament Likely to Meet Early in March.

GREAT JUMP IN MINING BUSINESS

A Few Civil Servants Who Were Laid Off Get Back to Work—That Case of Leprosy at Three Rivers—New Liberal Newspaper to be Established.

Ottawa, Dec. 17.—(Special.)—Considerable uncertainty prevails in town regarding the meeting of Parliament. The sooner the better, Ottawa people say. The Free Press says: "From what can be gathered in official circles, it is the intention of the Government to summon Parliament to meet at the earliest possible moment, which will probably be the first week in March. It is also the purpose of the Government to go on next session with a new franchise bill, a civil service act, and a new superannuation bill. In accordance with the promises made, steps will be taken to provide the necessary legislation for carrying out the prohibition plebiscite.

A despatch was received to-day from the Mayor of Three Rivers, respecting the alleged case of leprosy in that city. The Premier wired Mayor Cook that he would order the medical expert, Dr. Smith, in charge of the Lazaretto at Tracadie, to investigate the matter, but Mayor Cook states that the suspected Chinaman had been sent to Montreal, the Provincial Board of Health having ordered his release from temporary quarantine, as there was nothing to indicate that he was afflicted with the scourge.

The movement for the establishment of a new evening Liberal newspaper at the Capital is well under way. It is expected that this latest accession to the journalistic field will make its appearance at the end of January. Stock is being canvassed for on the ground that the paper will be the official Liberal organ here, with a job printing and lithographing establishment annexed, which is to get any of the Government business going in that line outside the Printing Bureau. The title of the new concern is The Chaudiere Press.

From the Auditor-General's report it appears that the amount of printing, engraving, lithographing, etc., given out to private firms in Ottawa by the Government last year was about $16,000. Mortimer & Co. got $10,131, George Cox $7218 and Paynter & Abbott $150, these being the full list of beneficiaries.

The customs returns from the mining districts of British Columbia to the department, especially from Trail and Rossland, show business jumping with leaps and bounds. Assistants have been placed in both these places, making a staff of seven in all. The department is still awaiting a nomination for the office of collector at Seine River in the Rainy River district.

A number of Public Works employes who were temporarily laid off are to be found again on the departmental pay rolls, having been taken on within the last week.

Out of the five temporary clerks notified some time ago in the Agriculture Department that their services would not be required after Dec. 31 two have since received a cancellation of that notice, and will continue in the department.

Mr. Dunn, collector of customs at Huntingdon, B. C., has been dismissed on account of offensive partisanship. The notification was sent out from Ottawa yesterday. It was established that he was on the stump during the June elections.

Prof. Robertson, Dominion Dairy and Agricultural Commissioner, is visiting Renfrew and other places in the district in connection with the poultry trade. Large shipments will be sent from the Counties of Carlton and Renfrew to the Old Country market.

Mr. Andrew Onderdonk, the Trent Canal contractor, was here to-day on business with the Railways Department.

Commander Spain left to-night for Owen Sound.

The vacation at the Supreme and Exchequer Courts began yesterday and will last until January.

Judge O'Brien of L'Orignal arrived here to-night. He says the Canadian Pacific's new line to Ottawa is completed as far as Alfred. It is being constructed with a view to its being a double-track road. It is expected that the line will reach Ottawa next summer.

There was not a Minister in town to-day.

H. H. Gildersleeve of Kingston and Mr. Britton, M.P., were here as the advance guard of a Kingston delegation, but had to telegraph their associates not to come, owing to the absence of Ministers.

Mr. Riley, American Consul-General for Ottawa, has his annual report nearly ready. It will show that the volume of exports from Eastern Ontario to the States is quite up to the average.

The Curfew law will go into effect on Jan. 1.

ST. BONIFACE MAYORALTY.

A Hot Contest Won by the Opponent of the Schools Settlement—News Notes From the Prairie City.

Winnipeg, Dec. 17.—(Special.)—St. Boniface town had a hot Mayoralty contest, with the school settlement as the chief issue. The candidates opposed to the proposed settlement, Senator Bernier, won, only by 20 votes.

The election of W. F. McCreary as Mayor of Winnipeg, is to be protested on the ground of lack of qualifications.

The petition to unseat Mr. MacDonnell, Liberal member for Selkirk, is now before the courts. The petition to unseat Mr. Richardson, Liberal member for Lisgar, comes up on Monday.

Hon. Clifford Sifton left to-day via C.P.R. for Ottawa with his family.

WALTER HALL DROWNED.

A Port Perry Boy Was Skating With a Young Lady at Rosseau and Both Went Down.

Rosseau, Ont., Dec. 17.—A sad drowning accident occurred here this evening, when a young man, Walter Hall, while in company with Miss Ethel Beley, skating, fell through the ice. The shouts for help were heard and soon many were at their assistance, but too late to save the life of Mr. Hall. They succeeded, however, in saving Miss Beley. Grappling at once followed, with the result that in forty-five minutes Messrs. George and Arthur Monteith succeeded in recovering the body. Dr. Young after trying artificial respiration for some time gave it up as hopeless. The deceased was from Port Perry and an employe of Homer & Co. of this place.

TARTE'S SHARP REPLY.

A Vigorous Answer to the Article in Archbishop Fabre's Organ Regarding the School Question.

Montreal, Dec. 17.—(Special.)—Hon. Mr. Tarte is going to have it out with the clergy, irrespective of results. He published a signed article to-day in Le Cultivateur, saying as a beginning that as Archbishop Fabre is on his deathbed, His Grace cannot be held responsible for the recent article of La Semaine Religieuse, and adds that the article was written by a Tory pen. "Citizens (as he calls the priests) who have no families on their hands, and who are not fathers of children destined to earn their own living by the sweat of their brows, these gentlemen," continues the Minister of Public Works, "by reason of their religious profession are exempt from paying taxes, the weight of which is borne by the ordinary ratepayer. We do not deny them," says Mr. Tarte, "the right to be heard. On the contrary, we invite them to public discussion before the country, but we do not deny them the right to speak 'ex-cathedra.' They are priests, citizens, men. We are laymen and ratepayers. We are also fathers of families. The children we raise are ours, and we claim the right with an unshaken firmness to speak for them, to speak in their name and in their future interest. Le Semaine Religieuse will only have schools that bear the name of Separate, yet what is there in names and phrases? It is facts that count. We are face to face with the fact that no Government, either in Manitoba or at Ottawa, can re-establish the order of things prior to 1890, and to be frank about it, we would not if we could, and why? What the Catholics want is a school system that puts them on the same footing with those who surround them. Take a trip through Manitoba and you will see that the proportion of our compatriots and co-religionists who do not know how to read and write is terribly alarming. No, we do not want the re-establishment of the order of things prior to 1890, and we declare without fear, that all of our intelligent compatriots in Manitoba are of the same opinion."

Hon. Mr. Tarte adds that in the Province of Ontario thousands of Catholic children follow the public schools, with episcopal consent, and Hon. Mr. Ross affirms that there are more of these children in the Public than in the Separate schools. The policy in Manitoba up to the present time has been disastrous to the French-Canadian race. What is called the Cathedral of St. Boniface is but a little church, smaller than most of the smallest churches in Quebec, and around this are grouped some 1200 people of French origin. They have isolated St. Boniface, and the result has been that our brothers have been abandoned by the rest of the population. Is it therefore not painful to see people attempt to prevent the Catholic population of Manitoba from taking part in the government and development of the province where they reside? We bitterly regret that a portion of the clergy refuses to lend its efforts to the carrying out of a policy that changed circumstances have imposed upon our race. We leave to the Semaine Religieuse, and to those of its school, the responsibility of the destructive work they have set about to perform. Let them not be deceived. They cannot prevent the development of those ideas of legitimate liberty which drive the masses into the party of which Hon. Mr. Laurier is chief."

THE EARTH QUAKED.

Southern England and Wales Shaken Up.

TWO DISTINCT SHOCKS WERE FELT

Houses Trembled, Beds Moved From Their Places and Doors Flew Open—One Woman at Hereford in England Frightened to Death—Other News by Cable.

London, Dec. 17.—Two strong shocks of earthquake were felt throughout Wales, the Midlands and the South of England early this morning. The first shock occurred at 3 o'clock and the second at 5 30 in the afternoon. Houses were shaken; beds moved from their places, doors forced open and furniture overturned. Telegrams from all quarters concur in the statement that the first shock was of 30 seconds duration, and was followed by a loud rumbling sound and minor in tremblings of the earth. The second shock was shorter, but more severe. Many people in Windsor, Cheltenham and other places rushed out of their houses, ut no one was hurt. The Cathedral at Hereford was damaged somewhat, but no other serious damage is reported.

At Hereford the rumbling sound was followed by two crashes. Men and women rushed from their houses into the street and one woman died from fright.

At Ruthven the shocks were accompanied by thunder and lightning and for 13 seconds there was a distinct movement of the earth. At Liverpool the shocks were followed by thunder, lightning, and hail, and there were similar manifestations at Bridgenorth, where the streets at first seemed to be on fire for several seconds. After this there was a violent report, followed by a heavy shock. Only a slight quaking sensation was felt at Manchester, Birmingham and in the northwestern part of London. The damage was not serious anywhere.

The area of the seismic disturbances was unusually wide, extending hundreds of miles from London north to Lincoln, thence west to Lancashire, south through Wales to Taunton, and southeast to Southampton, over 200 towns and villages being affected. There were, however, no fatalities except in the case of the woman who died from fright at Hereford. The telegraph lines were not affected. The attaches of the Greenwich Observatory say that the galvanometer showed a very slight disturbance at the time of the shocks. The authorities at the Stoneyhurst Observatory say that their galvanometers showed no indication whatever of a seismic disturbance.

"COUNTESS" ROSSI ARRESTED.

An American Adventuress and Her Paramour in the Toils at Paris.

Paris, Dec. 17.—A woman who calls herself Countess Rossi, but whose real name is not known, has been arrested here, charged with burglary in having plundered the villa of Count and Countess Rothe at Neuilly-sur-Seine, a mile and a half from Paris, while the owners were sojourning at Monte Carlo. The self-styled Countess was born in Detroit, Mich., of French parents. She asserts that she was married to an Italian Count of the name of Rossi, who is now dead. She has long been known in Paris and elsewhere as an adventuress.

Her paramour, named Gaillard, who professes to be her uncle and secretary, was arrested at the same time, the police having evidence that both were implicated in the robbery.

ASTOR'S DAUGHTER AGAIN MARRIED

Mrs. Coleman Drayton Weds a Rich Whisky Merchant in London.

New York, Dec. 17.—A despatch from London says Mrs. Coleman Drayton, daughter of Mrs. William Astor, who some time ago obtained a divorce from her husband on the ground of desertion and non-support, was married this afternoon by special license at St. Columbia's Church, to George Haig of the firm of Haig & Haig, whiskey merchants of this city. The Rev. Donald McLeod, D. D., pastor of St. Columbia, officiated. The register was signed by Consul-General Collins as witness.

At the request of the bride, the organ played "Mendelssohn's Wedding March as the party left the church and entered carriages to be driven to the bride's residence on Hertford-street, Mayfair, where a wedding breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Haig left London for Dover at 4.30 p.m., en route for Paris, where they will arrive to-morrow morning. Later they will go to Nice.

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our

A Ruling by the Behring Sea Commissioners Which Will Save Time

Victoria, B.C., Dec. 17.—A ruling was made yesterday by the Behring Sea Claims Commission on a subject of vital importance, which has frequently been a question of difference between contending counsel. It was regarding the proportion of seals secured outside of those shot by hunters, and Judge Putnam, speaking for the Commissioners, said that it had been decided to restrict the evidence of witnesses on this point to their practical experience, and to also limit the number of witnesses to about half a dozen.

Capt. Byers, the first witness called in regard to seal killing, estimated the number lost at five per cent.

The anthracite coal dealers have an overstock at tidewater and in storage, and there is talk of concessions in prices. The output this year from the mines has been over 2,000,000 tons less than last year. The coal barons admit having made money this year, but claim to have made nothing last year.

It is often a mystery how a cold has been "caught." The fact is, however, that when the blood is poor and the system depressed, one becomes peculiarly liable to diseases. When the appetite or the strength fails, Ayer's Sarsaparilla should be taken without delay.

CHRISTMAS CHARITIES.

Generosity to the Poor Was Customary In Ye Olden Tyme.

At Drayton Beauchamp, in Buckinghamshire, there was a curious custom known as "Stephening." It was the ancient practice of the inhabitants of the village to repair to the rectory on St. Stephen's day, the day immediately following Christmas, and eat as much bread and cheese as they chose and drink as much ale as they thought proper at the expense of the rector. The custom gave rise to so much rioting that he discontinued it and distributed an annual sum of money instead. In the olden time it was the custom of the rector of Great Barr in Staffordshire on every Christmas day to give to all persons calling at his house as much bread, beef, mustard and vinegar as they could eat. A money payment is now made in place of the eatables. The inhabitants of North Clifton were formerly free from ferry dues, and in consequence the ferryman and his dog were indulged with a dinner each at the vicar's at Christmas. The ferryman also on that day received of the inhabitants a prime loaf of bread.

There is a very pleasant custom connected with the parish of Cumnor in Berkshire, the church of which is a vicarage and a beautiful specimen of the venerable parochial edifices of that kind in England. On Christmas day after evening service the parishioners who are liable to pay any tithes repair to the vicarage and are there entertained with bread, cheese and ale. It is no benefaction on the part of the vicar, but claimed as a right on the part of the parishioners, and even the quantity of good things which the vicar brings forward is specified. He must have four bushels of malt brewed into ale and small beer, two bushels of wheat made into bread and half a hundredweight of cheese, and whatever remains unconsumed by the vicarage payers is distributed next day after morning prayers among the poor.

There was a very curious custom observed at Paddington church, in London, which partakes of the character of Christmas charity. At 8 o'clock on the morning of the Sunday before Christmas it was usual to throw a quantity of bread and cheese from the steeple of the church among the populace. The assemblage on the occasion was generally immense, and a great scramble took place. The custom had its origin in the will of two poor sisters, who, traveling to London to claim an estate, in which they succeeded, and being much distressed, were first relieved in Paddington. The custom was kept up until a few years since, when a less objectionable mode was adopted for the distribution of this charity. It is given in bread and coal by the minister and parish officers to the poor of the district.—Selected.

The Three Magi.

According to tradition the bodies of the three magi, or "kings of the east," who visited Christ, bearing gifts, are buried in the Cathedral of Cologne, in Germany. They are said to have been discovered in the third century by the Empress Helena, mother of Constantine, who translated them from Jerusalem to the great Church of St. Sophia, at Constantinople, whence they were sent by the Emperor Emmanuel to Milan at the request of the bishop of that city. In 1164 the Emperor Frederick of Germany, having taken Milan, seized the bodies of the three kings as the most precious booty and removed them with great pomp to Cologne cathedral. The shrine of the three magi is one of the show places of the city. The altar where the relics are kept is profusely decorated with gems and gold. The bodies are supposed to be buried underneath the high altar, but the three skulls, set in a velvet cushion, profusely adorned with precious stones, are exhibited to those who are willing to pay the large fee demanded for opening and illuminating the chapel where these relics are kept.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Ayer's Pills, being composed of the essential virtues of the best vegetable aperients, without any of the woody or fibrous material whatever, is the reason why they are so much more effective and valuable than any other cathartics. The best family physic.

French Christmas Delicacies.

Liver puddings, well truffled and plentifully seasoned with garlic, together with the national poulet, are seen on every Christmas table in France, accompanied, especially in the south, by the celebrated Languedoc stew, which is composed, according to M. Colombie, of the following materials:

Take beef, lean bacon, a clove of garlic, a small onion in which is inserted one clove, the third of a quart of wine, a small glass of cognac and some salt. Cut the beef into square pieces, very small, and put the whole into a small earthen pot, the bottom of which is lined with thin slices of bacon. Cover the pot with thick paper closed at the edges by flour paste made with cold water, put a plate over all and let it simmer for six hours.—Exchange.

LESS RESTRICTION

Is the Request of the Licensed Victuallers.

PROVINCIAL PREMIER WAITED ON

By an Influential Delegation Representing All Sections of the Province—The Case of the Hotel Men Presented in Clear Language Men. Mr. Hardy's Reply.

Toronto, Dec. 18.

The Ontario License Act seems to please nobody. Some time ago a somewhat numerous deputation of the more extreme temperance advocates asked the Ontario Government for a number of amendments to the law such as would be conformable to their views, while yesterday the Government had the spectacle presented of a delegation, hardly so numerous, but of similar weight in the community, and representing the Ontario License Holders' Protective Association, also petitioning for amendments which would remove many of the restrictions which they allege they are suffering under.

Among the petitioners were noticed the following members of the Association's Executive: Messrs. H. Maxey and T. Crooks, Hamilton; F. Collins, Dundas; John Caffey, Barrie; A. G. Smith, St. Thomas; J. McFarland, Kingston; E. Sullivan, Toronto; M. Bickle, the secretary; and James Haverson, the solicitor of the association. The other representatives were Messrs. W. Hopkins, J. Robinson, R. Allcock, V. T. Bero, J. R. Wilson, G. J. Leslie, John Holderness, T. K. Haffey, Toronto; W. Noble, Thomas Wilson, Hamilton; E. Henderson, Ancaster; John McCarthy, St. Catharines; W. Carr, Webbwood; J. R. Higgins, Bracebridge; N. J. Frawley, Orillia; M. Quinn, Ottawa; John Sutton, Simcoe; W. E. Gladstone, Blackwater; and E. H. Smith of London.

The above-named gentlemen, through their spokesman, Solicitor Haverson, urged upon the Government the advisability and practicability of introducing legislation that would give effect to amendments to the existing regulations as follows:

(1) That the hour of closing hotels and saloons on week nights other than Saturday nights be 12 o'clock p.m., on Saturday nights 9 p.m.

(2) That the power of Municipal Councils to deal with liquor licenses be withdrawn, and the same vested in the Provincial Government.

(3) That holders of shop licenses be permitted to keep for sale upon their licensed premises cigars, cigarettes and tobacco, the same to be sold in unbroken packages. (See section 22 of the Liquor License Act.)

(4) That the removal and transfer of licenses to be in the discretion of the commissioners. (See II. sub-sec. 14.)

(5) That tavern license holders be permitted to supply liquor to guests, travelers, boarders and lodgers during prohibited hours. (Sec. 54.)

(6) That holders of licenses to sell liquor shall be eligible for members of Municipal Councils.

(7) That the License Act be so amended that the bar of licensed premises may be opened after the hours of polling on election days.

(8) That druggists be prohibited from selling liquor at all times or in any quantities, except for dispensing purposes.

(9) That holders of shop licenses be allowed to sell bottled liquors in sealed packages, in quantities of not less than one-half pint.

(10) That the defendant in all cases of infraction of the Liquor License Act be constituted a competent but not compellable witness.

Upon entering the Council Chamber each delegate was received with the cordial handshake of Premier Hardy, who took occasion to remark that he was sorry that the limited accommodation of their hotel would not permit of all the members being seated. Hon. J. M. Gibson, Hon. G. W. Ross, Hon. Richard Harcourt and Hon. E. J. Davis were present at the Council.

Mr. Haverson spoke first. He began to explain that the deputation represented the liquor traffic, and was composed of the Executive Committee and some of the more prominent members of the Licenseholders' Protective Association throughout the province. It had been promised, he went on, time and again that a time would come when the License Act would receive the consideration of the Government. He thought it should do so now. In presenting the question to the Minister, he did so from the standpoint of what they considered a legitimate business, from a license standpoint. On the other hand, the temperance people did not understand the subject with which they were professing to deal. They were at the present time endeavoring to have the Dominion Government kill the traffic by a single blow. But they were not sure that that Government would feel safe in doing so, so they approached the Ontario Government to see if they could not strangle it by a process of restriction.

Their avowed object in coming to the provincial authorities was the destruction of the traffic, and not that it should be placed on a legitimate basis and be fairly controlled by a license act. The License Act in their hands, he said, would simply be a method of destruction.

The first amendment the solicitor asked the Ministers to consider had reference to the hours of closing. With the exception of that one forcing the closing of the saloons at 7 o'clock on Saturday nights there was no statutory enactment fixing the hour of closing them. The hours of closing on week nights, therefore, varied from 9.30 to 12 o'clock at night.

Hon. Mr. Hardy: "What places do you know of which close at half-past nine?"

Mr. Haverson: "In Woodstock the hour is 10 p.m. and in Port Hope 9.30 p.m."

Hon. Mr. Gibson: "Where in the province is the hour later than 11 p.m.?"

Mr. Haverson: "In your own city of Hamilton, Mr. Gibson, the hour is 11.30 p.m."

An outburst of laughter followed this sally.

In Windsor, the spokesman resumed, the hour was 12 p.m. The association desired that the hour of closing be made uniform throughout the province, and suggested that it be made 12 p.m.

Turning to the matter of the hour of closing on Saturday, the advocate of the traffic contended that the law was adopted at a time when wages were paid on Saturday, and was thought advisable because it served to remove temptation out of the way of workingmen. As wages were now no longer paid on Saturday, but in many cases on Friday, the reason for the law, he thought, no longer existed. Why, therefore, be asked, should the hour of closing be 7 p.m. on Saturdays, when every other business man might keep his place of business open as long as he pleased? Taking Windsor and other towns on the border as examples, he asserted that a great deal of Canadian money was being spent in Detroit and other American cities, where bars were open later, rather than in Windsor. It was not unreasonable, he thought, to ask that the hour should be extended to at least 9 p.m.

Turning to the point of the removal and transfer of licenses into the hands of the commissioners, Mr. Haverson pointed out that since the adoption by the Ontario Government of the principle of one man one vote, with the provision that the elector should poll that vote in the district in which he resided, it simply meant that in a large number of polling sub-divisions the removal and transfer of licenses rested with less than a dozen voters, who were in most cases caretakers. He claimed therefore, that commissioners appointed by, and responsible to, the Government would be more capable of dealing with it than would in many cases the electors of a sub-division.

In regard to the amendment proposed to allow the sale of liquor to hotel guests and boarders in prohibited hours, the speaker suggested that, as the hotel was the home of travelers and boarders, it should be supplied with the refreshments which many homes afford. No reason could be given why the trade should be deprived of such a privilege. It was an extremely difficult thing for the license-holder to observe a law which was universally regarded by the traveling public to be unreasonable.

Next the lawyer asked that license-holders be made eligible to sit in municipal councils. He considered it inconsistent that a distiller could be a member of Parliament, while an hotelkeeper could not represent his fellow-citizens in such municipal bodies.

Continuing, the speaker denounced the principle of closing throughout the whole of election days. He could see the point in keeping the bars closed while polling was going on, but saw no reason why they should not be reopened immediately the poll was closed.

Hon. Mr. Hardy: "What hour do you suggest to open them, 7 o'clock?"

Mr. Haverson: "Yes, that would do."

Proceeding, he said that a great deal of odium attached to the illicit sale of liquor came from its sale by druggists. Where a notice was served by a wife, he claimed, prohibiting the sale of liquor to her husband, the effect was destroyed by the fact that by simply signing his name, the latter could procure it from the druggist, who could sell in defiance of any such notice. Druggists were not required to have a license, and thus it was that many of them could afford to pay the penalty for a little illicit selling occasionally.

As far as the proposed amendment dealing with the sale of liquor in shops was concerned, he thought it more in the interests of temperance to allow the sale of quantities of not less than one-half pint than to allow them quantities of not less than a pint and a half.

Touching upon the last clause, Mr. Haverson became very earnest. It was a Russian, not a British practice, to place a man in the box to convict himself. Under the Scott Act, which was a Dominion measure, the defendant was a competent, but not a compellable, witness. Under the Dominion Evidence Act of 1893, the accused was treated likewise. Why, he asked, should a different rule be applied to govern offences against provincial acts? The temptation to perjury was so great, to men who had their license at stake, and who had not too much of the fear of God before their eyes, that any advantages to be gained by the present system were acquired at too great a cost.

And then the speaker turned his attention to the alleged reforms asked for by the Dominion Alliance some time ago. "We know something about the liquor traffic, they know little or nothing about it. All they want is to have it abolished," was his emphatic comment. There were, he went on, but one-half the number of licenses to-day that there were 20 years ago. The Alliance people would have the dealers close the bars at 4 p.m. on Saturdays. Why didn't they ask them to close at 1 p.m., it would have been just as well as asking to have it done at 4 p.m.?

Ald. Spence had said, he continued, when complaining of the liquor selling by the clubs: "Look at the clubs. The very moment that the licensed houses are shut up, then the clubs do their best business, particularly on Saturday night and on Sunday. Men that take liquor are not to be shut off because hotels are closed at early hours. They can get their liquor elsewhere."

Commenting on the alderman's remarks the solicitor said that no one would be better pleased than the liquor dealers if the sale were to be prohibited in the club rooms. They were not licensed and injured the trade.

The temperance people had asked for the abolition of the saloon altogether. Mr. Haverson ventured to remark that all the saloons were restaurants as well and provided as many meals as most of the hotels. He thought they were, therefore, a necessity. An hotel was a place where a man received board, lodging and "spiritual" refreshment. Supposing a man was only wanting refreshment, what harm was there in his going to a place where it was sold?

The temperance people also proposed that a man's license be marked for every conviction, that "convicted" should be written across the face of his license. As the law required a man to expose his license the speaker contended that it was enough for the dealer to be punished in a proper manner without resorting to the ancient process of public branding. Diverting, he claimed that some specified time should be constituted sufficient for an offence to be legally forgotten. As it was, a man might be convicted now, and if again convicted 10 years hence, it would be a second offence. He thought the time allowed should be four years as in the English act. The speaker believed that the demand of the other delegation for the restriction of the age limit from 16 years to 21 years of age was only made to hamper the trade.

In conclusion, he said that all they asked was that the trade be treated fairly, and if they were so treated there was no trade which would endeavor to live up to the laws more than the one he spoke for. They would always be ready to do right in the matter. He hoped they would receive the consideration of the Government when they came to treat the License Act.

Mr. Smith of St. Thomas followed in a short address on behalf of the shopkeepers. He contended that if the licenses were taken away from these gentlemen, instead of selling ale by the dozen to private houses they would simply have to sell it with a wholesale license and deal in larger quantities. He also asked that the shopkeepers be allowed to deal in tobacco. He thought the requests were reasonable.

The spokesmen of the deputation having been heard, Premier Hardy concluded the interview with a few remarks. The question, he said, was a most important one. The case of the deputation had been put before the Government in a very clear and able manner and would receive their serious consideration. It had been said in some of the newspapers that the late Hon. Mr. Balfour had proposed some temperance amendments for adoption. This the Premier characterized as a misapprehension. He knew of none such. He thanked the deputation for attending in such numbers and explaining their case so fully and fairly.

Here is some Norwood talk:

Mr. George Taylor, well known in Norwood, has this to say about Doan's Kidney Pills:—

"For a great many years I have been a sufferer from kidney disease. Terrible pain in my side and back made my life a burden. The urine was a dark wine colour, and I was greatly troubled with frequent urination. My sleep was destroyed because of this annoying trouble.

"I have taken scores of medicines, but could get no relief, and thought that I would never be cured. Happily I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, and got a box at J. C. Moffatt's drug store, and have continued their use for one month.

"I am thankful to say as a result that they have fixed me up. I feel like another person. I do not now have to get up at night, and in fact am entirely cured.

"I think they are the grandest medicine ever placed before the public, and I heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney disorder of any kind."

Has Come at Last!

Ready-made Clothing at Panic Prices.

We're determined to relieve the pressure caused by our gigantic stock. At no time in the last ten years has there been such excitement in the wholesale Clothing trade as in the past six weeks. Owing to the exceedingly mild weather trade has been disappointing, consequently immense stocks are on hand. When the demand is light prices are low. This season trade was so light that prices were simply paralysed. We were offered from time to time the very finest clothing at prices usually asked for the lowest grade. Unable to resist such temptin offers we bought almost $20.000 worth of Clothing. Now that we have it we find ourselves with a "white elephant" on our hands. The Clothing was bought at our own prices, but as there is little demand for heavy goods these mild days our position is about the same as the farmer and his apple crop. Sighing and thinking of what might have been will do no good. Quick action is necessary. For the balance of this season we close our eyes to real worth and inaugurate a selling soiree that is destined to stand unequalled in our mercantile history.

M. L. HENRY & CO.

OPPOSITE THE OPERA HOUSE, GEORGE ST.

SENATOR COX IS BANQUETTED.

A Magnificent Demonstration In His Honour.

Peterborough Citizens Pay a Tribute to a Fellow-Citizen—Mr. Cox's Elevation to the Senate Splendidly Recognized—The Banquet a Complete Success in Every Respect — Excellent Speeches, Good Music and Good Feeling.

The banquet given Hon. Geo. A. Cox by the citizens of Peterborough last night at the Oriental hotel, in recognition of his being appointed to the Senate of Canada, was in every way an entire and magnificent success. Never before in Peterborough was such a large and representative gathering convened on a similar occasion. Never before was there a gathering at which there was such complete harmony of feeling and sympathy with its object. Never before was there a gathering so representative of the solid citizenship and our varied industrial, professional and commercial interests. Never before was there a gathering in honour of a public man which was distinguished by so complete and delightful an obliteration of party political lines—where all united in a generous rivalry to show honour to a former fellow citizen, who is still a citizen in his warm interest in everything that pertains to the advancement of the best interests of Peterborough. Not only was the occasion a conspicuous success in all these respects, but in every other besides. The uniform excellence of the speeches given, both in proposing and in replying to toasts, was too conspicuous a feature not to be universally recognized. The matter was good, the manner was good, and while every address breathed only sentiments of the warmest appreciation and veneration for the great Empire, and a pride in being an integral part of it, yet the Canadian national spirit flashed through every sentence, and the many tributes to our beloved Canada, for which the chairman and Mr. Cox set the pace, found a hearty response in the audience, and showed that as highly as we value British connection, warmly as we cherish our share in the traditions of the Empire, the most sacred place in our hearts is given to the best and dearest land "that e'er the sun shone on." Such gatherings as these, animated by so broad a spirit of harmony, where all creeds, all classes, all political denominations, agree to drop the differences that distinguish them in every-day life, and to spontaneously and enthusiastically unite to honour a fellow citizen and pay tribute to his worth, cannot but have a good result in unifying and solidifying our citizenship, and elevating us to a higher plane of action where, no matter how ardently we pursue our course in our more individual concerns, we all unite on common ground in advancing the weal of our town and our country. Hon. Mr. Cox and the citizens of Peterborough have equal reason to be proud of the magnificent success of last night's banquet. In honouring him they honoured themselves. The committee who had the affair in hand are to be warmly congratulated upon the excellent administration they displayed, and it is a pleasure to add that the significant success would have been impossible without the cordial co-operation they received from the foremost citizens of the town.

The guest of the evening, Hon. G. A. Cox, came down from Toronto on a special car attached to the local. He was accompanied by the following Torontonians: Messrs. C. McGill, Hon. G. M. Gibson, H. P. Dwight, Robt. Jaffray, B. E. Walker, W. R. Brock, A. E. Ames, E. W. Cox, H. C. Cox, F. G. Cox, J. J. Kenny, G. R. Cockburn and Stewart Lyon and J. C. Walsh, of the Globe.

The party was met at the station by a committee composed of Messrs. J. R. Stratton, honorary chairman; Robt. Fair, honorary secretary; Richard Hall, R. Mulholland, T. Cahill, T. E. Bradburn, Jas. Kendry, W. H. Moore, Mayor Yelland, Jas. Stevenson, John Carnegie, W. H. Maldram, and escorted in carriages to the Oriental parlours, where a reception was held, and a large number of citizens was presented to Mr. Cox, and personally extended their congratulations on the occasion of the honour of his elevation to to the Senate.

The Banquet.

At eight-thirty the party assembled in the banquetting hall, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion in Turner's best style. The grand old flag was abundantly in evidence, and the tables were laid in a most elaborate and sumptuous manner. There was the glitter of silver, and the glare of ornate banquet lamps in brilliant competition with the blaze of electric lights. The tables were beautifully decorated with flowers, the choicest spoil of the conservatories of Messrs. Jordan Bros. adorned the tables. The appointments of the banquet reflect the highest credit upon the capacity for entertainment and the taste of the management of the Oriental Hotel, and the culinary quality of the viands, and the prompt service, are worthy of special notice. The sumptuous and practically regal character of the repast provided may be gathered from the following copy of the

During the early part of the evening the Fire Brigade band, stationed in the rotunda of the hotel, discoursed a variety of artistic selections which enlivened the feast, and exercised the soothing influence of music upon the guests in preparation for the more exacting intellectual demands upon their attention which followed the enjoyable discussion of the menu, which was prefaced by grace said by Rev. Father Conway, Norwood.

THE SPEAKING BEGINS.

In introducing the toast list Mr. Stratton said that having received an abundance of creature comforts, so elaborately provided they would now turn their attention in another direction—to what he had every reason to believe would be a feast of reason, and, he hoped, a flow of soul. Before proceeding he claimed their indulgence for a moment while he expressed his sense of the honour done him by placing him in the chair on this most important occasion, and while he disclaimed any special fitness for the position he might say that no one could have been selected more in sympathy with the central object of the gathering, or one who could appreciate the honour more fully for it was the highest source of pleasure for one to feel that he enjoyed the confidence of his fellow citizens. It was his intention to take up as little time in preliminaries as possible. They had surrounding the Board an array of oratorical ability seldom gathered together in Peterborough, and all the time at their disposal could be well employed in listening to their utterances.

THE QUEEN.

Mr. Stratton said the first toast upon the list was one for which, above all others, it seemed superfluous to ask a hearty reception. Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen had now reached the sixtieth year of her reign, longer than that of any precedent British sovereign and longer than that of any other constitutional ruler of history. Not only had her reign been longer but it had been more abundantly freighted with the blessings of good government, the development of civil and religious liberty and all the blessings incidant thereto. During the Victorian age the greatest achievements and advancements in literature, science, art, culture, and the betterment of the condition of the myriads who compose the vast Empire of which we form a part had been accomplished and made, and therefore it seemed to him that the gathering would welcome the opportunity of enthusiastically and loyally honouring the toast to Her Majesty the Queen.

The toast received an enthusiastically loyal reception, the company singing with loyal earnestness "God Save the Queen," accompanied by the band.

THE ABSENT IN BODY—PRESENT IN SPIRIT.

Mr. Fair, honorary secretary, in response to the chairman's invitation, read the list of gentlemen who had sent their regrets at not being able to attend the banquet, and remarked that it was to be noted that all sent their most hearty congratulations of Mr. Cox on the occasion of his being elevated to the Senate. Among them were letters from Hon. Wilfred Laurier, Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. Wm. Paterson, Hon. Wm. Mulock, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Sir Henri Joly de Lotbinière, Hon. J. D. Edgar, Sir Frank Smith, Hon. G. W. Ross, Hon. David Mills, Hon. Senator Drummond, Hon. G. E. Forster, J. P. Whitney, Hon. Senator Dobson, J. Ross Robertson, J. H. Plummer, D. Coulson, A. White, Thos. Quincy, Chicago; Thos. Blenard, G. H. Johnston, Lethbridge (who though he was not invited sent congratulations); Frederick Nicholls, Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Hon. Thos. Ballantyne.

In proposing the

GOVERNNOR GENERAL AND LT.-GOVERNORS

Mr. Stratton said that among the blessings that Canadians have enjoyed during Her Majesty's reign, have been the appointments made from time to time of excellent Governors-General, and Her Majesty's advisers in Canada have been equally fortunate in selecting the distinguished men who have been appointed to the position of Lieutenant-Governors of the different provinces.

The Toast was duly and loyally honoured.

Mr. T. Dunn then sang in his usually splendid style the sterling song, "Let us Speak of a Man as we Find Him," and was most cordially applauded.

THE TOAST OF TOASTS.

In presenting the toast of the evening, Mr. Stratton said that if ever he felt the necessity of the gift of direct, terse, forcible eloquence, he felt it in rising to propose the toast of the evening. But fortunately the character of the gentleman they had met to honour, relieved him of the necessity of saying very much. Essentially a man of action, the personality of Mr. Cox in our midst for 30 years had impressed his prominent characteristics upon the popular mind. His career in Peterborough was so closely interwoven and associated with the material progress of the town that, to think of one, is very naturally to suggest the other. He submitted that it was most proper that Peterborough should take the lead in recognizing and giving congratulations upon the late honour that had been conferred upon Mr. Cox, for the very bricks of the business blocks of the town, the finest of any place of its size in the Dominion, bore witness to the manner in which he has discharged the duties of progressive and public spirited citizenship. Regarding the splendid business buildings and palatial shops of our chief business streets Mr. Cox might aptly say in reference to a monument to himself, as was said of Sir Christopher Wren in relation to St. Paul's Cathedral, "If you seek my monument look about you." We all know that he began life in Peterborough in a very humble way, but by virtue of his genius for affairs and by virtue of his financial foresight and undeviating integrity, he has developed into one of the foremost financial forces of the Dominion. He was the leading spirit in a host of financial enterprises, and in business affairs his genius for business, like the fabled Midas, had, so to speak, turned to gold whatever he touched. The speaker referred to the great confidence so happily reposed in Mr. Cox as Mayor of the town for several terms, and his discharge of the duties of that office was, like those in other connections, eminently successful and satisfactory. In view of one feature of his career, that of taking a moribund railway in hand and galvanizing it into active and prosperous life, one could perhaps understand, according to some opinions, the fitness of his selection for a seat in the Senate. That body had been regarded by many as having survived its usefulness—to possess too little of the vitality necessary to make its existence as a useful branch of our legislative institutions advisable. But we must remember, Mr. Stratton said, that there had always been a "saving remnant" of able men in that body, and the recent appointments to the Senate of men like Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. David Mills and Hon. Geo. A. Cox, represented most valuable additions to the able men that occupied seats in that venerable body, and he thought that they would agree with him that with robust veterans in the Senate like Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Sir Oliver Mowat and new blood like Hon. Messrs. Cox and Mills there was life in the Senate yet, and a great future of usefulness in assisting in the legislation required to make this "Canada of ours" one of the greatest countries on the face of the globe—in the completeness of its civil institutions as it now was in the magnificence of its resources. Hon. Mr. Cox had been honoured by being received into the Senate of Canada, and the Senate of Canada had been honoured by having Honourable Mr. Cox added to its membership. (Cheers).

We were met to-night as citizens and admirers of Mr. Cox to congratulate him upon the well-deserved recognition of talents he had received and to rejoice as citizens in the honour done to a former and, yet, fellow-citizen, whom we all delight to honour. As Mr. Cox was not a hard man to please, except, perhaps, in the nature of a security, the speaker was sure that he must be gratified at the character of the recognition and welcome accorded him that evening. When he saw about him all classes, creeds and nationalities of our citizenship assembled for a common object, of which he was the centre; when he noted that all the varied educational, civic, industrial and commercial activities of Peterborough were so comprehensively represented there to-night: when he saw the important economic, governmental and other interests represented by our guests, (to whom he took that opportunity of extending, on behalf of the town, a most hearty welcome); when he saw present his strongest political foes, as well as his warmest political friends; when he saw all this, Mr. Cox would doubtless feel that there was no element nor condition lacking in the earnest and enthusiastic felicitations and honours which the occasion signalized. The great gathering of the evening represented unwritten volumes more than the chairman could hope to express, and therefore he would say no more, but with every confidence in the enthusiasm with which it would be received, had the greatest possible pleasure in asking them to honour the toast of the evening, "Our Honoured Guest, Hon. Geo. Albertus Cox."

Mr. Stratton's remarks were loudly applauded, and the appreciative sentiments found a ready echo in the enthusiastic approval manifested by the gathering.

Mr. Cox's Reply.

Hon. Mr. Cox, in rising to reply, was received with enthusiastic and long-continued applause, the company rising to their feet and giving cheer after cheer. When order was restored Hon. Mr. Cox said:—

I need not tell you, I cannot tell you, how much I appreciate the remarks you have so kindly made in proposing my health, and the cordial manner in which it has been received.

R. FAIR, HONORARY SECRETARY OF THE BANQUET COMMITTEE.

I desire to say frankly, and at once, that I do appreciate the honour that has been conferred upon me by my call to the Senate of Canada. I appreciate very much the kind manner in which my appointment has been received by my political opponents, by the press of both parties, as well as by my political friends; but nothing has occurred, and nothing could occur, to afford me more profound satisfaction than this expression of approval upon the part of my friends in Peterborough. It is to me a source of pride to see those beside whom I have worked, against whom I have in many cases contended, amongst whom I have lived for nearly forty years, thus laying aside political and social lines and cordially uniting together to endorse my life and labours in their midst. (Cheers.)

It is gratifying to see what may be termed a semi-political gathering so evenly divided as to make it difficult to know whether the majority of those present are Reformers or Conservatives. It reminds me of another evening in this same town some twenty-three ago, when the result was not so pleasant for me as it is to-night. I refer to the contest between the late Mr. Scott and myself in 1873. The circumstances will be quite familiar to many of you, but it will stand repeating for those present who do not know how evenly the parties were divided on that occasion. The returns were all in, with the exception of one polling place in the township of Harvey, and up to that time I was thirteen ahead; it was expected that Mr. Scott would have a majority in that division, and of course we were all waiting anxiously to hear whether it would be more or less than the thirteen. After two or three hours' suspense the information received at my committee room gave Mr. Scott fourteen, which elected him by one, but the information received at his own committee room gave him only twelve, which would elect me by one; there was no means of getting either report confirmed until the next day, and the result was that both parties went home quite willing to desist from any partisan demonstration. When the final returns for the riding were completed it was found that we had each polled the same number of votes, but he had seventeen and I had eighteen spoiled ballots, which gave him a majority of one. Mr. Scott used to tell me some very amusing incidents of the many persons who claimed to have cast that one vote. He ultimately accorded that honour to a man who is said to have reached Bobcaygeon too late for the last boat going to the polling place, and had to swim Pigeon Lake, and got there just in time to get his vote in.

It may not be out of place for me to mention another incident of that election. My father-in-law, the late Mr. Hopkins, one of my very best friends, who was always willing to do anything he could for me and who had already given me his daughter, when is came to a question of giving a Grit vote, at that point he drew a line. These two incidents will demonstrate how keenly our election battles were fought in the past, and will emphasize the pleasure it is to me to see many of the leaders on both sides in these hotly contested elections here to-night. But being made a senator does not by any means make one a better speaker. (Laughter.) This occasion and the presence of Mr. Dwight reminds me of my first attempt to send a telegram. At that primitive day in 1856 it was his custom to go to a village, start an operator, appoint an apprentice and pass on to the next. I was the apprentice on this occasion and one day my superior had to leave the village, and no relieving officer being available I was forced to do my best under my new responsibility. I started by practising on a closed current till I thought I could read a message. I called Belleville and was answered with such startling distinctness that I nearly fell off the high stool on which I was sitting and my legs were all trembling. I have that sensation in my legs every time I attempt to make a speech, and the fact of being made a senator by no means improves one's power of public speaking. (Laughter).

The circumstances under which we have met seems to irresistibly take me back to the first night I arrived in Peterborough. On the 9th of February 1856, a lad of fifteen, I entered the service of the Montreal Telegraph Company in the village of Colborne. On the 12th of May 1858 I received a telegram from the Supt. of the Company to proceed to Peterborough, and report for duty on the morning of the 14th, the operator in charge here having been ordered to leave for Prescott on that day. It is a pleasing coincidence that Mr. Dwight, the gentleman who sent me that telegram, 38 years ago, and who is now the President and General Manager of the Company, and who has ever since been my steadfast friend is present here to-night. I started by the six o'clock train the following morning 13th, and although the distance is less than fifty miles I spent the greater part of the day on the train on the old Cobourg road, and did not reach the station in Ashburnham until after dark. The railway facilities then were in striking contrast with what they are now, with Peterborough, practically on the main line of two great trunk railways. I remember as vividly as though it were last night, carpet bag in hand, walking across the old wooden bridge that then occupied the place of the present handsome iron structure the Hunter street bridge. At that time much the larger proportion of the business streets were wooden structures. There were only three brick buildings on what is now the centre block of the town, between Hunter and Simcoe streets. From that time forward I have watched with constantly increasing interest and pride the progress of this town, and the growing importance of this country. When I first crossed the Atlantic I was accompanied by Mr. Jaffray, who was never tired of boasting of the charms of Scotland as the brightest gem in Victoria's crown, and by Mr. D. Hopkins, who claimed the same honour for Ireland. When I returned across the Atlantic and crossed the Suspension Bridge into Canada I felt then as I feel to-night, like saying in the language of Sir Walter Scott—

Breathes there a man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land. (Cheers.)

The fact, Mr. Chairman, that this is my own, my native land makes me more keenly appreciate the privilege of assisting to shape the policy, extend the commerce, and develop the resources of this noble land of ours, in the progress of which we are all so deeply interested. Whatever may be the views of some people as to the composition or the necessity of the Senate, certain it is that the vast and undeveloped resources of this country require and demand the best attention of the best minds of both political parties in every branch of our Legislature, and of every loyal citizen in our land. Our Western Province abounds in mineral wealth and valuable coal fields; in order to assist and encourage their development and to retain in our country the advantages that will result from such development a prompt and judicious railway policy is necessary. Our Prairie Provinces have millions of acres of unoccupied fertile lands that call for a well considered and energetic immigration policy. The already rapidly increasing products of these provinces, augmented by the rich and varied products of our own and other provinces in forcing their way to the sea board will, I am confident, in the near future, demand the double tracking of railways, the completion and deepening of the Trent Valley and other canals, and the enlargement and and cheapening of every avenue that gives to access to the markets of the world. (Loud applause.) I have always taken a very deep interest and pride in the development and progress of Peterborough, especially its business interests and its manufacturing industries. You will permit me to specify the General Electric Works, the William Hamilton Works, the Bridge Works, the Peter Hamilton Agricultural Works, the Lock Works, the flouring mills and other important industries. I feel that I am within the mark when I say at least 1,500 mechanics find employment in these industries, representing with their families at an average of five 7,500 persons, about half of the population of the town. These facts seem to me to be sufficient evidence that the interest I felt in the town was justified. Every farm within a large radius of the town felt the beneficial influence of these industries. It appears to me that the important agricultural, manufacturing and commercial interests of this Dominion are so closely identified, the one with the other, that it ought to be possible to strengthen, to stimulate and to encourage each one of them without embarrassment to any one of them. These and other questions of great importance are now engaging, and will continue to engage, the best attention of the best men of this country. I am glad we have what I regard as a wise and patriotic Government (cheers); I am glad we have an able and vigilant Opposition; I am glad we have a loyal, industrious and contented people (applause); I am glad we have an open Bible and religious freedom, a free and unframmeled press, a healthy and invigorating climate. I am glad we have a country with unlimited possibilities and unlimited wealth in her fisheries, in her forests, in her minerals and in her fertile fields. I am glad that over all these advantages floats the grand old flag that has braved for a thousand years the battle and the breeze. (Loud applause.)

Surely we have in these all the elements from which to build a great and prosperous nation, and if as a humblee member of one branch of the Parliament of Canada, I may, in association with such men as Sir McKenzie Bowell, Sir Oliver Mowat, and other members of that House, assist even to the smallest extent in the extension of the commerce and the development of this country it will indeed be to me a source of pride and satisfaction.

Before taking my seat I desire again to thank you Mr. Chairman and gentlemen for the honour you have done me to-night.

On resuming his seat Hon. Mr. Cox, after his able and eloquent speech, which was received throughout with the greatest cordiality, was greeted with another ovation.

Mr. G. W. Mulligan sang in stirring style the grand patriotic song, "British to the Core," by S. T. Church, of Toronto, and was honoured with an encore, to which owing to the length of the programme he did not respond.

Mr. John Burnham, Q. C.

in proposing the toast of "The Senate and House of Commons of Canada, and the Legislative Assembly of Ontario," called attention to the fact that in 1867 we entered upon the work of building a nation, and we adopted the British plan, which involved the Sovereign, the Commons and the Lords. We were proud to be a part of the British Empire, and we could look forward to being the "Greater Britain" so often spoken of. We adopted in our constitution the Senate and the House of Commons, and a fine tribute was paid to the fitness of these bodies to fulfil the functions belonging to them. We had seen that the United States, in its magnanimity, proposed coming to the relief of Cuba and returning it for the oppression under which it suffered, and it was also proposed to relieve Canada also from the thraldom of British dependence and oppression. After a jocular reference to circumstances that left himself and Mr. Hall out of the House of Commons, Mr. Burnham contrasted the United States and Canadian electoral systems to the great advantage of the latter. In the United States they had an election last fall which resulted in a change of administration, but it would be several months before the will of the people as expressed at the polls, would find effect in a change of Government. In Canada the will of the people, as expressed at the polls, takes effect at once and if they decide they want a change of Government the change is made. Canada enjoyed Home Rule, being practically independent. We manage our own affairs as best suited our interests. Our precedent in regard to self-government was one that Great Britain might follow with advantage. We, however, had no desire to separate from the Mother Country. We appreciated the advantages of our connection and were proud of being the greatest dependency of the greatest empire on the globe. We had not a House of Lords, but we had a Senate. Mr. Burnham approved of the Senate. It was a check on the popular vote and served to protect minorities. He denied the imputation that the Senate was an aggregation of old women. That charge would not lie with such men as Hon. Mr. Cox in the Senate. If we appointed men like him such an objection to the Senate could not be urged. After paying a graceful tribute to Mr. Cox's character and ability, Mr. Burnham submitted the toast, which was very heartily honoured.

Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn, ex-M.P.,

President of the Ontario Bank, in responding, made a most pleasing reference to Mr.

Charles McGill, the present general manager of the bank. He stated that when the institution, of which he was president, was looking about to find a general manager, he turned his eyes to the ever active, prosperous town of Peterborough—a town which was modelled on such broad lines, that it undoubtedly had a great future and a grand career before it. When he came here he was surprised by the magnificence of the stores, which Toronto would have been proud to possess. He had carried off his valued friend, Mr. McGill, and placed him at the head of the Ontario Bank, and had peace and satisfaction ever since. He only regretted that Mr. McGill had so strong an attachment for the town that he was never able to persuade him to take up his residence in Toronto. (Cheers) Mr. Cockburn stated that he was present to add his humble testimony to the honour which had been accorded to Mr. Cox. He was proud to feel that he was addressing an audience representative in its character of

JAS. KENDRY, M. P., FIRST VICE-CHAIRMAN.

BOTH POLITICAL PARTIES,

No higher favour could have been bestowed by those who supported and those who opposed Mr. Cox, politically, than uniting and giving him a banquet of this nature. It meant that, apart from politics, the citizens found in the guest of the evening, "an honest man, the noblest work of God," in whom they felt that their confidence was not misplaced. He hoped that Mr. Cox would be long spared to fill his office, and only wished that the party to which he himself belonged had shown their wisdom in carrying out the policy of Sir John A. Macdonald, in choosing just such men for positions of public trust. In fact he would go as far as to say that if they had done so the Conservative party might still have been in power. He hoped that when the party again took office, which surely would occur some time, that such a principle would be adopted and adhered to. If the present government made many more such appointments he was almost afraid that a certain section of the Conservative party would be converted to Gritism. He thanked those present for the manner in which the toast was honoured, and concluded by stating that he would ever cherish in his heart a particular partiality for Peterborough. (Applause).

Mr. James Kendry, M.P.,

Peterborough, stated that there were others present far better able to respond to the toast, as he was only a young member of the House, yet he could not take his seat without saying something in reference to the guest of the evening. He could say that he was glad, and he knew the citizens were glad, that the Government had seen fit to appoint a gentleman that everyone honoured, irrespective of party. If the Conservative Government had made the appointment he would guarantee that the feeling of satisfaction would have been just as universal. No man was more highly respected in Peterborough or in Toronto than the honoured guest. No one appreciated Mr. Cox's elevation more than himself. He hoped that he would be long spared to be a credit to the Senate. All men appointed to the Senate should be of the same standing. He would have been glad to cast his vote to give Mr. Cox the office, irrespective of politics.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, M.P.P.,

promised that he would not inflict a speech on those present, as he had too much regard for what was to follow to take up much time. As a representative of the Legislature of Ontario he desired to thank them for the manner in which the toast was received.

The constitution had been dwelt on by Mr. Burnham, and therefore he would forebear taking up the varied and important functions with which, through it, the Legislature was called upon to perform. It was no time to say anything which would savour of politics, but he found it difficult to refrain from making some distant allusions on the forbidden ground.

Governments might come and governments might go, but by some it was said that the Ontario Government would go on forever. Perhaps he would be pardoned if he expressed the hope that it would ever continue so. The Globe used to say before the 23rd of June that it was time there was a change. This was all very well as applied to the state of affairs but he wished it distinctly understood that this was now an exploded doctrine and must be considered to have had no application to the Government of Ontario. —(Laughter.) Besides, the present Government of Ontario was a very new Government. It was scarcely yet in harness so he would not admit that the proposal "that it was time for a change" at all fitted the case in regard to the Hardy Government. It was not time to go and he entered a protest. They were not and never had been offensive partizans and on that ground never should be compelled to go.

He had witnessed a considerable change in the Ontario Assembly. Years ago the large majority of the members were not native born Canadians, but this had gradually become changed and now quite a considerable majority were native born —were young men who had received their education in Canadian schools, who had worked their way up and like West Peterborough's own member, Mr. Stratton, (applause) were rapidly coming to the front and showing an aptitude for occupying the foremost positions in the country, showing the rapid growth of their Canadian spirit, and the outcome would be a grand nationality for Canada. He wished to join in the congratulations to the new Senator. He knew of no appointment in late years which had received more hearty, spontaneous and unanimous endorsement than that of Mr. Cox as Senator. He trusted and believed that his presence in the Senate would be of great benefit to that body. A man of such great business knowledge and capacity, whose career has been so successful, and who occupied so prominent and commanding a position in the financial world, could not but have a most benefitting influence in any deliberative body in which he sat. (Cheers).

Col. Gibson expressed the regrets of the Premier of Ontario, at being unable to be present to do honour to the guest of the evening, and concluded by hoping that Mr. Cox would enjoy many years of usefulness in the Senate of Canada, in which all believed that he would worthily occupy a seat.

"The Army, the Navy, the Volunteers." With this toast the names of Lieut. Col. Rogers and Lieut.-Col. Bell were connected.

Lieut.-Col. Rogers, thought that anything he could say for the army, navy and volunteers of Great Britain would be an old story, as all were as well acquainted as he with their valour achievements. He considered it an honour to be associated, even in a social way, with an armament which was the greatest the world had ever seen. It was forty years since he first enrolled as a volunteer and he was still in harness. "We are called," said he, "the active militia, but we should be known as the Home Guards, as our duty is to protect the hearths and homes of those dearest to us." We have not received the recognition we deserve as volunteers, when it is remembered that to us is entrusted the entire inland defence of the country. Throughout all Canada, inland, there is only one Imperial soldier, and he is in charge of the volunteer force. Of course detachments of British regulars are posted at Halifax and also on the west cost to defend the harbors.

The Colonel drew the attention of his hearers to the Central Park and its fine surroundings and alluded to the weather-beaten appearance of the home of the gallant 57th. The Armoury had been erected in 1867 and had then been called a shed. It still deserved the name and could not be relied upon to survive its 30th anniversary so shaky had it become. He that the Government would meet it half way in the matter of funds for the erection of a new armoury. He stated that he was not pleading his own cause, as he had not the honour of being attached to 57th, being the commanding officer of a detachment of cavalry which had its headquarters at Peterborough and the members of which lived in the four adjoining counties. He only met his men every one, two or three years, but fortunately Canadians were born soldiers, or the interest could never have been sustained in the company. If it were not for the energy of a few interested men such as Lt.-Col. Gibson, of the Hamilton 13th, and Lt.-Col. Bell, of the 57th, who were both present, there would have been no active militia men in attendance to respond to the toast. He was indeed pleased to see Lt.-Col. Gibson present as he was one of the mainstays of the Volunteers, being not only a model commander but a crack shot.

In concluding the speaker expressed the opinion that Senator Cox had done more than any other man to build up Peterborough. He had opportunities as a public servant to be thoroughly acquainted with Mr. Cox's brilliant career throughout. He hoped that he would be long spared to enjoy the fruits of his industry and foresight.

Lt.-Col. Bell,

eulogized the guest of the evening as one who had alway been a friend of the volunteer force in the past. He had personal knowledge of Mr. Cox's generosity to the volunteers and the force now knew that they had in the Senate one who would do what he could to forward their interests. He hoped that Col. Rogers' suggestion regarding the building of a drill shed would be taken up and a structure erected worthy of the tenants, as in Belleville, Hamilton and Toronto.

Last winter Canada was under a dark cloud for a time when it was feared that together with the Mother Country, she would be involved in the Venezuela dispute. At that time it was found that the armament of the volunteers was obsolete—out of date, but the eyes of Parliament had been opened and the Canadian militia were now being armed with as complete and modern an equipment as any in the world. The speaker was satisfied that the volunteers to do whatever was necessary for the defence of their country, as it had been proven by their deeds in the past that they were trustworthy under fire and in time of need. He thought the young Canadian militia was indeed worthy of the race from which they had sprung. Representatives had been sent from their ranks to the mother country, where, competing with the best shots in the world, they had repeatedly carried off the highest honours and most valuable prizes offered.

Mr. R. M. Denniston, by special request, sang "Drill ye Tarriers, Drill!" in the style which has made the song so popular with all who have had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Denniston's rendition of it.

Mr. Thomas Cahill

was called upon to propose the toast of "Our Banking, Mercantile and Manufacturing Interests and Agriculture." After all the eloquence he had heard during the evening Mr. Cahill professed himself to be quite at sea. There were gentlemen, he thought, named in connection with the toast, who were far better able to honour it properly than himself, however, he would say a few words relative to the guest of the evening, Mr. Cox. "We are," said he, "citizens of no mean town. We can manufacture within our confines almost anything which is procurable in the Dominion." The various industries of the town were then mentioned by the speaker in a complimentary manner, with a word of explanation as to the character of work which was turned out from them.

Turning to Mr. Cox, Mr. Cahill stated that none had any misgivings as to his future. He would legislate for the Dominion, as a whole, and not for a district. No man would be beneath his notice. He would see that all rights were guarded and all privileges respected. All knew that he did not go to the Senate as a passive instrument, but that the same intuitive foresight so noticeable in his business career would still predominate. He hoped that the next occasion for a banquet would be when the guest of the evening would be addressed as Sir Geo. A. Cox and hailed as one of Her Majesty's Ministers in the Dominion Government.

Mr. B. E. Walker,

General Manager of the Bank of Commerce, in responding to the toast, stated that if the century was not remarkable for the production of great works of art, still in its annals it had achieved such wonders in rolling up such a great volume of trade that it had transcended the records of all previous centuries. How is it, asked he, that the trade of England is immeasurably greater than it was 100 years ago? Is it not because in this age we have adopted those theories which the world hitherto only held in the abstract? Modern science has created the demand for a new geography. Distance now cannot be measured by the eye, for through the telephone and traffic connection we have brought the whole world together in a manner which would have seemed impossible 100 years ago.

The speaker then turned his attention to the power of credit. As a banker he was present to represent this great force, which was interwoven with the forces of steam and electricity. Banking is the

HANDMAID TO COMMERCE.

It is an elastic front which constantly fits itself to the ever shifting changes in trade. We say our system is the best in the world, but the same claim is advanced in England, France, Germany and several other nations and it is advanced with cause too, as each system is probably the best for that particular country, but things are found to be different across the border in the United States. It is because the people differ in their political genius and so it is impossible for the bankers to fit a system, which would be in any way a handmaid to commerce.

It was true that Canada had borrowed many points in her banking system from the United States, but only the good points had been taken, the worthless ones being discarded, so that now the Canadian system boasted of of the other system and none of its bad ones.

A hatred of the banking system had sprung up in the United States, and in 1832 the fabric which had been so carefully built up there, was violently thrust aside, but we, said the speaker, went on until we made the handmaid as reasonable to Canada as any handmaid could be. In the United States, in the meantime, there had been a series of violent experiments, and as a result, in the time of panic there 8,000 banks were, as 8,000 units, unable to act collectively and unable to be of assistance. We have a credit system which as nearly as possible suits the condition of the people. Farmers cannot complain, for where else in the world can he borrow money at five and five and a half per cent? In the United States the farmer pays 12 and 12½ per cent. on his loans, but they themselves destroyed the efficiency of the banks and made it impossible for them to extend at a reasonable charge, and in depriving the banks of the power to circulate a note. When the great crops in the United States were ready there was not enough money to move them, as, though there were six or eight thousand banks; they could never cohere for any great national enterprize.

JOHN BURNHAM, Q. C., EX-M. P., SECOND VICE-CHAIRMAN.

Mr. Walker stated that when he was called ten years ago to accept the position of General Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Mr. Cox was not then president. Many thought that he had been suggested for president because he was a wealthy man. No greater mistake could have been made. He was selected because it was seen that he was the one man of all the directors capable of filling that place. So far as he himself was concerned he had urged most strenuously that the appointment be made. His friends advised him to refrain from interesting himself too strongly in the matter, as to the presidency might be fraught with danger to himself, but with the interests of the bank at heart he had continued to advocate Mr. Cox's cause.

When he became president of the bank our friendship, said the speaker, had been of short duration, but since the appointment he had constantly reason to congratulate himself that he had stood by his convictions and urged the appointment of Mr. Cox as his chief.

Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn, M.P., President of the Bank of Ontario, was also named in connection with the toast, but having spoken before refrained from again making any remarks, beyond thanking those present for the manner in which they received the toast.

Mr. E. W. Brock,

President of the Canadian General Electric Company, in replying, stated that in Mr. Cox's address he was gratified to find the stand taken by him. While all knew where Mr. Cox had stood in the past, yet there had been so many changes that we hardly knew where to look for the next. Under these circumstances it must be gratifying to Peterborough to know that she had a friend at court, and in the new Senator had a strenuous defender. It was also gratifying to know that one of the first acts of the new government, met with so much approval. Opprobrious epithets would never have been able to have been thrown at the efficiency of the Senate if such appointments had been made in the past. "I believe," said he, "That the Senate even more than Mr. Cox is being honoured by this appointment, which I sincerely hope he may long be privileged to grace." (Cheers.)

Mr. D. W. Dwight,

President and General Manager of the Great North Western Telegraph Co., stated that his personal and business relations with Mr. Cox had extended over a very long period. The friendship was dear to him and the longer he knew Mr. Cox the more he esteemed him. He had never known an appointment which met with so prompt approval as had that of the honoured guest to the senate. Peterborough should well be proud of him.

Before taking his seat the speaker stated that it was through his instrumentality that Mr. Cox was first established in Peterborough in connnection with the telegraph line, of which he himself was the Manager.

Mr. J. J. Kenney,

General Manager of the Western Fire Assurance Company, was proud to be present to do honour to one whom the majority of those present could call a fellow citizen. Those from Toronto could also address Mr. Cox as a fellow-citizen, as he was surely large enough to represent two cities.

Fifteen years ago the Western has lost a director on the board had looked over the field for one who would strengthen the Company. They, like Mr. Cockburn, had come to Peterborough and secured their man, and his presence had a most vitalising effect. Mr. Kenney felt satisfied that in the more exalted position which Mr. Cox was now called upon to fill, that he would come to the front as in every institution with which he was connected. In his lexicon there would be no such word as fail.

Mr. John Bertram, Ex-M.P.

received a tremendous ovation, when he arose to speak to the toast. He thought highly of the Senate. It occupied a position which was needed in the country. The present Government had made the most notable appointments to the body. First, was Sir Oliver Mowat, the greatest constitutional lawyer of the day. Next came Hon. David Mills, acknowledged by be the first parliamentarian at present in Canada. In looking around for a third Senator, the chance had fallen on a business man, and the speaker knew of no one who had a wider experience than Mr. Cox. "What is the secret of his great success?" asked he. Is it not because he came from Peterborough? (Hear! hear!) Peterborough was one of the most particularly favoured towns in Canada. It has the most cosmopolitan population of any county in the Dominion. It was settled by the finest families from and it was through rubbing shoulders daily with the descendants of these peoples that Mr. Cox was possessed of so much finesse and tact. Mr. Bertram congratulated Peterborough on having produced a citizen who had come to the front like Mr. Cox. He was pleased to be able to speak to his old Conservative friends again. They were friends now as always, he hoped. There was no great difference between the two parties after all, and never had been. There never was a free trader in this country. Let us take the revenue question out of the field of politics, said he, and calmly discuss its good and bad points from the standpoint of Canada's welfare. Let us devote ourselves to the opening up of our country and, as in England, take the question of revenue out of politics for good.

Mr. John Carnegie

in responding, stated that those who recollected the many hard political battle which had been fought out in the riding, might well say, this evening, "Where are we?" Instead of taking off their coats in dealing with the tariff question, he was pleased to see that nearly all were of the one mind, and he was much inclined to say ditto to Mr. John Bertram's speech. Mr. Bertram had struck the key-note to the tarriff question, and for himself he could not see why both parties were not one on this important factor in the development of a country. It should be considered from the same standpoint as the banking interests exactly. Nothing gave him greater pleasure than to back up Mr. John Bertram in regard to this. He was satisfied that whenever Mr. Cox's influence could be exercised it would be exercised in promoting the best interests of Canada. He was not of course overcome with delight at the recent turn of the political wheel; but if it resulted in the appointment of such men as Mr. Geo. A. Cox to the Senate, it might come to be regarded as a not unfortunate circumstance.

Mr. Peter Hamilton, of the Peter Hamilton Mfg. Co., expressed his belief that any country which excelled in manufacturing also excelled in a like proportion in civilization. Not eighty years ago one had to walk to Port Hope, and now railroads fairly teemed in this section of the country, as Montreal and Toronto were at our door through the telephone connection, business could be transacted most expeditiously. In such a rapidly developing young country there should not be Reformers and Conservatives on questions which affected the good of the Dominion, but in such cases all should be Canadians and Canadians only—working for the advancement of the common weal.

No woman has the right to be a helpless, sick, nervous, fretful burden to her husband. If she is, it is due to her own ignorance or neglect. If she will take proper care of herself and look after the health of the delicate organs that are the most important parts of her physical make-up, she will soon be a healthy, amiable helpmate, instead of a burden to the partner of her joys and sorrows. No women who suffers from weakness and disease of the distinctly womanly organism can be a good, helpful wife to an ambitious man. It is easy to keep these organs healthy and vigorous.

The most wonderful medicine for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on the organs that make her a woman. It cures all weakness and disease. It allays inflammation, soothes pain, and permits the tortured nerves to resume their natural condition. It stops all weakening drains and the woman who has hitherto been nervous, weak and fretful becomes robust, helpful and happy. Thousands of happy women, who were once pain-tortured and miserable, testify to its virtues. All good druggists sell it.

"I write you these few lines to let you know the good your 'Favorite Prescription' did my wife," writes Dennis H. Connelly, Esq., of Clear Water, Wright Co., Minn. "Previous to motherhood she was very sick. She could not do her own work until she took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription.' She took her Doctor's medicine but it did her no good. Your medicine is the best my wife ever had."

Have you a good reliable medical book in the house? There ought to be one in every family in the world. Of all the medical books published there is not one so comprehensive and reliable as Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. In all its 1,008 pages there is not one sentence that may not be readily understood. No physician in the world has been a greater benefactor than has Dr. Pierce. The best he knows is in this book. It is illustrated with over 300 plates and drawings. It talks about hundreds of ailments and tells you how to cure them. You may have this book for the cost of mailing it. THE PREMIER AT CORNWALL.

Mr. Laurier and His Colleagues Were Given a Warm Reception in the Historic Town.

Cornwall, Ont., Dec. 16.—Hon. Wilfrid Laurier was tendered a grand reception here to-day by the Liberals of Cornwall. Mr. Laurier, with Hon. Mr. Scott and Mr. Devlin, M.P., arrived by the 4.15 p.m. express. An immense crowd had assembled at the Grand Trunk Station to welcome the Prime Minister. On his arrival he was escorted to a private car furnished by the electric railway for him and the principal Liberals of the town and county. Preceding this car was one especially reserved for the ladies and another for Fleck's 59th Batt. band, and influential citizens. They towed Mr. Laurier's car, and a trailer containing the Citizens' band. All were neatly decorated for the occasion, as also were the streets, and they were swarmed with people on both sides. As the Prime Minister passed he was heartily cheered. A stop was made in front of the Music Hall, and the Premier bowed his acknowledgment of the calls for a speech. The cars were run around the belt line and back to the Rossmore House, where Mr. Laurier received the prominent as well as the humblest and poorest citizens of the town.

This evening the Music Hall was packed to suffocation, and many hundreds were unable to gain admittance. An overflow meeting was held in the ball room of the new skating rink, which was also full to the doors. Messrs. Laurier, Scott and Devlin of Ottawa, and Marcill and Wier of Montreal were the principal speakers.

Tragic Result of a Quarrel Between Two Citizens of Wilkes-Barre.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Dec. 16.—Morris Pope and J. H. Keithline, two well-known citizens of this place, got into a quarrel over family matters this morning. Pope shot Keithline. As the latter fell to the floor Pope put the gun to his own head and blew out his brains. Keithline, it is believed, cannot recover.

INJURY AND NEGLECT.

He Failed in Health and Strength—His Kidneys Ached and he Took Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Deseronto, Dec. 14 (Special)—Among business people here, and especially by his fellow workmen, great interest has been taken in the case of Mr. James Stokes, who for the past fifteen years has been shipper for the Rathbun Company.

Lately he had run down in health and strength to the point of being compelled to quit work, and his recovery now as the result of using Dodd's Kidney Pills is the talk of the town. On seeing Mr. Stokes he said:—

"From over-lifting and strain I suffered greatly from kidney trouble, being advised, after all else had failed, to use Dodd's Kidney Pills; from the first dose I got relief, and hundreds of people here can vouch for my cure."

Mrs. John Gough, Dresden, Ont., says: "Miller's Compound Iron Pills cured my daughter of St. Vitus' Dance; one hand was uncontrollable and the muscles of her face twisted very badly." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

DESPAIR IN ARMENIA

People Robbed of Everything to Pay Taxes.

MASSACRES ARE ONLY POSTPONED

A Terrible State of Affairs All Over the Country—Men Kill Themselves Because They Cannot Witness the Starvation of Their Wives and Children.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 16.—A letter from Harpoot, Eastern Turkey, states that neither Armenians nor Turks are confident as to the future. A Turkish Hoja (teacher) was overheard to say in conversation with other Turks, that the massacres had only been postponed. Intelligent Turks are anticipating European intervention of some kind.

Although orders have been given for the execution of reforms throughout the provinces, bribery and oppression are as open as ever. The Bin Bachi (commander of 1000 soldiers), under whose supervision taxes are collected, said the other day: "We have stripped the people clean. Even the food which they had prepared for winter, we have sold for taxes." Unoccupied houses have been torn down, and the timber sold for taxes. The people are wellnigh in despair as they face the coming winter. In some places even the animals furnished by the Red Cross have been seized for taxes. If the execution of the reforms shall be undertaken by European commissioners even, it would seem much like applying a poultice to a body decaying in all its parts from leprosy.

A high Turkish official, who was sent to Egin to examine into the late affair, fully confirms all that has been said of its utter fiendishness, and states that it was absolutely without provocation. Egin is surrounded by Kurds, and naturally many of the people have some sort of weapons. The local Government has collected these as evidence that the Armenians are revolutionists. The massacre was by soldiers and citizens, not Kurds.

The following is a translation of a letter signed by five Armenians from Alabash, addressed to the Relief Committee at Marash: The village of Alabash, which is counted as one of the villages of Zeitoun, is composed of 300 houses. It has from the beginning been subject to every kind of calamity, and because we are not able to attain our desires, from day to day we are growing poorer and more wretched. So we earnestly beg that you will be pleased to look with pity upon your servants in Alabash. Until now we have been kept alive by your favor, but for the past month we have received nothing from your charity. Every one of the 300 houses composing Alabash was burned. Likewise all our burden-bearing and milk-giving animals were lost. We had only our vineyards, and they have been devoured by the locusts, which did not leave anything. We have no other hope. Our sole business was agriculture.

Last year, because our fields were not watered, we were not able to sow a single grain. This year also we have neither oxen nor grain to enable us to insure a harvest next year. The other refugees sowed their grain last fall as usual, and this year have reaped an abundant harvest, while we are naked and hungry and buried in poverty. For these reasons we hope you will help us even more than you have helped others. The time for sowing has come. If you do not help us we shall surely die. We have not a single house to protect us from the winter cold which will soon be upon us. We are living like animals, in black tents. Sir, we are not complaining to you, but are only relating the things that have been caused by hunger. Three boys, after remaining hungry for four days, ate some grass, and died. Two girls who had gone to catch fish fell into the water and were drowned. A woman remained hungry a week, and then threw herself into the water, and was drowned. A man, not being able to endure the sight of the sufferings of his family, hanged himself. Another man, seeing his family dying of starvation, struck his head on the ground, and so killed himself. Another man, to save his family from starvation, carried his two-year-old boy to the city, and sold him for 20 piastres. Some who were naked clothed themselves in goatskins. By such sufferings as these the population of a year ago, 1600, is now reduced to 970, and there is no hope for this remnant if your bounty be cut off. We beg and entreat you not to overlook the petition of your servants. Give us daily food for God's sake, and oxen that we may sow our fields.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

STARVATION IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

Urgent Demands Upon the Government to Provide Relief.

St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 15.—Further reliable reports show the spread of destitution at White Bay, in the extreme northern portion of the island. Urgent demands are being made upon the Government to provide relief. Upon her last trip the mail steamer tried to reach there, but was unable to do so owing to the ice blockade. She had to land the provisions sent at a place 25 miles south of the station intended. The Government will probably send an additional supply of provisions on the next steamer, as that will be the last chance to reach the unfortunates until spring.

DOCKERS WANT MORE PAY.

Threaten to Strike if They Don't Get It—Trouble Among the Waterside Laborers of London.

London, Dec. 16.—At a meeting of the Dockers', Seamen's, Firemen's and Coal Porters' Unions in London last night, it was decided to recommend that all dockers and waterside laborers should demand an increase of ten shillings weekly in their wages, and that if this was not granted a general strike was recommended on the London docks.

At a mass meeting of the dockers later, at which Tom Mann was present, the plan was enthusiastically endorsed.

GOT HALF ENOUGH.

German Steamer Mannheim Asked for £1300 and Got Just £850.

London, Dec. 16.—The Admiralty Court to-day awarded the German steamer Mannheim the sum of £850 salvage for towing the British barque Cypher, Capt. Clarke, into Halifax on Sept. 16 last. The Mannheim sought to obtain £1500, which sum the court refused to allow. The Cypher was on her way from Progresso for Havre, when on Sept. 9 she encountered a hurricane, in which she lost her foremast and yards, sails and all headgear attached, also main and mizzen topmasts, etc., and her captain was injured by falling spars. The Mannheim took the Cypher in tow on the evening of Sept. 14 and, after towing the barque two hours, Capt. Ocklenman, commander of the Mannheim, refused to tow her further unless the captain of the Cypher signed an agreement to pay him £1500 upon reaching port. Under the circumstances Capt. Clarke had no alternative but to sign the agreement and the vessel was then towed to Halifax.

THOMAS BRAM'S TRIAL.

Dr. Finn of Halifax Describes the Wounds Which He Found On the Bodies of Capt Nash and His Wife.

Boston, Dec. 16.—There was the usual attendance on the trial of Thomas Bram in the United States Circuit Court to-day.

William A. McDonald of Halifax, a civil engineer, identified plans he had made of the barquentine Herbert Fuller at the request of United States Consul-General Ingraham, and gave dimensions of the vessel and apartments, and described in detail the cuts made in the beams overhead, presumably by the weapon used by the murderer in the rooms of the captain, his wife and the second mate.

An adjournment was then taken until 2.30 p.m.

The afternoon session was largely devoted to the examination of Dr. W. D. Finn of Halifax, who held the official autopsy on the bodies of Capt. Nash and the second mate. Both sides questioned the witness at great length. There were four wounds on Capt. Nash's head and jaw, but none on any other part of his body, evidently made with some sharp instrument. There were numerous wounds on different parts of Mrs. Nash's body, but decomposition had proceeded so far that nothing could be told as to a criminal assault. Her face and arms were terribly mutilated. He described the wounds in detail, as well as those of the second mate, the latter having, in his opinion, been received while he was defending himself.

Mr. McDonald was then recalled and continued his testimony as to the measurements on the vessel, which was suspended during the forenoon session, and he occupied the stand until within about ten minutes of adjournment.

Then Lester T. Monks of Brookline, who was the only passenger on the Herbert Fuller, was called. He is probably the most important witness in the case. His evidence to-day was as to the arrangement of the rooms on board and matters of detail. He said that Bram had remarked to him that he should think a steamer trip would be preferred by witness to such an one as the Fuller was about to make.

Adjourned until to-morrow.

A Fat Dividend.

A FARMER IN TROUBLE.

A Grenville County Man Speaks his Mind—Feels Like a New Man—Cured by Four Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Cardinal, Dec. 7 (Special)—Mr. Robert McIntosh, a farmer widely known in this county, and living near this village, has been in a painful and dangerous condition as the result of kidney disease affecting the bladder. When called upon he said:

"During three years, until quite recently cured by using four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, I have been an intense sufferer from kidney disease which kept going from bad to worse though I was doctoring all the time."

Under advice I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills, at once realizing great help. I now feel like a new man and am entirely cured of kidney trouble in any form.

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS.

Information For Making Ornamental Letters For Inscriptions.

To use against dark backgrounds very pretty lettering is made by lightly covering pasteboard forms with cotton, pulled apart until it is fluffy as down. Sprinkle these with glue and then sift coarsely powdered mica over them. When a strong light falls on them, the effect will be very pleasing. These letters must be made by some one with deft fingers, as their effect depends greatly on the fluffiness of the cotton. It must be laid on lightly, just caught in place here and there by fine stitches and fastened to its background by fine wires, which should be attached to the frames of the letters before they are covered. If it is not thought best to attempt such lettering very pleasing substitutes can be made by covering pasteboard with gilt paper, or if colors are wanted tissue paper can be used. Crumpled tinfoil makes a pretty covering, and is easily put on.

A beautiful letter can be made by covering pasteboard with velveteen in some dark color, like scarlet, olive or blue. Fasten the cloth in place by folding its edges over the letter and sewing them together on the back. Then string popcorn and run it around the edges of the letter, fastening it well by stitches here and there through the cloth covering. Then go over the popcorn with a wash of the gilding liquid used in ornamenting furniture and fancy work. The effect will be rich and striking if good colors are used for covering the letters and the gilding is well done. The rough regularity of the edging formed by the popcorn gives somewhat the appearance of coined or hammered work. These are effective on dark or light backgrounds, as the gilding outlines them clearly and brings them out prominently in proper light.—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Holly Green.

Christmas coming up the slope,
Brightest flag unfurled,
All the silver bells of hope
Ringing round the world!

Christmas dawning on the hills,
Fast the shadows flee,

Singing to the sea!

Christmas where the ocean foams,
Suns and skies serene;
Christmas in our hearts and homes—
Hail the holly green!

Women are not the only ones who are sensitive about their ages. A man doesn't like to be told that he is getting old. Health keeps a man young. It doesn't make any difference if he has lived eighty years. If they have been healthy years, he will be hale and hearty and won't look within twenty years as old as he is. Good digestion and rich, red blood make people look youthful. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood. It makes health in the right way. It works according to the right theory, and in 30 years of practice, it has proved that the theory is absolutely correct. It begins at the beginning—begins by putting the stomach, liver and bowels into perfect order, but it begins its good work on the blood before it finishes with the digestive system. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be and forces them out of the body. All druggists keep the "Discovery."

The Best Cough Cure is Haggart's Pectoral Balsam. It heals the lungs and cures coughs and colds.

Granby Rubbers

It is no wonder that rubbers, which are not the same shape as the boot, should be uncomfortable. It costs money to employ skilled pattern makers but the result is a satisfactory fit. Each year new patterns are added, to fit all the latest shoe-shapes, and Granby Rubbers are always "up-to-date."

They are honestly made of pure rubber, thin, light, elastic, durable, extra thick at ball and heel.

SENATOR COX IS BANQUETTED.

The speaker advocated a two-cent postage rate and better local rates on the railways as factors which would greatly assist in developing the country.

Mr. Hamilton thought he was one of the earliest citizens to meet Mr. Cox and during all the time from his first acquaintance with him, his intercourse had been of the friendliest nature and no one was happier than he when he heard of Mr. Cox's elevation to the Senate.

Mr. W .H. Law,

Manager of the Central Bridge Works, expressed his pleasure at the double honour of being present and of having his name mentioned in connection with the toast. He had been a citizen in a free trade and in two protective countries and was in favour of the latter mode of government. The manufacturers, as far as he could learn, were satisfied with the present schedule, with a few alleviations and as the manufacturing interests were of paramount importance to any in the country their advancement should be guarded. At present the manufacturer was not sufficiently appreciated. It was through his efforts that a country was developed, as without him the locomotive could never push its way into the wilderness and carry civilization with it.

Mr. William Cluxton

expressed himself as believing that Mr. Cox was well worthy of the banquet and demonstration in his honour. If the Government of the Dominion of Canada continued to call such gentlemen as Hon. Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. David Mills and Hon. Geo. A. Cox to the Senate, he thought the Senate would eventually win the esteem and respect of the people, and the cry for its abolition would cease. Mr. Cox's career had been wonderful. It had been a succession of surprises. He had himself sat for ten years at meetings of various boards with Mr. Cox, and had therefore many opportunities of judging of his capacity. He had a calm sound mind, and was capable of undertaking stupendous operations and carrying them through to completion successfully. His charities had been large and Mr. Cluxton was sure all would join heartily in wishing that the guest of the evening might have a long life and enjoy much happiness.

Mr. Warden Middleton

conveyed to Mr. Cox the congratulations of the farming community, after which Mr. Thos. Dunn contributed one of his popular solos, and was so thunderously applauded as to have to respond to an encore.

To the toast of "Our Municipal Institutions," the Mayors of Port Hope and Peterborough responded.

Mayor Quinlan, of Port Hope, made a few of his characteristically witty remarks after which he spent some time in a severe denunciation of the system of bonusing. Every manufacture, he thought should stand on its own basis.

Mr. Quinlan afterwards made a reference to the fact that Port Hope also owed considerable to Mr. Cox, as evidenced by the fact that the citizens had at one time made him a present of a railway. (Laughter)

Mayor Yelland, of Peterborough, made a happy reference to the fact that although he was an Englishman, Canada was the country of his adoption, and Peterborough his beloved home. It afforded him a great deal of pleasure to welcome so many strangers to Peterborough, and he extended the heartiest congratulations to Mr. Cox, with whom he had the honour of sitting in council at the time that gentleman was Mayor of the town.

The toast of the "Learned Professions" was next proposed by Mr. R. Mulholland, who took occasion to add his congratulations to those already expressed to Mr. Cox. The name of Rev. Father Conway, of Norwood, Mr. D. W. Dumble and Dr. Halliday were coupled with the toast.

Rev. Father Conway

stated that nothing but his respect for the guest of the evening would induce him to be present at a banquet at such a late hour. On coming to Peterborough fifteen years ago he had found in Mr. Cox a true friend, and as he never allowed his religious views to interfere with his social duties, he hoped he would have the honour of being a friend of Mr. Cox's as long as he lived.

He proclaimed Mr. Cox an example for all young men to follow. He was one who had lifted himself, and in doing so had lifted others also. He had lifted Peterborough, and Father Conway was in hopes that he would lift the Senate, low as it had fallen. His one duty called him, (Father Conway) to guide the footsteps of young men. His advice to those young men present was to shape their course by the standard of the honoured guest.

Mr. D. W. Dumble

stated that when the Government called upon Mr. Cox to take a position in the Senate all felt pleased in Peterborough. If the Government needed any more men for a like position, as the citizens were patriotic, one would be found to suit and would be haded over for that purpose. To Toronto, he stated, that when they were again in need of a president or general manager for any of their big concerns they could come again to Peterborough, as such men were kept in stock here, apparently.

All were much pleased that a Peterborough man should be so honoured. Some said Mr. Cox was a lucky fellow, but he was one who made his own luck. He had a faculty of foresight which enabled him to harness opportunities to his chariot and make them draw him.

Dr. Halliday

heartily reciprocated all the hearty good wishes which had been extended to Mr. Cox during the evening. He hoped he would live long to grace his seat in the Senate. Regarding Peterborough's hospitals the doctor referred most pleasingly to the Nicholls and St. Joseph's institutions, and the Protestant Home and expressed the hope that a poor house would be one of the next great works undertaken.

Mr. W. H. Moore

had always found Mr. Cox to be a fair enemy on the political platform and therefore, though often opposed to him, he was one of his warmest friends. Mr. Cox had earned the high honour which had been conferred on him. Although Mr. Cox was a citizen of Peterborough at one time yet, in Mr. Moore's opinion, he was appointed to represent a more western locality. Peterborough should have one of her own citizens in the Senate and he hoped Mr. Cox would bring his influence to bear in such a manner as to secure such an appointment.

To Mr. W. H. Meldrum

fell the duty of proposing the health of the Press. He took occasion at the same time to extend his personal congratulation to Mr. Cox, and also made a few terse and witty remarks on several political questions. After the toast had been fittingly honoured it was responded to by Messrs. W. A. Buchanan of the Review and Alf. Terrill of the EXAMINER.

Senator Cox

asked permission to propose one toast. It was that of the chairman, his warm friend —Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P. He hoped before long Peterborough would have another banquet for honour conferred on another citizen, and that those in attendance would have the pleasure of addressing the present chairman, as the Hon. J. R. Stratton, and he impressed on Hon. J. M. Gibson, a member of the Ontario government present, the strength which would be added to the Cabinet by making an addition to it in the person of Mr. Stratton. It gave him the greatest pleasure to propose his health.

The toast was honoured with bursts of applause, and the banqueters rose en masse to sing "He's a jolly good fellow," and "He's a daisy, just now."

Mr. Stratton responded very briefly on account of the lateness of the hour, and the banquet was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

Carriages were in waiting at the hotel to convey the Toronto guests to their private car, which was in waiting on a siding and was taken west on the early morning express of the C.P.R.

The fact that the dining hall was able to accommodate so many persons comfortably was due to Mr. T. A. Hay, C.E., at the request of the committee, having prepared plans of the tables, with a view of economizing space.

All whom it may concern are requested to govern themselves accordingly, by making provision ahead and save disappointment.

THE MAYORALTY

PETERBOROUGH, 16th Dec., 1896.

Messrs. Thomas Brady, Thomas Irwin, J. W. Miller, James Burnet, William Might, W. S. Cooke, James Montgomery, Adam Kernegan, William Saxby, William Curtis, William Hatrley, William Cooper, John Kempt, Fred Mitchell, E. B. Clegg, H. B. Meharry, J. J. Turner, Henry Green, E. F. Mason, Thos. A. Redner, Arthur Smith, M. Boyce, William A. Henry and over 150 other municipal electors :

DEAR SIRS,—I beg to acknowledge the honour done to me by your presentation of so large and representative a request asking that I permit myself to be put in nomination as a candidate for the Mayoralty for 1897. I accept the responsibility implied and I assure you and the ratepayers of the town generally that if elected, I shall on all occasions exert myself to the utmost to advance in every respect the best interests of the town.

It will be impossible for me to make any general canvass of the town and I have suggested to Mr. Yelland, who I believe is to be a candidate, that neither of us solicit votes personally of the electors, but instead call a public meeting to discuss the various municipal matters in which the ratepayers are interested, and leave it to them to decide whom they prefer. He has declined to do this and, therefore, as the time is limited and my business cannot be wholly neglected, I must ask these electors, who have requested me to be a candidate and the many others who have personally urged me to the same course, that they do their share in assisting in my election,

I am, Dear Sirs,
Yours very obedient servant,
W. H. MOORE.

The Last Saturday Before Xmas!

The usual excessive crowds and intense Holiday enthusiasm of the last Saturday before Christmas will be repeated again to-morrow in and around this store.

The great delegation of buyers will not be disappointed in their search for gifts at the Peterborough Bookstore. No such preparations for big business have ever been set on foot on anything like the same scale before.

Stocks are Bigger and Assortments Better. The Character of these goods are Higher and the Values are Greater. Quantity, Variety and Price are Unmatched. The entire stock represents the results of weeks of personal planning and judicious selection, in which the very best skill was bestowed.

While we place particular emphasis on the unusual excellence and high character of the stock, we are happy also to emphasize the fact that moderate prices go hand-in-hand with every article, from the plainest to the most elaborate.

We bid everyone welcome who wishes to inspect and compare, whether a purchaser or not. We will not attempt to give even an abbreviated list of the goods to-day, as the task is unnecessary now so near Christmas.

MILLIONS OF MONEY

Invested in the Mines of This Great Country.

BRITISH COLUMBIA COMES FIRST

Ontario Follows, But is Far Behind in the Amount Invested—Trade With Demerara Has Been Fair—The Hours of Civil Servants —News From Ottawa.

Ottawa, Dec. 18.—(Special.)—A careful compilation of the capital accredited to all the chartered gold mining companies in Candna gives a total of over $290,000,000. British Columbia of course heads the list in the number and wealth of its gold mining companies, while Ontario, with its scarcely less extensive deposits of free milling ore in the Rainy River districts, comes second. By provinces the figures stand: British Columbia $256,321,075, Ontario $32,094,900, Nova Scotia $594,000, New Brunswick $1,030,000, Manitoba $50,000.

The report of Canada's commercial agent at Georgetown, Demerara, has been received. It reviews the trade between Canada and that colony during the quarter ended Sept. 30, and shows a very satisfactory interchange of products. The principal exports to Canada from Demerara were sugar, rum, molasses, cocoa and native lumber. On the other hand the imports of Canadian products include a wide range of agricultural, manufactured and fish productions, the chief articles being as follows: Horses, oats, potatoes, butter, fish of various kinds, value $90,000. The agent reports that the two subsidized mail steamers made their monthly trips with usual punctuality, "bringing each trip large shipments for this port." During the quarter the trade of Demerara was greatly depressed, owing to unremunerative prices for sugar and rum, the staple products of the colony. Now, however, a period of better prices having set in, and large crops being assured, the agent looks for a return of prosperity and increased trade with the Dominion.

An action has arisen between the heirs and creditors of the late Peter McRae over the insurance money, and is now before Mr. W. L. Scott, Master-in-Chancery. Mr. and Mrs. McRae and one child were drowned while out yachting on Lake Deschenes last summer. To-day Mr. F. H. F. Mercer, who was the only survivor of the dreadful catastrophe, gave evidence to show who was the first to die. Mr. Mercer swore that Mrs. McRae was the last one seen by him. He made an attempt to hold her above water, hence in his opinion the others had sunk before her. Mr. Mercer's evidence is of the utmost importance, as he was the last one to see the ill-fated people alive. If Mr. Scott decides that Mrs. McRae was the last to die, the insurance money goes to the surviving child: if he finds Mr. McRae died last, the creditors benefit.

A report is again in circulation that action will be taken soon towards fixing definitely the office hours in the civil service at from 9 to 5. It is said that the subject is one that has hitherto rested with the Ministers individually. If there was any pressure of work, very often it had to be done after hours. In many instances the clerks worked in the evenings of their own accord and without any orders from their chiefs, and again in other departments the regular hours are strictly maintained. In some departments the hours at present are most irregular, officers having to remain day after day long after the 4 o'clock hour to complete their work.

A report is current that a deal is on the tapis by which the newspaper Le Temps will pass into the hands of a Conservative syndicate, with Emanuel Tasse at its head, and Oscar McDonell remaining as editor. In reply to a query as to the correctness of the item, Mr. McDonell says that newspapers have been selling Le Temps every week for the last three months and sending him as often as editor of some Montreal paper. Mr. McDonell says that he has not yet been able to attend to business of any kind, as he is just getting around after his illness. In the operation for the removal of the cancer with which Mr. McDonell suffered he lost two-thirds of his tongue, and will never be able to speak more than a few words.

There is a rumor that the old order respecting the prohibition of civil servants running as aldermanic candidates will be enforced this year. Enquiry was made to-day as to whether this order would be enforced, the answer being that the matter lies with the Deputy Ministers.

The Auditor-General has, during the absence of the Ministers from Ottawa, had to decide a somewhat knotty point. A question has arisen as to the power of Deputy Ministers to sign progress estimates. Mr. McDougall, it appears, has expressed his unwillingness to pass estimates that had not the Ministerial signature attached. The practice under the late Government was general for the Deputy Ministers to do this, but the matter came up as a side issue in the Goodwin case before Judge Burbidge lately, and on what transpired there the Auditor-General is basing his stand.

M. King, Dominion Astronomer and his staff have completed the work of determining the latitude and longitude of Port Stanley for survey purposes along Lake Erie, and also the position of Winnipeg, from which measurements can be taken in Manitoba and the Northwest. Observations were also taken simultaneously at Montreal and Ottawa to determine the distance between the two, although this calculation has yet to be worked out.

Messrs. St. Cyr and McArthur of the Interior Department, who are engaged on a survey of the Columbia River in British Columbia, have returned to the Capital. They remained in the field as late in the season as the weather would permit. In addition to the Columbia survey they went over a piece of the international boundary line in the gold region of Kootenay, where the Americans had some months ago raised a story of Canadian aggression. The line had been staked off in two directions.

Enquiry was made at the Customs Department to-day respecting the reported seizure at Toronto of Tampico fibre for brushes, as being the first case of seizure of prison-made articles. The record shows that during the past three years large quantities of goods imported from the United States have been confiscated at various times upon proof being obtained that the goods were produced by prison labor. Last year an unusually valuable consignment of manufactured goods was seized on this account at St. John, N.B. Customs officials at the several importing centres are very strictly enjoined as to the liability to seizure of all articles wholly or in part the product of convict labor. The chief line of imports which have been stopped on this account is hardware. One of the principal American shippers of hardware to Canada entered over a year ago into contracts with the United States authorities for prison labor, with the result that the first importation thereafter of the firm's goods was seized by the Canadian Customs and confiscated, so that during the continuance of prison contract the firm's Canadian business was entirely suspended. The articles which are prohibited under the Canadian Customs' tariff are: Immoral or treasonable publications, reprints of Canadian copyright works, counterfeit coin, oleomargarine, adulterated tea and (art. 784), "Goods manufactured or produced wholly or in part by prison labor, or which have been made within or in connection with any prison, jail or penitentiary."

Mr. L. K. Jones of the Railways and Canals Department has returned from the Maritime Provinces, where he went for the purpose of hurrying in returns from railway companies, to be used in the preparation of the annual blue book. He visited Quebec, Fredericton, St. John, and Halifax, and was eminently successful in securing the figures wanted.

The Dominion Government inspection of the upper section of the Ottawa, Arnprior and Parry Sound Railway is being made to-day.

Mr. Ridout of the Railways and Canals Department returned this morning from Hamilton, where he was examining the signals at the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo crossing of the Grand Trunk Railway.

Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Aberdeen, with their family and suite, returned to-night to the Capital for the winter season.

Mr. Blair leaves Vancouver for Ottawa next Thursday.

The Minister of Railways and Canals is in Victoria, B. C., to-day. He is not expected here till after Christmas.

The Premier returned to the Capital last evening from Cornwall, and was at his office in the eastern block this morning.

Hon. Clifford Sifton is expected here to-morrow.

Mr. Davies is expected back on the 22nd from British Columbia.

Sir Henri and Lady Joly left for Quebec to-day to spend the Christmas holidays.

WILL BE EXTRADITED.

District Attorney Mackay Says That Judge Coxe Has Decided to Send Mrs. Sternaman to Canada.

Buffalo, Dec. 18.—"Mrs. Sternaman will be extradited. Judge Coxe has practically decided that," said United States District Attorney Mackay this afternoon.

"The claim made by the defendant's counsel was that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant United States Commissioner Fairchild in holding her. Judge Coxe decided that the ground was not well taken.

"Defendant's counsel next took exception to the complaint, holding that there had been an insufficiency of evidence, that a warrant should not have been issued.

"I expect Judge Coxe will decide on that point to-morrow. If his decision is for the defendant, we will simply make a new complaint, and report the former proceedings. She must go to Canada."

A VERY GRAVE STEP

May Mean War Between the U. S. and Spain.

FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE

Reports Favorably the Cameron Resolution for the Independence of Cuba—The Vote Was Practically Unanimous—House of Representatives May Oppose the Senate's Recommendation.

Washington, Dec. 18.—The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations met at 10.30 o'clock. Secretary Olney appeared shortly after that hour and gave the committee orally such information as to Cuban affairs as he had.

At 12.15 p.m. Secretary Olney left the committee room. The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations has ordered a favorable report on Cameron's resolution recognizing the independence of the Republic of Cuba. The text of it is as follows:

Joint resolution acknowledging the independence of Cuba:

Resolved: By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the independence of the Republic of Cuba be and the same is hereby acknowleged by the United States of America.

Section 2—That the United States should use its friendly offices with the Government of Spain to bring to a close the war betwen Spain and Cuba.

The vote by which the resolution was passed was practically unanimous.

Senator Cameron was instructed to prepare the report that will be submitted to the Senate on Monday. As a matter of fact the report was written and submitted to the committee this morning. It is looked upon as an exceedingly strong document, and goes into the diplomatic history of the United States very fully to show our policy in the matter of recognizing new States. Some few additions and alterations were suggested by other members of the committee, but the report as drawn by the Senator is practically complete.

The House heard with surprise of the action of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in recognizing the independence of Cuba and if the opinion of members of the Foreign Affairs Committee and some of the Democratic and Republican leaders in the House is to be taken as a criterion the popular branch of the Government will not sustain the position taken by the Senate Committee. Mr. Hitt (Ill.), the chairman of the House Committee, is out of the city, and is not expected to return until the close of the holiday recess. Several other members of the committee were not in their seats to-day and have presumably left town. Of those who remain, a United Associated Presses reporter talked with five and all strongly opposed any action at this time. The Republicans objected to any step which would, in their opinion, bring about a war with Spain, on the ground that the McKinley administration ought not to be met at the very moment of coming into power by so serious an international problem. It was thought better that Mr. McKinley should formulate his own Cuban policy, and in this conclusion the Democrats fully concurred. Other members felt that it would be injudicious on the part of the United States to recognize either the independence or the belligerency of the Cuban rebels until the real situation in the island was known. Not a single member of the House, out of a score or more of the leaders, could be found who believed that the Senate resolution would pass the House, even though it should be favorably reported by the House Committee, which is also regarded as impossible. The opinion was freely expressed that the Senate, from being the conservative branch of the Government, has changed places with the House, and that the latter to-day is by long odds the conservative branch of Congress.

There is an impression among some of the members of the committee that the President will veto the resolution, it being joint in its character and requiring the executive approval or disapproval. If Mr. Cleveland should enter his veto, it is claimed that Congress would be able to pass the resolution by the necessary two-thirds vote.

The action of the committee was soon noised about the Capitol, and speedily became the sole topic of conversation in committee rooms and corridors, where two or three members chanced to meet. Whether or not the passage of such a resolution meant war was the question uppermost, but the consensus of opinion is that it does not, unless Spain sees fit to force it. The ground was taken in committee that this Government possessed the inherent right to recognize any new state, and that if the power previously exercising dominion over such territory protested, upon such power rested the burden of commencing hostilities.

Senator Frye is of the opinion that if the masses of the people of Spain control the executive officers of that Government, war will certainly follow the passage of the resolution. Senator Mills hopes that speedy action will be taken, and Senator Morgan is of the same mind. Senator Hale of Maine deprecates the action of the committee, and says those in the Senate opposed to the jingo spirit manifested in the resolution will contest the passage of the resolution to the end, and prevent its adoption by every means possible.

No effort will be made to call the resolution up in the Senate until after the holidays, but it is very evident that immediately upon the assembling of the Senate in January that body will be plunged into a debate that gives promise of possessing an accompaniment of numerous exciting episodes.

SPAIN OUTLINES A POLICY.

Will Put in Force Reforms Granted But Never Put in Operation

New York, Dec. 18.—A special to The Herald from Havana says: The first effect of Maceo's reported death is an apparent outline of a policy to be adopted by Spain. It was first evidenced here by despatches from Spain to the effect that the Government thinks Spain is effectually in the ascendancy over the insurgents to offer to put in force reforms granted to Cuba and Puerto Rico before the revolution began, but never put in operation in either island.

The despatches state that of course such reforms cover only those points which are already under the control of Spain, but these, the Spaniards allege, cover the whole ground.

Sympathy of Frenchmen.

Paris, Dec. 18.—The Intransigeant publishes an address by the Cuban committee of Paris, which declares that the murder of Gen. Antonio Maceo will fertilize the cause of Cuba's liberty. The revolt in Cuba, the address says, has the sympathy of all Frenchmen who uphold the rights of man.

Will Ignore Cleveland's Message.

Madrid, Dec. 18.—It is understood that the Government have abandoned their intention to address a note to the Government at Washington concerning that part of Cleveland's message which refers to Spain and Cuba, and will ignore the document altogether.

Time to Recognize Them

Des Moines, Ia., Dec. 18.—Gov. F. M. Drake, in an interview, says he thinks it is time for the United States to recognize the independence of Cuba. The Governor speaks warmly of the Cuban cause, and is anxious to aid the patriots.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY INTERESTS

The local branch of the Canadian Historical Society, recently organized here, has aroused a gratifying degree of interest, Many persons, who failed to notice the announcements in the papers calling the organization meeting, express the liveliest regret at not having been present on the occasion of the branch being established. And this regret is not a merely sentimental one. One of these, Mr. Richard Hall, is showing a practical interest, whose outcome, promises to have an important bearing upon the future of historical research and collection in Peterborough. Mr. Hall, as one of the commissioners of the Nicholls Park system, has kindly placed four rooms of the Dennistoun residence at Inverela, in West Nicholls Park, at the disposal of the Society for a museum of historical and other articles. A nucleus of such a museum will be provided through the public-spirited action of Messrs. J. M. Irwin, J. B. McWilliams, H. C. Strickland and others. Mr. Irwin has a fine collection of curiosities and relics of early times, including perhaps the most perfect specimens of aboriginal pottery existent in Canada today, which, it is understood, he will contribute. Mr. McWilliams has a large collection of minerals, and Mr. Strickland a similar one, which, it is understood, both are also willing to add to the museum. And it is likely, when the object is better known, that others will be able and willing to make similar contributions. Of course the beginning, compared to what it is hoped the collection will ultimately be, is a small one. But small beginnings are not to be despised. A handful of acorns at one time represented one of the mighty battleships, wooden walls, with which our early navigators planted the flag on every part of the globe and expanded a little insular kingdom into a mighty Empire, whose roots strike deep into the soil of every continent and clime, and made the history of the most brilliant as well as enduring achievements of colonial expansion the world has known. From the building of an empire to the founding of a local museum is a wide step. But the museum referred to is an important one to us. The situation is well adapted to make available the educative value of such a collection. During the season thousands will frequent the park and naturally they will visit the museum. Such visits will naturally arouse interest that will naturally lead to additional presentations of articles to the museum, which, while they may be of real historical interest, are of, perhaps, only sentimental value to the present possessors. Thus the collection will grow, and what is more important, the interest in the incidental historical association, as well as in historical research, which latter is the real object of the local association, will grow. We feel that we can call upon our public-spirited citizens to co-operate with the local association, with full confidence that there will be a ready response. The example that has been set by the gentlemen named will, it is hoped, be generously followed. The result will be that thousands of valuable articles which have, to a certain extent, exhausted their first interest as mere curiosities, will be rescued from their present obscurity and placed among others in the museum in west Nicholls Park.

THERE are now three Dominion seats vacant in this province. North Ontario, due to Mr. McGillivray vacating the seat, South Brant vacated by the decision of the election court—the Conservatives employed the "Sugar" too lavishly; and Stormont rendered vacant by the lamented death of Dr. Bergin, where an election is now on.

AN INCURABLE CURED.

AFTER TREATMENT IN CANADA'S BEST HOSPITAL HAD FAILED.

One of the Most Remarkable Cures on Record—Ten Years of Intense Suffering From Acute Rheumatism—The Whole Body Contracted and Out of Shape in Every Limb—Again Restored to Active Life.

From the Newmarket Advertiser.

We suppose there is not a resident of Newmarket who does not know Mr. J. A. Moffatt, who does not know of his years of suffering and who has not heard of his release from a life of helplessness and pain through the medium of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Indeed we doubt if in the annals of medicine there is a more remarkable restoration than has been accomplished in Mr. Moffatt's case, and he deems it his duty to mankind to make the facts known through the columns of the Advertiser.

Ten years ago Mr. Moffatt was working in the Newmarket hat factory. Through the influence of the damp room, and possibly some carelessness in regard to his health, he was attacked with a severe cold which eventually settled in his limbs. For some years he was an almost constant sufferer from rheumatic pains and spent much money in treatment for the trouble, but with no result beyond an occasional temporary release from pain. Finally to make matters worse he was attacked with malaria and rheumatic fever. He was then forced to go to the Toronto general hospital where it was found that he was afflicted with torticollis, (wry neck). During the first six months in the hospital he was under the treatment of the staff electrician, but the powers of electricity entirely failed, and after a consultation of physicians it was deemed advisable to perform an operation. Six weeks later a second operation was performed. The operations proved successful only in so far as they afforded temporary relief. He remained in the hospital from November 1890, till January, 1892, and with all the modern remedies and appliances known to the staff of that well-equipped institution no permanent relief could be obtained. He was then advised to go home, partly in the hope that the change might prove beneficial, but instead he continually grew worse, and in March, 1892, was again forced to take to his bed, and those who knew of his condition did not believe he had long to live. At this time every joint in his body was swollen and distorted, and he suffered the most excruciating agony. If a person walked across his bedroom it intensified the pain as though he was being pierced through and torn with knives, and if touched he would scream aloud with agony. In this state of hopeless suffering he remained bedfast for eighteen months, all the time using all manner of medicines from which relief might be hoped for. Then he was put under the treatment of a celebrated Toronto specialist but with no better result. After this last experiment failed he determined to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, at the same time discontinuing all other treatment. At the end of three months there was a very noticeable improvement in his condition, and so much so that his mother thought he could be lifted outside. He was still so weak, however, that he was only able to remain up a few minutes as before. When taken back to bed he felt a sudden tingling sensation going up from his toes and through his joints and spine. The next morning when he awoke the pain had left the body and lodged in the arms, and then for some weeks the pain flitted from place to place in the arms and then disappeared, and he has not had a particle of pain since. All this time he was taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and slowly but surely regaining his strength. Then an invalid's chair was procured, and he was wheeled out, eventually he was able to wheel himself about. The continued use of the Pink Pills constantly added to his strength, and then the chair was discarded for crutches, and then the crutches for a cane. At this time (Sept. 1895) Mr. Moffat had so far recovered that he was a frequent contributor to the columns of the advertiser and procuring a horse and buggy he was engaged as local reporter for the paper. The once utterly helpless invalid is now able to go about, and to get in and out of his buggy without any assistance, and is at his post of duty whenever called upon.

Thus we find that after years of suffering and helplessness Dr. Williams Pink Pills have proved successful after all other remedies and the best of medical treatment had utterly failed. With such marvellous cures as this to his credit it is no wonder that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the most popular medicine with all the classes throughout the land, and this case certainly justifies the claim put forth on its behalf that it "cures when other medicines fail."

ERIE CANAL TRAFFIC.

A Distinct Increase Shown for This Year by the Superintendent's Reports.

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 17.—The reports of the Superintendent of Public Works of the two collectors at the extreme ends of the Erie Canal, Buffalo and Albany, show that there has been a distinct increase in business over last year. From the Albany end of the canal 150 more boats cleared than last year, a total of 2198 clearances being made. Four hundred and eighty nine thousand one hundred and twenty-seven tons of merchandise bound for tidewater passed through the Albany end, as against 460,000 last year. The value of merchandise bound to tidewater was $9,204,837, as against $9,178,800 last year. From Buffalo there were 3878 boats cleared, as against 4546 last year, an increase of 1336 from the Buffalo end. The shipment of flour and grain was double that of last year, and there was a large increase in smaller freight.

INJURY AND NEGLECT.

He Failed in Health and Strength—His Kidneys Ached and he Took Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Deseronto, Dec. 14 (Special)—Among business people here, and especially by his fellow workmen, great interest has been taken in the case of Mr. James Stokes, who for the past fifteen years has been shipper for the Rathbun Company.

Lately he had run down in health and strength to the point of being compelled to quit work, and his recovery now as the result of using Dodd's Kidney Pills is the talk of the town. On seeing Mr. Stokes he said:—

"From over-lifting and strain I suffered greatly from kidney trouble, being advised, after all else had failed, to use Dodd's Kidney Pills; from the first dose I got relief, and hundreds of people here can vouch for my cure."

Every person who is deprived of outdoor air and exercise should take Miller's Compound Iron Pills. They keep the bowels regular and tone up the nervous system. 50 doses for 25 cents. Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

Suffering Women.

Alas! women do suffer. Why, we often cannot tell, but we know there is one great cause, and that is weakness. The headaches, the depressed feelings, the pains, the discouragements, indeed, almost all the misery has a common cause—weakness. At such times a woman always needs a friend that can be relied upon, and such a friend, for more than twenty years, has been that greatest of all remedies,

WARNER'S Safe Cure

By its purity and its power it furnishes a prompt relief for women in their hours of need, and if the grateful expressions which come up from the homes of the land about what SAFE CURE has done were printed, they would fill volumes. If you, reader, are a sufferer, can you not take hope from this suggestion?

TRIAL OF MATE BRAM

Seaman Brown Gives Very Strong Evidence.

SAYS HE SAW THE BLOW STRUCK

Which Caused the Death of Captain Nash of the Barkentine Fuller Heard Mrs. Nash Scream and Afterwards Saw Her Dead Body—Did Brown Swear Falsely?

Boston, Dec. 18.—Next to the passenger, Moak, who concluded his testimony yesterday, Seaman Charles Brown was the witness on whom the Government relied for incriminating evidence against Mate Thomas Bram, charged with the murder of Capt. Nash of the barquentine Herbert Fuller on the high seas. The announcement that Brown would be the witness to-day attracted an unusually large crowd to the United States Court.

Brown testified that until the tragedy he never had occasion to enter the captain's cabin. The night of the tragedy witness went on duty at 12 o'clock and took his place at the wheel. The first mate, Bram, was on deck, saw him four times; the fifth time he saw him he was in the captain's cabin; witness heard a noise and was frightened; looking through the window opposite the wheel he saw the captain's bunk upset and the captain's body on the floor; saw Mate Bram in the room, saw him lift a weapon; could not see what it was but only the handle; saw a blow fall in the same direction as the captain's head; he held the weapon in his right hand; he walked right out of the captain's room; witness was greatly scared; watched the companionway and then heard a scream from Mrs. Nash; next saw the mate on deck a little time after; he passed between the binnacle and the witness, who watched to see if he had a weapon and was afraid of him; as he passed witness smelled liquor on the mate; witness went to the second mate's room and saw him dead; went to Mrs. Nash's room and saw her dead; then went to the captain's room and saw him lying dead on the floor; witness was accompanied by the steward and four of his shipmates; witness was put in irons Thursday morning, the 16th of July, at about 5 o'clock; he was asleep and the first he knew was when he heard the steward, Spencer, cursing, swearing and saying "You have killed the captain and stolen his revolver."

Witness said that the first day he was in irons he was tied to the mast and Bram said to him: "You thought you would be smart and put me in for it, but I am too clever for you." Witness said he never released his hold on the wheel while he was at the helm on the night of the tragedy, and while he was watching the mate in the captain's room.

On cross-examination, Brown said he signed the statement on board the Fuller, knowing it to be a lie, but he knew the vessel would reach the United States and he would then tell the truth. Witness made contradictory replies to questions regarding his talk before and after he was arrested. He admitted that he told nothing of what he knew of the murders at the hearing before the grand jury in Boston last July. He denied ever having said he had been in an insane asylum. He admitted having said he shot a man in Holland, but could not remember saying that he got clear of it on the plea of insanity. His statement that he had shot a man he testified was a lie.

At the request of counsel for the defence, court then adjourned until the morning to give them time to secure proof that Brown had committed perjury in his evidence to-day.

TWO HANGED, ONE SHOT.

Bill, Arch and Dink Proctor, Kentucky Murderers, Disposed of by Judge Lynch and a Mob.

Russellville, Ky., Dec. 18.—Dink and Arch Proctor, father and son, were taken from the jail at 2 o'clock this morning and hanged to a cedar tree, just outside the town, and Bill Proctor, another son, was shot and killed in his cell.

A mob of 100 men broke into the jail about 1.30 o'clock this morning by battering down the door with sledge hammers. The jailer was forced to give up the cell keys. The Proctors were up, as they had been warned the day before of what was to come. Bill Proctor swore he would not leave his cell alive, and, as he was a powerful man and hard to handle, one of the mob shot him with a pistol. Immediately afterwards a charge of buckshot was fired at him, and as he fell a volley of pistol shots was fired. About thirty balls entered his body. After Proctor was down, a man entered the cell, and, placing a pistol at the head of the fallen man, pulled the trigger, and thus died the most dangerous man in Logan County.

The mob then took Dink Proctor and his son Arch out of their cells, and bound their hands, after the latter had made an unheeded plea for mercy for the father. The mob, which had now increased to 200 men, escorted the prisoners to a three-limbed cedar tree on the Nashville-road, and strung father and son up side by side. Their bodies were cut down this morning. The mob came from Adairsville, and they cut all the telegraph wires leading from that point in order to prevent notice being given of their coming.

Mrs. Proctor, wife of Dink and mother of Arch and Bill, was asleep in an hotel here when the lynching took place. She had come to attend the examining trial to-day, and Arch begged the mob pitifully to be allowed to see his mother before he was hanged, but his request was refused. Arch Proctor killed Aaron and Doc Crafton at Adairsville on Oct. 24. Bill and Dink were charged with conspiring to have the Craftons killed.

Bill Proctor was one of the four men who were charged with hanging Ed Traughbert two years ago. He had killed several men, and had been tried four times for his life, but always escaped on trial, and this fact caused the mob to beat the law. Dink had always been a quiet fellow, and this was the first time he had been in trouble. The general public approve of the killing of Bill and Arch, but think that Dink should have been left alone. Great crowds viewed the dead bodies.

VERY BAD WRECK.

Passenger Train Ran Into Some Cattle in Ohio, Killing Railroad Men and Wounding Passengers.

Chillicothe, O., Dec. 18.—A terrible wreck occurred on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern Railway at Camden at 1.30 o'clock this afternoon. The engine of passenger train No. 3 ran into a lot of cattle and was derailed, with three cars. One postal clerk was killed outright and Conductor Tom Brown was fatally mangled. The fireman and another postal clerk were fatally injured, and a number of passengers were reported killed or injured. Frank Shannon of Xenia, Ohio, was slightly injured. M. V. King, postal clerk, of Greenfield, and George Ewing, fireman, were slightly hurt.

Another Fatal Smash.

Indianapolis, Dec. 18.—At 8.30 o'clock this morning a wreck occurred at the crossing of the Wabash and Monon Railroads, at Delphi, Ind. A wrecking train was hurried out over the latter road from Monon and while running at a high rate of speed, near Guernsey, five miles south of Monon, a flat car of the wrecking train jumped the track, and the entire train went into a ditch. One man was killed and several were injured. The names of the killed and injured are: Cecil Douglas of Hammond, Ind., who was stealing a ride, instantly killed; C. W. McCammon, trainmaster, had both legs bruised; John Reed, conductor, injured internally; Otto Long, brakeman, injured about face and head, not seriously injured.

A Man From Canada Makes Strong Charges in Buffalo Against Keepers of the London Asylum.

Buffalo, Dec. 18.—At noon to-day a man who had the appearance of a prosperous Canadian farmer entered the editorial room of The Enquirer. Approaching the desk of one of the men he announced that he had escaped from an insane asylum in Canada. The man said that his name was Andrew McCallum, and that he hailed last from the asylum at London, Ont. He called at a newspaper office because he had a story to tell. McCallum is a well-built man about 46 years old. He wears a full beard of Populistic proportions, and of a reddish grey tinge. A beaver overcoat and a cap served to keep out the cold. According to McCallum's story he formerly lived at East Williams, Ont. He said that for three years he was a patient at the London Insane Asylum, but that, made desperate by cruel treatment, he broke his way out a week ago last Wednesday by picking a lock in one of the doors. He states that while sometimes weak in his head he was unlawfully detained after being cured, through the machinations of his wife, who hoped thereby to gain control of his property, which is situated in London, Ont., and St. Louis, Michigan. He states that the patients are horribly abused by the keepers, who set them fighting and sit by and watch the fun when the doctors are out of sight. One man named Collins of St. John's, Ont., he alleges, was goaded to madness by being burned with a railroad lantern by two keepers, who wanted to have sport with him.

The supervisor, he says, is a man named John O'Donald, who countenances and encourages these outrages. He has given the names of outsiders who he says have witnessed these actions. McCallum is now staying in Buffalo at a west side boarding house.

FIELD'S SAD HISTORY

The Son of An Illustrious Father and Once a Millionaire in Police Court as a Common Drunk.

New York, Dec. 18.—Edward M. Field was before Magistrate Wentworth in the Yorkville Court this morning, charged with intoxication. He is the son of the late Cyrus W. Field. Joseph Connaughton, a lawyer, appeared in behalf of the prisoner, and explained that he was not in his right mind, and Magistrate Wentworth discharged him from custody. When arraigned this morning his appearance excited general sympathy. His face and hands were grimy and he shivered as if with an ague.

Lawyer Connaughton said he had known Field for twenty years. He has a wife and two children living. Field is a well-known character on the West Side, and lives in a Raines' low hotel. He once had a beautiful home at Dobbs' Ferry. His father cut him off in his will. He was a graduate of Williams' College. He is the eldest son of the late Cyrus W. Field, and once was his father's favorite. Edward made one million dollars in his first year in Wall-street, and his father looked upon him as a master financier. He was the senior member of the firm of Field, Lindley, Wecherns & Co., doing business at No. 1 Broadway. In the panic of 1891 the house failed. Then it was discovered that Field had squandered at least two millions of dollars, and his forgeries were enormous. In one day, just before the failure, $400,000 disappeared, with no trace of its disposition. Field was put on trial and insanity was pleaded as the defence. The jury disagreed, and Field was sent to Buffalo Asylum for observation. In 1893 it was discovered that Field had his liberty of the city in which the asylum is in. Subsequently he was adjudged insane and fully committed to the asylum. He was released later.

MERRYMAKERS ENTERTAIN

The United Workmen's Concert Highly Successful—Unlimited Fun.

The Kingston News says: Martin's Opera House was crowded to the doors last night to hear the well-known comedians, Harry Rich and W. E. Ramsay, in their most amusing entertainment. The programme was a lengthy one, and consisted largely in singing of topical songs, which were amusingly acted by the two well-called merrymakers. Harry Rich in his representation of an Irishman and Dutchman, introduced many samples of wit common to those nations. He possesses a rich voice and pleasing stage address. W. E. Ramsay also is gifted with an excellent voice and suitably adapted for humorous songs. In their single and double persormances, they introduced scenes from city and domestic life and the peculiar characteristics of various nations. The programme concluded with a screaming farce comedy, in which Harry Rich, as a German, outwitted his Irish partner at every turn. Many jokes on local men were given with good effect. Mrs. W. E. Ramsay contributed piano solos and accompanied the singers.

These excellent entertainers will be in the Opera House on Christmas afternoon and evening under the auspices of Otonabee Lodge, I.O.O.F., when a different programme will be presented on both occasions. Prices: Afternoon, 25 cents, children 10c; evening, 25c and 35c. Plan at Ormond & Walsh's.

COMPLIMENTARY ADDRESS

To Reeve Moloney by the Council of Douro Township.

At the meeting of the township of Douro council on Tuesday, Dec. 15th, William Leeson, on behalf of the councillors, read the following complimentary address to Mr. John Moloney, who has been reeve of the township for the past 25 years:—

To John Moloney, Esq., Reeve of the Municipal Council of the Township of Douro:

We the members and officers the Council of the Township of Douro having learned that it is your intention to not be a candidate for the reeveship at the coming election desire to express to you our sincere regret that the township council of Douro are to be deprived of your valuable services.

It is now twenty-five years since you first became a member of this council, and over which you have for the last twenty-four years presided as reeve, conducting its affairs all that time in a business-like and eminently satisfactory manner to all concerned, without partiality, fear or favour, and we feel sure that we but feebly voice the sentiments of the ratepayers of this township when we say that we may not hope to be able to find a successor your equal in all respects.

While regretting your loss as reeve we trust still to have the benefit of your advice, counsel, experience and ability as a member of the county council, in which body you have for the last twenty-four years not only so ably represented the municipality, but as a county councillor have suggested amendments which have been adopted in our municipal system, and we feel that you can look back with pride and gratification on what you have accomplished as a representative of this township in the county council.

Forming as we do no inconsiderable portion of the fifth county council division of this county, we have good reason to believe that you will be elected as a member of the new county council, and that if elected you will continue to be the same painstaking, unassuming and efficient representative as you have proved yourself in the past.

We also desire to express our best wishes for the future welfare not only for yourself, but also for your wife and family, who, by their uniform kindness in their intercourse with their neighbours and by their practical sympathy and charity, always holding out the helping hand to those in distress, weeping with those that weep, rejoicing with those rejoice, and thus practicing the principles of the Divine Master and Universal Father, God, have won the esteem and love of all with whom they have been brought in contact.

May God grant to you and your family that measure of prosperity which for you and them is best, is the prayer of the undersigned.

WM. LEESON, Deputy-Reeve.
WM O'BRIEN, Township Clerk.
JOHN LEAHY, Treasurer.
JOHN M. WALSH, Councillor.
JAS. MCCLIGOTT, "
THOS. E. JOREY, "
WM. CONDON, Assessor.
PATRICK RYAN, Collector.

Mr. Moloney, though greatly taken by surprise, expressed the pleasure he felt at being so kindly remembered by the members of the council and municipal officers. It was most gratifying to receive such an assurance that his efforts in behalf of the municipality were appreciated by his fellow-councillors and, he hoped he could say, by the ratepayers generally, as would seem to be proven by the number of times they had returned him to the council by acclamation. He had always endeavoured to discharge the duties devolving upon him as Reeve, to the best of his ability, keeping in view the interests of the ratepayers generally and the consequent advancement of the township. The township of Douro, he said, would compare favourably with any other of the townships in the county of Peterborough in the way in which its municipal affairs were administered. While retiring from the Reeveship he would still endeavour to retain his connection with the municipal matters of the township, as he intended entering the field as a candidate for the county council in district No. 5, of which Douro formed a part, and he hoped the electors of the township would give him their cordial support as they had done in the past. If elected, as he hoped to be, he would as faithfully discharge his duties in the future as in former years. He had no doubt but that the council of 1897 in Douro would continue the economic management of the township affairs, and as in other years this economy would not be niggardliness, but such economy as would result in a low rate of taxation, and at the same time the improvement of the township.

The address contains only that which the EXAMINER can most heartily endorse. During the past 25 years the EXAMINER has had occasion to visit the township council periodically, and no disparagement to the other members of the council is meant when the statement is made that to Mr. Moloney's good judgment, care and economy, much of Douro's municipal prosperity is due.

In the retirement of Mr. Moloney, with his ripe judgement, the council loses one of its most valued representatives and it will be difficult to select as good a man to aid them with his counsels, as years of experience in municipal matters is necessary to acquaint a man with the questions involved.

Douro is one of the most important townships of the county, and if it does not have a representative in the new county council it will be Douro's own fault. Mr. Moloney's candidature is one which should meet with universal approval and no member of the old council will be more heartily welcome in the new body than the present popular Reeve of Douro.

Among them are Conway and Leland, the one-legged acrobats with bits of comedy work upon a bicycle built for two. The beautiful M'lle Ani, European marvel and world's renowned gymnast in her thrilling performance in mid air; Frank D. Ryan, of the late National Trio, in his original parodies and sayings; Deave's Merry Manikins, Cigaere and Boyer, a very clever sketch team; Folly trio, composed of Pearl Bradburn, John Ward and George Murphy, jr.; Bonnie Lottie, the singing and dancing sunbeam; Murphy and McCoy, singers and producers; John E. Drew, the favourite comedian and dancer, and the Hiatts in musical comedy, making the strongest and best vaudeville company in existence. Seats now on sale.

An Entertainment Given in St. John's Church School House.

A large audience assembled in St. John's church school house last evening to witness a presentation of Mrs. Jarley's celebrated wax works.

The entertainment proved most pleasing a pantomimic performance also taking place. Unfortunately the background was not arranged in a manner calculated to thrown the figures into as great prominence as might be wished, but nevertheless the audience was thoroughly pleased with the programme which was furnished.

It is understood that a substantial sum was realized for charity as the practical results of the entertainment.

The Last Saturday Before Xmas!

The usual excessive crowds and intense Holiday enthusiasm of the last Saturday before Christmas will be repeated again to-morrow in and around this store.

The great delegation of buyers will not be disappointed in their search for gifts at the Peterborough Bookstore. No such preparations for big business have ever been set on foot on anything like the same scale before.

Stocks are Bigger and Assortments Better. The Character of these goods are Higher and the Values are Greater. Quantity, Variety and Price are Unmatched. The entire stock represents the results of weeks of personal planning and judicious selection, in which the very best skill was bestowed.

While we place particular emphasis on the unusual excellence and high character of the stock, we are happy also to emphasize the fact that moderate prices go hand-in-hand with every article, from the plainest to the most elaborate.

We bid everyone welcome who wishes to inspect and compare, whether a purchaser or not. We will not attempt to give even an abbreviated list of the goods to-day, as the task is unnecessary now so near Christmas.

A Pitable Case.

This morning a servant girl while hurrying to the station to take the 8 20 G.T.R. train for Toronto, had the misfortune to lose her purse containing her whole stock of money. A kindhearted young gentleman, who deserves credit for his thoughtful act—Mr. Wm. Potter—advanced the poor girl money enough to enable her to reach her destination. The purse was lost between St. Andrew's Manse and Rubidge street. This is a case in which the finder should promptly return the purse, as the loser, who is an orphan girl, lost all her money. The purse contained about $5, and if returned to the EXAMINER office it will be forwarded to the girl's address in Toronto.

A Rousing Day!

We may have seen better days at the Peterborough Bookstore, but none that kept the cash carrier on the move so lively. All the street talk about hard times and scarcity of money was knocked into a cocked hat to day, if the buying, bustle, hustle and throng was the same all over as it was at Stratton's Bookstore. But this store prides itself on its holiday attractions for shoppers; the thousand and one things which are to be seen are magnetism enough to draw the crowds of shoppers. Rich and poor alike are treated with courtesy and consideration. No false economy in the buying here. The poor may not be able to buy the same class of goods as the rich, but they can afford to buy honest goods of a class that fit their condition. Throng the store again this evening! and complete the biggest selling ever known on the last Saturday before Christmas. A. H. STRATTON & Co.

An account of J. C. Sullivan for $1.50 was ordered to be paid, and the council then adjourned.

DELUGED IN MONTREAL

Tremendous Efforts Made to Meet the Rush.

Never before in the history of the Wells & Richardson Co., manufacturers of the celebrated Diamond Dyes, have they been so completely deluged and weighed down with mail matter as at the present time. Thousands of letter orders are crowding in from all parts of the Dominion for the great popular Ten Cent Combination that was advertised a short time ago. The avalanche of letters is so vast that a largely increased staff of hands is necessary to attend to it. The enterprising Diamond Dye firm have been obliged to hold over for a few days some thousands of orders before filling them.

This fact should discourage no one; there will be no disappointments; every order received will be well and truly filled, as steps have been taken to double the daily supply of Photos. and Excelsior Rhyming A B C Books, Illustrated.

For the benefit of those who have not seen or heard of the advertised Combination offer, it is here repeated:

First—One "Excelsior Rhyming A B C Book, Illustrated"; no two large letters of the Alphabet are of the same colour.

Second—One full size rich Cabinet Photo of the "Three Future Kings of England." Every loyal Canadian should have it.

Third—One package of "Diamond Dye Ink Powder," for making sixteen ounces of best black writing ink.

The whole Combination, worth 65 cents, to any address for ten cents.

Send small silver coins, or the proper amount in one, two or three cent stamps. Stamps of larger denomination will not be received.

Seal your letter securely, and before mailing be sure you put on full postage, three cents in stamps. If full postage is not prepaid, letters will not be accepted.

Ladies Don't Smoke.

but they have a tender regard for some fellahs that do. The great festival of Christmas will soon be here, and between now and then people will naturally think of buying presents for their friends. Mr. Chas. LeGros, the live George street tobacco and cigar dealer, realizing that money is very scarce, has put everything in the line of cigars and pipes down to cost, and when he says cost, he means business. LeGros is a hustler, and likes to give his customers a benefit at Christmas times. He imports all his goods direct, and saves the wholesalers' profit. A few of the snaps which he offers are to be seen in his window. He has the finest lot of pipes in Canada, all of B.B.B. manufacture. In cigars, his imported cigars are of the finest, and this is proved by the testimony of the best people of the town who smoke them. Ladies who know the weakness that their gentlemen friends have for a good cigar or a meerschaum pipe, a swell mouthpiece or a handy tobacco pouch can take a hint and have a quiet talk with Chanley on the subject. Call and see him and you will be astonished at the prices and quality of his pipes, cigars and smokers' sundries. ALIVE C. LEGROS, 239 George street. tf

POCKET PICKING ON THE MARKET.

Many Ladies Lost Their Pocketbooks This Morning.

A gang of pickpockets invaded the market this morning and in consequence many ladies are bemoaning the loss of their pocket-books.

The crush inside the building was terrific and the work of the sneak thieves was therefore easy, although the police exercised the greatest vigilance.

One poor woman, whose husband is ill and who had just seven dollars to carry her through the winter, lost it all, while endeavouring to make some small purchases of supplies. Another lost her purse containing over forty dollars. Although the victims were numerous, only three so far have made complaints to the Police Department.

It is thought the operators were women brought down from Toronto to take advantage of the crush at a Christmas market.

Meetings of the general public will be held this week and next to inspect the stock of meats at Kennedy & Nelson's store, 340 George street. It is the high grade stock we carry and the moderate prices we charge that draw the crowd. We are determined to sell only the best, and to this end we have our stock shipped from the west where nothing but the highest grade of cattle is raised.

We have had our store made more inviting than usual, by decorating the windows with holly and deer heads. Inside the store you will find the most delicious meats.

Our Beef is of the best; our Pork cannot be found fault with; our Canned Goods must go, although being sacrificed; our Mince Meat sells where sold before; our Lard has been found satisfactory; the Butter we handle is No. 1.

We have great advantages in the fowl line, by having bought ahead all the fowl required, which goes into the hundreds.

SPECIAL TO THE LADIES.

We have bought a National Cash Register which sits on a marble counter in a convenient part of the store. On the top of it is a most handsome mirror. It is a most beautifully designed machine. FELL 1400 FEET.

Miners in Their Cage Went Down to the Bottom of the Shaft in a Colorado Mine.

Ouray, Col., Dec. 19.—An accident occurred in the Virginius mine near here yesterday by which five men were almost instantly killed. The accident occurred in the shaft of the mine, where the men were at work repairing the timbering. They were working from the cage suspended in the shaft, having it raised and lowered as they progressed with their work. The cage fell with lightning rapidity to the bottom of the shafe, which is 1400 feet deep, where it was broken into thousands of pieces, the men being crushed into shapeless masses in the wrecked cage.

NEW MOVE BY SALOON MEN.

Chicago Liquor Sellers Talk of Closing Up to Beat the City on Revenue.

Chicago, Dec. 19.—According to a morning paper, a movement is on foot among the saloonkeepers of Chicago to close their shops for a period of four months, and thereby deprive the city of revenue aggregating $1,000,000. This policy, the paper states, was vigorously discussed yesterday by the Cook County Liquor Dealers' Association. It was stated that the Civic Federation and allies were laying plans for prohibitory legislation at the coming legislative session. It was decided that the common enemy should be taught a lesson in political economy if it persists in its attempt to encroach upon the rights and privileges of the saloon men.

CORBETT HAS SIGNED.

He Agrees to Fight Fitzsimmons in Mexico in March Next.

New York, Dec. 17.—James J. Corbett signed articles of agreement at Taylor's Hotel in Jersey City this afternoon to fight Robert Fitzsimmons for the heavyweight championship and the purse of $15,000 offered by Dan A. Stuart of Texas. The articles call for a glove fight to a finish under Marquis of Queensberry rules, the contest to come off on March 17 at a place to be named by Stuart not later than Feb. 17.

George Siler of Chicago was named as referee, and either Richard K. Fox or Al Smith as temporary stakeholder.

Stuart agreed to deposit $5000 with either Fox or Smith as an evidence of good faith when the articles were completed and the remaining $10,000 thirty days before the date of the contest, the whole amount to be forfeited and divided equally between Corbett and Fitzsimmons in case Stuart fails to bring off the fight without interference. The articles also call for a deposit of $2500 by each of the principals, said amount to be forfeited should either fail to appear in the ring, the amount so forfeited to go to the man that appears.

Stuart reserved the right of all privileges, which drew from Corbett the only protest that was forthcoming from the ex-champion. Corbett imagined that Fitzsimmons might have an interest in the kinetoscope privilege, but this Stuart strenuously denied, and the Texan finally said that this clause would be stricken out altogether if Corbett so desired. This satisfied Corbett and he made no further objection.

Corbett said that he would like to have an additional clause inserted calling for a $10,000 side bet in order that he might put himself right before the public on Fitzsimmons' statement, but that he was ready to fight the Australian for a dime or for nothing.

Although no place was mentioned for the holding of the fight it is not unlikely that the rendezvous will be in Mexico. Corbett and Stuart signed the articles, with Parson Davies as witness.

The business was to have been accomplished at the Police Gazette office, but when the party arrived there a couple of Central office detectives were on the watch and it was decided to go to Jersey, as all hands would have rendered themselves liable to arrest by signing articles for a prize fight in this State.

Stuart stated to the reporter of the United Associated Presses that he would wait until Fitzsimmons arrived in this city to get his signature to the articles. The Australian is due here in about ten days. The Texan further said that if Fitzsimmons objected to Fox or Smith as stakeholder he would let Bob name any three men he desired, and from these Stuart would try to select a stakeholder.

Undoubtedly Siler will be satisfactory to Fits as referee. As matters now stand the question of supremacy as between Corbett and Fits is in a fair way of settlement.

SHARKEY GETS THE $10,000.

San Francisco, Dec. 17.—The Fitzsimmons-Sharkey case was argued to-day. Gen. Barnes, counsel for the sailor, moved to dismiss the injunction on the ground that there was no distinction between a glove contest and a prize fight. Attorney Friedrich, for Fitzsimmons, asked the court not to consider outside matters, but to decide according to the allegations.

At the conclusion of the arguments Judge Sanderson said this was the first time the matter had been presented, the former proceedings being merely the taking of depositions, no distinction being made between a glove contest and a prize fight. The Judge therefore dismissed the injunction and threw the case out of court. This is a victory for Sharkey, and he will get the $10,000.

In rendering his decision, Judge Sanderson held that boxing and fighting were synonymous words. If the men were boxing they were fighting.

Sharkey was not there. The $10,000 cheque is still in the possession of the bank, where it will remain until all doubt as to who owns it has been removed. Manager Lilienthal said he would not pay the money over until advised to do so by his attorneys. Unless some other impediment should present itself the money will be paid to Sharkey to-morrow.

LEND YOUR EARS

To Your Back and Listen to its Talk—A Peterborough Man Tries It.

Did you know the back could talk;
Tell you why it aches and pains;
Tell you why it's lame and weak;
Warn you of the kidney's ills:
Tell you of Doan's Kidney Pills?
Listen to them when they speak.
Relieve the kidneys, cure the ache.
Bad back, acute pains and kidney ills,
Are quickly cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is proof of it at home. The testimony of Mr. George N. Graham, the genial host of the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, is as follows:—

He says:—"I have been a great sufferer for some time with pain across the back, extending up between the shoulders, swelling of the limbs, dizziness, loss of appetite, and in fact felt completely broken up.

"I had lost 17 pounds in three months, and thought that I would never get better. I have taken many kinds of patent medicines, and have also been treated by medical men, but did not seem to get any better at all, in fact was constantly growing worse.

"I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertisement and got a box of them at Lynch's drugstore, and by the time I had taken one box noticed a marked change for the better.

"I have taken seven boxes altogether, and am now free from pain; the swelling in the limbs has disappeared, and my appetite is good. In fact, I feel that I am completely cured.

"I can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to those suffering from any form of kidney trouble. They are the best kidney medicine I have ever used.

There's a Christmas intimation
That is never known to fail.

It is not the blizzard blowing
From Dakota east to Maine
Or the fierce or fitful snowing
Or the slush producing rain.

It is not the turkeys hanging
In the market and the store
Or the cheery, tuneful clanging
Of the Christmas bells galore.

None of these will tell the story
Of the daily dying year,
None of these that Christmas hoary
And the holidays are here.

But his peace of mind is ended,
And he knows just where he's at,
When the hosiery's distended
And the pocketbook is flat!

People shudder when they think of the possibility of sudden death by violence or accident. There is a sentimental horror attached to such a death that makes people prefer the grim monster in almost any other guise. Yet all the lives that are lost each year by violence and accident are but an insignificant fraction to the untold thousands that are slain by the grim destroyer, consumption. It is the most insidious and the deadliest of all known diseases. It knows neither rank nor wealth. It attacks people in all the walks of life. It makes no distinctions. It has for centuries been considered incurable. It is not.

An almost unfailing cure for consumption is found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It acts directly upon the lungs and also corrects the aggravating cause of the disease. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver and makes the assimilation of the food perfect, thus nourishing and strengthening the system for its battle with its relentless foe. It fills the arteries with the rich, pure blood of health. It builds new, healthy tissue in the lungs and drives out all impurities and disease germs. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. Thousands have testified to their cures. All druggists sell it.

"I was taken sick in February, 1887, with typhoid pneumonia," writes Mrs. Henrietta Hart, of Voorheesville, Albany Co., N. Y. "I then had a miscarriage. I did not leave my bed to sit in a chair till the first of June. I had medical care all that time. I was so weak I could not turn in bed alone. The doctor said he could do no more for me. I was coughing and raising and was almost dead with consumption. I gave up to die. I took seven bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription' together (not seven of each), and I was then able to do my own housework for my family of four. In less than three years from the time I began your medicine, I gave birth to a healthy baby girl that weighed eight pounds. I have had two children since, and am enjoying good health now."

Pretty eyes, bright, snappy and full of fire and life. Constipation makes the blood impure, and the eyes get dull and heavy, glazed and listless. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation speedily and permanently. They never gripe. They are tiny, anti-bilious, sugar-coated granules. One is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them.

IS MACEO STILL ALIVE?

Cubans State That He is in the Province of Matanzas Other Reports Contradict This.

New York, Dec. 17.—A despatch from Key West, Fla., says: Passengers arriving here from Havana report that Antonio Maceo is alive and well and is in the Province of Matanzas. These passengers say that all of the festivities that were going on in Havana to celebrate his death have been ordered stopped, since it has become known that he is alive.

The Body Still Undiscovered.

Havana, Dec. 17.—Maceo's body is still undiscovered and no further proofs of his death have been adduced, which leads the Cubans to think he is still alive. The residents of Punta Brava, the vicinity in which the engagement occurred, disbelieve the verdict of his death. Zertucha continues to give contradictory evidence. He now says the knife captured belonged to Gomez's son, and not to Maceo. The Cubans consider it significant that the objects captured are not shown and also the alleged written statements of Gomez's son.

This Says Maceo is Dead.

New York, Dec. 17.—The World's correspondent at Havana says: To-day's steamer brings tidings that the story that the killing of General Maceo was due to deliberate treachery on the part of the Spanish officials, although manifestly issued from Cuban sources, was taken seriously in the United States.

I have personally investigated the matter, with exceptional opportunities for hearing both sides. The facts are: General Weyler, then in the depths of Pinar Del Rio Province, was as much surprised at the escape of Maceo into Havana Province as anyone else was. The Marquis De Ahumada, commanding in Havana, could have no dealing with Maceo without authority.

The young son of Maximo Gomez was wounded in the vanguard at the trocha.

The body of Guerillas under Major Cirujeda, whose shots killed the Cuban chieftain, had no conception of the magnitude of their work until the body was searched and articles belonging to him were found. Even then they were not sure of Maceo's identity, and the body was recovered by the insurgents after a hot fight. If Major Cirujeda had known positively how great a chief had fallen he would have sacrificed everything short of his own life to keep the trophy.

Altogether the slaying of Maceo was the result of the fortunes of war. He lived by the sword, and, as is apt to be the case, he died by it.

Still Full of Fight.

Washington, Dec. 17.—A letter was received here yesterday by the Cuban Junta from Francisco Carillo, prominent in the Cuban revolutionary party, declaring that the general condition of the revolution could not be more satisfactory.

"We can say," he writes, "that the country belongs to us." In the greater part of the Island it is ours absolutely, and particularly in the east, Camaguey, Remedios, Sanita, Spiritus, Trinidad and Pinar Del Rio. In these zones the Spaniards live completely shut up, almost besieged in the seaports and towns of importance, and in the rest of the island they do not command any more territory than the one they tread upon when they are operating."

Carillo further explains that the supreme power of the revolution is vested in a Government Council consisting of a president and four secretaries; foreign affairs, war, treasury and interior, and the details of their respective workings are elaborate.

A MILLINERY LESSON.

The Tenth of the Practical Series by an Expert.

The frame of this baby's shirred bonnet is a cap of crinoline muslin pleated to fit the shape of the head. The measures for the size must be taken from a point below the ear on one side to the same point on the other side, carrying the measure over the top of the head, and from the forehead to the back of the neck, the exact points of measurement being decided according to how much of the head you wish the bonnet to cover. The flat wire tape, called, "ribbon wire," is used to stiffen the edge all around; it is well to have enough to turn back over the wire, and in that way make it a neater edge. The next thing to do is to bind the edge all round with a two-inch strip of bias material.

The shirrings on this bonnet are made in single material (those given in Lesson No. 8 were with the double thicknesses), except that the edge of the brim is double as far as the first wire; this is done by turning in the edge and making the runners for the first wire in the same manner as in Lesson No. 8 through the double material. The wires are run into tiny tucks, which are made for the purpose, and you must not neglect to put one in the oval at the back. There are eight wires in all going around the upper part, besides three in the curtain, and the bonnet is made in five pieces. You first baste a flat oblong piece over the back of the frame, next put on the puffed crown, then the brim, and after that the centrepiece, which is perfectly finished with the wire at the edges, and so finishes the edges of the crown and brim. All wires when drawn to the proper length should be bent to an L, as described in Lesson No. 4, for feather stems, and sewn firmly to the shape. Then draw up all shirring-threads, and tie or otherwise fasten off. The curtain is the last thing to put on. This is sewn to the edge of the shape, and all wires and threads finished as before. Both the brim and the curtain are much wider in the middle than at the ends; the shaping is done before you begin to put in the shirring-threads.

This bonnet is illustrated without its trimming, to show how it is made to better advantage. The trimming is very simple—merely a bow on top as large or small as the simplicity or richness of the material requires; and ties, which are usually sewn on at the corners, though sometimes the ribbon is all in one piece and carried over the head from edge to edge, which makes a half yard more necessary.

These bonnets can be made from material cut on the straight, but anything shirred always looks better when cut bias. If possible the head lining should be of the same material as the outside. It looks richer and very pretty.

A good addition to a brim of the kind made of single material is to take about a yard of lace four inches deep, and after completing the outside of the bonnet, face the brim with the lace, slightly full, and tie it to the first wire every inch or two, gathering in the edge to suit the width of the brim.—Harper's Bazar.

Women are not the only ones who are sensitive about their ages. A man doesn't like to be told that he is getting old. Health keeps a man young. It doesn't make any difference if he has lived eighty years. If they have been healthy years, he will be hale and hearty and won't look within twenty years as old as he is. Good digestion and rich, red blood make people look youthful. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood. It makes health in the right way. It works according to the right theory, and in 30 years of practice, it has proved that the theory is absolutely correct. It begins at the beginning—begins by putting the stomach, liver and bowels into perfect order, but it begins its good work on the blood before it finishes with the digestive system. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be and forces them out of the body. All druggists keep the "Discovery."

A Royal Rider.

Queen Henriette of Belgium, by birth an Austrian Archduchess, continues, in spite of her snow-white hair and trunk as a grandmother, to occupy her time with circus-riding. A year ago she gave in the riding-school of the Royal Palace at Brussels a semi-public performance, in which she and her daughter Clementine put their horses through all kinds of fancy paces and trick-riding with the skill of professionals. They leaped their horses through burning hoops and over flaming hedges, and her majesty jumped a pair horse over a dinner table covered with flowers and lighted candelabras. Then she drove a team of four-in-hand herself mounted on her favorite mare.

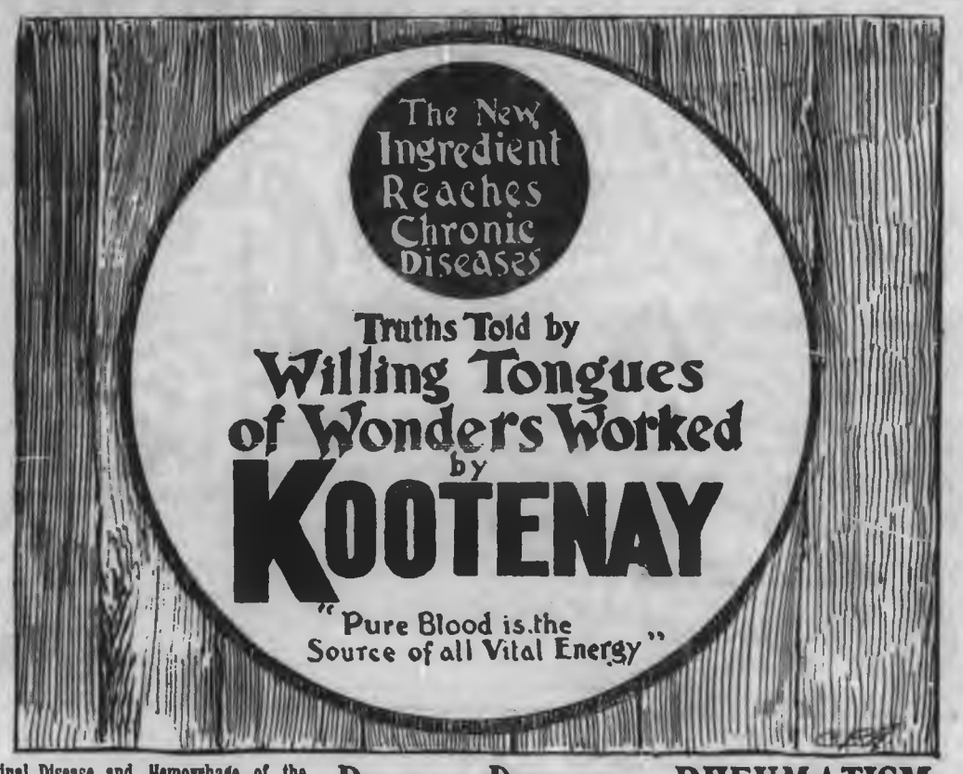
A FARMER IN TROUBLE.

A Grenville County Man Speaks his Mind—Feels Like a New Man—Cured by Four Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Cardinal, Dec. 7 (Special)—Mr. Robert Malcolm, a farmer widely known in this county, and living near this village, has been in a painful and dangerous condition as the result of kidney disease affecting the bladder. When called upon he said: "During three years, until quite recently cured by using four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, I have been an intense sufferer from kidney disease which kept going from bad to worse though I was doctoring all the time."

Under advice I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills, at once realising great help. I now feel like a new man and am perfectly cured of kidney trouble in any form.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Cramps, Cholera, Cholera Infantum, Cholera Morbus and all summer complaints and fluxes of the bowels in children or adults.



Spinal Disease and Hemorrhage of the Kidneys Cured.

Carried from His Chair to His Bed for Eighteen Months.

Mr. F. A. Gendron, lumber measurer, well known in this city and at Hull, and who has suffered for the last two years from a painful malady reputed to be incurable, has recovered in a marvellous manner during the past month. Many celebrated doctors had treated the patient, and one after another had abandoned the case in despair. Mr. Gendron suffered from a terrible malady of the kidneys which had brought on locomotor ataxia—really a softening of the spinal marrow. Lying helpless upon a bed of sickness, his case seemed to be really incurable. Indeed, those who looked upon him in that state believed him to be at the end of his life, and it was with difficulty that they could believe their eyes yesterday when they saw him walking around to our office. To what is to be attributed this cure? Mr. Gendron states it himself in the following affidavit, deposed and sworn before a notary.—Le Canada, Ottawa, September 20, 1895.

OTTAWA, September 20, 1895.

I declare solemnly that, after having suffered more than two years from complicated malady of the kidneys, which reduced me to the most complete helplessness, I was cured perfectly by using Dr. Ryckman's new remedy called "Kootenay Cure." I recommend this medicine to the attention of all, especially of those who are suffering from diseases of the kidneys.

F. A. GENDRON.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

MONTREAL, August 12, 1896.

My wife, Mrs. Thomas Bird, suffered for a long time with kidney trouble, which finally became so aggravated and painful that she was compelled to enter the hospital. Her case was pronounced by the physicians who examined her to be Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, and after a long course of treatment she was discharged from the hospital as incurable and informed that she had only a few years to live. While making arrangements for sending her to England I was persuaded to give her your medicine, Kootenay Cure. After taking the medicine for a time, she began to improve and has since continued to do so. At the present writing both she and I are satisfied that she is cured, and that Kootenay has been the means of saving her life. She now has a good appetite, sleeps well, has a good color and her kidneys are working with regularity. No one who knew her terrible condition last winter could realize to-day that she is the same person, such a remarkable change has taken place. Wishing you continued success with your wonderful medicine, I remain,

Yours gratefully,

THOMAS H. BIRD,

Porter, Queen's Hotel.

RHEUMATISM.

OTTAWA, August 7th, 1895.

I cannot find words to express my gratitude for the services Kootenay Cure has done me. I had been treated by the best physicians in Ottawa for Rheumatism, but they told me that my case was so complicated, my trouble having originated from La Grippe, that any relief they could give would only be temporary. Just at this time I heard of Kootenay Cure. I had very little hope of relief at first, the Rheumatism having settled in my muscles and almost destroyed my nerves. However, I determined to try once more and began to take the medicine, and in my case, physically speaking, old things have passed away and all things have become new. I can go anywhere, unaided. My nerves are as strong as ever they were in my life and no change in the atmosphere has any effect on me now. I cannot thank you enough, but write this so that some other sufferer may read it and seek relief. You can refer any person to me at my residence, 199 Albert street, Ottawa, and I shall be only too happy to give them any information in my power.

Yours gratefully,

Macbeth.

The poet is essentially the product of the age in which he lives. An old saying has come down to us from the Latin, which, like many old sayings, is only partly true, "Poeta nascitur non fit." The first part of this proverb is no doubt true; unless the man is born with the poetic faculty or instinct, the "divine afflatus," no amount of education or culture, observation or experience, will avail to make him a poet; but, on the other hand, it is equally true that the poet is made as well as born, and that no matter how great his genius, his development as a poet depends very largely on his surrounding circumstances, his training and experience. In the case of every great poet—the poet whose works form an epoch in history—the thoughts, feelings and aspirations of the time are, as it were, concentrated in him. Homer, for example, expresses not his own thoughts merely but those that animated the Greeks of his age, and no subsequent Homer is possible, because there can be no reproduction of the age in which he lived and the circumstances from which he derived his inspiration. So with Shakspere. He is preeminently the representative of his own peculiar age, and there has not been since, nor can there be, any other Shakspere, because there never has been, and never can be, a reproduction of the conditions under which he lived, and of which he is the highest product.

AT THE TIME

of Shakspere's appearance on the scene, the sphere of human interest was widened, as it had never been widened before nor since, by the revelation of a new heaven and a new earth? It was the age of Galileo and Kepler (the revealers of the new heaven), of Drake, Hawkins and Frobisher (the revealers of the new earth); the age when the nations were awaking from the long sleep of the middle ages, and when the spirit of freedom and inquiry and enterprise was in the very air. As Matthew Arnold says: "In our greatest literary epoch English society at large was accessible to ideas, was permeated by them, was vivified by them, to a degree which has never been reached in England since; hence the unique greatness in English literature of Shakspere and his contemporaries; they were powerfully upheld by the intellectual life of the nation." It was the age of the Spanish Armada, of the Duke of Alva, of Mary Queen of Scots, of Sir Philip Sydney, of Sir Francis Bacon, of Sir Walter Raleigh, of the Cecils and Walsingham, the age of great events, of men of great minds and of large ideas.

It was peculiarly the age of the drama; the temper of the nation was dramatic; the drama occupied the place of the modern newspaper, the lecture and the public library. From the Queen down, the people demanded this form of amusement and instruction. Everywhere throughout England bodies of wandering players are to be found, in inn yards, in in rough enclosures, at country fairs. Several examples are to be found in Shakspere: The players in "Hamlet;" the rustic artists in "Midsummer Night's Dream," the nine worthies in "Love's Labour Lost." As Green says, in reference to this period: "Few events in literature are so startling as this sudden rise of the Elizabethan drama. The first public theatre was erected in 1576, and before 1600 no less than eighteen theatres existed in London alone; and we will remember that the London of Shakspere's day was a town not larger than the Toronto of to-day. Fifty dramatic poets, many of them of a high order, appeared in as many years and we still possess over one hundred dramas written during this period, of which at least one half are excellent.

The year 1600 appears to mark a crisis in the poet's history; the outer world seems suddenly to have darkened round him. Southampton, his earliest benefactor, to whom he had dedicated his first poems, was imprisoned in the tower; his friend and patron Essex had been executed for treason; Lord Pembroke, his later patron, was banished from the court; other friends, in whom he had trusted, had deceived him. Disappointment and failure seemed everywhere and are reflected in the dramas of these periods, Julius Cæsar, Hamlet, Othello, Lear and Macbeth. In each of these an evil genius throws a withering spell over the characters represented. Hallam says: "There was a period in his life when his heart was ill at ease and ill content with the world and his own conscience." May there not be some allusion to this in the song in As You Like It, composed about that period:

"Blow, blow, thou winter wind,
Thou art not so unkind
As man's ingratitude."

THE MATERIALS

for this play, as for all his historical plays, dealing with England or Scotland, were derived from Holinshed's Chronicles, and he follows the narrative closely except that the details of the murder of Duncan are transferred from the account of the murder of King Duffe by MacDonwald. Lady Macbeth's sleep walking and the appearance of Banquo's ghost, are the only additions of moment. There may have been an older play in existence, which Shakspere made use of, as he very often did, in the production of his works. His play does not appear to have been published till 1623. Shakspere, indeed, left his dramas to look after themselves with a carelessness that is somewhat surprising. He does not seem to have realised their supreme value, and took no pains to secure their transmission to posterity. He seems, indeed, to have left the greatest of them, Macbeth, Cymbeline, Othello, The Tempest and others lying round in the green room of his theatre, with the common stock of old stage plays. They were not published for some years after his death, and are not mentioned in his will.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Two Instances of Many Where They Effected Cures.

MEN AND WOMEN MADE WELL

Gratitude Compels Them to Testify to the Curative Value of Dodd's Kidney Pills—The Greatest Discovery of the 19th Century.

Smith's Falls, Ont., Dec. 18.—This village can produce evidence that is indisputable that the diseases most feared by men and women are curable. Two well known citizens gratefully testify to the efficacy of Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have been cured.

No kidney disease is so far advanced or so severe that these Pills will not effect a cure. Bright's disease disappears, diabetes is conquered, gout subsides, calculi are dissolved, weak backs are made strong, rheumatism vanishes, through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Thousands of Canadians who have suffered from some form or other of kidney complaint, to-day enjoy perfect health—thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the cure. They cure backache, weak back, bearing-down sensations of women, rheumatic pains wherever located. They cure Bright's disease. They cure diabetes. They cure them for all time. They have cured others. They will cure you.

Don't take our word for it, if you don't wish to. Inquire of those who have been cured. Let those who have tried Dodd's Kidney Pills speak in their behalf.

For example, read this statement from a well-known citizen of a town in Eastern Ontario:

ALMONTE, Ont., Dec. 2—Harry Grace, of this town, has been troubled with Lumbago for over a year. Doctors could give him no relief. He is now cured. He says: "I heard of the wonderful cures effected by Dodd's Kidney Pills. I thought I would try them. I have tried one box, and I must say they have cured me. I have no objection to allowing you to publish this, as you see fit, so it may help others.

HARRY GRACE, Ottawa street."

Christmas Goose.

In England goose is more often the Christmas bird than turkey. To those who think of substituting a goose for a turkey the caution is given that the former, though it may present an ample and tempting appearance as it is brought to the table, crisp and aromatic, will serve by no means generously, as only the breast is available. Under the modern treatment of removing the tough leg tendons, thus gaining all the drumstick meat, there is no edible bird to compare in economy with the turkey.

It is often a mystery how a cold has been "caught." The fact is, however, that when the blood is poor and the system depressed, one becomes peculiarly liable to diseases. When the appetite or the strength fails, Ayer's Sarsaparilla should be taken without delay.

THE MAYORALTY

PETERBOROUGH, 16th Dec., 1896.

Messrs. Thomas Bradv, Thomas Irwin, J. W. Miller, James Burnet, William Might, W. S. Cocks, James Montgomery, Adam Kernegan, William Saxby, William Curtis, William Hatrley, William Cooper, John Kempt, E. B. Clegg, H. B. Meharry, J. J. Turner, Henry Green, E. F. Mason, Thos. A. Redner, Arthur Smith, M. Boyce, William A. Henry and over 150 other municipal electors:

DEAR SIRS,—I beg to acknowledge the honour done to me by your presentation of so large and representative a request asking that I permit myself to be put in nomination as a candidate for the Mayoralty for 1897. I accept the responsibility implied and I assure you and the ratepayers of the town generally that if elected, I shall on all occasions exert myself to the utmost to advance in every respect the best interests of the town.

It will be impossible for me to make any general canvass of the town and I have suggested to Mr. Yelland, who I believe is to be a candidate, that neither of us solicit votes personally of the electors, but instead call a public meeting to discuss the various municipal matters in which the ratepayers are interested, and leave it to them to decide whom they prefer. He has declined to do this and, therefore, as the time is limited and my business cannot be wholly neglected, I must ask these electors, who have requested me to be a candidate and the many others who have personally urged me to the same course, that they do their share in assisting in my election,

I am, Dear Sirs,

Yours very obedient servant,

AS TO SPAIN AND CUBA

No Foreign Government Will be Allowed to Meddle.

WHAT PREMIER CANOVAS STATES

Reforms Will be Granted to Cuba, But No Autonomy—Independent Cuba Would Mean Internal War and Fifty Years of Anarchy—Mr. Olney's Statements.

James Creelman, The New York Journal's special correspondent, now in Madrid, who, by the way, is a Canadian, thus describes his interview with the Spanish Premier, Canovas del Castillo :

Prime Minister Canovas del Castillo of Spain gave me a formal audience today at the request of the American Minister, and in the presence of his secretary, Viscount Irueste, made a solemn declaration of the policy of his Government toward Cuba.

It is a complete and emphatic answer to the threats of American intervention. The importance of this statement to the American people by the actual head of the Spanish Government can hardly be exaggerated.

Canovas is not only the Prime Minister, but is the supreme political and moral leader of his people. He is the lion of Spain. His voice is now the voice of the nation. It was he who seated the present Spanish dynasty on the throne, and his hand wrote the present constitution.

He looked like an old lion to-day, as he sat in his splendid office under Velasquez's immortal portraits of Philip V. and Louis XIV. as boys, his dark eyes flashing under his massive forehead and shaggy brows of white hair.

No one could have looked upon that strong, venerable face and have heard that hard, steel voice to-day without knowing that Spain is ready to meet her fate, whatever it may be.

I told Minister Canovas in plain language what the situation was in America, and assured him that the American people would never consent to the destruction of the Cuban cause or the unconditional victory of the Spanish arms. At the close of the audience I submitted Canovas' words to him in writing, and he approved them.

PREMIER CANOVAS IS NOT ALARMED

Spain Will Grant Reforms, but Not Autonomy, to Cuba.

Madrid, Dec. 19.—The formal answer of Prime Minister Canovas Del Castillo to the threats of American intervention in Cuba was given to the correspondent of an American paper as follows:

Although the official and complete text of President Cleveland's message to Congress has not reached me, the impression of the Government of Spain is that the general tone of the President's language is favorable and friendly to Spain. I desire to say in the strongest possible manner that Spain is ready to grant local self-government to the island of Cuba as soon as the Spanish arms have triumphed over the insurgents sufficiently to make it clear to the world that the monarchy is granting these reforms of its own free will and is not yielding either to domestic or foreign threats.

This Government is ready to grant even more liberal measures of home rule for Cuba than were contemplated in the scheme formulated by the Cortes, to which the word of the Queen regent and the honor of the Government are plighted, but Spain will not under any circumstances grant to Cuba autonomy after the fashion of Canada.

All essential prerogatives of sovereignty and powers of government in that colony will continue to be exercised here in Spain. This Government will not yield an inch to force or to threats of force. No concession of any kind will be made until the insurrection in Cuba has been brought under control, and until Spain can give what she refuses to allow any one to take, either by armed insurrection or by treasonable intrigues with other nations.

I cannot undertake to discuss the domestic policy of the United States, but I firmly believe that a majority of the Americans who are assisting this deplorable agitation are opposed to the independence of Cuba and are at heart in favor of annexation. The commercial relations between the island and the American mainland are of great importance, but Cuba as a Spanish colony is a much better and more acceptable neighbor than she could be were the impossible program of independence achieved.

Independent Cuba would be a republic dominated by negroes, not such negroes as are found in the United States, but African negroes, African in every sense. Independent Cuba would mean civil war between whites and blacks; it would mean 50 years of anarchy; it would mean destruction of the island and its commerce.

Such a republic would be a menace to the peace of the United States. It would be worse than Hayti. The United States have everything to lose and nothing to gain by the independence of Cuba.

Spain cannot undertake to be guided in her domestic affairs by any other Government, nor can she allow any foreign agitation to influence her in dealing with her rebellious colony. This Government seeks peace, but will not shrink from war in any matter touching her honor. If the United States forces war upon Spain we are ready to defend ourselves, but we are determined that Spain shall be the nation attacked and not herself the aggressor.

President Cleveland has officially tendered the good offices of his Government to procure peace upon the basis of Cuban autonomy. Spain has made the only reply that could be made to such an offer under existing circumstances. I repeat that a generous measure of local self-government will be established in Cuba when the military situation in that island is such that the Spanish Government can freely exercise its own discretion without giving any opportunity for the accusation that it acts upon compulsion.

We will not swerve in the slightest degree from that policy, no matter what may come. We believe that the campaign in Cuba is progressing favorably for our arms. The death of Maceo is a substantial victory, for it removes from the insurgent forces the most valiant and aggressive leader of that party which is most bitterly opposed to reconciliation with the mother country upon any terms. The negro insurgents, who are in the majority, have lost their one able man. It is true that Maximo Gomez still remains in command of the rebellion, but he is a white man and a foreigner, and cannot exercise the influence possessed by Maceo.

Spain is strong enough to carry on the campaigns in Cuba and the Philippine Islands until peace is restored, no matter how long the struggle may last. This nation is united; the Queen, the Government and the people have but one mind—they are determined to continue the wars until the insurrections are crushed. The recent war loan was doubly subscribed by our own people, and our soldiers go to the field with the greatest enthusiasm. Spain will defend herself at all hazards. She seeks no foreign war. The question of the comparative strength of nations does not enter into the matter at all.

I repeat that no greater calamity could befall the United States than the independence of Cuba. At the close of the last Cuban war American commerce with the island increased three-fold almost immediately. Spain is willing to see that the United States gains everything possible by legitimate commerce with Cuba. Should the American Government desire to renew the reciprocity treaty, which proved to be of such great advantage to both countries, Spain would consider the negotiations favorably, but every American must see that the honor of Spain compels her to restore order in her own territory.

All the newspapers here express the most intense feeling because of the unwarranted interference of the United States with the rights of Spain. They declare that no Government would dare to base a settlement of the Cuban question on granting autonomy to the island in view of the strong popular opposition to the granting of any reforms while the rebellion is in progress. They therefore contend that the Government will be compelled to maintain its position. They add that the Government is resolved to repress hostile agitation against the United States or its representatives in Spain.

The Imparcial accuses the Government of lack of foresight and declares that Spain is determined to make every sacrifice, however great, to maintain her sovereignty in the West Indies, but she will not tolerate acts calculated to bring her into disrepute.

The Liberted advises the Government to use expedition in recovering at Washington the time lost in Cuba, inasmuch as Spain's future is at stake.

Prime Minister Canovas del Castillo had a long conference to-day with the Duke of Tetuan, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Admiral Boranger, Minister of Marine. The subject of their deliberations has not been divulged officially, but it is rumored they concerned the reforms in Cuba and Puerto Rico. To grant such reforms at present would, probably, result in a reconstruction of the Cabinet.

SECY. OLNEY DECLARES HIMSELF

Congress is a Mere Consultative Body, the Executive Being Absolute.

Washington, Dec. 19.—Secretary Olney, being asked his opinion as to the nature and effect of the proposed resolution recognizing the independence of the republic of Cuba, said to a United Associated Presses reporter today: "I have no objection to stating my own view respecting the independence of the so-called republic of Cuba, which it is reported is to be laid before the Senate on Monday. Indeed, as there are likely to be serious misapprehensions regarding such resolution, both in this country and abroad, and as such apprehensions have injurious results of a grave character, it is perhaps my duty to point out that the resolution, if passed by the Senate, can probably be regarded only as an expression of opinion by the eminent gentlemen who vote for it in the Senate, and if passed by the House of Representatives can only be regarded as another expression of opinion by the eminent gentlemen who vote for it in the House. The power to recognize the so-called republic of Cuba as an independent State rests exclusively with the Executive. A resolution on the subject by the Senate or by the House, by both bodies or by one, whether concurrent or joint, is inoperative as legislation and is important only as advice of great weight voluntarily tendered to the Executive regarding the manner in which he shall exercise his constitutional functions. The operation and effect of the proposed resolution, therefore, even if passed by both Houses and Congress by a two-thirds vote, are perfectly plain. It may raise expectations in some quarters which can never be realized. It may inflame popular passions both in this country and elsewhere, may thus put in peril the lives and property of American citizens who are resident and traveling abroad, and will certainly obstruct and perhaps defeat the best efforts of this Government to afford such citizens due protection. But except in these ways and unless the advice embodied in the resolution shall lead the Executive to revise conclusions already reached and officially declined, the resolution will be without effect and will leave unaltered the attitude of this Government towards the two contending parties in Cuba."

Secretary Olney's statement was received in the House of Representatives without any manifestations of surprise. A few members thought the Secretary's announcement raised a grave constitutional question, and one of the number, Mr. Pearson of North Carolina, commented on "its tone of infallibility," which, in his judgment, was not justified by the first article of the constitution.

Mr. Livingstone of Georgia strongly dissented from the proposition and thought if he maintains it he may make himself liable to impeachment.

Generally speaking, however, the Secretary's position was regarded as clearing the atmosphere and throwing a fresh obstacle in the path of Congress to interpose in the struggle between Spain and her colony. A careful canvass of the House develops the fact that a good many members have no clear conception of the relative powers of the present Congress and were unwilling to discuss hastily that phase of the interview. The House is plainly not in a belligerent mood. What it would do if the Senate resolution came squarely before it can only be conjectured. It is reasonable to assume that it would pass it after a more or less vigorous debate, but it is equally clear that the House at present has little interest in the Cuban question, and that sentiment respecting the insurgents has radically changed since the last session. There is more than a reasonable doubt whether the Foreign Affairs Committee would report the resolution favorably. To-day, as yesterday, members of the committee were reticent in their speculation as to what they would do, but there is a strong probability that a majority would set their faces strongly against any action which might embarrass President Cleveland or prove a handicap to the incoming administration.

Mr. Turner of Georgia, who strongly opposed the resolutions of sympathy that passed last session, and who is one of the most influential Democrats in the House, commends Secretary Olney and maintains the belief that the country requires a rest from agitation.

Mr. Dingley of Maine, who is the recognized leader of the Republicans, expressed the belief that ordinarily interference by Congress in foreign affairs only produced mischief.

SHOT HIMSELF DEAD.

George Jones, an Owen Sound Butcher, Takes His Life With a Revolver.

Owen Sound, Dec. 20.—(Special.)—Yesterday afternoon Mr. George Jones, a butcher of this town, committed suicide at his room in the Grand Central Hotel by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. He had been drinking a good deal during the day and was last noticed about 4 o'clock going to his room, where, about 10 o'clock in the evening, he was discovered by some of the hotel attendants lying across the bed with a large bullet wound in his right temple. The revolver, a British bulldog of large calibre, was lying beside him. It is not known at what hour the rash deed was done, as the noise of the discharge of the weapon, strange to say, was not heard by anyone in the hotel, the sound no doubt being considerably deadened by the weapon having been placed close to his head when fired, which was quite apparently the fact, from the burnt appearance of the hair all around the wound.

Shortly after the discovery of the body Dr. Cameron was notified, and, after a preliminary examination into the circumstances, decided that an inquest would not be necessary. The deceased was about 35 years of age and was unmarried. He was well-known around here, having the reputation of being a respectable, quiet and inoffensive citizen, and altogether a very unlikely person to entertain designs against his own life. He was not by any means an habitual drinker, only indulging occasionally and at very long intervals. No other cause, however, than this can be suggested for the act.

THAWED CARTRIDGES.

The Result is a Wrecked House, Two Dying Men and Injured Lady.

Dunnville, Ont., Dec. 20.—Three brothers named Hiles were engaged in taking out stumps on the farm of Mr. Joseph Glaves of Wainfleet. Some one told them if they used nitro-glycerine it would make the work lighter, and straightway they procured some cartridges at St. Catharines. They said the stuff was frozen, and took six cartridges into Mr. Glaves' house, and put them on the cookstove to thaw. Mrs. Glaves was engaged in the kitchen, and the three brothers sat by the stove. One of them shortly afterwards remarked, "The grease is coming out," and proceeded to shove them off the stove, when the nitro-glycerine exploded. The house was completely wrecked. Mrs. Glaves was thrown through a doorway, and is badly cut by pieces of the flying stove. She will recover. Two of the Hiles brothers were fearfully mangled, and will die. The other escaped almost unhurt.

WEST RIDING FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

Echoes of the Lakefield Meeting.

(From Our Own Correspondent.

The following is a more extended report of the proceedings of the several sittings:

Mr. A. Elliott, Galt, gave a short talk on the growing of turnips. They grow large quantities for the American markets, and get 18c. a bushel for them, but they must be of medium size to suit the trade.

Adjourned for dinner, to meet at 1.30 o'clock.

R. E. Birdsall was then called upon and read an excellent paper on "Mixed Farming," one that Mr. A. McNeil would certainly recommend to the Superintendent of Institutes.

George V. Payne read a paper on "What is Necessary on a Dairy Farm?" 1st, the man; 2nd, the farm; 3rd, good cows; 4th, silo and ensilage. Cows must have a good percentage of butter fat—not less than 3 5.

Mr. McNeil gave his address on "Some Insect Friends and Foes." The coddling moth is the worst enemy that the apple grower has to deal with but at the weak point of their existence they are easily killed—that is when the little worm emerges from the shell and feeds on the outside of the young apple. Remedy—3 oz. of Paris green to 40 gallons of water. Some of the best friends are lady bugs; the bugs feed on the larvæ of plant lice. The oriole is also a good friend and feeds on bark lice. The bumble bee is the farmer's best friend, particularly in growing clover seed.

Mr. Thos. A. Duff was then called upon. His address was on the housing, feeding and care of poultry. The hen house should be clean and roomy with plenty of air. The size should be as follows: 5 feet at the back, 10 feet at the front, 12 feet wide and 30 feet long, lined inside and out with tar paper, double windows along the front, the inside windows to be fixed so that they can be raised on sunny days in winter. The temperature should never go below 18 degrees. Ventilator to come down within one foot of the floor.

On feeding.—Feed chop in the morning composed of oats, barley, peas and bran and add a little linseed, ground. Damp the chop, don't make sloppy, but feed as dry as possible. At noon feed vegetables, at 2 o'clock give water, in the evening give all the grain, they can eat up clean. Buckwheat is good. Keep house clean once a day, never longer than once a week. If you want to have good eggs never allow hens to mate.

At the close of the evening session a vote of thanks was tendered to the deputation and to the ladies and gentlemen who had taken part in the entertainment and also to the chairman, who filled the position with honour and credit to himself.

The hall was crowded and everything passed off pleasantly, to the delight of all present.

The following is a condensed report of an address given by Mr. Elliott at the Victoria Institute meeting in Lindsay:

"ECONOMY."

Mr. Elliott gave an extremely interesting talk on the above subject. The growth of Farmers' Institutes had been altogether phenomenal, showing that farmers are growing anxious to become conversant with the best methods. Ontario has the best system of institutes in America with the exception of Ohio, but the average attendance at the meetings is larger in Ontario.

Mr. Elliott then turned to dairying, which should be the central industry about which other lines of farm work should cluster. Farmers in poor townships where cheese factories had been established, had in a few years forged ahead of others in richer localities. He believed in establishing creameries in connection with the factories—the extra outlay would not be great. It is a mistake to have cows giving milk for only six months of the year; his cows gave milk for ten months. Patrons of factories should beware of the cheap cheesemakers, and farmers should see to it that the utmost cleanliness is observed in the handling of the milk—he had known farmers to empty the can in which skim milk had been stored and place it on the stand to receive the morning's milk. A speaker had said that good butter could be made under unfavourable circumstances; it was no doubt true, but everything was against it—a cabbage, a couple of turnips, or potatoes stored in the room the milk was kept in would cause trouble. Farmers operating on a large scale should use the centrifugal separator. Improper salting should also be guarded against—butter made in warm weather is likely to become mottled if not mixed and salted properly. There is always a profitable market open to the good buttermaker, and there is ample room for all intelligence that can be brought to bear on the work. In conclusion Mr. Elliott advised farmers to allow the young people more liberty in their homes—let them gather their friends occasionally in the parlour, even if the carpet becomes soiled or worn as a result.

Mr. Elliott said he wrapped his butter in oiled paper stamped with his name—he did not want a dealer to palm off an inferior article as his. If a lot of butter turned out poor he would not stamp it at all. He used the Alexandria separator and Daisy churn and thought them the best. He invariably worked his butter twice—a pound of dry worked butter is equal to one and a quarter pounds of ordinary butter.

Mason & Risch Pianos

Probably the most striking fact in connection with MASON & RISCH PIANOS is their suitability to all conditions. That they satisfy the social and aesthetic sense is evidenced by the fact that our cultured homes, from Rideau Hall down, use them. The fact that of importance in Canada is supplied with them, gives testimony to their musical excellence, and even in the homes of far off British Columbia, deep in the forest and far removed from the tuner's visit or care, they are still to be found standing hard usage like a rock, and cheering the distant home with their musical tone.

...Nearly Every College And Music School...

CAPTAIN SINCLAIR

Is Going Over to Investigate in Forfarshire.

MAY ACCEPT THE NOMINATION.

Canada Invited to Send a Representative to the Swedish Exposition—Increase in Exports, Decrease of Imports—Fat Profits Made by Ocean Liners—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Dec. 20.—(Special.)—Capt. Sinclair, secretary to the Governor-General, is disposed to accede to the request of the Liberals of Forfarshire to contest the riding for a seat in the British House of Commons in succession to Mr. White, who has resigned owing to differences of opinion with his constituents. Capt. Sinclair will leave for Scotland by the Etruria from New York next Saturday. Final decision as to his acceptance of the nomination will depend upon the result of his conference with the local Liberal Committee. For the present he will not resign his position as the Governor-General's secretary, and in any case he will return to Ottawa in February.

Should Capt. Sinclair contest the seat and be elected, involving his permanent departure from Ottawa, the severance of his connection with Canada will be greatly regretted here, as he has made himself very popular in connection with the management of vice-regal functions. Capt. Sinclair is not a novice in parliamentary matters. He sat for Dumbartonshire one term and among the younger men of the Liberal party in England is looked upon as a coming Cabinet Minister. In the next Liberal Government he will, without doubt, receive an under-secretaryship. Thence the step to the inner Cabinet circle, especially for a young man of ability, such as he is, is but a short one.

An invitation has been sent to the Government of Canada to be officially represented at the International Scandinavian Exhibition to be held at Stockholm from May to October next. The matter is under consideration as to whether or not the invitation will be accepted. As Canada receives a good share of Scandinavian immigration, it might not be inadvisable to send a good man, like Mr. Akerlindh, over to Stockholm for a few weeks.

The local Liberal organ throws out the idea that the Dominion observatory will be removed from Toronto to Ottawa. It is pointed out that when Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper was Minister of Marine and Fisheries he ordered the change to be made, but influence was brought to bear against him, so that he had to go back on his own arrangement. But it is said the present Minister is not hampered in the same way and may decide on the change.

The Free Press makes some significant remarks about the profits of steamship companies, based on the announcement that the Allan Line is about to place two new vessels on the St. Lawrence route. It says figures are shown to the Government which represent the savings of the year, but no mention is made of the sum laid aside as a sinking fund. The fact is that our Canadian liners, drawing heavy subsidies, are charging just three times as much for freight as vessels plying between the Old Country and Australia which receive no government assistance. This is clearly shown by figures which came to hand yesterday of freight rates from Sydney to London. The truth of the matter is that on the one million barrels of apples shipped to the Old Country market this fall from Canada, there were charges that netted the companies an enormous profit. Often the apples spoiled, but it was the shipper who was out by this occurrence, not the companies.

George Henry Dartnell, Junior Judge of Ontario County Court, has been appointed in the place of Judge Burnham, deceased.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company will apply next session for an act confirming an agreement with the Hull Electric Company, whereby the latter leased the Aylmer branch of the C. P. R. for thirty-five years at a yearly rental of $5000.

T. Long & Bro. are seeking Dominion incorporation to carry on business as general merchants at Collingwood, with $100,000 capital.

The Ontario and Kootenay Mining Company is a new company seking incorporation from the Dominion Government. The promoters are John Flett, Toronto; W. Bell, G. B. Ryan and others of Guelph.

The exports for November show a gratifying increase, the figures for the month being $15,567,804, an increase of $833,494 over the corresponding month last year. Imports, however, fell off $577,533.

Hon. Mr. and Mrs. Sifton arrived from Winnipeg yesterday afternoon. Mr. Sifton will tackle his departmental duties to-morrow.

The excise revenue for November amounted to $682,896, which, with the revenue from weights and measures, law stamps and other sources, makes a total of $689,015.

The Postoffice Savings Banks deposits for the month of November were $669,102, and withdrawals $590,286.

Hon. John Costigan left for the west to-night.

Hon. Mr. Davies returns to Ottawa on Tuesday.

Premier Laurier and Hon. Dr. Borden are now municipal electors of the city of Ottawa. Their names were placed on the voters' list for Central Ward yesterday at the sitting held by Judge Ross for final revision of the lists.

For the first time in many years the city of Ottawa comes out with a clean balance sheet at the end of the year.

THAT FATAL CROSSING.

Mr. and Mrs. Weese of Bath Badly Hurt, Their Horses Killed and Wagon Wrecked.

Kingston, Dec. 19.—This evening Samuel Weese and wife of Bath were driving home and while crossing the Grand Trunk Railway at the cut near Collin's Bay a west-bound train struck them, wrecking the wagon, killing the horses and so badly injuring Mr. and Mrs. Weese that their lives are despaired of. The crossing is one of three dangerous ones in this section, and time and again relief has been sought, but so far no improvements have been secured.

Singers, public speakers, actors, auctioneers, teachers, preachers, and all who are liable to over-tax and irritate the vocal organs, find, in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, a safe, certain, and speedy relief. A timely dose of this preparation has prevented many a throat trouble.

BIG FIRE AT COLBORNE.

Walt Collapsed and Buried Five Men, But They Were Got Out Alive.

Colborne, Ont., Dec. 20.—About 4 o'clock this morning fire broke out in J. S. Yeomans' block, occupied by J. E. McDonald as a general store, and Yeomans as dwelling above. The fire spread to the Chase Bros.' Co. block adjoining to the west. This building was occupied by Chase Bros. Co. (Jas. McGlennon, manager), nurserymen, and the Express Printing Co. Total loss of buildings and contents. Cause of fire not kown, property all insured.

Yeomans' block was insured in the London and Lancashire for $650 and in the Western for $350; Yeomans' contents in London and Lancashire, $350; J. E. McDonald's stock was insured in the Sun Fire Insurance Co. for $1500; Commercial Union, $1000; Queen, $1000; Manchester, $2000.

Chase Bros.' building, insured in Phoenix of England, $1500; contents, $500, in Western; Express Printing Co., contents, insured in Phoenix of England, $1000.

W. J. Burleigh's dwelling adjoining was damaged some; insured in Wellington Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

About 10 o'clock this morning a number of men were at work taking out a safe from the ruins belonging to Chase Bros., when the east wall fell in, burying five men in the ruins, viz., Thomas Connors, Wm. McCrockin, Thos. Cronk, Harry Paisley and Geo. Fowler. All were taken out alive, but very badly hurt. Doctors were immediately called and dressed the wounds. The parties are doing nicely and will likely recover.

DR. BUCKE HEARD FROM.

The Superintendent of London Asylum Replies to the Statements of McCallum of Buffalo.

London, Ont., Dec. 19.—The story telegraphed from Buffalo, detailing Andrew McCallum's statement of his ill-treatment at the London Asylum for Insane, is looked upon here as simply the wanderings of a diseased mind. Dr. Bucke, the superintendent of the asylum, has most advanced ideas in regard to the treatment of patients. Twenty years ago he inaugurated a system of treatment, the very liberality of which caused a great deal of comment and doubt as to its practical results among the medical fraternity. He held firmly to his ideas, and to-day the methods adopted by Dr. Bucke are being introduced in the asylums for the insane throughout the world, and the London Asylum is looked upon as a model, and patients are put upon their honor and allowed entire liberty about the grounds. None are compelled to work. During the winter months entertainments are provided five nights in the week, which include two dances. One inflexible rule is that a keeper must never strike a patient. Violation of this regulation means instant dismissal to the offender. Dr. Bucke was an intimate friend of the poet, Walt Whitman, whom he greatly resembles in personal appearance. He is a recognized authority on brain diseases, and never loses an opportunity of demonstrating the value of liberal and kind treatment in dealing with the unfortunate insane.

McCallum Escaped.

Buffalo, N.Y., Dec. 19.—A despatch from London, Ont., states that Andrew McCallum, who made a report yesterday of cruel treatment at the hands of asylum attendants in the London Asylum, escaped from that institution early this month. The asylum authorities indignantly deny McCallum's statements respecting the torture of inmates.

DRINK MADDENED HIM.

A Buffalo Carpenter Whose Purpose Was to Exterminate a Family—He Killed Himself.

Buffalo, N.Y., Dec. 20.—Hugo Wagner, a carpenter, 25 years old, went to the home of his sister, Mrs. Reinhold Wolfrom, at No. 51 Berlin-street, at 8 o'clock last night for the purpose if killing her, her two young children, his sister and brother, and himself. He shot his sister in the left arm, his brother-in-law in the left wrist, fired two shots at the children and killed himself. A note found in his pocket disclosed the fact that his intention was to exterminate the entire family. Drink was the primary reason for the tragedy, though a failure on the part of his sister to give him money, he declared, due to him, was the precipitating cause.

"It's a Daisy!"

Mr. Thos. Hooper has a "daisy" confectionery window dressed in honour of the yuletide season. The most attractive feature displayed is a large sugar playhouse, well planned and designed, and skilfully ornamented after the manner of the expert confectioner's art. There are numerous other other special features in the window which reflect credit on Mr. Hooper's handiwork with melted sugar.

Our Patronising Big Brother.

The Globe says: "'Bear haunch' was one of the dishes at the Cox banquet at Peterborough, which proves that while that thriving town is modern enough to be a growing centre of manufacture, it is still near enough to the backwoods to delight the heart of the sportsman." Our contemporary draws inferences very easily. Because California oranges are served at a Toronto banquet, "argal" the Golden Gate is at Toronto's back door. With a bear garden maintained in active condition in the city council, and with, according to the Hamilton papers, the whole city a pigsty, our big brother is in a very favourable condition to patronisingly twit Peterborough with bucolic proximity. If the Globe only knew the history of that "bear haunch" it could form some idea of the sportsman's paradise that, though sixty miles away, thanks to first-class railway and water communication, lies practically at Peterborough's back door.

HOCKEY MATCH.

The Imperial Bank Team, of Toronto, To-morrow Night.

The first hockey match of the season will take place to-morrow evening at the rink between the Peterboroughs and the crack Imperial Bank team from Toronto.

The local men have had little or no practice, but as the Imperials were anxious to come down for a game, a telegram has been sent authorising them to "come on," and a fast game may be expected.

The Imperials have the name of being an exceptionally good team, and it is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance at the rink to witness the first match of the season.

Secretary A. H. Beaton, of the O.H.A., thinks that clubs which have put sevenain the middle and lower divisions will hardly resort to the questionable tricks of withdrawing from the former, so as to strengthen their junior team, but in the event of it being done, he intimates it will not be well for the offending clubs.

Orillia has decided to enter the intermediate series of the O.H.A. A northern group, in which that place, Collingwood, and Barrie will be represented, will be formed. This will not necessitate an alteration of the schedule, as it was expected that they would take this step.

After the programme Minnie Kitney presented the teacher, Mr. J. H. Beer, with a handsome "gentleman's companion" and Willie Huston read the following address:

Mr. J. H. Beer:

DEAR TEACHER.—It is with feelings of deepest regret that we, your pupils, have learned of your intention to dissolve the pleasant relations that exist between us. During the past two years you have won the confidence of us all, and we indeed feel that in parting with you we are parting with a true friend and faithful teacher. As a small remembrance and token of esteem in which you are held by us, we take pleasure in offering you this small gift, which is very slight in comparison to what you have done for us. We are glad to know, however, that while you are leaving your charge here, you are not leaving the work in which you have proved yourself most capable and successful in—and that you are going on to prepare for a much larger field of labour in the future. We sincerely trust that the success which you have had here, may be the small beginning of a bright and useful life and as a school we join in wishing you every success, as well as a very merry Christmas and happy New Year.

Signed on behalf of the school,

WILLIE HUSTON, MINNIE KITNEY,
FRANK SISSON, ELLEN CROWLEY,
BERT LONG. AUDREY SPEARS.

Mr. Beer, who was completely taken unawares, acknowledged the kindness of the children in making him the handsome present. He expressed his sorrow that the regulations of the Education Department compelled him to sever his connection with them as their teacher and said that he would long remember the pleasant relations that he had with the scholars, parents and trustees during his two years' work in the school.

THE LATE HENRY COX.

Inquiries as to Where His Furniture Has Been Stored.

Mrs. T. M. Williamson, sister of the late Henry Cox, writes to the Chief of Police for information concerning her brother, and inquiring as to the whereabouts of his household furniture, which she believes is stored away in Peterborough.

The deceased, it will be remembered, dropped dead in Toronto last week. He was a resident of Peterborough for over thirty years, being a painter by trade. He moved to Toronto about three years ago, and in his occasional visits to his sister, gave her to understand that his furniture was stored away here. She is living at present at 281 Cannon street, Hamilton, and will be glad to receive any information in the matter.

MERRYMAKERS ENTERTAIN

The United Workmen's Concert Highly Successful—Unlimited Fun.

The Kingston News says: Martin's Opera House was crowded to the doors last night to hear the well-known comedians, Harry Rich and W. E. Ramsay, in their most amusing entertainment. The programme was a lengthy one, and consisted largely in singing of topical songs, which were amusingly acted by the two well-called merrymakers. Harry Rich in his representation of an Irishman and Dutchman, introduced many samples of wit common to those nations. He possesses a rich voice and pleasing stage address. W. E. Ramsay also is gifted with an excellent voice and suitably adapted for humorous songs. In their single and double persormances, they introduced scenes from city and domestic life and the peculiar characteristics of various nations. The programme concluded with a screaming farce comedy, in which Harry Rich, as a German, outwitted his Irish partner at every turn. Many jokes on local men were given with good effect. Mrs. W. E. Ramsay contributed piano solos and accompanied the singers.

These excellent entertainers will be in the Opera House on Christmas afternoon and evening under the auspices of Otonabee Lodge, I.O.O.F., when a different programme will be presented on both occasions. Prices: Afternoon, 25 cents, children 10c; evening, 25c and 35c. Plan at Ormond & Walsh's.

Time is Nearly Up.

This is the week of weeks! I're eminently and emphatically the holiday shoppers' week. The week when the most dilatory of buyers must close their negotiations with Santa Claus. The enthusiasm of the crowds at the Peterborough Bookstore is unbounded, and the people all like it. Nothing we have ever done begins to equal what we're doing now. A holiday halo illumines this store as if Christmas electricity had struck the place. Christmas chances broaden—competition ceases—and the happy crowds tell better than anything else the relation of this store to the community. The business is on closest touch with the people. Only a few days more on the calendar. How the time will fly! You have barely time to make out your list and select your presents. Shop early at the Peterborough Bookstore and the time spent will be spent in pleasure. Storm the store! Hundreds have been served already out of our princely stock, but heaps of good things are still left.—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

WEDDING BELLS.

A Fashionable Wedding at Orono Last Week.

The Presbyterian church, Orono, was the scene of a very interesting event on Tuesday evening, Dec. 15th, when Mr. T. H. Benson, manager of the Lakefield branch of the well-known banking firm of James Linton & Co., was united in marriage to Ada, eldest daughter of Mr. James Linton, private banker, Orono.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. A. McKeen, B. A., of the Presbyterian church.

Precisely at 9 o'clock the organist struck up Mendelssohn's Wedding March and the bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her father and preceded by the bridesmaids and little maid of honour. Upon their arrival at the altar the choir sang beautifully the wedding hymn, "The Voice that Breathed o'er Eden."

The bride was charmingly attired in a dainty gown of white sicilian covered with chiffon, with trimmings of satin and pearls. She wore a tiara of orange blossoms and flowing veil, carrying a bouquet of white roses and smilax, the gift of the groom.

The bridesmaids were Miss M. Linton, sister of the bride, and Miss Elva Reed, cousin of the bride, while little Miss Mary McKeen was maid of honour.

The first bridesmaid was attired in white, relieved with green, and carrying a bouquet of cream roses and maiden-hair fern. Second bridesmaid in white, relieved with pink, and carrying a bouquet of cream roses and wearing picture hats. Maid of honour also in white, wearing a wreath of natural flowers in her hair and carrying a basket of flowers.

Mr. Benson was supported by Mr. F. D. Kerr, barrister, of Peterborough.

Hardly had the last words of the ceremony been pronounced when the Wedding March again pealed forth from the organ and the bridal party proceeded to the home of the bride's father, where the reception was held, after which the supper was served in royal style.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson left for Bowmanville depot, where they took the 10.20 express for Lakefield, where they will make their home.

The bride was the recipient of some very handsome presents. Among them a pretty cluster ring of emeralds and pearls, the gift of the groom.

The gifts of the groom to the bridesmaids were, together with their bouquets, a twin-pearl ring and gold bracelet, and to the maid of honour, a pretty pearl ring.

The happy couple start out in wedded life with the best wishes of their many friends.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

As the result of several changes which have taken place at the local C.P.R. station Peterborough is losing two of her most popular and esteemed young citizens, but as both are receiving promotions, the announcement is one which will be received with pleasure by their many friend. Mr. James Baker, who has been day operator here for nearly five years, left last night for Caledonia Springs, where he will be in full charge of a station on the new M. & O. division of the C. P. R. which will be extended to Ottawa. His place is being taken for the present by Mr. James Skinner, who has been the local night operator for the last three years. The latter appointment, however, is only temporary as Mr. Skinner has been promoted to the position of relieving agent, and will leave town shortly to assume the duties connected with his new office.

Mr. Harry Kelly, of the Havelock station, has taken Mr. Skinner's place at the night key and will take the day shift on the latter's removal, when the duties of night operator will be taken by Mr. Munn, of Norwood.

The Lindsay curling club has made all arrangements for its big bonspiel, and sends out the following circular:

LINDSAY, Dec. 7th, 1896.

DEAR SIR,—The Lindsay curling club enters on its twenty-first season this year, and it has decided to invite all the curling clubs of America to come to Lindsay to assist in celebrating the event by holding a bonspiel on a large scale during the week commencing January 18th next. We believe that during our past existence our curlers have so conducted themselves on the ice and off it, as to win the esteem and good wishes of all with whom they have come in contact—nay more, we believe that our club, through its successes at the Montreal bonspiels and at the Winnipeg bonspiels, and as the winners of the Governor-General's cups for three seasons has caused our club to be widely and favourably known throughout curling America.

We trust that many of the clubs of Canada and the United States will come to our bonspiel. The invitation is given freely and heartily—the more that comes the better; all will be welcome, and we know that all who come will be completely satisfied with the arrangements made by the committee who have this matter in charge. We fully expect a very large number; directly we have heard that clubs of Western Ontario, in Winnipeg and across the borders in the State of New York, are planning to come to Lindsay to take part in the bonspiel.

We extend to your club a hearty invitation. Send us at least two rinks, so that your club may be represented in the club competitions, and as many more rinks as possible for the single rink competition.

We confidently expect that this will be the largest bonspiel ever held in Ontario, and we would be particularly pleased to see your club represented.

J. C. HARSTONE,
Hon. Sec. Lindsay Curling Club.

There will be three competitions, viz:

1. A double rink competition.
2. A single rink competition.
3. A consolation competition.

1. In the double rink competition each club can enter only two rinks. There will be two prizes given in this competition: First prize, eight pairs of red hone curling stones; second prize, two pairs of red hone curling stones. This competition will commence on Tuesday morning, Jan. 19th, at 10 o'clock. Entries must be in the secretary's hands not later than Monday noon, Jan. 18th. The drawing will be made Monday evening at 9 o'clock, in the parlour of the Benson House. The drawing for the whole of this competition will be made that evening, the ice assigned, and the time of play stated, so that each rink may know from the commencement how the competition is arranged.

2. In the single rink competition each club can enter as many rinks as it chooses. Prize in this competition is four pairs of red hone curling stones. Entries will be received by the secretary up to noon of the first day of the bonspiel. The drawing will be made at five o'clock that afternoon, and the competition will commence the same evening. This competition is completely independent of the first one, so that the rinks competing need not necessarily be composed of the same men as in the double rink competition. Of course rinks that compete for the double rink competition are free to enter this competition or not, just as they choose.

3. Consolation competition. Prize, four pairs red hone curling stones. This competition is open to all the single rinks which have been defeated in the single rink competition. The rinks that compete in this competition must be composed of exactly the same men as competed in the single rink competition.

GENERAL RULES.

Rinks entered must go through the competition as entered, no substitutes being allowed.

All players must be in good standing in their respective clubs.

In all competitions sixteen ends shall be played.

Where no specific rule is given to apply to the competitions, then the general rules as published in the C. A. Annual will apply.

The committee have secured from the Grand Trunk Railway very liberal terms as to rates. Tickets will be issued from any point on the Grand Trunk on the certificate plan, good going from January 15th to 21st, and returning to January 31st, inclusive. Curlers and their friends who come with them to see the bonspiel should buy a single first-class fare to Lindsay, and get from agent a certificate. This certificate will be signed by the secretary in Lindsay, and it will entitle him to receive from the Grand Trunk agent a return ticket at one-third of one fare. Arrangements will be made with the local agent to have a clerk in the club buildings at stated times to issue tickets.

The C P.R. Co. offers similar rates to the above.

Clubs are requested to notify the secretary on what train they expect to arrive in Lindsay, so that they may be met at the station by the reception committee. Badges will be worn by members of the club generally, and visiting curlers are requested to make themselves known to them at once.

Clubs are also requested to have their stones labelled with the name of ther skip and the name of the town. On arrival in Lindsay the Reception Committee will take charge of all stones. These will be carted to the proper rink for them. Brooms will be provided, and stones carted from rink to rink free of all expense to the visitors,

As soon as the drawing is made it will be printed, so that all players may know at a glance when and where they are to play.

There will be no entrance fee in connection with any of the competitions.

Clubs are requested to send the names of their skips when making entries.

CORNWALL ENDORSES LAURIER.

The bitterly contested political fight in Cornwall resulted on Saturday in the return of Mr. Snetsinger, the Liberal candidate, by the large majority of 567—a remarkable change from the result of the general election in June, when Dr. Bergin, the Conservative candidate, was elected by the large majority of 332 votes. The result of Saturday's polling cannot but be accepted as a most pronounced endorsation of the general policy of the Laurier Government, as well as particular approval of his settlement of the Manitoba School question. Cornwall is an excellent riding in which to make a test in this matter. Of course the popular confidence in the Government has a good deal to do with the result, but it is to be remembered that in this constituency nearly 50 per cent. of the voting element are Roman Catholics, who, if anybody, were to be supposed, according to the Conservative party, to be antagonistic to the settlement. If they were not utterly hostile to the solution of the vexed question supplied by Mr. Laurier, it was not the fault of the newspapers and stumpers. The most frantic and inflammatory appeals were made to the passions and prejudices of the electors of Cornwall and Stormont by prominent as well as obscure Conservatives. Hon. Mr. Foster and Sir A. P. Caron used all their eloquence to convince the electors that the present government was the bitter foe and oppressor of the religious minority of Manitoba. But the day is past when intelligent voters can be manipulated. The secret of Mr. Laurier's triumphant vindication by the electors of Cornwall and Stormont, is that he has dealt with the school question as a statesman and not as a partizan politician, and the official henchman of a party. On the other hand the Conservatives have made the religious question a tool to promote their own ends. In the last general provincial election in this riding, Mr. Leitch, the present defeated candidate, was then a candidate. Then he glorified the Manitoba School Act abolishing Separate Schools, and called upon the electors to "burst the shackles which Archbishop Cleary has rivetted upon you!" At this election Mr. Leitch, the Conservative Candidate, promised to follow his political leader and vote for Separate Schools, and not only vote for them but fight for them to the death. But the people would have none of a party of trimmers. They preferred the consistent statesmanship of Mr. Laurier and expressed their confidence in a most emphatic manner. Mr. Laurier and his government have shown in reference to the election in Cornwall that "honesty is the best policy"—in politics as in private life. He promised, if given the chance, to affect a speedy settlement of the Manitoba school question. He kept his promise and justified the confidence which the country reposed in him; and Stormont and Cornwall has ratified that expression of confidence in no doubtful terms. As Mr. Laurier's position is on the Manitoba school question, so it is on his general policy. He promised us honest government and he is giving it to the country. The people have as firm a trust in Mr. Laurier's government in their general policy as the people of Cornwall have shown they have in them in relation to the school question.

Hamilton has an interest in Senator Cox as a director of the Canada Life Assurance Company and President of the Bank of Commerce, hence it was fitting that Hon. J. M. Gibson should be on hand to represent Hamilton at the banquet. Mr. B. E. Walker, formerly of Hamilton, was also one of the speakers."

EXAMINERS WANTED.

Meetings of the general public will be held this week and next to inspect the stock of meats at Kennedy & Nelson's store, 340 George street. It is the high grade stock we carry and the moderate prices we charge that draw the crowd. We are determined to sell only the best, and to this end we have our stock shipped from the west where nothing but the highest grade of cattle is raised.

We have had our store made more inviting than usual, by decorating the windows with holly and deer heads. Inside the store you will find the most delicious meats,

Our Beef is of the best; our Pork cannot be found fault with; our Canned Goods must go, although being sacrificed; our Mince Meat sells where sold before; our Lard has been found satisfactory; the Butter we handle is No. 1.

We have great advantages in the fowl line, by having bought ahead all the fowl required, which goes into the hundreds.

SPECIAL TO THE LADIES.

We have bought a National Cash Register which sits on a marble counter in a convenient part of the store. On the top of it is a most handsome mirror. It is a most beautifully designed machine. Every sale is registered, and every purchaser gets a receipt for her purchase, and if she keeps them until the required amount is obtained, which will be found on every receipt, will be redeemed at our stores, 340 George street, or 387 Water street.

We are very desirous of having you, one and all, call and see for yourselves what we really do keep.

We take this opportunity of thanking you for your patronage in the past and hope for its continuance.

The chair made vacant by death is always a sad reminder. It is especially sad when it is mother's chair. All over this broad land there are vacant chairs that would still be occupied by healthy, happy, radiant mothers if women would but realize the importance of keeping well in a womanly way. Women cannot too soon understand that it is little less than a crime to neglect the health of the organs to which are intrusted the perpetuation of a healthy, robust race of human beings. By neglect of these organs a woman ruins her own health, destroys the happiness of her home, and fails in the performance of the most sublime duty that she owes to the world.

The best medicine for women who are weak where Nature demands the most strength is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly upon the organs that make motherhood possible. It cures all weakness and disease that exists there and stops all distressing, debilitating drains. It prepares a woman for motherhood and insures a healthy baby. It makes the coming of baby easy and almost painless. Druggists who offer something "just as good" are either ignorant or dishonest and in either case are not to be trusted.

"I had been a great sufferer for years with female weakness," writes Mrs. John Downie, of No. 243 Lexington Avenue, Eddystone, Delaware Co., Pa. "Could not walk three squares without terrible suffering. I also had a pain in my left side for seven years—until I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' My pain has left me altogether. Have had no symptoms of it at all for two years. Can walk two or three miles at a time and it does not hurt me. I cannot recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines highly enough. My daughter also has used your medicines with great benefit. She was operated upon for appendicitis and had fainting spells from it. She took the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Extract of Smart-Weed,' and the 'Pleasant Pellets' and has not had any fainting spells for one year. When she commenced to take it she weighed 95 pounds now she weighs 140 pounds."

Constipation! It is the fountain-head of many diseases. It causes impure blood and all manner of disorders are the result. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Promptly. Surely. Permanently. They never gripe. Druggists sell them.

POISONED HIMSELF.

A Hamilton Man Named Baylis in a Fit of Despondency Swallowed a Dose of Strychnine.

Hamilton, Dec. 18.—(Special.)—Alfred Baylis, about 55 years of age, and the keeper for the past ten years of a small grocery store at the corner of Bay and Cannon-streets, committed suicide shortly before 6 o'clock this evening, despondency being stated as the cause of the rash act. Baylis swallowed a quantity of strychnine in the store while his wife was preparing the evening meal in the residence portion of the building. His sufferings attracted the attention of Mrs. Baylis, who hastily summoned Dr. Gillrie, and every effort was made to save the desperate man's life. Drs. Lackner, Coleman and Metherell were also quickly on the scene, but their efforts were futile, and Baylis passed away a few minutes before half past 6 o'clock. Coroner MacKelcan has issued a warrant for an inquest, to be held at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning. The deceased leaves a widow, one son and two daughters to struggle with the vicissitudes of a cruel world.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

NEWS FROM QUEBEC.

L. O. David's Book Under the Ban of the Church—Business Firms in Trouble.

Quebec, Dec. 17.—Bishop Blais of Rimouski has sent a circular letter to all the priests in his diocese commanding them to forbid their flocks, under pain of being refused the Sacraments, to read the book recently written by Mr. L. O. David, entitled "The Canadian Clergy."

The correspondent of the United Press had an interview with Mr. L. O. David on the subject. The gentleman said the decision of Monseigneur Blais surprised him. He did not see what the Bishop based his actions upon. However, Mr. David has appealed from Mgr. Blais' decision. His appeal is now on its way to the Pope.

The failure of the lumber mills of Gignac & Fils, of this city, and also Felix Gourdeau, tanners and curriers, is reported. It is thought that both these firms will come to some understanding with their creditors.

INJURY AND NEGLECT.

He Failed in Health and Strength—His Kidneys Ached and he Took Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Deseronto, Dec. 14 (Special)—Among business people here, and especially by his fellow workmen, great interest has been taken in the case of Mr. James Stokes, who for the past fifteen years has been shipper for the Rathbun Company.

Lately he had run down in health and strength to the point of being compelled to quit work, and his recovery now as the result of using Dodd's Kidney Pills is the talk of the town. On seeing Mr. Stokes he said:—

"From over-lifting and strain I suffered greatly from kidney trouble, being advised, after all else had failed, to use Dodd's Kidney Pills; from the first dose I got relief, and hundreds of people here can vouch for my cure."

HOW MACEO DIED.

Dr Zertucha, Who Was Charged With Betraying Him, Tells All About It.

Havana, Dec. 19.—Dr. Zertucha, through whose treachery it is claimed Maceo met his death, is in Havana. In an interview to-day he explained his relations with the rebel leader. He said that a great friendship existed between them, and that Maceo had great confidence in him. Only three of Maceo's staff were allowed to dine with him—Dr. Zertucha, Miro and Francisco Gomez, son of the insurgent commander-in-chief. Dr. Zertucha denied the stories that Maceo had received in the Province of Pinar del Rio a commissioner sent by Captain-General Weyler asking him to treat for peace. He also denied that he had any connection with the chief of police La Barrera. His friendship with Col. Tort was old. He denied the charges made against him by the Serranos, adding that he never saw Serrano's camp and that he knew him formerly as a friend of the bandit Garria.

Dr. Zertucha declared that Maceo frequently expressed his admiration of the Spanish soldiers, and praised Generals Bernal, Arcias and Echegue and Colonels Echevarria, Rotger and Francis. He repeated the story already cabled about Maceo crossing around the end of the trocha by sea in front of Mariel, and said the officers who accompanied him were Brigadiers Perico, Diaz and Jose Miro, Colonels Alberto Nodarez and Gordon, the last-named being an American; Majors Alfredo Justis, Piedra Penalyer and Ramona Humada, Captain Sanvanella, Lieut. Francisco Gomez and himself as surgeon, besides three negro orderlies.

Maceo was on horseback, with his machete unsheathed, when he was struck by a bullet by a Mauser rifle. As he fell Dr. Zertucha rushed to his assistance, but he dropped to the ground dead. Another bullet struck him in the stomach before he reached the ground. All the members of the staff who were around Maceo at the time were more or less seriously wounded. Col. Nodarez and Major Justis died later from the effects of their wounds. Lieut. Gomez was also wounded in the arm. His wound was attended to and his arm was placed in a sling. He tried to assist Dr. Zertucha to carry Maceo's body, but was again struck by a bullet and knocked down. He then wrote the note that was afterwards found on his body, and committed suicide by stabbing himself with his own knife, not Maceo's, as some reports have stated.

Dr. Zertucha declared that after the rebels had carried Maceo's body off the field a statement was drawn up, which was signed by all the leaders who had taken part in the engagement, explaining the manner in which he had met his death.

Dr. Zertucha intends to go to Spain and take up his residence in the town of Viscaya.

PALMA REPLIES.

Says Cubans Have Absolute Confidence and Will Eventually be Free.

New York, Dec. 19.—Delagate T. Estrada Palma of the Cuban Junta has read the interview published in The New York Journal this morning with Prime Minister Canovas del Castillo of Spain, and sent in these despatches. This is what Palma says regarding it:

"There will be no compromise. We have absolute confidence in the progress of the war. Freedom for Cuba is already definitely outlined in the minds of the men who are battling for the overthrow of tyranny. They have an established government and 40,000 well-armed men, who recognize and uphold that government. The statement from the Spanish Prime Minister that the revolutionists are negroes is ridiculous in the extreme. He knows absolutely that the prisons in Cuba and in the penal colony are full of Cubans of the highest class of society on the island.

JUST LIKE OTHER MEN.

A Socialist Who Failed to "Divvy Up" When He Made His Will.

New York, Dec. 20.—A special despatch from London says: William Morris has been brutally reproached, since the publication of the text of his will, with inconsistency in preaching Socialism during his lifetime, and then bequeathing his property, like any other rich man, to his wife and daughter, instead of dividing it up among his fellow-men. The poet longed for the social millenium, but he knew that it had not come, and made his will in accordance with the conditions of the times. He had over $205,000 in cash assets, in addition to large interests in a profitable business.

COWARDLY FIEND.

Sneaked Up and Cut the Throat of a Sleeping Man With Whom He Had Quarrelled.

Philadelphia, Dec. 20.—William Wallen, aged 25, and John King, aged 21, both garbage gatherers, quarrelled about a woman in the kitchen of the house where Wallen boarded, 2524 Deshong-street, last night. The quarrel was patched up, and King fell asleep in a chair. Wallen then deliberately cut the throat of the sleeping man with a razor, killing him almost instantly. The murderer was arrested.

A CASE OF DIABETES.

No Help from Medical Men—Suffered for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

North Bruce, Dec. 21 (Special).—An old and well known settler in this township, named Thomas Brooks, who lives on lots 7 and 8 in the 14th concession, is rejoicing with his neighbours over his recent recovery, and he said:—

"I was cured by using twenty-four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and, as nothing else ever helped me, I say they saved my life.

"I had tried all the doctors of this locality and was treated for Diabetes, hoping and suffering for years.

"From reading of cures I determined to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I must say that after using the first box I would have considered them reasonable at ten dollars a box."

Colorado Men Want Transportation.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 18.—The Western roads have received a request from Denver to furnish rates on a party of 200 men from Denver to a Gulf of Mexico port. The party has been gathered in Colorado, and is destined for Cuba, where it will assist the insurgents in fighting under Gomez for "Cuba libre." One of the Omaha roads refused to give a rate, stating that it is a business that it does not care to handle, for the reason that it might lead to trouble with the Government. The men who have gone to Cuba previously have gone in threes or fours, so as not to attract attention.

A genuine ghost-story has yet to be attested; but not a genuine blood-purifier. Over and over again it has been proved that Ayer's Sarsaparilla stands alone among medicines as the most reliable tonic alterative in pharmacy. It stood alone at the World's Fair.

After Acute Bronchitis

CURED BY USING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

BEHIND CLOSED DOORS.

The Joint Traffic Association Met in New York Their Own Report of What Was Done.

New York, Dec. 18.—A meeting of the Board of Control of the Joint Traffic Association was held at the offices of the association in this city to-day. The session was held behind closed doors, and at its conclusion the following information was given out by the secretary:

"The memorandum of the conditions under which the Canadian Pacific Railway Company joined the association was approved.

"Report was made of the negotiations with other companies and on motion the committees to consider the membership of such other companies were continued, favorable reports having been received of their desire to cooperate with the association.

"The commissioners submitted a report of the proceedings of the managers for the past year, indicating the consideration and disposition of a large number of subjects.

"During the period no subject has been appealed from their judgment to arbitration. Consideration was given to various topics of general interest, with the result that they were referred back to the managers for their recommendations and conclusions.

"No other business coming before the meeting it was adjourned, subject to the authorized form of call."

Outside of this vague and formal statement the magnates refused to discuss railroad topics. No mention was made of what disposition was made of the boycott against the Clover Leaf Road. They also refused to say which other roads desired becoming members of the association.

G. M. Hayes, who is one of the receivers of the Vermont Central Railroad, said that he was not here on any mission connected with that road. The reorganization meeting will not be called for at least three weeks.

DAVIS IS ALIVE

And Has No the Slightest Idea How He Escaped Drath His Horse Was Killed.

Kingston, Dec. 18.—What came near being a fatal accident occurred at Everett's crossing at the G.T.R., near Collins' Bay, about 6 o'clock last evening. The victim, Oliver Davis, Portsmouth, has not the faintest idea of how he escaped death. Between 5 and 6 o'clock last evening Mr. Davis, a milk vendor, residing in the village of Portsmouth, drove out to Collins' Bay for a supply of milk. This was secured and the return journey began. Upon approaching Everett's crossing he pulled up to allow a freight train to go by. After it had passed he drove on to the crossing.

It appears several of the cars at the rear end of the train had broken loose, and as there is a down grade at the spot, these cars were following up the main portion of the train. Just as Mr. Davis had driven onto the track these cars swooped down on him, killing his horse instantly and smashing the cart to kindling wood. Mr. Davis was thrown out and to one side, receiving slight injuries. How he escaped death will forever remain a mystery. He did not hear the approach of the second section of the train on account of the noise made by the portion that had passed. Neither were there any lights to signal the approach of the runaway portion.

THEY HAVE AGREED.

Hon. Mr. Fisher and the U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Have Arranged the Matter of Quarantine.

Washington, Dec. 18.—The conference between the Secretary of Agriculture and Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture for the Dominion of Canada, has resulted in an agreement looking to the simplification of the live stock quarantine inspection regulations on both sides of the border. On his return to Canada early in January, Mr. Fisher will present the agreement for consideration in council, and it will then be formally promulgated and go into effect. Until thus officially communicated to the Canadian Cabinet, the details of the agreement will not be made public. The agreement covers the sixty days' quarantine established by this country and Canada against the admission of cattle from one country to the other. Pleuro-pneumonia had been raging on this side when the restrictions were adopted, but as there has been no recurrence of the disease for four years, it is deemed unnecessary to continue the present stringent regulations, and the agreement in question, while not entirely abrogating them, simplifies the business of cattle shipment between Canada and the United States.

AFTER THE NURSES NOW.

Deporter DeBarry is Going to Drive Out Canadian Women Who Wait Upon the Sick.

Buffalo, Dec. 18.—Immigration Inspector DeBarry received from Washington last night notice of a new ruling by the Secretary of the Treasury on the Alien Labor Law. This ruling is on the question that was raised in this city two years ago as to whether the Canadian trained nurses who come to this country to work in hospitals do so in violation of the law.

The Secretary of the Treasury has ruled that these nurses can be deported. As soon as Mr. DeBarry received the notice of this new ruling he started out to get lists of the Canadian nurses in the hospitals. Mr. DeBarry said last night that all of these nurses would be deported.

Inspector Estell of Ogdensburg is now at Dannville, where he went to deport five Canadian nurses who are employed in a sanitarium there.

The Gale Was Fearful.

Chatham, Mass., Dec. 18.—The gale of Wednesday was the most disastrous in the recollections of 20 years. Nearly all of a fleet of 150 fishing boats were either driven on shore or sunk at their moorings. Trees and fences were leveled and Chatham Beach was given a terrible washing, which greatly handicapped the life-saving patrol. Wires are down in all directions and trains are a day behind time.

FIGHTING ITALIAN LEGISLATORS.

Members Throttled Each Other and There Were Some Knock-Downs.

Rome, Dec. 18.—A disgraceful row occurred in the Chamber of Deputies to-day, upon the occasion of the discussion of the allowance to be voted for the use of the Prince of Naples, Crown Prince of Italy. In the course of the debate, Signor Costa, Socialist, denounced the proposal to grant an allowance to the Crown. Continuing his speech, he declared that the monarchy was not only a useless but a dangerous institution, whereupon the President of the Chamber interrupted him and forbade him to speak further. A frightful uproar ensued. Deputies jumping over benches, flying at one another's throats, while others exchanged knock-down blows. The tumult lasted some time, and when order was restored it was found that several Deputies had been very severely handled.

When the Chamber became comparatively quiet, the Marquis di Rudini, Prime Minister, attempted to reply to Signor Costa, but his voice was drowned by the shouts and jeers of the Socialists. Finally a bill granting an annual allowance of 1,000,000 francs was carried amid great confusion.

JUST SUITS LANKY BOB.

Fitzsimmons is Satisfied With the Agreement Signed by Corbett.

San Francisco, Dec. 18.—In a statement to the public Robert Fitzsimmons thanks his friends for the aid they have extended him in his fight in court to secure the $10,000 purse which he says he honestly won in his fistic battle with Sharkey. He declares that his opponents, finding that the justice of the case was with him, had it dismissed on the ground that the contest was a prize fight, and had no standing before the court. This move, he says, fully reflected the utter hopelessness of the defence. He asserts he still has faith in the belief that there are honest referees in San Francisco, and says he is willing to meet anyone whom he has not defeated. He also says he will meet Sharkey again at the latter's pleasure. Fitzsimmons closes by saying he has always been and always would be opposed to foul methods.

In reference to the articles of agreement signed yesterday by James J. Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons says:

"I am glad Corbett has signed for a finish fight. I held out for a fight of that kind, and I am pretty well satisfied from the look of things that I did not hold out in vain. I don't believe I would consent to meet Corbett in any other kind of a match.

"I am well satisfied with George Siler as referee and with Al Smith as holder of the stakes, and as to the date, March 17 suits me as well as any other day. In fact, whatever arrangements Stuart imposes as to date and location will be agreeable to me. I hear that Corbett insists that there shall be a $10,000 side bet. Well, he need not worry about that. He can make it $25,000 a side if he likes, and I will find my end of the stake. We were to fight for $10,000 a side originally, and it was simply at Corbett's request that the figures were reduced to $5000 a side."

Manager Julian has wired Dan Stuart that Fitzsimmons and he will leave for New York within a few days, and will there sign the articles of agreement.

SHARKEY GOT THE SWAG.

San Francisco, Dec. 18.—As soon as the Anglo-Californian Bank opened this morning Tom Sharkey presented the certified cheque for $10,000 handed him by Referee Wyatt Earp on the night of the fight with Fitzsimmons. The cashier told the sailor that attachments aggregating $1500 had been filed against the certificate. "All right, then, give me the balance," remarked Sharkey in a way which indicated that he was anxious to get the $8500 out of reach of the collectors. The money was turned over to him. Sharkey has not definitely determined as to his future movements.

STEEL MEN ALARMED.

Competition Has Been So Keen That Profits Have Been Wiped Out All Round.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 18.—The demoralization in the steel markets after the adjournment of the pool meeting in Pittsburg last week has created alarm among the heaviest producers, and has caused them to ask that a meeting of those connected with the association be called for next week in New York. The competition for business has been so keen that it is claimed profits have been wiped out for everybody. The officials of the Carnegie Steel Company would neither affirm nor deny that the price of standard steel rails had been cut $3 a ton, but, as the price was fixed by the makers' association, it will probably be strictly adhered to.

Women are not the only ones who are sensitive about their ages. A man doesn't like to be told that he is getting old. Health keeps a man young. It doesn't make any difference if he has lived eighty years. If they have been healthy years, he will be hale and hearty and won't look within twenty years as old as he is. Good digestion and rich, red blood make people look youthful. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood. It makes health in the right way. It works according to the right theory, and in 30 years of practice, it has proved that the theory is absolutely correct. It begins at the beginning—begins by putting the stomach, liver and bowels into perfect order, but it begins its good work on the blood before it finishes with the digestive system. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be and forces them out of the body. All druggists keep the "Discovery."

Church of the Nativity.

That Bethlehem is the city of Christ's nativity there is no doubt, but that the grotto in the rock is the spot where he was born there are many who question. They contend that the gospel gives no authority for this, saying that the manger belonged to an inn or khan; that it was because the rooms above were filled with guests that the holy family were compelled to take up their temporary abode in the court used to stable the mules and the horses. But until the doubters can prove that some other spot has superior claims to this the world will go on revering the little grotto beneath the Church of the Nativity.—New York Herald.

THE WOMEN TOO.

Back Talk Not Man's Monopoly.

Mrs. Jemima Cole, Havelock, told the following wonderful story:—"For a great many years I have suffered from disease of the kidneys. The pains in my back and side were sometimes excruciating.

"My limbs were so swollen that I could scarcely lift my feet from the floor, and I was in great agony nearly all the time. I thought that I would surely die from the pain.

"I have taken dozens of advertised remedies, ant got no better during their use. I was also treated by several doctors, but am sorry to say they did me little or no good. In fact they stated that they could do me no good, which made me despair of ever getting better.

"When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I sent to W. H. Jaff & Co's. drugstore and got a box thinking I would try them as a last resort.

"The change from the start was very great and now after one month I am free from all pain. The swelling has gone down and I feel quite strong and healthy.

"I was also troubled with rheumatism and neuralgia which have completely disappeared, thanks to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. In fact I do not think there is a medicine in the world that in such a short time could have taken me from the almost dying condition in which I was to the healthy and vigorous state that I am in now.

"I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for their wonderful virtues in curing kidney troubles."

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH NOTES.

The decoration chapter of the Guild at its annual meeting elected Miss Bush, President, and Miss Hettie Burnham, vice-president. The members are busily engaged in decorating the church for Christmas.

It is expected that three memorials will be placed in St. Luke's church on Christmas day. The new oak choir stalls, being a part of the memorial to Hon. Robert Hamilton, the memorial tablet to the late Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, and a brass font ewer by a member of the congregation, in memory of two children.

The services on Christmas Day are:—At 8 a. m., Holy Communion (choral); 11 a.m. Morning Prayer, sermon by the rector, and Holy Communion. Special music is under preparation for this service, to which the public are cordially invited. In wishing his congregation a very happy Christmas, Mr. Symonds drew their attention to the angelic song that ushered in the birth of Christ and which was in reality the keynote to the whole Gospel, "Glory to God in the Highest, and on Earth Peace." Harmony and Peace are the best things in the world, but the realisation of peace depends upon the sincere ascription of glory to God. He warmly exhorted all to remember the poor, the lonely and the sorrowful at this season. All could do something to make others happier and gifts of kindness and manifestations of sympathy would be productive of blessedness to ourselves.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Rev. W. L. Armitage, the latest addition to the clergy staff of the parish of St. John's, took the service at St. John's yesterday morning and evening. In the evening he preached his first sermon, and an excellent sermon it was, plain, logical, forcible, earnest, distinctly religious, and well delivered. It was spoken of in terms of high commendation by the large congregation that heard it.

LIBERALS WON ALL

Cornwall and Stormont in the Right Line

AFTER EIGHTEEN YEARS OF ERROR

Mr. Snetsinger's Majority Over 500—Hon Mr. Mulock Sends a Warm Greeting—Saskatchewan Elects the Right Man and Mr. Greenway's Candidate Carries Brandon.

Cornwall, Dec. 20.—To-day's bye-election is at an end, and has resulted in a substantial victory for the Liberal candidate, Mr. Snetsinger. The fight from the day of the issuing of the writ has been a very bitter one. No pains or hard work has been spared by either party to make their candidate a winner. Both organizations were complete, and almost every vote available was secured and cast. From the outset the Liberals were confident of a victory, but took no chances. They toiled day and night in their efforts to convert the County of Stormont, which has been true to the Conservative platform for 18 years, and now to-night they have the satisfaction of knowing that their efforts have been successful. The net result of the polling to-day is that a Conservative majority of 425 for Mr. Bergin in June is turned into one of 467 for Mr. Snetsinger, which will be increased 75 or 100 when the two remaining subdivisions are heard from.

The majorities are:

Cornwall town: Snetsinger's majority 22; Cornwall township, 202; Osnabruck township, 61; Roxboro township, 75; Finch township, 107; total, 467 majority for Snetsinger. Lodi and Bonneville, still to hear from, will increase the majority to over 500.

MR. MULOCK IS EXULTANT.

Hon. Wm. Mulock, Postmaster-General, Saturday night sent the following congratulatory message from Toronto to Mr. D. B. McLennan, Cornwall, in reply to one from that gentlemn announcing the result of the Cornwall-Stormont election:

"Toronto, Dec. 19.

"To D. B. McLennan, Cornwall, Ont.:

"Stormont and Cornwall by their emphatic voice to-day have pronounced against Hon. Mr. Foster and that wing of the Conservative party led by him, which, for the sake of attaining office, would, if necessary, destroy our country by arraigning the people against each other in a racial and religious war. The verdict will serve as a warning to all politicians who would divide our people on such lines for the attainment of selfish personal aims. All Canada owes a debt of gratitude to your noble riding for its patriotic work for stamping out the race of wretched pigmy politicians who think that the country's interest should be a football between contending parties and fail to recognise that party politics must on all occasions defer to the best interests of Canada. As a member of a Government which recognizes our supreme right to administer the country's affair in the interests of the whole people and by all efforts to place our institutions on an enduring basis, I gratefully recognise the great part which your riding has to-day played in nation-building under the inspiration of the great empire to which we are so proud to belong. Wm. Mulock."

SASKATCHEWAN AND BRANDON.

Straight Government Candidate Won in the Former and Greenwayite in the Latter.

Winnipeg, Dec. 20.—(Special.)—Twenty-nine polls in Saskatchewan gave Mr. Davis a majority of 139. Thirteen polls are to be heard from, and will likely increase his majority. However, they may not be heard from for a week. Mr. Davis' opponent was Mr. McPhail, both being Liberals.

The bye-election in North Brandon on Saturday to fill the vacancy in the Manitoba Legislature caused by Mr. Sifton's retirement resulted in the election of the Greenway Government candidate, Mr. Fraser, over the Patron, Mr. Postlethwaite, by 150 majority.

Ladies Don't Smoke.

but they have a tender regard for some fellahs that do. The great festival of Christmas will soon be here, and between now and then people will naturally think of buying presents for their friends. Mr. Chas. LeGros, the live George street tobacco and cigar dealer, realising that money is very scarce, has put everything in the line of cigars and pipes down to cost, and when he says cost, he means business. LeGros is a hustler, and likes to give his customers a benefit at Christmas times. He imports all his goods direct, and saves the wholesalers' profit. A few of the snaps which he offers are to be seen in his window He has the finest lot of pipes in Canada, all of B.B.B. manufacture. In cigars, his imported cigars are of the finest, and this is proved by the testimony of the best people of the town who smoke them. Ladies who know the weakness that their gentlemen friends have for a good cigar or a meerscham pipe, a swell mouthpiece or a handy tobacco pouch can take a hint and have a quiet talk with Chanley on the subject. Call and see him and you will be astonished at the prices and quality of his pipes, cigars and smokers' sundries. ALIVE C. LEGROS, 339 George street. tf

Ladies and Gentlemen, too, who desire to make a particularly happy bit in the way of a Present are advised to shop at MISS MELVILLE'S FANCY GOODS STORE, 424 George Street. Save you much thinking.

A DEFENSIVE POLICY

Will be Observed by Spain in Case of War.

MADRID NAVAL QUARTERS ACTIVE

The London Standard Thinks Spain Will Have the Sympathy of the Continental Powers—A Writer Who Says the Defences of Gibraltar are Inadequate.

Madrid, Dec. 21.—The Correspondencia is authority for the statement that naval and military plans to be carried out in the event of war between Spain and the United States have already been formed and approved by Admiral Beranger and General Ascaraga, respectively Ministers of Marine and War.

The policy of Spain, according to this statement, will be to act upon the defensive in Cuba, but to be in readiness to take the offensive if the forces of the United States should attempt to make a landing upon the island.

The home dockyards have become the scenes of the greatest activity, and hundreds of additional men have been employed in each yard to carry out the orders of Admiral Beranger to expedite work upon the warships and transports which are being repaired and got in readiness for service. The Minister of Marine has also telegraphed to the Compagnie Francaise des Forces et Chautier requiring that company to carry out the special order placed with the concern with the least possible delay, and has received a reply that everything will be hurried along as speedily as the facilities of the company will admit.

The Spanish cruiser Petayo will be ready to sail by Jan. 1, when she will proceed under sealed orders. It is understood that she is destined for Cuban waters.

The Heraldo announces that the Ministry of War is preparing a pamphlet for distribution among the officers of the army, and the navy as well, which will contain topographic maps of the United States, copious data of the situation and condition of the American fortresses and military organization, the facilities afforded by the American railways, their availability for military purposes, etc. The pamphlet will also contain suggestions as to the best modes of attack upon the vulnerable points of the American coast and interior, and directions as to the methods to be employed to effect the best results in making reprisals upon the commercial ports of the United States.

The opinions upon the situation as expressed in the newspapers of Madrid and other Spanish cities, this morning, abound with violent denunciations of the attitude of the United States Government, but agree that the United States Senators ought not to be taken too seriously. A Cabinet Council will be held to-morrow, which will be devoted exclusively to consideration of the international situation.

Senor Canovas del Castillo, the Prime Minister, has received the official text of President Cleveland's message to the American Congress, and will shortly make a declaration on that part of the document which refers to the Cuban question.

Conferences have been held during the past few days between the most prominent men in political life in Spain with the object of seeking a solution of the problem which confronts the Government, and which, it is possible, might cause a war with the United States. It is conceded in all political circles that the situation is grave, but it is thought that the willingness of Spain to grant reforms in the Spanish West Indies should tend to avert any display of aggressiveness on the part of the United States. One point is settled upon, and that is that no reforms shall be put into effect in Cuba until the insurrection shall have been suppressed, for it is held that to offer reforms with the Cubans still in arms would indicate weakness on the part of Spain and would also be derogatory to her honor.

Though the popular indignation caused by the receipt of the news of the action of the Committee on Foreign Relations of the American Senate shows little sign of diminution, there have been no manifestations against the United States or its representatives anywhere in Spain.

The death is announced to-day of Senor Don Manuel Decerra, formerly Minister of the Colonies. He was very popular, and it is said of him that he at one time hindered the sale of Cuba to the United States.

IRRITATION IN EUROPE.

The London Standard Urges Urbanity and Pleads for Observance of Law.

London, Dec. 21.—In a leader to-day The Standard says: "There exists in Europe an irritable feeling regarding the tendency of popular opinion in the United States to assume an attitude of excessive dictatorial presumption towards other powers. France and Germany join in reproaching Lord Salisbury for weakness in settling the Venezuelan matter in a pacific manner. Englishmen do not endorse this sentiment, but they dislike the tone and manner of American diplomacy, and wish for more harmony in the traditions of international urbanity. If Spain is driven into a war with the United States we do not doubt that she will enjoy the sympathy of most, perhaps all, of the continental states."

The Standard adds that it does not apologize for Spain's conduct in her colonies, but only pleads for the observance of international law and the rights of foreigners. It concludes by tendering the advice that Spain grant qualified autonomy to Cuba.

Reproach Great Britain.

Paris, Dec. 21.—The Gaulois to-day publishes interviews with General and ex-Minister Dubarail, M. Imbert de Saint Amand, and a foreign diplomat, all of whom reproach Great Britain and Spain for abandoning France in the Mexican expedition of 1862, the object of which, they say, was to create in America a government to counterbalance the power of the United States.

IS GIBRALTAR WEAK?

A Spanish Naval Writer Says the Equipment is Out of Date.

Paris, Dec. 21.—An article of exceptional interest—evidently written by a Spanish military officer—appears in the current number of The Memorial de Artilleria, showing that the extended range of modern artillery has completely revolutionized the conditions which have hitherto enabled Gibraltar to protect its own arsenal and dockyard and to afford safety for vessels at anchor under the guns of the fortress.

When Gibraltar was taken by the English in 1704 the greatest range for artillery fire was only about 3000 yards, so that a fleet under the batteries of Gibraltar was secure against attack from the Spanish coast.

It is now pointed out that with a comparatively small expenditure of money by the Spanish Government batteries constructed in the Bay of Algeciras, upon the ridge of mountains known as the Queen of Spain's Chair, would actually command Gibraltar at a distance of 9000 yards, and would be capable of demolishing the whole length of the fortifications from the Galleries to Europa Point. These Spanish batteries would also threaten the entry of ships of war to the Moles. This plan would merely involve the mounting of some forty heavy guns of from 4.7-inch to 12-inch calibre, and a similar number of howitzers.

At the present moment the strategical points on this part of the Spanish coast are entirely unfortified, and with Spain's present embarrassments in Cuba and the Philippines, it is not likely, as The Broad Arrow points out, that the Madrid Government will take immediate action in the matter. But that these batteries may be constructed some day or other is far from improbable, and in view of the great importance to England of Gibraltar as a naval base, and the renewed expenditure upon its dombined arsenal and dockyard, the subject is beginning to attract the serious attention of naval and military authorities.

CERIST UNPOPULAR.

Evangelist Moody Says That Our Women Would Not Receive Him in Any Proper Spirit.

New York, Dec. 21.—Carnegie Hall was filled yesterday afternoon by women who went to hear Moody preach and Sankey sing. Fifth-avenue was represented, and Miss Helen Gould was in one of the lower galleries.

Among the half dozen men who got into this feminine heaven was Russell Sage. He was an attentive listener, and did not move a muscle when Mr. Moody made an assault upon Wall-street.

The revivalist spoke of what would happen should Christ come to live on earth.

"Do we want Him in any of the Christian churches?" demanded Mr. Moody. "Would they have Him in wealthy England with its materialism, in Germany with its infidel philosophy? Do they wish for Him in France, or in Spain, Italy or Austria? I am afraid that if Christ were born again He would be chucked into a manger as He was before.

"Suppose he came to New York, what would Wall-street do? How would the stock jobbers act? What sort of a reception would the bankers give him? I am much afraid His coming would not interfere much with stock quotations on Wall-street.

"But let us come nearer home. What would the churches do? I imagine many an eloquent pulpit orator would, in his pride, not recognize the Saviour of mankind in a friendly spirit. They would hardly know Him, in fact.

"How many of you women would receive Christ in a proper spirit? Would you turn aside for a moment from your parties and receptions?"

Vesuvius in an Active State Again.

Vesuvius is officially reported to be in an unusually active condition; lava issues copiously from the largest crater of the volcano, filling completely the Atrio del Cavallo, and running some hundreds of meters down the northwest side of the mountain, seriously threatening the observatory.

An Ancient Hog.

The fossil remains of a hog have been recently discovered in the "bad lands" by an expedition led by Professor J. E. Todd, State Geologist of South Dakota, and are said to prove that the animal must have been as large as a medium-sized elephant.

THE CUBAN REPORT

Presented by the Foreign Relations Committee

TO THE SENATE AT WASHINGTON

European and American Precedents Cited to Show That the United States Would be Justified in Intervention to Secure the Independence of the Island of Cuba.

Washington, Dec. 21.—The report from the Committee on Foreign Relations on the joint resolution acknowledging the independence of Cuba and offering the friendly offices of the United States Government with Spain to bring to a close the war between Spain and the Republic of Cuba, was presented by Senator Cameron in the Senate to-day. It is a document of very great length, and deals thoroughly, though briefly, in its opening with modern precedents of European intervention where independence was the issue involved, the committee having, as its report mentions, exhave occurred within this century of peoples claiming independence by right of revolt.

The opening lines of the report read that: "Congress at its last session, after long and patient consideration, adopted with practical unanimity the view expressed by your committee that the time has come for resuming intervention with Spain for the recognition of the independence of Cuba. Spain having declined to listen to any representation founded on an understanding between herself and the insurgents and Congress having pledged itself to friendly intervention, the only question that remains to be considered is the nature of the next step to be taken with the proper regard to the customs and usages of the nations."

After referring to numerous European precedents, the report goes on to say: "Not only Greece, Montenegro, Bulgaria, Roumania, Servia, and Egypt have been the creations of such intervention, or the objects of its restraints, but also Samos, Crete, and even the Lebanon owe their legal status to the same source.

"An authority so great must assume some foundation in law, seeing that the entire world acquiesced not only in the practical exercise of force, but also in the principle on which it rested, whatever that principle was.

"The Treaty of Berlin, in 1878, was a broad assertion of the right of the European powers to regulate the affairs of the Ottoman Empire, but the treaty contains no statement of the principle of jurisprudence on which the right rests.

"From this body of precedents it is clear that Europe has invariably asserted and practised the right to interfere, both collectively and separately, amicably and forcibly, in every instance, except that of Poland, where a European people has resorted to insurrection to obtain independence.

"The right itself has been based on various grounds: 'Impediments to commerce,' 'burdensome measures of protection and repression'; 'requests of one or both parties to interpose,' 'effusion of blood' and 'evils of all kinds;' 'humanity' and the 'repose of Europe.'"

The report then continues with a descriptien of the experiences of Asia and America. America, both North and South, it is stated, has always aimed to moderate European intervention and to restrict its exercise.

Mexico, Colombia, Chili and Buenos Ayres were admitted into the family of nations by the sole authority of the President of the United States, with the approval of Congress.

The principle avowed by Monroe created an entire body of American jurisprudence. As an isolated act it meant little, but in Monroe's views it was not an isolated act; it was part of a system altogether new and wholly American, and it was to be justified on grounds far wider than itself. The European law and practice of intervention, extending as it did its scope and energy with every new step in European development, could be met only by creating an American law and practice of intervention exclusive of the European within the range of its influence. This Monroe did not hesitate to do. With boldness which still startles and perplexes the world he lopped off one great branch of European intervention and empire and created a new system of international relations.

So sweeping a right of intervention had never been claimed, unless by Russia in regard to the Greeks in 1821, and has never been exercised by any other single power, but the claim rested on the same general ground as that of the innumerable interventions of Europe. "Danger to our peace and happiness" was not essentially different from "danger to peace, honor, political power and interests," which European nations had alleged as just reasons for intervention, and while the right of intervention on this ground was so energetically maintained the right of deciding absolutely as to the time and mode of intervention was as energetically exercised by Monroe.

From that day to this, continues the report, the American people have always, and unanimously, supported and approved the Monroe doctrine. They needed no reasoning to prove that it was vital to their safety. The enormous and rapidly increasing force developed by Europe in her system of joint action, from the Treaty of Verona to the overwhelming authority, hitherto unknown to mankind, which was exhibited in the Treaty of Berlin; the rapid extension of her system over the rest of the world and the inevitable pressure of its expansion; her immense superiority and wealth and mechanical resources; the irresoluble energy of her enormous naval and military armaments when concentrated, as under the Berlin Treaty, in a single mass, left no doubt that America must abandon the hope of independence if she could not maintain a system of her own.

In the case of Texas, further on, it is remarked, the United States Government, as is notorious, exercised the whole right of intervention, against an American power; but the case of Texas did not differ in principle from that of Colombia, except in being wholly an American and domestic affair. In both instances the intervention rested on the claim of the Executive and the Legislature to be absolute and final judge of the "time and mode" of interference. In no case were other governments expected to sanction the decision in order to give it validity.

The letters of President Jackson following this initiative are elaborately referred to, and the report goes on to a reference of the very friendly feeling on the part of Great Britain and Mexico with the "Southern Confederacy" during the periods of 1861-5, and to the invitation of Lord John Russell to the Emperor of France to co-operate with England in "a joint endeavor" to obtain "from each of the belligerents" certain concessions in favor of neutrals.

On May 8 the French Minister "concurred entirely with the views of Her Majesty's Government," and pledged himself to the joint action. On May 13 the British Government issued its formal proclamation of neutrality between the United States and "certain states styling themselves the Confederate States of America."

Lord Russell justified this action on the ground of the size and population of the seceding States, and "the condition of our (British) commerce." All his expressions and acts warranted the belief that the recognition of belligerency was, in his mind, only a preliminary step to the recognition of independence as an already accomplished fact.

Much additional stress is given in the report to those schemes of intervention; and Palmerston's endorsement of Russell's view, in which Palmerston suggested an intervention that "would join England and with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." MRS. THE CORNWALL ELECTION.

This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

Even the Remedialist Conservatives, says the Conservative Toronto World, must be surprised at the vote in Cornwall and Stormont on Saturday. Here was a constituency half Catholic and French that endorsed a Government which will not make coercion of Manitoba in the matter education a part of its policy. The Liberals themselves must be surprised at the result. They gain both a seat and and approval of their school policy in a constituency with a large French and Catholic vote. We are inclined to believe that the same issue, if raised in a Quebec constituency, would go as it did in Cornwall. That being the case, the Conservative leaders, who will not let the school question die, ought to reconsider the situation very speedily. As a matter of fact, when the Remedialist Government made its appeal to the people in Quebec in June last, they only got sixteen seats out of sixty-five. Who is it that wants Remedial legislation besides Archbishop Langevin and his brother bishops of Quebec? Conservatives have now to realize what the situation is, to reconstruct in some directions and to get down to a fighting policy.

THIS is decidedly an open winter, but the Conservative party reports a heavy snow fall in Cornwall.

SATURDAY was a great day for the spirit of Christmas. The "sunny ways" of conciliation were endorsed in Cornwall and Saskatchewan, and Manitoba's side of the school settlement was endorsed in the by-election of Brandon.

THE Mail and Empire publishes a long list of those who helped win the election fight in Cornwall and Stormont. The organ omitted the names of about twenty-five hundred voters, who had a little hand in contributing to the result.

THE Mail and Empire publishes lists of those speakers who worked in Cornwall. The Liberal list is a good deal the larger—which is only natural. The Conservatives were so divided that it was not safe to get any large number of leading spirits together lest they be flying at each other's throats instead of wiring into the "Grits."

MR. LAZIER, Q. C., Belleville, is investigating a charge of unseemly interference as a partizan in the recent Dominion election contest of Mr. Farrow, postmaster at Brussels, East Huron. He took the stump and delivered fiery oratory in denunciation of the Liberals and in support of the late government. He placed himself in opposition to the party that now controls the government of the country and doubtless expects to be a faithful servant of a government in which he had publicly declared he had no confidence.

CHICAGO BANKS GONE UNDER.

National Bank of Illinois Suspends Owing to "Unwarrantable and Injudicious Loans"—Dreyer & Co. Also.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—The National Bank of Illinois, located at 115 Dearborn-street, and one of the oldest and best-known banking institutions in the city, with assets amounting to nearly $15,000,000, did not open its doors this morning. This action was decided upon by the directors of the bank at 6 o'clock last night, after the bank had been suspended from the Clearing House Association.

The cause of the suspension is "unwarrantable and injudicious loans," through which "the capital and surplus of said bank is seriously imperilled, if not absolutely lost."

At the last statement of the bank its capital was shown to be $1,000,000, with a surplus of $1,000,000 and undivided assets of over $300,000. It is thought that none of the depositors will suffer great loss by the suspension.

The National Bank of Illinois is the second largest bank and one of the oldest-known of the national banking institutions in Chicago. It was organized in 1871 and successfully passed through the fire, the panic of 1873 and all the financial disturbances since. The Eastern correspondents of the bank are the Mercantile National Bank of New York and the Shawmut National Bank of Boston.

A large number of big business firms transacted business at the National Bank of Illinois, and it is believed several failures will follow. President Schneider is treasurer of the Chicago Associated Press.

E. S. Dreyer & Co., one of the oldest banking establishments of this city, failed this morning. A notice posted on the doors of the bank states that the bank is in the hands of the Security Title and Trust Company. Mr. Dreyer refuses to make a statement.

The banking firm of Wasmansdorff & Heinemann is announced also to be in the hands of the Security Title and Trust Company.

A run is in progress on the Garden City Bank, situated in the Chamber of Commerce building, this afternoon. There are 100 people in line waiting to withdraw deposits, and on the sidewalk outside a large crowd, which is increasing rapidly, has gathered, waiting an opportunity to enter the bank. The bank officials say they have fully 50 per cent. of the amounts deposited on hand, and are paying out to all depositors as fast as possible.

The failure has just been announced of the Roseland Savings Bank. Frederick Wielrma is at the head of the bank. The bank did business with the National Bank of Illinois.

Judge Freeman has appointed the Security Title and Trust Company receiver for E. S. Dreyer & Co. and Wasmansdorff & Heinemann. The receiver for Dreyer & Co. was appointed on a bill filed by E. S. Dreyer in the Superior Court this morning as for a dissolution of partnership and distribution of assets. Robert Berger was made defendant. The court was told that the assets were $1,500,000 and the liabilities $1,250,000. The bill says that the partners have agreed to close up the business, but have been unable to agree as to the manner in which it is to be done. The bill also says that the assets consist of real estate, real estate mortgages, stocks, notes and accounts receivable, while the liabilities are open accounts and certificates of deposit. There has been great depression in the value of real estate recently, the bill says, and unless the assets are handled in a conservative and careful manner, great loss will result. Therefore, a receiver is asked for to close out the business. By a conservative handling of the estate, the complainant says, the assets can be made to realise $150,000 more than the liabilities. None of the officers of E. S. Dreyer & Co. was at the bank to-day and creditors of that institution could get no information as to the failure. The firm of E. S. Dreyer & Co. is one of the oldest banking institutions in Chicago and had always been considered one of the firmest.

The receiver for the firm of Wasmansdorff & Heinemann was appointed at the request of Otto Wasmansdorff, senior member of the firm. He appeared in the Superior Court and named his partner, William Heinemann, as defendant. The assets are given at $550,000 with liabilities of $415,000. The complainant says that a receiver can administer the assets so as to produce a surplus of about $100,000.

Both these failures are the direct outcome of the National Bank of Illinois closing its doors.

The run on the Garden City Banking and Trust Company's Bank was caused by the fact becoming generally known among the depositors that the institution cleared through the failed National Bank of Illinois. The -line of fearful depositors was not long, and withdrawals were promptly made until the regular hour for closing the bank—3 o'clock. The doors were then closed and only those depositors who were inside were paid. The curious crowd outside was large enough to require the services of several policemen to keep them moving.

At the Illinois Trust and Savings and American Trust and Savings Banks there were small lines of men and women who were anxious to get their money in hand, and the bank officers were glad to pay out as the withdrawals in the savings departments meant a gain of interest money which would be due Jan. 1. Both these banks are regarded as financially impregnable.

Will Not Affect Them.

Philadelphia, Dec. 21.—The Independence National Bank of this city, which was the Philadelphia correspondent of the National Bank of Illinois of Chicago, will not be affected by the failure of the latter institution. Theodore Wiedersheim, Treasurer of the Independence Bank, stated to-day that his bank was merely the holder of a portion of the Western bank's Eastern funds.

NOTES FROM THE FALLS.

Mischievous Boys Get Off Lightly—Niagara Central Affairs—Nipped on a Forged Cheque.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Dec. 21.—(Special.)—The 10 young boys who were brought before Magistrate Logan on Saturday for letting down brakes and uncoupling cars on the M.C.R. siding at Niagara Junction were discharged after receiving a severe reprimand from the Magistrate.

It is thought that the late disagreement between the directors of the St. Catharines and Niagara Central Railway Company is on the road towards a satisfactory settlement. If this proves to be true, some new developments, which will put some life into the business of the road, will be speedily forthcoming. At present the company is fighting the G.T.R. Company over the latter putting a spur into the Riordon Paper Mills at Merritton. When this matter is straightened out a movement will be made to introduce a suburban service from St. Catharines to Niagara Falls. This service will consist of almost hourly runs, and will necessitate the re-building of the road, repairing the present rolling stock and putting on an additional train. Plans for the scheme are already being considered, and the work ought to commence about the beginning of the year.

Mr. Campbell, the good roads missionary of the Province, was invited to visit this place during the month of December. He complied with the request of the Council, but has since sent word that his visit will be postponed until some time in January. It is to be hoped his visit will be beneficial to the town roads, which are in a disgraceful shape.

Last Tuesday a man traveling under the name of Monck interviewed the Rev. Mr. Crawford, and asked him to cash a cheque for $25 on a local bank at Naples, N.Y. The signature on the cheque was Carlton Smith, but the rev. gentleman did not know either party, and refused to forward a cent. Accordingly, Monck wired to Naples, and received a telegram in reply that Smith was good for $25 at the bank in question. This, however, did not satisfy the Rev. Crawford, and he dismissed the man. Monck then went to William Hewson, and, stating he was strapped and wanted to get to Michigan, presented the cheque and telegram, and said he would take $20 for it. Mr. Hewson gave him $10 in cash and a mackintosh worth $10 for the cheque, and Monck immediately disappeared. The cheque was sent in for collection, but has been returned as a forgery. The police are looking for Monck.

WINNIPEG JOTS.

The Free Press on the Cornwall Election—Child Burned to Death in Brandon—Lisgar Election Case.

Winnipeg, Dec. 21.—(Special.)—The Free Press (Ind.), discussing the Cornwall election, doubts the judgment of the Conservative leaders in making such a fight at this time, but says the Liberals will make a fatal mistake if they estimate the present strength of the Conservative party from the results of this skirmish.

Mary Matuska, a 3-year-old child, of Brandon, was burned to death to-day during the temporary absence of her parents.

The hearing of the Lisgar election petition has been fixed for Wednesday next.

INJURED 17 PASSENGERS.

A Wreck on the Grand Trunk Between Portland and Lewiston, Maine.

Lewiston, Maine, Dec. 21.—The Grand Trunk train from Portland, Me., due in Lewiston at 8.20 a.m., was thrown from the track by a broken rail two miles east of Danville Junction. The baggage, smoker and passenger cars went over an embankment, 25 feet. The engine and tender remained on the track. Of the 25 passengers on the train, 17 were injured, but none seriously. The injured were brought to Lewiston hospitals for examination. The train was in charge of Conductor Morse, and was running 25 miles an hour. Conductor Morse escaped without a scratch.

Gompers as a Preacher.

Cincinnati, Dec. 21.—Yesterday afternoon President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor occupied the pulpit of Wesley Chapel, speaking in the interest of organized labor. Bishop Walden and most of the ministers of this city occupied seats on the platform. Gompers' subject was "A Rough Sketch of a Rugged Struggle."

Lost Part of Her Cargo.

London, Dec. 21.—The brig Vidonia (Br.), Wilson, from St. John's, Nfld., which arrived at Oporto Dec. 11, had to jettison a part of her cargo during the voyage. The vessel was damaged in the storm she went through.

A CASE OF DIABETES.

No Help from Medical Men—Suffered for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

North Bruce, Dec. 21 (Special).—An old and well known settler in this township, named Thomas Brooks, who lives on lots 7 and 8 in the 14 h concession, is rejoicing with his neighbours over his recent recovery, and he said:—

"I was cured by using twenty-four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and, as nothing else ever helped me, I say they saved my life.

"I had tried all the doctors of this locality and was treated for Diabetes, hoping and suffering for years.

"From reading of cures I determined to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I must say that after using the first box I would have considered them reasonable at ten dollars a box."

Sick headache and Constipation are promptly cured by Burdock Pills. Easy to take, sure in effect.

Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly. I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

THE CUBAN REPORT.

France in the offer or mediation, is not overlooked in the committee's summary of all the circumstances that confronted this Government at that time.

At the moment when Russell and Palmerston brought their scheme of intervention before the British Cabinet, Napoleon sent reinforcements of 35,000 men to his force in Mexico, with orders to occupy the country; and simultaneously sent a formal invitation to England and Russia to intervene in the American Civil War.

These papers have not been published, and we do not know the express grounds on which the invitation was offered or declined. To the fact that Russia was avowedly friendly, and that the two most powerful British Prime Ministers of their time were outvoted in their own Cabinet, America owed her escape from British domination.

Into this American system thus created by Monroe in 1822-23 and embracing then, besides the United States, only Buenos Ayres, Chili, Colombia and Mexico, various other communities have since claimed, and in most cases have received admission, until it now includes South America, except the Guianas, all Central America, except the British colony of Honduras and the Spanish republics of Santo Domingo and Hayti in the Antilles.

No serious question was again raised with any European power in regard to the insurrection or independence of their American possessions until 1890, when a rebellion broke out in Cuba, and the insurgents, after organizing a Government and declaring their independence, claimed recognition from the United States. The Government of the United States had always regarded Cuba as within the sphere of its most active and serious interests.

As early as 1825, when the newly-recognized States of Colombia and Mexico were supposed to be preparing an expedition to revolutionize Cuba and Porto Rico, the United States Government interposed its friendly offices with these Governments to request their forbearance. The actual condition of Spain seemed to make her retention of Cuba impossible, in which case the United States would have been obliged, for their own safety, to prevent the island from falling into the hands of a stronger power in Europe. That this emergency did not occur may have been partly due to the energy with which Monroe announced "our right and our power to prevent it," and his determination "to use all the means within his competency" to guard against and forfend it.

When the Cuban insurgents in 1869 appealed to the United States for recognition, President Grant admitted the justice of the claim and directed the Minister of the United States at Madrid to interpose our good offices with the Spanish Government in order to obtain by a friendly arrangement the independence of the island. The story of that intervention is familiar to every member of the Senate and was made the basis of its resolution last session requesting the President once more "to interpose his friendly offices with the Spanish Government for the recognition of the independence of Cuba."

The resolution then adopted by Congress was perfectly understood to carry with it all the consequences which necessarily would follow the rejection by Spain of friendly offices. On this point the situation needs no further comment.

The action taken by Congress in the last session was taken "on general consideration and on joint principles," on a right of intervention exercised 27 years ago and after a patient delay unexampled in history. The interval of nine months which has elapsed since that action of Congress has proved the necessity of carrying it out to completion. In the words of the President's annual message: "The stability two years' duration has given to the insurrection, the feasibilities of its indefinite prolongation in the nature of things and as shown by past experiences; the utter and imminent ruin of the island unless the present strife is speedily composed," are, in our opinion, conclusive evidence that "the inability of Spain to deal successfully with the insurrection has become manifest, and it is demonstrated that her sovereignty is extinct in Cuba for all purposes of its rightful existence—a hopeless struggle for its re-establishment has degenerated into a strife which means nothing more than the useless sacrifice of human life and the utter destruction of the very subject of the conflict."

Although the President appears to have reached a different conclusion from ours, we believe this to be the actual situation of Cuba, and, being unable to see that further delay could lead to any other action than that which the President anticipates, we agree with the conclusion of the message that in such case our obligations to the sovereignty of Spain are superseded by higher obligations which we can hardly hesitate to recognize and discharge.

Following closely the action of President Monroe, Congress has already declared, in effect, its opinion that there can be no rational interference except on the basis of independence. In 1822, as now, but with more force, it was objected that the revolted States had no government to be recognized. Divisions and even civil war existed among the insurgents themselves. Among the Cubans no such difficulty is known to exist. In September, 1896, as we know by official documents printed on the spot, the rebel Government was regularly organized, a constitution adopted, a President elected, and in due course the various branches of administration set in motion. Since then, so far as we are informed, this Government has continued to perform its functions undisturbed.

On the military side, as we officially know, they have organized, equipped and maintained in the field sufficient forces to baffle the exertions of two hundred thousand Spanish soldiers. On the civil side, they have organized their system of administration in every Province, for, as we know officially, they "roam at will over at least two-thirds of the inland country."

Diplomatically they have maintained a regularly accredited representative in the United States for the past year, who has never ceased to ask recognition and to offer all possible information. There is no reason to suppose that any portion of the Cuban people would be dissatisfied by our recognizing their representative in this country or that they disagree in the earnest wish for that recognition. The same thing could hardly be said of all the countries recognized by Monroe in 1822.

The only question that properly remains for Congress to consider is the mode which should be adopted for the step which Congress is pledged next to take.

The Government of the United States entertains none but the friendliest feelings toward Spain. Its most anxious wish is to avoid even the appearance of an unfriendliness which is wholly foreign to its thought. For more than a hundred years, amidst divergent or clashing interests, and under frequent and severe strains, the two Governments have succeeded in avoiding collision, and there is no friendly office which Spain could ask which the United States within the limits of their established principles and policy would not be glad to extend. In the present instance they are actuated by an earnest wish to avoid the danger of seeming to provoke a conflict.

The practice of Europe in regard to intervention, as in the instances cited, has been almost invariably harsh and oppressive. The practice of the United States has been mild. Among the precedents which have been so numerously cited there can be no doubt as to the choice. The most moderate is the best. Among these the attitude taken by President Monroe in 1822 is the only attitude which can properly be regarded as obligatory for a similar situation to-day. The course pursued by the United States in the recognition of Colombia is the only course which Congress can consistently adopt.

The passage of the joint resolution agreed to last Friday is therefore recommended.

A PROBABLY FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Young Farmer Crushed Beneath a Falling Tree in Millbrook.

A very painful, and what will likely prove fatal, accident occurred on Friday last, on what is known as the Payne farm, just one concession south of Millbrook. Arthur Armstrong, a hard working man who has the farm rented, left his house as usual, with his faithful dog, to go to the woods to fell some trees.

He did not return in time for supper, but his wife, thinking he had delayed on the way home, at first paid no attention to his lateness. When eight o'clock arrived and he was not home she naturally became anxious and started to the woods to look for him. She was met by the dog, which, with the instinct characteristic of the noble animal, tried to tell her that something was wrong, and impatiently led the way.

As she drew near the spot the cries of her unfortunate husband proved to her that all was not well, and in a short while she could see in the clear moonlight her husband pinned to the ground by a large tree. She was, of course, powerless to remove it and at one ran for assistance. Medical aid was also sent for. Willing hands soon arrived and in a short time removed the tree. Upon examination it was found that one leg was broken and the other badly crushed, besides internal injuries. The poor man had been in this position from two o'clock in the afternoon. He is at present in an unconscious state and there is little hope of his recovery.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

Amputation Was Necessary but not Efficacious.

A most deplorable accident happened in one of the town dry goods stores, yesterday, when as Mrs. Dissenette, of Lindsay, was descending the stairs from the millinery department she fell and sustained a compound comminuted fracture of her left leg, just above the knee.

The unfortunate woman was conveyed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the limb. The entire hospital staff of physicians was present and assisted in the operation, but the strain was too much for Mrs. Dissenette to bear and she gradually sank into unconsciousness and died shortly before midnight.

Her relatives have been communicated with in regard to the fatal result of the accident.

Christmas Tree Entertainment.

The rooms of the Catholic Literary Association to-day present a very pretty scene, as the Christmas entertainment of the Sisters of St. Joseph is now in full swing. The display of articles for sale as well as the general decorations are worthy of mention. Amongst the attractions is a miniature representation of the famous Ferris wheel—a very creditable piece of work. A musical programme will be presented this evening. A full report will be given to-morrow.

Music Every Day.

The more music the happier the home. Why may not the same thing apply to the busy store? Mr. R. Fair of the Golden Lion, has hit upon a happy innovation in the way of a Christmas store attraction by the introduction of a pianoforte in his store presided over by a skilful lady player, who executes an attractive musical programme every day for the benefit of his throng of holiday shoppers. While the cheerful crowds do their buying the music lends a brightness and merriment to the clink of the cash carriers.

The Golden Horse-shoe.

Originality in dressing windows is more general this year than ever before, the "boys" behind the counters vieing with each other in making their show windows put on their most attractive effects. What fashionable dress is to men and women proper window displays are to a store. In the north window of Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. the window dresser has produced a most excellent effect and the decorator deserves credit for his ingenuity and skill. A large horse-shoe has been built as a background to the window, filling the entire space from side to side and arches up the full height of the window. The symbolic words "Good Luck" is emblazoned on the face of the horse-shoe, and a well-executed bell-shaped design hangs suspended in the centre of the shoe, bearing the words "A Merry Xmas." The horse-shoe is studded with rows of the newest styles of nobby neckwear, presenting a Christmas window feature which preaches a strong trade-creating sermon. The whole window is a glass of fashion, representative of gentlemen's fashionable furnishings, and the picture is such as to make one feel that "what the eye sees the heart desires." 1d

Time is Nearly Up.

This is the week of weeks! Pre-eminently and emphatically the holiday shoppers' week. The week when the most dilatory of buyers must close their negotiations with Santa Claus. The enthusiasm of the crowds at the Peterborough Bookstore is unbounded, and the people all like it. Nothing we have ever done begins to equal what we're doing now. A holiday halo illumines this store as if Christmas electricity had struck the place. Christmas chances broadens—competition ceases—and the happy crowds tell better than anything else the relation of this store to the community. The business is on closest touch with the people. Only a few days more on the calendar. How the time will fly! You have barely time to make out your list and select your presents. Shop early at the Peterborough Bookstore and the time spent will be spent in pleasure. Storm the store! Hundreds have been served already out of our princely stock, but heaps of good things are still left.—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

THE NOMINATIONS FOR COUNTY COUNCILLORS.

FULL REPORTS FROM ALL THE DIVISIONS.

Division No. 1 Returns Mr. John Burnham and Mr. Wm. Anderson by Acclamation—Mr. Robert Shaw and Mr. T. G. Eastland Elected by Acclamation in No. 3 — Lively Contests Promised in all the Other Divisions.

Yesterday the nominations for county councillors took place in the several divisions as noted in detail below. The result was that Messrs. John Burnham and Wm. A SENSIBLE CHRISTMAS PRESENT.

A Library of Over 8,000 Volumes and 100 Newspapers and Periodicals for $1.50.

Parents who desire to recognize Christmas by a suitable gift of real value can do no better than give that gift the form of a ticket for the Public Library, which gives access to a well selected library of over 8,000 volumes and to the privileges of a reading room stocked with over one hundred newspapers and periodicals. No more suitable present can be given at the same price. A ticket practically gives your boy or girl a library larger than any private library in Ontario. Think this over and persuade Santa Claus to slip a Public Library ticket into your boy's or girl's stocking. Adult tickets, $1.50; family tickets, for the first $1.00, for the second $1.00, and 50c. for the third.

Kells & Co's. Doll Attraction.

The artistically dressed plate glass windows of Messrs. R. H. Kells & Co. have been the admiration of the ladies during the past week. But to the little ladies of the town, the north window has been "a thing of beauty and a joy forever." There have been more sighs heaved and more heart longings breathed in front of this particular window by the little maidens, 13 years and under, than will ever be recorded. The heart-aches which that prim little doll has caused, dressed in all her "little brief authority," beckoning to hundreds of eager little eyes that the fascinating elf has attraced, only the big basketful of letters addressed to Santa Claus can adequately reveal. As already announced, this beautiful prize doll will be given away to the fortunate young lady, 13 years or under, who will have written the best and most original letter to Santa Claus. A heavy task awits the committee of ladies to whom is assigned the duty of deciding the result of the competition. All the little girls interested are requested to be present at Mr. Kells' store between 8 and 9 o'clock on Christmas eve, when the doll will be awarded. Mr. Kells will have a surprise prepared for all, and it is expected that none of the children will be allowed to go away disappointed.

Ladies Don't Smoke,

but they have a tender regard for some fellahs that do. The great festival of Christmas will soon be here, and between now and then people will naturally think of buying presents for their friends. Mr. Chas. LeGros, the live George street tobacco and cigar dealer, realizing that money is very scarce, has put everything in the line of cigars and pipes down to cost, and when he says cost, he means business. LeGros is a hustler, and likes to give his customers a benefit at Christmas times. He imports all his goods direct, and saves the wholesalers' profit. A few of the snaps which he offers are to be seen in his window. He has the finest lot of pipes in Canada, all of B.B.B. manufacture. In cigars, his imported cigars are of the finest, and this is proved by the testimony of the best people of the town who smoke them. Ladies who know the weakness that their gentlemen friends have for a good cigar or a meerschaum pipe, a swell mouthpiece or a handy tobacco pouch can take a hint and have a quiet talk with Charley on the subject. Call and see him and you will be astonished at the prices and quality of his pipes, cigars and smokers' sundries. ALIVE C. LEGROS, 239 George street. tf

EXAMINERS WANTED!

Meetings of the general public will be held this week and next to inspect the stock of meats at Kennedy & Nelson's store, 340 George street. It is the high grade stock we carry and the moderate prices we charge that draw the crowd. We are determined to sell only the best, and to this end we have our stock shipped from the west where nothing but the highest grade of cattle is raised.

We have had our store made more inviting than usual, by decorating the windows with holly and deer heads. Inside the store you will find the most delicious meats.

Our Beef is of the best; our Pork cannot be found fault with; our Canned Goods must go, although being sacrificed; our Mince Meat sells where sold before; our Lard has been found satisfactory; the Butter we handle is No. 1.

We have great advantages in the fowl line, by having bought ahead all the fowl required, which goes into the hundreds.

SPECIAL TO THE LADIES.

We have bought a National Cash Register which sits on a marble counter in a convenient part of the store. On the top of it is a most handsome mirror. It is a most beautifully designed machine. Every sale is registered, and every purchaser gets a receipt for her purchase, and if she keeps them until the required amount is obtained, which will be found on every receipt, will be redeemed at our stores, 340 George street, or 387 Water street.

We are very desirous of having you, one and all, call and see for yourselves what we really do keep.

We take this opportunity of thanking you for your patronage in the past and hope for its continuance.

Good habits, healthful exercise, and proper medication are the three great conservators of health. Good health is the greatest beautifier. Neither a man nor a woman can have an attractive personality who suffers from ill-health. If it were not for disorders of the digestive organs, nine-tenths of the medical books in the world could be safely destroyed. Not only the minor maladies, but the majority of serious diseases have their inception in a disordered digestion. Consumption is undoubtedly the most deadly enemy with which mankind has to contend. Like all other wasting diseases, it has its origin in disorders of the digestive organs. As a result of these disorders, the appetite falls off; the life-giving elements of the food are not properly assimilated; the blood becomes thin and impure; and all the tissues of the body are imperfectly and improperly nourished; the lungs become clogged with inert, half dead tissues that offer an attractive soil for the invasion of the germs of consumption. It has been said thousands of times that consumption is incurable. It is not.

Ninety-eight per cent. of all cases of consumption are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It corrects all disorders of the digestive organs, invigorates the liver and makes the appetite keen and the assimilation perfect; it makes new blood, pure blood, and lots of it. It builds new and healthy tissue. It is the great flesh-builder. It acts directly on the lungs, driving out all impurities and disease germs. Thousands have testified to its merits. All good druggists keep it.

Geo. H. Slater, Esq., of Yates City, Knox Co., Ills., writes: "I have been troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia for the last two years. I got a bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and it did me so much good I am going to get another bottle. It is the best medicine in the world for stomach trouble."

Good health is the best endowment. Those who have it cannot be too careful to preserve it. Constipation is the worst enemy of good health. It causes nearly every disorder known to physicians. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a sure, swift, safe and permanent cure for constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. Druggists sell them.

A NEW SANTA CLAUS.

Without the wind was wailing,
The night was cold and drear;
Within the red logs crackling,
Proclaimed the Christmas cheer.

"If Santa Claus would only,"
Said little Bertha, "now
Come down the jet black chimney
With painted doll and cow.

"With elephant and zebra,
And scarlet cockatoo,
Rhinoceros and camel,
And frog and kangaroo,

"I should be very happy
To see his features sweet,"
Her father said, with laughter,
"The logs would burn his feet."

He sent them to the kitchen
And told them that no doubt
Santa'd come down the chimney
When he saw the logs put out.

Then upstairs went the father
A-laughing with delight,
Put on a great fur ulster
And hair and whiskers white.

He brought the toys down with him,
And when they flocked about
He gave them fruit and candies
And laughed to hear them shout.

He gave them toys and kissed them,
And sent them up to bed,
That he might join the reindeer
And speed upon the sled.

"The children all are happy,"
Unto his wife said he,
"And we shan't have the bother
Of dressing up that tree.

"Hurrah for all the blessings
That light our cozy ken!
Hurrah for Merry Christmas
And peace unto all men!

TWO CHRISTMAS EVES

CHAPTER I.

"Not another word, sir," said old Eben Withers in his usual decisive manner. "I know nothing about the girl, and I don't desire to, but I do not intend you to marry for some years, and then you are not to choose a penniless bride. You are to build up the family fortune, sir, not scatter it. No; I will not listen." And he turned to his morning paper again.

Young Eben said more than his prayers sometimes, and it would not do to set down all he said to himself as he left the room. He was as plucky a lad as there was in seven counties around, but he had always been obedient, partly from a sense of duty and partly because of the genuine love that existed between father and son.

But even young Eben, after he met Miss Mildred, saw things a little differently and would perhaps have used another word than love in speaking of his father. Certainly it did not seem as if his filial love was very strong when he came to tell her what his father had said. In those days he told her everything. Afterward he grew older and learned a good many things.

Miss Mildred did not take it well. Young Eben was dissatisfied with the promptness with which she said that she would never forgive herself if she should be the cause of a quarrel between him and his father.

Young Eben looked at her attentively before speaking again, and that was a thing calculated to bewilder a man. You couldn't fully appreciate the beauty of her brown hair with its odd gleams of red and of gold before you would be admiring her broad low forehead, full in the temples, rounded and symmterical as it was. Then a flash from her deep, large, hazel eyes would fasten your gaze for a mement, till the perfect complexion and chiseled, classic features would coax it away, and the sweet glory of her face would perplex you so with its multiplicity of charms that you would fall to wondering which of them was most to be desired.

All this beauty, which his father had undertaken to deny him, without even seeing it, made young Eben desperate. "Then you want me to marry some other woman," he said.

"No, no! Never!" she exclaimed almost wildly as she threw her perfect arms around his neck and began to sob at the thought. Her quick emotions were not the least of her charms.

And that is why she did not take it well. She would, and she wouldn't listen to either side of the question. Young Eben must obey his father, and he must never cease to love her, nor ever marry any one else. And nothing was ever to induce her to waver in any respect. It was delightful—and somewhat perplexing.

"If you won't settle the matter," he said finally, "I will." This, by the way, was what he had intended from the first.

"Settle it, how?" she asked in some alarm.

"By marrying you," he said firmly, "but not just now. I will do nothing rashly."

It must be said that the next few months were pretty hard ones for the boy. He had set himself to wait till he should be of age, the next December, not with the thought of defying his father even then, but because he would render his services loyally to the last day. So time went on. His duty was done at his desk in the counting room so well that his father could not complain, rigid taskmaster though he was. His sweetheart was not neglected, and yet he found time, or made it, to keep up his studies faithfully.

Of course, the birthday came in due time. Birthdays do. In the morning old Eben met him with something like emotion.

"I have looked forward to this day," he said, "as anxiously as you. You have been a good son and I believe you always will be. I am proud of you, and I believe you will live to be proud of yourself. Now that you are a man I want to start you with this. It is yours to do with as you like."

"This" was a check for a small fortune. He took it from his pocket as he spoke and handed it to the young man, who flushed with surprise and perfect natural pleasure as he looked at it.

"It would be idle, sir, to try to thank you in words for this, or for all your kindness to me all my life," he said. "But I have something else to ask. Even this princely gift of money seems small compared to that."

Old Eben's face darkened. He did not like to hear money spoken of lightly, and it seemed an ungracious speech. However, he spoke kindly and with all sincerity.

"What is it, my son? You are not likely to ask anything that I could refuse to-day."

"I want you, sir, to reconsider what you said about my marrying. Let me introduce you to the woman—"

The dark face grew rigid. "Let us understand this now," said the father interrupting. "I insist upon your obedience so long as I play the part of a father. I have no legal claim, I know—"

"Don't talk of a legal claim, father," said the son, interrupting in his turn.

"Very well. It is not a claim, but I am still your father, and so long as you continue in my home you are my son. Let me hear no more of this folly. I will never consent to this marriage. Do you understand?"

"I do, God help me!" exclaimed young Eben. "And you must understand me also. I shall certainly marry the girl I love, and I do not change, sir, any more than you. I will obey you in all else, but not in this."

"Then we may as well part now," said old Eben, stung beyond endurance by the first defiant words he had ever listened to. "You can have no claim on me henceforth."

"If we part," said the lad, his voice breaking, "let us part in kindness at least. I ask for nothing more." And he stepped forward with his hands outstretched.

But the other drew back. "I said you had no claim on me. My kindness was for my son, not for an ingrate. Obey me and everything shall be as it was. If not, go now."

With a despairing gesture the young man turned away, but his father spoke, "Stop a moment," he said. "You have forgotten your check." And he pointed to where young Eben had dropped it on the table. "I gave you that, sir, before you had defied me. It is still yours."

"I cannot take it, father," said young Eben, with some spirit, though not defiantly, "You would not give it to me now, and I cannot receive what does not come from your hearty good will."

"As you choose," said his father. "I certainly would not give it to you now."

And after the young man left the room he picked up the slip of paper and tore it in bits before throwing it into the fire. Then, seating himself at the table, he rang for his breakfast. When it was brought, however, he sat for an hour looking straight before him and finally, leaving it untouched, he arose and went to his office.

"God help your poor father," said Mildred as she nestled in young Eben's arms in the shelter of their new home the night before Christmas.

"Amen!" said young Eben. "He is poor, indeed, in loneliness, but I never can cease loving him."

CHAPTER II.

It was a bright, happy year for the youngsters, contrary to the laws of fiction, for they had love and hope and hard work to fill the time and good common sense to guide them, but old Eben had never relented, and there

CHRISTMAS SONG.

WHY do bells for Christmas ring?
Why do little children sing?

Once a lovely shining star
Been by shepherds from afar
Gently moved until its light
Made a manger's cradle bright.

There a darling baby lay
Pillowed soft upon the hay,
And its mother sang and smiled,
"This is Christ, the holy child."

Therefore bells for Christmas ring;
Therefore little children sing.

—Eugene Field, in Chicago Herald.

Probably the most striking fact in connection with MASON & RISCH PIANOS is their suitability to all conditions. That they satisfy the social and aesthetic sense is evidenced by the fact that our cultured homes, from Rideau Hall down, use them. The fact that

After Acuto Bronchitis

CURED BY USING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

TWO CHRISTMAS EVES.

was a shadow over the little home, happy as it was. One evening late in the year young Eben had come home from his work and settled himself, as his habit was, to study, when he was suddenly interrupted.

"I want to talk a little while," said Mildred, pulling his book away and seating herself on his knee.

"Good," said young Eben, smiling, "but you must pay for my time."

But after she had done that very satisfactorily with a kiss she sat for a long time with her head on his shoulder, saying nothing till at length he said, "I thought you wanted to talk to me, dear?"

Still she was silent a moment, as if it were hard to begin. Then she said, "What would you like best for a Christmas present?"

Young Eben laughed. "It's some time to Christmas yet," he said. "I hadn't thought. Besides you gave me the most precious gifts in the world last Christmas. Anything else would seem very small after that."

"How lovely to say that!" she exclaimed, kissing him again. "And to say it as if you meant it. But that is just what I am afraid of."

This was bewildering. "What are you afraid of?" asked young Eben.

"I think"—she faltered, "that the angels are going to bring you—about Christmas time—a blessed gift, straight from heaven, and I'm afraid you'll love it more than you do me. Then came a flood of tears—happy ones that young Eben was too wise to try to stop.

"FOOL!" SHE BEGAN.

Old Eben might have softened a bit if he had known about this, but, of course, he didn't. He kept himself well informed about the lad he loved, but proud as he was to see that his son could make his way in the world without help, he was sensitive enough to feel it an injury to his own importance and unreasonable enough to feel his anger increasing week by week. One day when he was more incensed than usual he made a will leaving all his fortune to a distant cousin, Alice Withers, who had come to keep house for him.

And so the breach seemed hopeless, but Christmas was coming again, and strange magic is working everywhere in the Christmas season, softening men's hearts and quickening all impulses to peace and good will. As the year drew to a close old Eben grew weaker and more infirm. Day after day he sat alone, careless of his business, thinking always of his ruined hopes and eating his heart out. On young Eben's birthday he shut himself in his room and would see no one, but he was harder than ever next day. hopes and eating his heart. On young Eben's birthday he shut himself in his room and would see no one, but he was harder than ever next day.

Nothing moved him till that strange magic of Christmastide came. Here, there and everywhere it worked, penetrating even old Eben's mansion despite the barred doors, and reaching his stony heart as he sat thinking of his well beloved son, and of his wife of his youth, so long dead.

It was another stormy Christmas eve. Suddenly he rang for a servant, and sent for his lawyer in haste and within an hour he sat alone again, looking with a happy smile at the new will he had made. "I will go to my son in the morning," he said to himself, "and we will have a happy Christmas once more."

Smiling tenderly, he fell asleep in his armchair in front of the great open fire place, where the flames were roaring up the chimney. After a time he awoke with a start.

Between him and the fire stood Alice reading the will he had just made. She was furious with rage as he saw at a glance, and just as he started she was about to tear the document in two.

With an angry cry he leaped forward, his indignation giving him a strength he had not felt for months. His cry startled her, and with a quick movement she cast the paper into the flames before he could reach her. Then with a mocking laugh she turned toward him.

"Fool!" she began. "Do you think."

And then she stopped. The shock had been too much for the old man, and he fell on the floor before her insensible.

That night in young Eben's cottage there came a feeble wail, telling that a new born soul had flown in through the storm to the warm shelter of a happy mother's arms. All was well, the nurse said as she brought the lusty man child out, for Eben to see, and the young father's heart was moved with a great yearning. It must not be, he thought, that there should be any anger or hatred any more in the world. Whatever lay in his power he would do to bring peace.

So, when the first excitement was over and he was told that Mildred was asleep, and must not be disturbed, he buttoned himself in his greatcoat and set out in the storm to seek his father's house and ask once more for his love.

The wind buffeted him, and he laughed. The driving snow beat upon him, and he shook it off lightly. Suddenly a paper fluttered along on the gale and struck him in the face, and he instinctively reached up and caught it. Then, stepping under a light, he looked to see what it might be.

Here was magic, if you please. The will that Alice had thrown into the flames had been caught in the roaring draft of the old-fashioned chimney and had been carried by the spirit of Christmas straight to the hands of the heir. It was scorched a little, but not injured.

Young Eben glanced through it and then noted the date, and with a glad shout sprang forward again. At his father's door Alice met and would have stopped him, but he pushed her aside with a laugh and went straight to the old man's room.

There lay old Eben, weak from his fainting fit, but little worse for it.

"My son! My son!" he cried out eagerly. "Now I can die in peace."

"Die nothing!" exclaimed young Eben with a cheery laugh, "God has sent you a grandson and a son tonight. You'll have many a merry Christmas yet with me and mine."

And so it was.

Carving the Christmas Goose.

One must learn, first of all, to carve neatly, without scattering crumbs or splashing gravy over the cloth or platter; also to cut straight, uniform slices. Be careful to divide the material in such a manner that each person may be served equally well. Lay each portion on the plate with the browned or best side up. An essential to easy carving is that the platter be large enough to hold not merely the fowl or joint while whole, but also the several portions as they are detached. The platter should be placed near the carver so he may easily reach any part of it. All skewers and strings should be removed before the dish is brought to the table.

Measure for Measure.

G'adys—What a horrid, rude thing that Mr. Flirtmash is! He stole six kisses while I was standing under a holly wreath and claimed he thought the holly was mistletoe.

Edna—What did you do about it?

Gladys—Do? I did what any other self-respecting girl would do under the circumstances—I made the horrid thing return every one of them.

Others have found health, vigor and vitality in Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it surely has power to help you also. Why not try it?

A Long Nose.

Elephantiasis is a peculiar form of leprosy in which the limbs and features swell to horrible proportions and out of all semblance to the legs, arms and faces of human beings. Cases are known where the legs have become so swollen that they measured four and a half feet in circumference. The ears of the same victim, Walter Brisbane, an English sailor, were eighteen inches in length, and his nose elongated to upwards of two feet when in the last stages of the horrible malady.

Conditional.

"Doctor, do you think that a little mince pie now and then would hurt me?"

"Not if you can have it in the house without eating any of it."

Accommodating.

Tenant—"If you don't have that roof patched we will be drowned out."

Landlord—"I'll send you down half a dozen life preservers. Anything else?"

Good Enough.

Counsel—And you say now you are on good terms with this judge?

Handcuff Harry—Pretty good. About six months as a rule.

"I have been troubled for some time with severe pains in the side and back. I took many medicines of various kinds, but got no relief.

"The box of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at W. H. Jeff & Co's. drugstore gave me wonderful relief from the start. The improvement in my general health is not the least of the benefits which I have derived from the use of this remarkable kidney remedy.

WRITING CONTEST.

Prizes Donated by Mr. H. Calcutt to Ashburnham Public School.

Last summer Mr. H. Calcutt, who always takes a deep interest in educational matters, offered two prizes to the Third, Fourth and Fifth Classes of Ashburnham Public School for the best vertical writing at the December examinations.

The contest took place last week, and and the papers were submitted to Inspector Brown, who very kindly consented to act as judge. His decisions were as follows:

First prize—Mollie Blois. She receives $1.00

Second prize—Laura Craig. She receives 50 cents.

Mabel Scott took third place, and Edith Beattie fourth place, and many others were almost as good.

By giving these prizes, Mr. Calcutt encouraged the pupils very much in their efforts to become good writers, and he deserves and receives the hearty thanks of the teachers, pupils, and all interested in the welfare of Ashburnham Public School.

AN OPEN LETTER.

To Candidates for the Council of 1897—The Treatment of the Deserving Unemployed.

GENTLEMEN,—We would respectfully draw your attention to a question of importance which has hitherto received no practical solution. We refer to the question of providing work during the winter season for the unemployed poor. If a man be out of work and out of money in Peterborough he must beg or starve. The town does not provide temporary employment for those who are unable to find work. Strange to say, it prefers to give charity. It would be a timely and excellent act for some man to take this matter up and deal with it thoroughly and properly.

Yours, etc.,
A MEMBER OF CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Cure Where Other Pills Fail.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Effected a Lasting Cure—The Grateful Woman Tells how she was Restored to Health—Let Others Profit by Her Experience.

As long as one can eat well and sleep well, one's health is not materially impaired. Food and sleep are Nature's restoratives. Many an ache or pain, many a deficient secretion or abnormal excretion, is overlooked in the beginning until slumber and digestion are effected.

Then the patient becomes alarmed.

Kidney diseases may be detected early by examination of the urine. But most people let that pass without paying attention. When Kidney Disease becomes further advanced, they affect the nerves of brain and stomach. Appetite fades away and Insomnia stalks in.

Stop the encroachments of Kidney Diseases at the outset. Take care of your Kidneys and your Kidneys will take care of you.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the Restoratives of Science. Made from harmless herbs they act directly upon the kidneys and repair them. At any stage of Kidney Disease they are the medicine to use.

Never known to fail. Thousands of cures. Here's one:

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Dec. 3.—Mrs. Lydia King, of 63 Beech street, certifies to the value of Dodd's Kidney Pills, after having tried various other pills in vain for relief, she writes: "I have been troubled with Kidney Disease, which led me to insomnia. At times my urine was very bad and I could not hold it. I tried several other medicines but of no use. I heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and I concluded to try them, and I can highly recommend them, as they have been the means of curing my disease.

PROF. GREGOR'S LECTURE.

The Life and Accomplishments of the Great German Poet, Goethe.

The Ottawa Citizen of Friday, Dec. 18th, has the following in reference to Prof. Gregor, of McGill University, who will deliver his great lecture on Goethe, in the George street Methodist church, to-morrow evening, when the admission will be free—a silver collection being accepted at the door. The Citizen says:—

"A rare treat was enjoyed last evening by a fairly large and thoroughly appreciative audience in the lecture hall of the Normal School building. Professor Gregor, Ph.D., of Heidelberg University, who occupies the chair of German in McGill University, brought to his subject a wealth of knowledge and appreciation that put his hearers "en rapport" with the subject—Goethe. All who had the privilege of hearing the lecturer were delighted. The doctor touched on the youth of Goethe—his mother's beautiful character, and great influence on her son, his student life and early love of letters, relations towards his college professors, his distaste for professional life, his invitation and subsequent appointment as Prime Minister to the Court at Weimar. Goethe's chief works, including his great masterpiece, "Faust," his sincere friendship for Schiller, his undisputed pre-eminence in the whole field of German literature, his culture, fondness for art and science, were all dwelt upon. Prof. Gregor has a pleasing manner and an impressive delivery.

THE CHICAGO PANIC

President Lyman Gage Uses Strong Expressions

REGARDING FIRST NATIONAL BANK

One Black Sheep Does Not Indicate That the Whole Flock is Bad—Other Banks are in Good Shape—The Bank of Minnesota, at St. Paul, Goes Under,

Chicago, Dec. 22.—Lyman G. Gage, president of the First National Bank, said last evening concerning the National Bank of Illinois suspension : "It is better that such an institution should be pushed to the wall instead of continuing and spreading out. If there is one black sheep in the flock that is no indication that all are the same color. The fact that there is one liar is not sufficient fact that we are all liars. True, we expected the election of McKinley would bring good times and stable financial conditions in its wake. There is no reason as yet to doubt that belief. McKinley's administration, or rather his election, cannot prevent results of mismanagement. Nothing can secure a situation in which bad loans and bad management generally are at fault. It would be unjust to say that the temporary disquiet is confined to all the banks dependent on and clearing through the National Bank of Illinois, because there are some sound banks among the number which survive the ordeal. It cannot be denied that these failures will have a discouraging effect. They certainly will not be conducive to any good. There is something gained, however, by the fact that such an institution is out of the way."

The comptroller of the currency called for statements from the National banks yesterday, showing their condition at the close of business on Dec. 17.

Fourteen of the banks in Chicago had completed their statements last night. These included nearly all the larger banks. The showing made by them is an exceedingly satisfactory one, and makes a good comparison with the last statement. The fourteen banks show total loans of $63,639,223, as compared with $63,665,693 on Oct. 6. The total deposits are $94,391,452, as compared with $83,258,208. The cash resources amount to $47,896,089, as compared with $37,761,503 on Oct. 6. The legal requirement in reserve is 25 per cent., or for the fourteen banks, as shown in the statements, the required reserve is $23,597,863, while there is held $47,396,089, or more than 50 per cent. There is held in excess of the legal requirements $24,298,226.

At the other National, private and state banks there was an ordinary transaction of business, with no more people paying their respects to the paying teller than to the receiving teller. In banking circles the general opinion is that yesterday's failures will end the present troubles.

Shortly after 11 o'clock a crowd of depositors gathered at the Hibernian Banking Association, in the Ashland Block, to withdraw their savings. This bank is regarded as one of the strongest in the city, having withstood every panic. For this reason it is one of the largest depositories for savings in this city. President Clarke, in an interview, said the savings bank would take advantage of the law by which demands for $50 or more must be accompanied with a 30-days' notice, and $100 or more by a 60-days' notice. Demands of less than $50 will be paid on sight. Mr. Clarke said the bank had 75 per cent. of its reserve funds on hand and could stand a run of two months if necessary.

A heavy run on the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank in the Rookery Building, began as soon as the doors were open for business this morning. There is not the slightest connection between the failed National Bank of Illinois and the Illinois Trust Company. During the excitement yesterday there was only a small increase of withdrawals from the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, and the officers of the bank said they were willing to let the depositors in the savings department have all the money due them if they called for it, as it meant a big saving of interest money for the bank. The bank anticipated a run to-day and there is such a heavy reserve fund of idle money in the vaults that President John Mitchell has no misgivings as to the ability of his bank to pay a few millions, if necessary. At the Garden City Banking and Trust Company's bank the run of yesterday had practically run out its length.

ST. PAUL BANK GONE DOWN.

Lack of Ready Money Caused the Bank of Minnesota to Close Up.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 22.—The Bank of Minnesota, William Dawson, president; Robert A. Smith, vice-president, and William Dawson, jr., cashier, closed its doors at 11 o'clock this morning. Lack of ready money was the cause.

According to the last statement of the Bank of Minnesota it had a paid-up capital of $600,000, surplus $150,000, undivided profits $143,700, individual deposits $2,145,250, bank deposits $502,540, and loans and discounts $2,433,990.

State Bank Examiner Kenyon this morning took official possession of the books and assets of the bank, closing its doors, pending a thorough investigation of its affairs. The bank has been in need of ready cash for some time. At a meeting of the clearing house at noon the bank was formally suspended, upon the report of the Banking Committee. A special committee has also been appointed by the Clearing House Committee to prepare a statement for the public. This committee, in advance of this statement, informed a representative of the United Associated Presses that the bank would undoubtedly resume business in a short time and protect all of its creditors in full. The directors are all men of wealth and property interests and they have already signified a willingness to meet the requirements of the occasion.

Two Other Banks Gone.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 22.—The Union Stock Yards Bank of South St. Paul and the State Bank of St. Paul, both of which cleared through the Bank of Minnesota, have closed their doors.

MR BENNETT WILL VACATE

The East Simcoe Seat Will be Open by the Resignation of the Sitting Member

Barrie, Dec. 22.—(Special)—To-day's proceedings in the East Simcoe election trial were somewhat more interesting. The court room remained well filled during the whole sitting, which lasted from 9.30 a.m. till 7 p.m., with one hour off at midday. So far 22 witnesses have been examined, and a number of charges dismissed, while judgment has been reserved in two cases, but the number of charges yet to be investigated indicates a long sitting to-morrow and possibly the trial may extend over part of Thursday, as well. The petitioner was all week to attend his pleadings this morning, and the name of John Thomas was substituted for that of Norman Thompson who was wrongly named as an agent of the respondent. Another charge, numbered sixty, was also added and will be heard to-morrow.

A portion of the forenoon was occupied with the examination of Mr. Coste, an officer of the Public Works Department, in reference to some dredging, said to have been done at Midland, under the direction of Mr. Bennett, for Chew Bros., who have a mill at that place, but further particulars were deferred until to-morrow.

It is learned here at a late hour to-night that in all probability Mr. Bennett will vacate his seat and the recent election be declared void. The parties to the petition have apparently come to an understanding at a hole-in-the-corner meeting just held, and each side will pay its own costs. This comes in the nature of a surprise, as when court adjourned this evening, it was the general opinion that Mr. Bennett would retain his seat.

WEALTH RUINED THEM.

The Harrowing Story of Kate Lowery, Formerly of Durham, Ont., and Her Family.

Buffalo, N.Y., Dec. 22.—A pathetic story was that told to Judge King in Police Court to-day by Mrs. A. J. Irish, who, accompanied by two children, one 4 years old and the other two, applied for a warrant for the father and mother of the children on the ground of abandonment. About five years ago Robert Caldwell married Kate Lowery. The wedding at the time created somewhat of a sensation, for the bride was but 16 years of age. The two began life in the old First Ward and got along nicely. The two children were born and the home was a happy one. Good fortune seemed to dwell in the house. About two years ago Kate Caldwell fell heir to $5000. Then there was a change in their lives. They spent the money freely, and in a short time had forgotten their old ideas of thrift. In a short time the little fortune had been dissipated, and the family removed to Durham, Ont., and went to live with Mrs. Lowery, Mrs. Caldwell's mother. About five weeks ago Caldwell left Durham and came to this city. Three weeks later his wife followed, leaving the children with their grandmother. Mrs. Lowery followed them here with the children and left the latter in the care of Mrs. Irish a week ago Thursday last, promising to come for them next day. She did not reappear, having immediately returned to her Canadian home. One of the children had been operated upon by a doctor and is totally blind. The other is partially blind. They were scantily dressed and excited the commiseration of the Police Court spectators. The judge directed Mrs. Irish to have them made comfortable at his expense and issued warrants for the arrest of the inhuman parents.

Four Men Probably Lost.

Tacoma, Dec. 22.—Alaskan papers of Dec. 10 bring the announcement that George Wilson, James Hurley, Indian "Big Charley," and a man named Harris, have been missing since Nov. 9. They left Wrangel in a small boat, expecting to go a short distance and return the same day. No food or blankets were taken along. During the day a heavy storm swept over that section.

A large number of families in Union County, Arkansas, are starving.

Writes a Gentlemanly Letter to the American People—He is Glad of the Power of Veto Vested in the President of the United States.

New York, Dec. 22.—President Tomas Estrada Palma of the Cuban Junta has received a letter from J. A. Huau, the Jacksonville agent of the Cuban republic, stating that there need not now be the slightest doubt that Gen. Maceo was killed. He said he has made a careful investigation of the reports through persons stationed at Havana and that the result was a confirmation that Maceo fell and was buried in a canefield. The location of the grave is known only to those who conducted the burial.

Cubans Have a Government.

Paris, Dec. 22.—The Gil Blas (newspaper) publishes a report of an interview with Senor Betances, the representative of the Cuban Insurgents in Paris, in which he declares that the assertion that the revolutionists in Cuba have no government is false. The Cubans, he says, have an organized government in the form of a Junta, whose members are acting together under the assent of the active participants in the rebellion and a majority of the inhabitants of the island. The sympathy of the American people with the Cubans, Senor Betances says, is entirely unselfish and springs from a feeling of compassion for the victims of Spanish tyranny.

Have Been Secretly Preparing.

Madrid, Dec. 22.—A despatch to The Imparcial from Havana says: Three thousand troops have sailed for Manzanilla to join the forces near that place in an attack upon the insurgents under Gen. Garcia, who is now holding the road to Bayamo.

The Madrid and provincial press continue their campaign of denunciation against the United States, but their columns contain nothing new in the way of abuse of the American Government. It is asserted that the Spanish Government has been secretly preparing for war for some time past.

Cotton Growers Object.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 22.—The cotton exchange has passed resolutions declaring that the recognition of Cuba would be "instrumental in lowering the values of all farm products, our greatest export product, cotton, to the benefit of the foreign consumers and the detriment and injury of the American producers. We feel that it is unnecessary for us to affirm our loyalty to this nation, but in case of necessity we pledge our unanimous support to maintain the honor and integrity of this republic."

Cameron's Bill Will Not Go.

New York, Dec. 22.—A Washington special to The Times says the Cameron Cuban resolution will not pass Congress.

Cameron will be fortunate if he gets it through the Senate. Sentiment against it is too strong for its friends to get it passed in the two months remaining of the session.

Castelar to the Americans.

New York, Dec. 22.—A Madrid special to The Journal contains an address signed by ex-Premier Castelar to the American people, giving his views upon the situation in Spain and the United States. The address recites the reforms heretofore granted to Cuba and says the same liberty of conscience, instruction, the press and public meeting as is allowed here in Spain is allowed them, but nobody could prevent them from trying to establish a sovereignty by arms. Referring to the United States, he says: The American constitution has distinguished between Americans and naturalized citizens, requiring the condition of birth in America for election to the Presidency. This is wise, for now we see the difference between Cleveland, who is prudent, and those who would rush the United States into war. For one thing it has assured a President who is shielding us from the recognition of belligerency or independence of a republic that has no existence, who is shielding us from the craziest of resolutions, which would have the inevitable effect of bringing on war. And as Mr. Cleveland has acted, so will McKinley. As a Republican he will, perhaps, do even more than would a Democrat to discourage jingoes who advocate a war, bound to be equally fatal to the victor and vanquished, breaking the bonds of association which bind the Old World to the new. I deduce from Mr. Cleveland's message that he will stand as defender of his own theory, not to recognize the belligerency of the Cubans. A liberal government like ours cannot learn from outsiders its faults in governing the Antilles or submit to a mediator. President Cleveland, like myself, was obviously persuaded of the truth when he wrote his message, completely favorable as it was to Spain. What surprises me is the senseless proposition so favorably received by the Senate recommending the acknowledgement of Cuban rebels as belligerents—recommending the independence which is impossible, and which would be a frightful aggravation to the Spanish people and a violation of international courtesy. They tell me that conflict is inevitable. It will be as uncalled-for an aggression on the part of the United States as was that of Napoleon in 1808 when he invaded our territory. We have done everything possible to avoid a war, everything but humiliate ourselves before the strong, and sully our national history with indignation. But if the United States declare for belligerency we will maintain our rights against all odds; but we do not believe, we cannot believe, that the Americans, the humane, the progressive, will declare for it. As for ourselves, we will do everything we can to avoid this sad interference, without pride, but also without timidity.

Weyler Going Out to Fight.

New York, Dec. 22.—A despatch to The Herald from Havana says: Captain-General Weyler will leave Havana immediately for Pinar del Rio to continue his campaign in the field.

Brazil Sympathizes With Cuba.

New York, Dec. 22.—The Herald's Rio Janeiro advices state that the agitation in that city in favor of the Cuban revolutionists continues without abatement. The Cuban committee is organising more meetings of sympathy and for the collection of funds for the insurgents. The university students held a meeting yesterday which was dominated by ardent enthusiasm.

It is officially stated that the Brazilian Government will recognize the belligerency of the Cubans as soon as the United States shall do so.

Paris, Dec. 22.—The Secretary of the Spanish Embassy here, the Marquis De Novallas, has declared that but for American interference the Cuban insurrection would have been terminated long ago. He is quoted as adding: "The recognition of the independence of Cuba by the United States would only be the result of an insignificant whim. I believe that the struggle will terminate before the end of February."

The Soleil says: If the United States recognizes the independence of Cuba, European opinion will unanimously support Spain against America.

Mothers

Anxiously watch declining health of their daughters. So many are cut off by consumption in early years that there is real cause for anxiety. In the early stages, when not beyond the reach of medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore the quality and quantity of the blood and thus give good health. Read the following letter:

"It is but just to write about my daughter Cora, aged 19. She was completely run down, declining, had that tired feeling, and friends said she would not live over three months. She had a bad and nothing seemed to do her any good. I happened to read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and had her give it a trial. From the very first dose she began to get better. After taking a few bottles she was completely cured and her health has been the best ever since." MRS. ADDIS PECK, 12 Railroad Place, Amsterdam, N. Y.

"I will say that my mother has not stated my case in as strong words as I would have done. Hood's Sarsaparilla has truly cured me and I am now well." CORA PECK, Amsterdam, N. Y.

MILLBROOK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Death of W. W. Needler.—It is with deep regret that the public will learn of the death of Mr. W. W. Needler, which sad event took place at the residence of his father, at eleven o'clock Saturday night. Mr. Needler has been ailing for some time and his death was by no means unexpected. The body was conveyed to the English church Tuesday at two o'clock, where service was conducted, after which the funeral proceeded to the front church burying ground for interment.

William Walker Needler was the eldest son of Mr. Geo. Needler, the well known miller of this place, and was born in the year 1856. After receiving a good education he entered the milling business with his father with which he was connected til the commencement of his illness. He was one of Millbrook's most highly respected citizens. From his youth he has been prominently connected with the Anglican church, and for the past eight years has been superintendent of the Sunday school. By his death, therefore, a gap will be left in the church work that will be hard to fill. Dr. Needler, of Toronto University faculty, is a brother of the deceased,

At a meeting of the town council the other evening, on motion of Councillor Bateson, the Electric Light Company were notified that their services for street lighting were no longer required. Thus after enjoying electric light for a little over a year the town will again be in darkness. This move is owing to the very poor service the company has been giving the town.

INJURY AND NEGLECT.

He Failed in Health and Strength—His Kidneys Ached and he Took Doan's Kidney Pills.

Deseronto, Dec. 14 (Special)—Among business people here, and especially by his fellow workmen, great interest has been taken in the case of Mr. James Stokes, who for the past fifteen years has been shipper for the Rathbun Company.

Lately he had run down in health and strength to the point of being compelled to quit work, and his recovery now as the result of using Doan's Kidney Pills is the talk of the town. On seeing Mr. Stokes he said:—

"From over-lifting and strain I suffered greatly from kidney trouble, being advised, after all else had failed, to use Doan's Kidney Pills; from the first dose I got relief, and hundreds of people here can vouch for my cure."

OTONABEE.

Council Meeting.

Councillor Weir was authorized to have the town hall platform widened. The clerk was instructed to write the Telephone Co., whose poles are erected on this municipality, that many of them are obstructing the sides highway that is used for winter roads, and requesting them to have the poles changed where interfering with travel. On motion of Messrs. Johnston and Lancaster, a special grant of $75 was given to widen and raise the road on on 3rd con. line, opposite lot 31, on condition that Ward No. 3 appropriate $100. "I took two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at P. K. Newton's drugstore, and experienced immediate relief from their use.

"I am now very much better indeed; appetite improved, pain almost disappeared and I feel stronger and healthier in every particular.

"I heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

Prof. Robertson Wants to Work Up Poultry Trade

BETWEEN CANADA AND ENGLAND

He is Now in Eastern Ontario Interviewing the Farmers—The Canadian Quarters for the Risley Team—Personal and Other Notes From the Capital.

Ottawa, Dec. 21. (Special) -- Professor Robertson during the past few days has been visiting different points in Eastern Ontario to look into the possibilities of building up a poultry trade with England. The Agricultural Commissioner is more than ever convinced of the possibilities of working up a mutually profitable connection between the Canadian producer and the British consumer. Throughout Eastern Ontario Prof. Robertson found the farmers indisposed to go more extensively into the poultry raising business under the present market conditions. Prices this year ran from 8c to 8 1-2c a pound for good turkeys, while the farmers find that less than 10 cents doesn't make it worth while to feed and fatten for the market. The fall in price is evidently due to the fact that the demands of the home and Boston markets do not keep pace with the supply.

It is Prof. Robertson's belief, after a careful study of the governing conditions, that with cold storage transportation, and systematic catering to the requirements of the British poultry trade, a steady shipment of Canadian turkeys to England might be maintained from October to March, realising prices in England that would yield the Canadian farmer fully ten cents a pound, and at the same time bringing down the price in England to a figure that would encourage consumption among the artisan classes. The Commissioner estimates that three to four cents a pound would cover the cost of cold storage, freight, commission and retailer's profit. Allowing ten cents a pound to the producer, this advance would still give the British consumer his turkey at very little, if any, over the present price of a roast of beef.

The Commissioner was informed by farmers in the vicinity of Smith's Falls that, if assured of an average price of ten cents a pound, they would raise 100 turkeys for the market where they now supply not more than 40 to 50 to each farm. He concludes, therefore, that the exploitation of the English market is well worth the cost of a fair trial.

In response to the invitation of a sub-committee of the council of the Dominion Rifle Association, 11 sets of plans have been sent in for the proposed Canadian headquarters at Bisley. The building is to be constructed of and finished with Canadian woods, and resembling in outward appearance as far as possible a Canadian house, surrounded on the front and ends by a verandah not less than ten feet in width, the whole, whilst not too ornate, to present a pleasing and substantial appearance. The principal object of this building is to make a showing of Canadian woods and their adaptability for inside finish and decoration. Parliament voted $5000 for the structure, but the association proposes to expend about $2500 more on it. The council of the association will meet next month to decide which set of plans shall be accepted.

The Minister of Agriculture and the Dominion Agricultural and Dairy Commissioner will attend the January meetings of the Ontario dairy associations. A CASE OF DIABETES.

No Help from Medical Men—Suffered for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

North Bruce, Dec. 21 (Special).—An old and well known settler in this township, named Thomas Brooks, who lives on lots 7 and 8 in the 14th concession, is rejoicing with his neighbours over his recent recovery, and he said:—

"I was cured by using twenty-four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and, as nothing else ever helped me, I say they saved my life.

"I had tried all the doctors of this locality and was treated for Diabetes, hoping and suffering for years.

"From reading of cures I determined to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I must say that after using the first box I would have considered them reasonable at ten dollars a box."

A VERY SAD CASE.

Tragedy in the Higher Classes of English Society Which Had Very Melancholy Features.

New York, Dec. 20.—A special from Mr. Ballard Smith, London, to a morning paper here, says: Never was there a sadder tragedy in the higher classes of English society, nor one more typical of its recent moral degeneracy than the suicide this week of the beautiful Mrs. Le Champion. She was only 23 years old, was the daughter of a noted soldier of an old family and married two years ago Loftus Le Champion, the son of another old soldier of equal birth. The two had been friends from childhood.

The best man at the wedding was young Lieutenant de Crespigny, an officer of the Guards, the son of Sir Claude, a famous sportsman and a direct descendant of a Norman chief. Mrs. Le Champion last month sued for judicial separation on the ground of her husband's cruelty, and got it, but her husband accused her of improper relations with young de Crespigny, and their child was given into the charge of a third party. Reports of this suit were cabled, but the fact was known to only a few in London, and not disclosed to the public. The husband and the alleged lover had a fist fight last summer at the fashionable Hurlingham Club, behind an aristocratic force of men and women spectators at a polo match. The wife was found dead a few mornings ago with an empty laudnum bottle beside her, and two letters. One letter contained her poor little will, leaving her diamond necklace to her babe, another necklace to Lady de Crespigny and a diamond ring to Claude de Crespigny, the son. The other letter, left unfinished, was to her husband. There was only this sentence: "Dear Loftus,—I am sorry to go without your forgiveness."

At her funeral yesterday, besides the members of her family and all the de Crespignys, Mr. Le Champion, dressed in deep mourning, drove up and stood with a friend at a little distance from the other mourners.

MUNYON TALKS ON Dyspepsia.

HOW TO CURE YOURSELF

In all forms of stomach trouble Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure will promptly cure where there are such symptoms as pain or soreness in the stomach, indigestion or distress after eating, pressure and fullness in the stomach, shortness of breath, poor appetite, coated tongue, sour or bitter raising from the stomach, heartburn, wind on the stomach, constipation, dizziness, faintness and lost energy.

When these symptoms are associated with biliousness, yellow-coated tongue, nausea, bitter taste in the mouth and sallow skin take Munyon's Liver Cure in alternation with the Dyspepsia Cure, an hour apart. Where there is obstinate constipation keep the bowels open once a day by using Munyon's Constipation Cure until they become regular under the effect of the Dyspepsia Cure. When there are troublesome heart symptoms alternate Munyon's Heart Cure with the Dyspepsia Cure. If there is great nervousness or inability to sleep, alternate Munyon's Nerve Cure with the Dyspepsia Cure. If the blood is poor in quality alternate Munyon's Blood Cure and Dyspepsia Cure. By this plan of treatment one can eradicate the worst forms of stomach troubles and their complications, and make the cure permanent.

A separate specific for each disease. Sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cents a bottle.

Personal letters to Prof. Munyon, 23 and 25 Albert street, Toronto, answered with free medical advice for any disease.

Holly.

Not one pretty flower would stay
When old autumn nipped the grass,
For she had a cruel way,
Though as red cheeked as a lass.
Winter had our northland taken,
His white flags by winds outshaken.

What, then, was there bright enough
For the merry Christmas day?
"Good Dame Nature, be less rough,"
Said the folks. "Leave storms, we pray.
Bring some posies and be cheery,
Lest she find the world be dreary."

"What are posies in the gleam
Of my beautiful white frost?"
Said the old dame from her dream.
"By the hedge, all snow embossed, Bloom itself the glad day carries,"
And she held up holly berries.

How their scarlet brightness shone
In the morning's airy tracks!
Nature is a wise old crone.
She knows what a picture lacks.
Winter lost is melancholy.
Christmas laughed to see the holly.

Since that hour, now far away,
When time's tired wing was light,
In the path of Christmas day
Always shines the berries bright,
And mid all its tender folly
Gleams the blush of Christmas holly.

PETERBOROUGHS START THE SEASON WELL.

TORONTO HOCKEYISTS WERE BADLY BEATEN.

The Dashing Forward Line of the Home Team is as Effective as Ever And the Defense is Well High Impregnable.

That the Peterboroughs are as invincible as of yore was amply demonstrated to the crowd of cheering hockey enthusiasts, which saw them easily defeat the Imperial Bank team of Toronto at the rink last night.

The visitors were a dashing crowd of players, but their combination rush seldom got past Sam Adams at cover, and when it did Montgomery appeared to be impossible to get around.

The teams lined up as follows :

Foster	goal	E Wasson
Paterson	point	W J Montgomery
Kavanah	cover point	S Adams (Capt)
Cosby	forwards	R Davidson
Thorne		W Phelan
Sprague		L King
Whitely (Capt)		C Graham
A. Allen	umpires	W E Leon

Referee—H Kirby.

THE SUPERIORITY

of the Peterboroughs was perceptible from the start, when after a scrimmage on centre ice, Graham and King made a fast rush up the ice and, easily getting through the visitors defense, nearly scored. The same trick was repeated again and again, and the shots rained thick and fast on the Toronto goal, but as the boys have only had one practice this year their shooting was slightly off colour for the first five minutes. The spectators expected to see the home team go to pieces at any minute on account of being out of trim, but their staying power seemed to increase as the game went on. King finally scored out of a scrimmage in front of the Imperial goal. After this it was easy. So easy, in fact, that the boys had an opportunity of giving each man on the team the work in turn in order that their individual strength might be judged. Naturally the greatest interest was centred on Chris. Graham, who was the first of the younger players to be given a trial with the seniors. He acquitted himself favourably and by his work certainly earned a PLACE ON THE TEAM.

He proved himself to have a quick eye and to be as fast as any man on the ice in his rush, with the probable exception of King. His dodging and interference are both good and though he is not as well up in lifting and shooting, as the other forwards, yet it is thought that with practice he will improve on this point. Everyone was pleased with the showing he made.

Lionel King seems to be even faster this year than ever. His marvellous side shots were made with greater accuracy than ever and judging by the way in which the puck struck the boards, the velocity with which it flew from his stick to the goal must have been something terrific. As in the old days a good deal of the shooting devolved upon him, but in the latter part of the game the puck was passed to Phelan to allow him to show what he could do with it, and the way he sent it through the flags must have made the unfortunate Toronto goal man think that were going past him. Although revelling in a superfluity of adipose tissue, "Scuddy" is all there when called upon, and is still the backbone of the team. With a few pounds' reduction in weight, he will play the best game of his life, and that is saying a good deal. Never did his close checking show up to better advantage than last night.

Roger Davidson played his hard, steady game of last season, but being a most unselfish player he didn't do much scoring, being content to participate in the rush, and allow the opposite wing to do the tallying.

Sam Adams at cover point was an enigma, which the visitors could not solve. His interference, and the manner in which he broke up their rushes was as fine an exhibition of scientific hockey as has ever been seen on the local rink. The other defence men were hardly given a chance to show what they could do. The of the visitors seemed to avail them nothing, as Sam seemed to be on both sides of the rink at once and intercepted the puck at every turn. The only way to pass him, it seemed was by lifting the puck over his head and out of reach of his stick, and when it did get down around the Peterborough goal there was the invincible "Monty," the nonpareil of Canadian point men, and he seemed to think that his special mission was to fool those Toronto men. When the visitors heard that he thought of giving up playing because his eyesight was not as good as in former years, they looked as though they thought that the Peterborough boys could prevaricate even better than they could play hockey, as the game which Montgomery put up was "a thing of beauty and a joy forever."

Ernie Wasson, in goal, had little or nothing to do during the early part of the game, but just before the whistle blew Adams and Montgomery got out of the way and let the Toronto forwards in on him. He had his work cut out for him then and the shots on goal rained thick and fast from every side, but by quickness and coolness he was able to stop everything that came along, playing as pretty a blocking game as has been witnessed on the ice for years. Although the Intermediate team is most anxious for his services, the seniors cannot spare him, as by his work last night he showed an aptitude for goal defense, which places him in the front rank of defense men.

The score at the close was announced as being 7—2 in favour of Peterborough.

Mr. H. Kirby, of Ottawa, proved a most satisfactory referee. He was a member of the Capitals when they were champions of Canada and so was well posted on the points of the game and had an eagle eye for offsides.

The attendance was not as large as it might have been through insufficient advertising. It takes printer's ink to make the rink populous. If the Peterborough people are made aware of the date of a good match they will be there.

Just received, 200 cloth bound books, regular price 40c., this week 25 cents. A second lot, gilt tops, regular price 50c., for 30 cents—at SAILSBURY'S.

Chinese Laundries.

The Toronto Star is starting a crusade against the Chinese laundries. There are now over 2,000 people employed in the regular laundry business in Toronto, most of whom are women and girls. The Chinese are cutting into the business seriously, and many of these females are losing their places. Toronto is feeling the truthfulness of Rev. Maxwell's remarks in Parliament.

A MEETING OF THE BOARD OF TRADE.

The Question of Inducing an Important Industry to Remove to Peterborough—Disseminating the Advantages of Peterborough as a Market Centre—Mr. Cahill Made a member—Other and Minor Matters.

A statutory meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Council Chamber last night. There were present Mr. Benj. Shortley, president, in the chair, Mr. H. S. Knapman, secretary, Messrs. T. A. Hay, A. L. Davis, F. J. Rogers, B. S. Ackerman, Geo. McWilliams, Geo. W. Ramsay, F. H. Dobbin, W. Manson, R. Fair, and T. E. Bradburn.

The secretary submitted the following communications.

From the Board of Trade, Guelph, stating that that board had considered the resolution of the Peterborough Board in regard to memoralising the government to give six months notice of the coming into effect of tariff changes, and did not see its way clear to act upon the resolution, and thought it would be unwise to interfere with the government regarding the tariff question at the present time.

This was the only answer returned from the large number of boards of trade to which a circular respecting the resolution had been sent.—Received.

From the Pope Manufacturing Company, respecting their intention of not establishing a branch in Peterborough.—Received.

From the Navy League, of Toronto, asking the co-operation of the Board respecting the subsidising of steamship lines and the inability of Canadian seamen to form a part of the Imperial Naval Reserve. The communication was referred to the Council of the Board to report upon the subject.

Mr. T. Cahill was proposed and elected a member of the Board.

COLLECTION OF TAXES.

Mr. T. A. Hay moved, seconded by Mr. F. H. Dobbin, that it is the opinion of the Board it would be beneficial to the ratepayers of Peterborough if the collection of taxes were divided so that half would be collected early in the summer and the balance at the expiration of six months, and that the Town Council be requested to consider the matter with a view of carrying out this arrangement.

Mr. Hay said a great many people had spoken to him in favour of making the payment of taxes in instalments.

The chairman favoured the principle but thought the first date was too early.

The general opinion was that the proposal was a step in the right direction, and the resolution was adopted.

MARKET REPORTS FOR THE OUTSIDE.

Mr. R. Fair brought up the matter of publishing weekly market reports and sending them to certain country post offices outside of the county, where the local papers did not circulate. He thought that this means of making known the advantages of our excellent market would result in bringing to town many persons who do not now visit it.

The matter was referred, on motion of Mr. Fair and Mr. Bradburn, to the Mercantile Committe to investigate and report.

A NEW MANUFACTORY.

Mr. Neil brought up the matter of a manufacturing company, which proposed enlarging its operations and erecting additional buildings. The enterprise had an output of about $400,000 a year, employed 200 people, with a daily pay roll of $225. Mr. Neil said he had got from the directors what would be the least inducement that would tempt the removal of the factory to Peterborough. This was for Peterborough to pay half the cost of new buildings, grant exemption from taxes, pay the cost of removing present machinery and guarantee of water power at the present rate, $200 per year. The buildings required would be: one building four stories high, 40x50, one 12x15, one 12x20, one 30x30 and a warehouse three stories in height, 50x100. The separate buildings were required to meet the demands of the insurance companies. It was necessary to deal with the matter promptly, as the board of directors of the company would meet next Monday. If the reply were favourable Mr. Neill had no doubt that the company would hold the matter in abeyance for a time. Mr. Neill said he had no interest in promoting the removal except his desire to benefit the town.

Mr. Kendry thought it would be a good thing for the town, but in view of the uncertainty of the cost of removing machinery, he would prefer that the town erect the buildings entirely and leaving matter of removal to the company. The scheme was worthy of encouragement, and as the one pressing need of the town was new manufacturing enterprises, he would be glad to have the Board of Trade deal with the matter.

Mr. Meldrum suggested that the proposed company would employ as many hands as the Electric Company, which cost the town about $38,000, and he thought no ratepayer would like to see that enterprise leave the town, (hear, hear) and he thought we should generously encourage new manufactures, else the town would go back. We had to have factories here to maintain a prosperous career. He thought the question of water power at the same rate was an obstacle, on account of the nominal rate charged at the present site of the factory.

Mr. Davis pointed out that debentures for $35,000 would represent a cost of $1,500 a year, which would be met by the taxes paid by increased population, with a return of $70,000 a year in wages, which would be spent in the town, and an increase in population by about four hundred. If he were rich enough to own the town, it would not be long before he would give the town the benefit of the presence of the proposed factory.

Mr. Kendry moved, seconded by Mr. Meldrom, that it is the opinion of this Board that the town should make every effort within its power to induce the company in question and that after thoroughly considering the matter, that the town would be warranted in going to an expense of from $30,000 to $35,000 to secure the said factory.—Carried unanimously.

Mr. Hay brought up the matter of the encroachment of citizens upon the land between the river bank and the C. P. R. spur line and a resolution looking to secure this for the town was adopted, and the Board adjourned.

Kells & Co's. Doll Attraction.

The artistically dressed plate glass windows of Messrs. R. H. Kells & Co. have been the admiration of the ladies during the past week. But to the little ladies of the town, the north window has been "a thing of beauty and a joy forever." There have been more sighs heaved and more heart longings breathed in front of this particular window by the little maidens, 13 years and under, than will ever be recorded. The heart-aches which that prim little doll has caused, dressed in all her "little brief authority," beckoning to hundreds of eager little eyes that the fascinating elf has attracted, only the big basketful of letters addressed to Santa Claus can adequately reveal. As already announced, this beautiful prize doll will be given away to the fortunate young lady, 13 years or under, who will have written the best and most original letter to Santa Claus. A heavy task awits the committee of ladies to whom is assigned the duty of deciding the result of the competition. All the little girls interested are requested to be present at Mr. Kells' store between 8 and 9 o'clock on Christmas eve, when the doll will be awarded. Mr. Kells will have a surprise prepared for all, and it is expected that none of the children will be allowed to go away disappointed.

LECTURE ON "GOETHE."

Dr. Gregor, of McGill University Gives an Interesting Address.

Last evening Dr. Gregor, of McGill Univerity, lectured on "Goethe" in George street Methodist church. The lecture well repaid the audience for coming out on so cold a night. Dr. Gregor dealt with the whole range of Goethe's life, work and literary influence, and some phases of his private life as well.

Rev. Dr. Torrance moved and Mr. Sheriff Hall seconded a very cordial vote of thanks.

The lecturer gave his services wholly free to the charities interested, and has the satisfaction of having conferred both a financial and literary benefit.

CLOSING EXERCISES

At the Central and South Central Kindergartens.

The interest in the work of the Kindergartens has steadily increased in Peterborough, since the introduction of the system, and manifested itself yesterday in an overflowing attendance at the closing exercises of the Central and South Central classes.

In some sections the system has not flourished with the vigour which is desirable and in several instances it has had to be relinquished altogether, but not so in Peterborough. The superior educational advantages enjoyed by the town has apparently so raised the standard of all classes, that the merits of the Kindergarten were at once appreciated and it is now universally recognized as one of the strongest factors in our deservedly lauded curriculum of study.

Yesterday numbers had actually to be turned away from the doors and the proposition therefore to hereafter hold the exercises in the market hall or opera house should be received with favour by the Board of Education. The kindergarten class rooms in both schools were most beautifully decorated for the occasion with evergreens, holy and flags, whilst the windows were hung with gay tinsel drapings, cut in pleasing patterns by the tiny little ones in attendance.

At the Central kindergarten Miss Warner is in charge, being assisted by Misses Mamie Hall, Lottie Smith, Elsie Cameron. Miss Smith presided at the piano yesterday and to her sympathetic interpretation of the various accompaniments, much of the success of the progress made is due. Music possessing a wonderful influence apparently on the minds of the children.

The regular staff was also assisted for the afternoon by Miss Laura Collins.

In the South Central Miss Lillie Davidson is in charge, and by her winsome manner has won the love of her little charges to a degree which ensures her success in the work. She is ably assisted in her efforts by Misses Ada Gillespie, Lillie Bacon and Jennie Allen.

The exercises were almost identical in both schools, opening with a prayer recited in concert, when all the little heads were humbly bowed in worship. Afterwards the hymn "God is Love" was sung, and then the bright song of welcome and the the Christmas greeting.

Songs indicative of the season were sung in sequence, interspersed with other pleasing little ditties, the programme being as follows:

ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL CHARITY ENTERTAINMENT.

A Great Success in the Catholic Association Rooms—Beautifully Decorated Apartments—Everything Successful—Large Attendance—Liberal Sales—An Out-and-out Success—Continued this Evening—A Fine Musical Programme to be Presented.

The rooms of the Catholic Literary Association were yesterday transformed into a perfect bower of beauty by the committee of ladies having in charge the Christmas tree entertainment in aid of the House of Providence—St. Joseph's Hospital. The entertainment was under the personal supervision of Mother Vincent, and she is certainly to be congratulated on the success of the first day, as the rooms were crowded until a late hour in the evening.

Upon going through the main entrance into the dining hall, one is struck with the beauty of the decorations which adorn the walls and gasaliers. There is a profusion of evergreen in prettily arranged designs, which were tastily set off with decorations of pink. The dining tables also contained pretty bouquets of begonias.

But the young ladies waiting on the tables were too cute for anything, being attired in caps of pink, together with aprons of the same material, and were, as a gentleman said, at dinner, "in the pink of perfection." The following are the lady waiters: Misses F. Sullivan, M. Begley, M. E. Kelly, K. Simons and M. Riley.

The refreshment tables were liberally patronized and the bill of fare was an excellent one in every respect. The following ladies constituted the Refreshment Committee: Mesdames M. McFadden, John Coughlin, John Dunn, John Simons, P. Sherbineau. The ladies are certainly to be congratulated on the manner in which this department is being conducted.

Upstairs in the assembly room everything is business, and the display of articles for sale are arranged on tables and present a very pretty and attractive appearance, so much so in fact that one could hardly resist purchasing. The tables are loaded down with every conceivable article suitable for holiday presents.

The main table, known as the fancy table, is in charge of the following ladies: Mesdames Justus Dunn, Harry LeBrun, R. Pope, B. Morrow, T. B. McGrath, Thos. Kelly, J. Hurley and J. C. Sullivan. Misses J. McCarthy, M. O'Brien, Annie Simons, May Kelly.

Fancy table, No. 2—Misses E. and A. Vinette, A. Henry, M. Henry and M. Burke.

Religious table—Miss J. A. Moran.

Refreshment booth—Mrs. P. Begley.

Aside from these sale tables were other attractions, however, which were a source of considerable revenue as well as enjoyment.

The fish pond, in charge of Mesdames Geo. Ball and J. J. Lynch, was swarmed with anglers, and the ladies in charge reported fishing to be excellent.

The Ferris wheel, in charge of Misses A. O'Neil and A. Simons, is something new in the amusement line and it proved a bonanza to the ladies in charge.

The Christmas tree, with Santa Claus standing guard, was in charge of Mrs. M. Riley and Mrs. M. Halpin. This proved to be the centre of attraction for the youngsters.

Everything and everybody seemed to be hustling, and the rooms were crowded all evening with a gathering that came prepared to invest and procure the articles on sale.

At eight o'clock Mr. L. V. O'Connor ascended the platform and after the inevitable small boy was brought to order, introduced the following programme:

Instrumental music ..... Miss K Hurley
Christmas chorus ..... Convent pupils
Instrumental duet—piano and violin ..... Miss K Hurley and Miss L Connor
Comic song ..... Mr Dan Donoghue
Recitation ..... Miss L Halihan
Song ..... Miss May Callaghan
Drill ..... Convent pupils
(Miss Vivian Donoghue, Captain.)
Recitation ..... Miss Carrie White
Quartette
Accompanists ..... Mrs T Dunn and Misses K Hurley and M Doherty

During the day and evening the following clergy were present,—His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, Ven. Archdeacon Casey, Fathers O'Connell, Fitzpatrick, Scanlan and Canlan.

The Christmas tree is being continued to day and also this evening, when a musical programme will be presented.

LAST NIGHT'S SOCIAL.

Miss Shortly's Sunday School Class Entertain.

On account of the various other attractions which took place last evening the attendance was not as large as it would otherwise have been at the social which was given in the Y.M.C.A. Hall by the members of Miss Shortly's George street Methodist Sunday school class.

Miss Shortly very ably filled the chair. In her remarks she said the object of the social was to raise a little money in aid of some of the country Sunday schools which needed help. She was sorry there was not a larger attendance, but she assured those present that they would be presented with an excellent programme.

The opening number was a splendidly-executed piano solo by Miss E. Coveney. Following this Miss E. Whitten gave a recitation in doing which she fully sustained her reputation as a very clever elocutionist. Miss C. Belleghem then followed with a vocal solo, in which she, as usual, delighted the audience. The crowning event of the evening was the Shakesperian burlesque, which was well given by Misses Kendry, Coveney, Yenney and VanEvery, and Mr. Roy Zimmerman, following which Miss Sadie Ratherford gave a well-received recitation. Mr. Jas. Browne, in his usual pleasing manner, gave a vocal solo, after which Miss Hattie Holmes gave a fine recitation, which brought down the house. Miss I. Melrose then gave an excellent piano solo, and very kindly responded to an encore. The closing number on the programme was a recitation by Miss Ethel Bradburn, which was very creditably given, after which refreshments were served by the members of the class, in the gallery of the hall. This brought the pleasant evening, which all present had enjoyed very much, to a close. Great credit is due to Miss Shortly and the members of her class for the very clever manner in which the social was conducted.

REPAIRED A WRONG.

Caleb, the driver, had been speculating upon the white haired stranger on the seat beside him ever since the stage left the railway station. He wanted a square look into his eyes before venturing a "feeler," but the big slouched hat prevented that. Now, in sight of town, on the slope ahead of them, the stranger thawed and began to question, loosing Caleb's tongue volubly.

"And that's the orphanage," he continued, pointing to a sightly white building in the midst of a grove of evergreen trees on the brow of the slope ahead of them. "Joshua Hanson's money started it, but they have hard work to keep it going. Always hampered for funds; unlucky from the first start, 15 years ago. They had a fire, then they were robbed of a round sum"—

"Robbed! Who would rob orphans?" interrupted the stranger.

"Well, nobody expected it of Dick when he was trusted with the money. He got into wild company, and it went in some kind of speculation that was to double it. Served a sentence in state prison for it. Too bad. I suppose he's gone to the dogs since. Precious few ever get over that disgrace. Pity. I knew Dick from a boy. He was awful good hearted."

"Yes. Robbery of orphans was a fine proof of goodness," returned the old gentleman, with cutting sarcasm.

"Well, he only meant to borrow the money," said Caleb.

"Poor excuse to cheat the fatherless," persisted the other with severity.

"There's Millicent Roundaway on her way to the orphanage," pursued Caleb as the stage reached the level beyond the slope. "She's taught the children to sing like nightingales for Christmas. There's to be a tree in the church and a big time."

The stranger seemed to regard the young woman in a long fur trimmed garment ahead of them with interest.

"She's done a power for them first and last, and they worship her," said Caleb. "Queer she don't get married," he added reflectively as he touched up the grays, "but I don't know a man in Waverly good enough for her."

With the last words the grays dashed round the curve and brought up in fine style before the Waverly hotel. The loungers watched the stranger climb down from his perch. Caleb was ahead of him, tumbling his big trunks off with an air of "knowing the whole business, if he liked to give it away," the porter told the others.

The stranger was christened the Mystery very shortly. He had meals sent to his rooms. "J. H. Afterforth" on the hotel register was as noncommittal as his ponderous, strapped trunks. Always with hat drawn down, he took long, lonely walks around the town and its outskirts. He might be a harmless lunatic, it was conjectured, until he was seen to go in and out of the orphanage several times, when it got round that he was a rich, eccentric relative of one of the children, who, if he found all things on the square, was likely to give them a handsome Christmas donation. In fact, Mr. Malladew, the superintendent, admitted that he had hopes a new friend had been raised up to them.

* * * * * *

The church on the hill above Captain Roundaway's place was the center of attraction on Christmas eve. Curious rumors were afloat, although the tree committee had been personified caution, that three ponderous trunks were to turn telltales, and that the Mystery was to have not only a finger but both arms and shoulders, up to his ears, in the festivities. The five oaks and pines right and left of the church, girdled by Chinese lanterns, kept up mysterious noddings and whisperings, and those in a position to peep through the tall windows upon the dazzling sight within sent thrilling bulletins from time to time to their less fortunate neighbors.

The air was mild, as if it had been filtered of frost for the occasion. The path of light from the church reached clear down over the snow to Captain Roundaway's piazza. He stepped out of his door into it; then his wife; then Millicent. Others ahead, more behind, hurrying, converging from all points, laughing, chattering, wondering what the evening was to bring forth, and all passing into the church until the seats and aisles were full.

Once inside they found themselves in a bower of evergreens, and, of all things, two Christmas trees, blazing away in splendor! One, the usual size, hung with the usual quota of Waverly's Christmas presents, was completely overshadowed by the other, which towered roofward, a very monarch of the woods, wearing its royal honors not unconscious, but with the air of triumphant, tantalizing mystery.

Everybody, from Mr. Merrivale, the minister, to deformed Billy Bowline, the peanut vender, was bowing and smiling to everybody else. The orphans were in the front pews in gala dress. There was much craning of necks and wondering over the tall tree and the mysterious father thereof, for it was well understood that the white bearded stranger was the sole author and finisher of this transcendent surprise.

"Mebbe he's the Wandering Jew," suggested Billy Bowline, leaning forward on his crutch toward the tree longingly.

"Looks more like Rip Van Winkle, with his white hair," dissented Ned, the barber's boy, who had lately seen Joe Jefferson from the "heaven" of a city theater.

"Pooh! Didn't I say he was Santa Claus himself the first day!" was the triumphant query of Ben, the hotel boy.

How these orphans' fingers laced and interlaced, and how their eyes flashed from tree to tree until both seemed to kindle into one blaze! How they aroused Millicent's reassuring smile, with confidence in their own ability to tune their throats when called upon.

In the midst of all, Millicent's eyes had a faraway, reminiscent expression of sadness, as if she were occupying a sphere inside the radiant ones around her. And the Mystery, who was in a small room beyond the platform, with the tree committee, stood looking through the door at her, so absorbed that Rhoda Barker had to give him a smart shake to call his attention to the mask and toggery in which he must array himself at once.

"There he is! That's the Mystery!" went round the church when Santa Claus, in fantastic array, with snowy head and the jolliest of rubicund faces, came from the anteroom, flourishing a long wand with ribbon streamers, and took his stand between the two Christmas trees. For a minute the commotion in the air made the evergreens tremble and the lights dance.

The chairman mounted a small table on the platform, and after many shouts and much waste of breath brought the meeting to order. At a signal from Millicent, who played a piano accompaniment, the orphans bubbled and overflowed in a joyous Christmas carol, which brought everybody into sympathetic unison and fairly seemed to make the trees join arms and whirl each other round from sheer enthusiasm.

"See, see!" was echoed as half a dozen Christmas fairies in misty tulle and spangled wings came filing out of the anteroom.

Santa Claus marshaled them around him by quaint and curious flourishes of the wand he carried and began to despoil the smaller tree. Its fruitage was soon scattered right and left by the dainty little messengers, and then Santa Claus, with more flourishes, turned to the other, ready for invasion by the miniature world, which, after all, only remained for the larger one to plunder.

"Won't he need a long stepladder to reach the top of it?" queried Billy Bowline.

"If I had a seat in the chandelier, I could play a great game," Ben said.

"You watch him charm the things down," said Ned. "He's a wizard. That wand has magic in it."

"The orphans of the orphanage will prepare for the lion's share of the plunder," Santa Claus called out in jovial tones, and he broke up the flirtation under the bough abruptly by consigning the youth in a sailor suit to one fairy and the long lashed coquette to another, she uttering a little squeak of protest as he did so.

The orphans had indeed been remembered royally. Presents were just rained upon them by the fluttering fairies. Back and forth they glanced and doubled, on the wing surely, for their slippered feet never touched the carpet. The folks on the tree were robbed unceremoniously of picture books and heaped up baskets of candies, fruit and bonbons and all their other treasures and themselves consigned bodily to the tender mercies of the boys and girls reaching out hearts and hands to them, to which they resigned themselves with many a wink and a sleep. Clothing there was, too, piles of it, from blue and pale Tam O'Shanters down to patent tipped shoes. But why enumerate? Enough that Santa Claus was getting in no half way strokes.

He stood back from the tree with a view to dispersing the soft clouds clinging to the summit of the tall tree all the evening, as if it had settled down there from the summer sky of the tropics.

A touch of the wand, and it materialised into a dainty India shawl. He flourished it aloft airily, turned round on his heels in apparent uncertainty as to its disposal, wound it into a fluffy ball with the wand and tossed it up, caught it dexterously, roved with his eyes all over the church, faced round to Millicent's quarter, where the orphans beamed, faced back upon the tree committee, again to Millicent, letting his eyes rest upon her, and then everybody, watching his monkey capers, saw the shawl descend and settle in graceful folds over her head and shoulders.

"What is the meaning of that tomfoolery, I wonder?" Captain Roundaway muttered under his breath uneasily, and his shaggy eyebrows lowered perceptibly as he noticed Millicent's smiling, blushing perplexity.

"So the Mystery has let his mantle fall upon Millicent," remarked Dr. Challfour.

"It seems to belong there, doesn't it?" remarked Mr. Malladew as his clear eyes searched her blond face in the azure cloud with just a shade of anxiety.

"You know what it all means," challenged the doctor's wife with her fan.

"We shall see later," returned Mr. Malladew.

The fairies, having got through with the orphans, were now fluttering like silver butterflies all over the church, with their hands full. Gift books with cream margins and handsome bindings, more baskets of candied fruits and bonbons, more dolls and more animals for other children, until it did seem that the Mystery had had to find some outlet for his benevolence to avoid bursting outright. Billy Bowline had, besides books and sweetmeats, a complete outfit from top to toe. Deborah Tenny, who had been carried to the church in a big armchair with pillows and who had not left her bed for a year, was fairly overcome by the comforts and luxuries heaped upon her. Squire Halliday opened a morocco case put in his hands to find a five minute repeater and massive gold chain of exquisite workmanship. His wife had a box pushed into her lap which contained fold on fold of lustrous satin. By the

The sick, nervous, fretful useless, helpless, irritable, woman makes her husband miserable. If he is a good-tempered, good man, he tries to soothe and comfort her. If he is only an ordinary man, he swears and gets drunk. Few men realize what it is that makes a woman cross, fretful, and nervous. If they did, they would see to it that their wives took proper care of the health of the organs distinctly feminine, and resorted to the proper remedy to make them strong and healthy in a womanly way.

The best medicine for nervous, fretful, irritable women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It goes to and corrects the cause. It acts directly on the feminine organism and restores it to natural health and vigor. It soothes inflammation and corrects all weakening drains. It will make a sick woman well, and a fretful, cross woman happy and amiable. It prepares a woman for the duties of motherhood, and taken during the expectant period makes baby's coming easy and almost painless. Women who wish to know more about this great remedy should write to its discoverer, Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. S. J. Bartlett (Teacher), of Granger, Sweetwater Co., Wyo., writes: "Dr. Pierce: I desire to certify that your 'Favorite Prescription' is a boon and a great help to all females. My wife has used your medicine. Prior to taking it, she was constantly troubled with female weakness and monthly, and frequently oftener, irregular flows that incapacitated her for the labors incident to raising a large family. She is now well."

Whoever would find a conclusive answer to the problem: "How to be well" should send to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for a copy of Doctor Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This book is all that its title implies. It uses no technical terms. Its 1,008 pages of graphic explanation and carefully correct illustrations make it a treasure for any household. Its 90 pages especially relating to women are worth many times its original price, which was $1.50. There is now ready a large edition to be given away. Send 21 one-cent stamps, to pay for customs and mailing only, and you will receive the book in paper covers absolutely FREE. You may have it in cloth covers for 50 stamps.

LOSS OF VOICE

After Acute Bronchitis

CURED BY USING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

REPAIRED A WRONG.

time the boughs were bared everybody in town had some memento from the Mystery.

At the last minute a small oblong box, with spring clasps, was carried in both hands to Mr. Melladew by the largest of the fairies. There were some conjectures over its contents as he lifted the lid cautiously and closed it, shutting off the curious from even a peep.

You may guess that by this time so much pent up curiosity over the Mystery was likely to cause an explosion. Luckily an escape valve was at hand.

While the orphans hugged their dolls and munched candy slyly, not to betray greediness, and other folks compared presents and munched sweetmeats openly, and Millicent's eyes shone like misty stars from out the azure cloud of India, and Captain Roundaway, her father, grew grave and gay by turns, watching her, and the squire looked at his watch and chain and then at his wife, and his wife looked at the lustrous satin and then at Santa Claus, and the doctor quizzed Mr. Melladew, and Lawyer Winthrop put forth a riddle to Nathan Curtis about the Mystery, which the Rev. Mr. Merrivale, without giving Nathan Curtis the first chance, hastened to expound, and others, scanning Santa Claus from head to foot, whispered of a certain likeness to some one—while all this and more was going on the chairman, or table man, mounted the table again, got a show of order, after laboring a full quarter of an hour for it, and made them understand that Mr. Melladew had something to say to them.

Mr. Melladew stood, holding the mysterious box conspicuously, until complete silence had fallen.

"Friends," he began slowly, as if he wished every word to be an apple of gold in a picture of silver, "you will, I think, be glad to know that the money taken from the orphanage funds ten years ago has been restored to us trebled."

He held up the box as he spoke and drew out of it a shining handful of coins, allowing them to fall back with a jingle.

There was a profound sensation.

"The older ones will remember the circumstances," he went on, with a furtive glance at Squire Halliday, "and that there was more of grief than indignation among us. Would we not be glad to know that he who did the deed had lived down both it and the disgrace bravely, had made an honorable place for himself among men and had now come forward to repair the wrong?"

There was one suspended breath around him.

"If he were here, would you, could you not even find it in your hearts to give him a frank and hearty hand of fellowship?"

"Yes, yes! We would!" on all sides.

"Those in favor of Santa Claus unmasking at once will say 'Aye.'"

One tremendous and unanimous "Aye!" resounded.

Santa Claus stepped forward from the shelter of the tall Christmas tree. He threw off his fantastic garments. The grotesque mask of the evening fell to his feet, carrying the white wig and beard along with it, and a man not over 30, with a square jaw and pathetic, dark eyes, which held the shadow of past suffering in them, stood bared to these questioning glances, with a mingling of shrinking sensitiveness and manly self possession that won the hearts of the entire crowd at once and forever.

Everybody swayed toward him. The older people were tracing the likeness of the brown, manly face to the boyish one they remembered before his life had suffered eclipse.

"I'm blowed if isn't Dick Halliday himself!" was Captain Roundaway's suppressed comment.

"Dick Halliday! Why, it's Dick, sure enough. Wouldn't you have known him anywhere!" sounded over the church.

Squire Halliday and his wife had their faces hidden.

"I thought there was something all fired familiar about him the day he rode on the stage with me," said Caleb Dashabead in deep disgust at his own stupidity.

"He's a fine fellow if he has worn prison garb," was the comment of Dr. Chalifoux to Captain Roundaway. "Comes of good stock, you see. Had the grit to live it down."

"Yes," assented the captain absently. "I wish he had steered clear of the rocks in the first place," he added, with his eyes on Millicent's face, now flooded with a mild radiance as of moonlight. It was plain she still loved him. If the broken engagement was to be reversed, why, then—

Dick stood there silent. It was a trying ordeal, this bidding publicly for the respect and confidence of his townspeople with the taint of dishonor not yet outlived. To one of Dick's nature sin brings its own punishment. But, seconded by Mr. Melladew, he had dared all in this peculiar fashion, because he longed, let it be whispered, to be reinstated fully for the sake of Millicent, whose life he had so shamefully clouded.

The murmur in the church swelled to a round of heartfelt applause. What but large, generous sentiments could have been the outcome of that evening?

"My friends, I thank you," Dick began and broke down completely.

Squire Halliday and his wife were making their way up the aisle. There were few dry eyes in the church as the father, whose proud heart had been bowed in shame over his dishonored name, grasped Dick's outstretched hand with a trembling "God bless you, my son!" and the mother, whose heart had yearned over her wayward boy all these years, drew his head down upon her breast tenderly and dropped tears of joy upon his face.

"Makes me think of the night she first held him in her arms, 30 years ago," said Dr. Chalifoux in a broken voice.

"Halliday ought to be proud of him," rejoined Lawyer Winthrop, whose pleading had shortened Dick's sentence. "It isn't every young fellow who can recover from a slip so thoroughly."

"I move we march round and give him a handshake," said Lawyer Winthrop.

Seconded and carried, and Dick, as they filed up the aisle to welcome him, wondered if it was only last night he had lain awake shrinking from imagined hisses and epithets such as are apt to descend upon sinners of his stripe.

Up they came—Mr. Melladew beaming over the unanimous and hearty reception when he had feared deep seated prejudice; Rev. Mr. Merrivale resting his hand on Dick's head with a hearty "Happy Christmas;" Dr. Chalifoux with a hard grip that spoke volumes. On and on they came—Billy Bowline and Ned, Deborah Tenny, in her armchair, with tears on her lashes and a smile about her mouth; Millicent, with sweet flushed face and tremulous lips, still in her cloud of drapery, letting her warm palm rest in his, frankly and tenderly even; Captain Roundaway, with all reservations vanishing from his big, kindly nature, nurtured on old ocean, when he looked keen and close into Dick's half pleading, honest eyes; the orphans, too, bonbons in their cheeks and "things" hugged under their arms; everybody, in fact. Millicent's face had told tales.

At last a scattering to the lower regions, where a spread awaited those who were left with an appetite.

Dick was seated between his father and mother, who were flanked by Dr. Chalifoux, Lawyer Winthrop and the rest of the "old stock," and Mr. Melladew took out letters from Dick's friends in California and passed them round, and Dick must needs recount how he worked his way out to the Pacific coast as a hand before the mast and struck it rich in the goldfield after a hand to hand tussle and afterward went into business in San Francisco, where he now had many friends, which he did with halting speech, modestly, for this whole hearted ignoring of a grave misdeed by all of them quite overcame him.

So Dick came into the confidence of his home friends on the crest of the Christmas wave.—New York Mercury.

RUSSIAN ROAST PIG.

Dishes Which the Subjects of the Great White Czar Enjoy on Christmas Day.

On Christmas day the Russians adhere to their strictly national dishes. In the morning their breakfast consists of boursch, the national soup, or broth, composed of the fermented juice of beet root, sour cream, boiled cabbage and meat bouillon. This extraordinary mixture tastes much better than it reads, and after the quantity necessary to appease the appetite is consumed in the morning an enormous punch bowl is filled with the soup and stands upon a side table during the day. In all well regulated Russian households there is also found upon the same table a roasted pig, dressed with boiled buckwheat, or kasche, as it is called, mingled with the liver, heart and other edible adjuncts of the animal. This pig is especially raised and killed for Christmas day. It weighs never more than seven or eight pounds.

Accompanying these there is the pasca, a mixture of white cheese, cream, butter, sugar and raisins, which are all placed together in a wooden bowl and allowed to stand for 24 hours. There is also the koulische, a cake plentifully filled with raisins, and then, as a little side dish, are the varicolored eggs that all good Russians are expected to eat with salt that has been purified by roasting. The evening meal is composed of great dishes of sausages and immense joints of roasted veal, which, together with the black bread peculiar to the country, is eagerly devoured and washed down with plentiful libations of koumiss and vodka.—New York World.

A genuine ghost-story has yet to be attested; but not a genuine blood-purifier. Over and over again it has been proved that Ayer's Sarsaparilla stands alone among medicines as the most reliable tonic-alterative in pharmacy. It stood alone at the World's Fair.

A Gascony Tradition.

In Gascony there is a tradition that the lost spirits in hades experience a cessation of their tortures on Christmas day, and that on this one day of the year there is rejoicing even in the lower regions.—Exchange.

A Silesian Superstition.

In Silesia there is a superstition that a boy born on Christmas day must be brought up a lawyer or he will become a thief.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood.

The Merriest Day.

Then do not select the merriest of the 365 days for your doleful recollections, but draw your chair nearer the blazing fire and if your room be smaller than it was a dozen years ago put a good face on the matter and troll off the old ditty you used to sing and thank God it's no worse. Look on the merry faces of your children, if you have any, as they sit around the fire. One little seat may be empty; one slight form that gladdened the father's and mother's pride to look upon may not be there. Reflect upon your present blessings, not upon your past misfortunes, of which all men have some. Your Christmas shall be merry and your New Year a happy one.—Charles Dickens.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. SALVATION ARMY NOTES.

Celebration of the Christmas Season—Handsome Results of the Week of Self-denial.

The Salvation Army in this town will celebrate the birth of Christ by an early morning march at 6.30, and a prayer meeting in their barracks at 7 a. m.

Ensign Burrows, of Kingston, who has the oversight of the junior work in Eastern Ontario, will be present Christmas afternoon to conduct a meeting at 3 p. m. and a children's jubilee at 8 p. m., with a Christmas tree as the attraction.

Sunday at 3 p. m. Ensign Burrows will organize the Band of Love in connection with the Army's Sunday school work in Peterborough. All are invited to attend these services.

We are pleased to be able to inform the citizens of Peterborough that our recent special self denial effort has been a grand success. Our target for this corps was set by Provincial Headquarters at Kingston at $250, but we have far exceeded that and raised the nice sum of $450. We wish to thank our many friends who assisted us in this effort and in return trust that we shall more than ever be made a blessing to your city. We have already sent several unfortunate girls from here to our rescue home in Toronto and we wish to say here if we can be a help to you in this direction or any other way, we are at your service to seek and save the fallen.

THE PETERBOROUGH CORSET FACTORY.

Splendid New Premises to be Provided—The Growth of the Business Demands More Room and Improved Facilities.

During the past eighteen years the Peterborough Corset Factory has been in successful operation and, by the merit of its goods, has grown so rapidly that it has surpassed the capacity of its present premises; therefore, new premises every way suited in size and conveniences to constantly increasing needs of the business to supply the demands of the corset trade for its unquestionably superior products, are demanded.

For the past couple of months Mr. Thos. Rutherford has been busy fitting up a new store and factory at 208 and 210 Charlotte street. The store proper has a wide frontage of 25 feet, with broad plate glass front. The ceilings, which are lofty, are metallic and the store fixtures are of ash and oak, and all of the fittings are of the best quality and most modern style. A new building for factory and work-room has been erected in the rear, and everything is of the most complete character to meet the conditions of a most perfectly equipped factory. The premises are lighted with electricity and gas, and electric bells and speaking tubes are included in the equipment.

As before stated, the business has been established eighteen years, and every year has been marked by improvements in the quality and perfection of the Corsets produced. G. G. Gemmell has shown special aptitude in meeting the wants of the ladies of the country, adopting every improvement in method and material that experience has shown desirable. The result is that the Peterborough Corset Factory has become one of the leading Corset concerns in Canada. These Corsets are shipped to all parts of the country and sold direct to the wearer, through lady agents, as far west as Windsor, north to Winnipeg and east to the Ottawa Valley. There are in this wide area of country seven special travellers employed by the Factory, and in addition to these there are resident agents in all important centres.

It is intended to add another department to the Peterborough Corset Factory—the manufacture of blouses and shirt waists, which will be sold direct to the consumer, thus saving the cost of the middlemen's profits.

Ladies Don't Smoke,

but they have a tender regard for some fellahs that do. The great festival of Christmas will soon be here, and between now and then people will naturally think of buying presents for their friends. Mr. Chas. LeGros, the live George street tobacco and cigar dealer, realising that money is very scarce, has put everything in the line of cigars and pipes down to cost, and when he says cost, he means business. LeGros is a hustler, and likes to give his customers a benefit at Christmas times. He imports all his goods direct, and saves the wholesalers' profit. A few of the snaps which he offers are to be seen in his window. He has the finest lot of pipes in Canada, all of B.B.B. manufacture. In cigars, his imported cigars are of the finest, and this is proved by the testimony of the best people of the town who smoke them. Ladies who know the weakness that their gentlemen friends have for a good cigar or a meerscham pipe, a swell mouthpiece or a handy tobacco pouch can take a hint and have a quiet talk with Charley on the subject. Call and see him and you will be astonished at the prices and quality of his pipes, cigars and smokers' sundries. ALIVE C. LEGROS, 339 George street. tf

BRAM MURDER TRIAL

The Accused Tells His Story in Court at Boston.

A STRAIGHTFORWARD RECITAL.

Not a Sign of Nervousness Displayed—Dignity and Intelligence Marked the Bearing of the Man, Who Showed No Vindictiveness Towards the Prosecuting Witnesses.

Boston, Dec. 23.—In the trial to-day of Mate Thomas W. Bram, charged with the murder of Captain Nash, Mrs. Nash and the second mate of the barquentine, Herbert Fuller, the defence began their side of the case. Mr. French, of counsel for Bram, made the opening argument. In part he said: "Everything points to the conclusion that these fiendish crimes were committed by an insane man. Whoever the man was, he has appeared before you in this court, but he has appeared in a far different guise than he did when he committed that crime. If you have formed any opinion as to this case, you are asked to suspend judgment until you have seen on the witness stand the defendant himself, and heard him tell the story of his innocence. The proposition which the Government is bound to prove beyond a doubt is not who killed Capt. Nash, but did Thomas Bram kill him? Brown is the Government's principal witness, and he was branded by the District Attorney as suspicious and under a shadow of guilt, in his opening address. He is the only witness on whom the Government relies for its positive proof of guilt, and no one would convict a man on such testimony of a capital crime. All the other testimony is purely circumstantial."

The first witness for the defence was the defendant Bram himself, who testified, after being sworn, that his name is Thomas Mead Chandler Bram, 33 years old, and was born in St. Catharines, one of the West Indian Islands. He gave his testimony in a firm tone of voice, with much dignity and intelligence, without the slightest suggestion of nervousness. Continuing, he told of his early career in New York, Boston and Cambridge, Mass. Part of the time he was manager of a restaurant in Boston, New York and Chicago, for one Dennett, who established restaurants in various cities. In telling of his seafaring life and his shipping as mate of the Herbert Fuller, he related how he had had some trouble with Brown, who growled when witness showed him how he wanted the deck scrubbed. In his story of the tragedy he said he was on deck from 12 to 1 o'clock, when he went below to get a sandwich and a drink. He returned immediately. Just before 2 o'clock Soliac disappeared. At 2 o'clock witness heard a noise aft; saw a man abreast of the mizzen rigging, who proved to be Brown. Witness returned from aft and called. "Four bells" to Brown, but received no answer. He soon went aft again, and saw Brown putting on his slippers. In the meantime Soliac had taken the wheel. Witness went forward; when he returned he met a man with a revolver (Monks) coming up from the cabin. Witness shielded himself with a board. Monks informed him that the captain had been murdered. He then went below with Monks.

The remainder of witness' testimony to recess was substantially as given by others regarding the disposition of the bodies, the steering of the ship, etc.

He told his story in a clear, ringing, resonant voice, every syllable of which could be heard in any part of the court room, without hesitation, and with scarcely a suggestion from counsel. The interruptions were few, because he did not wander, but kept close to the facts. He manifested no prejudice or feeling against his accusers, nor did he in any way attempt to give color to the tragic narrative. He spoke of the actions and conduct of Brown with the same firmness that he did of the others, and did not emphasize, while he spoke of Brown's moody and strange behavior, as Brown's shipmates had done.

THE TRIP TO HALIFAX.

After recess Bram resumed his testimony and described the trip to Halifax after the murders. He was told to watch Brown, because he acted very suspiciously during the Tuesday night following the tragedy. Monks, Bram and Spencer were talking Wednesday afternoon, when Brown joined them. Brown said he had been followed by the sailors all night.

Witness then described Brown's movements and how guilty he appeared. Bram said he changed his clothes on Saturday, and it had been a week since he had changed them. He took a bucket and washed his soiled clothes and left them in soak all Saturday night. There was no blood on them. He was awakened Saturday night by the steward to listen to some peculiar noises.

When witness was put in irons and lashed to the mainmast Spencer told him he believed he did not commit the murder, but that he must know about it. Spencer said later: "We ought to get $500 each salvage, but if you had taken the vessel in we would get nothing."

Witness related his uncomfortable experience in Halifax jail, and also identified a lot of wearing apparel as his own. He said if the sails were trimmed right the ship steered easy. She was ballasted with about six tons of rocks.

He then described at some length the windows and the general arrangement of the cabin. Bram denied telling Wasson that each would get two years if they did not convict Brown. He described an arrangement whereby the wheel could be left and the ship would run some time. He knew the wheel to have been lashed three times. Twice, with wind on the quarter, he knew the boat to sail about eight minutes, going eight knots per hour, with the wheel lashed. He said the conditions on July 13 were favorable to lashing the wheel and the vessel would sail for quite a distance for 10 to 15 minutes, and could slightly change her course.

This was the most logical and convincing testimony yet given and there seemed to be no evasion. Bram was explicit in all his testimony.

Court adjourned until 9.30 to-morrow.

A DESPERATE AFFRAY.

One Man Against 30 and the 30 Were Beaten and Two Killed.

St. Louis, Dec. 23.—A special from Guadalajara, Mexico, says a desperate affray has occurred at the ranch of Juan Vidrio in that State. Vidrio had trouble with his employes a few days ago, and thirty of them attacked him. He was seriously wounded by the first volley of shots, but took refuge in his residence, and fired on his assailants, killing two of them and wounding seven badly. Twenty members of the mob have been arrested and will probably be shot.

BROKEN LEG AND FROST BITES.

The Unfortunate Predicament of R. Bryon, of Merritton—Grand Trunk Men Laid off.

Merritton, Dec. 23.—(Special, via Welland.)—Last night about midnight R. Bryon of this place, while returning from Niagara Falls, fell off the rear end of the train in the G.T.R. yards here. He lay where he fell for several hours, and then, recovering consciousness, tried to crawl to where he could get assistance. He was not found until early this morning, when it was discovered that his leg was broken and both feet and hands were frozen. The unfortunate man will lose his leg and probably his life.

The G.T.R. are making several economical strokes along the Welland branch, and the result is several former employes are looking for work.

A 4-YEAR-OLD TOT'S AWFUL DEATH.

Little Mabel Florence Gilroy's Night-dress Caught Fire From the Stove She Lived for Hours.

Toronto, Dec. 24.

Mabel Florence, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilroy of Napier-street, over the Don, was yesterday burned to death. About half-past 9 in the morning the child's night-dress took fire from the stove in the sitting room. The cries of the child and another little girl brought the parents in from a neighbor's house, when the flames were quickly extinguished. Dr. Rowan was immediately summoned, and did all he could for the little sufferer, but the injuries were so serious that death took place at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Tossed by a Steer.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Nelson Morris, the millionaire packer, and J. C. Bohart, a live stock commission man at the Union stock yards, were gored by a steer while passing through a cattle pen this morning. Both men were tossed against the fence, and Bohart had a shoulder dislocated. Mr. Morris escaped with slight bruises.

FIFTEEN POUNDS OF GOLD

Found by a Toronto Man in the Sultana Mine Near Rat Portage the Other Day.

Toronto, Dec. 23.

Word reached the city yesterday that Walter Ross and Arendt Angstrom, manager of the Bertram Mine Works Company of Toronto, visited the Sultana mine and report that a rich strike occurred there. Walter Ross declares that he never saw a specimen in his life equal in richness to a sample which was brought up from the bottom of the Sultana shaft. A chunk of rock, weighing about 15 pounds, was simply full of gold. Mr. Angstrom declares to the same effect, and he said he never saw anything like it although he has seen specimens from all over the world.

Cold in the Adirondacks.

Saratoga, Dec. 22.—The lowest temperature this winter thus far prevailed in the Adirondack region this morning. At North Creek the thermometer recorded 14 degrees below zero, at Marion River and Carry, 23 below; at Keene Centre 4 below, and at Schroon Lake 3. At this place the temperature was 2 below.

THE POWERS WILL ACT IN CONCERT

And Abdul Hamid Will be Compelled to Enforce the Promised Reforms—Lord Salisbury Called a Conference of Ambassadors and Joint Action Was Agreed Upon.

London, Dec. 23.—It is apparent here that the powers have finally become convinced that the Sultan's promises amount to nothing, and they are determined to begin a policy of coercion. The Marquis of Salisbury last Monday summoned the Ambassadors representing the European Governments here to the Foreign Office, and communicated to them the views of the British Government of the definite proposals of Russia for joint intervention, in order that each Ambassador might communicate them to his own Government, and thus enable the representatives of the great powers at Constantinople to be properly instructed. There is reason to believe that unless the Sultan, within the next ten days, shows a deference of which at present he is little suspected, very decisive steps will be undertaken in the name of the joint powers.

A despatch from St. Petersburg says that The Novoe Vremya announces that it is probable that within a few days the Russian Black Sea fleet will appear in the Bosphorus, where it will be joined by the squadrons of the other powers from the Dardanelles.

ALL THE POWERS AGREED.

Constantinople, Dec. 23.—All the Ambassadors have now received instructions to concert fresh proposals with the view of improving the situation in the Ottoman Empire. The proposals before being submitted to the Sultan will be referred to their respective governments. All the powers, including Russia, as repeatedly announced during the last few months, have agreed in principle to the expediency of employing coercion should the Sultan be recalcitrant. But the form of coercion to be employed will not be determined upon until an emergency arises.

MRS. MAY MARRIES AGAIN.

Secures a Husband and a Title in the Gay French Capital.

Paris, Dec. 23.—The marriage of Count Luis Dandigne of Paris to Mrs. Frederick May of California was celebrated in the Chapel of the Papal Nuncio in this city at noon to-day. In the absence of the Nuncio, Archbishop Ferrata, the ceremony was performed by Monsignor Celli, the Auditor of the Papal Delegation to France. The bride wore a costume of blue velvet. The witnesses for the groom were the Marquis of Dandigne and Baron Charette. The bride's witnesses were her brother, Mr. Coleman, and United States Ambassador Eustis. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served in the bride's apartments in the Hotel Vendome.

FIREBUGS IN LONDON.

The Residence of Earl Russell at Maidenhead Burned to the Ground.

London, Dec. 23.—The residence of Earl Russell at Maidenhead on the Thames was burned to the ground this morning. The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin as Earl Russell has recently got several menacing letters, some of them threatening him with personal injury and others threatening the burning of his property. There is no doubt that the fire is one of the results of the action for criminal libel brought by Earl Russell against his mother-in-law, Lady Scott, which is now under adjournment because of the death of Frederick Kast, one of the defendants, and the illness of Lady Scott.

LEO XIII. TO THE CARDINALS.

His Holiness Deplores the Situation of the Papacy in Italy.

Rome, Dec. 23.—The Pope received the Sacred College of Cardinals this morning and expressed to them his good wishes for the New Year. His Holiness delivered an address to the cardinals, in which he reviewed the political situation at home and abroad and deplored the situation of the Papacy in Italy. The Pope also said that his intentions in the matter of having made overtures to King Menelek of Abyssinia, with a view of obtaining the release of the Italian soldiers who were held by the Abyssinian King as prisoners of war, had been misrepresented.

IS ABLE TO FIGHT.

Spain Can Gather Forces to Maintain an International War

Madrid, Dec. 23.—Queen Regent Christina will, on Christmas day, sign a decree, ordering the operation of certain reforms in the Island of Porto Rico.

Admiral Beranger, Minister of Marine, denies that the Government is purchasing war ships.

Gen. Ascarraga, Minister of War, has rendered an account to the Queen Regent of the work which has been done by the War Minister with a view to the arising of possible complications.

The Epoca, a semi-official organ, declares that, together with the reserves, the Spanish army is fully capable of maintaining an international war.

GENERAL CABLE NEWS.

The Queen Will Personally Prepare a Biography to Appear in 1897.

London, Dec. 23.—The St. James' Gazette says the Queen will personally dictate and revise a biography of Her Majesty which will appear in 1897. The work will tell the story of the longest reign in the history of England as the Queen herself regards it.

The Post Will be Left Vacant.

Paris, Dec. 23.—The Figaro to-day intimates that, owing to the difficulties between France and Great Britain in regard to Egypt and Turkey, the post of Baron De Courcel, as French Ambassador to the Court of St. James, may be left vacant for a while.

A Quiet Wedding

Kingston, Ont., Dec. 23.—This morning a quiet ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. McGillivray at the residence of Prof. Dupuis, University-avenue, when his only daughter was united in marriage to the Rev. Mavin Taylor, Methodist, Merrickville. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor held a reception, to which the members of Levana Society of Queen's College, of which the bride was president up to within a few days ago, and Young Ladies' Society of Chalmer's Church, the only two organizations with which Mrs Taylor was identified, were invited. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor took train for Montreal for a tour through the east.

Mothers

Anxiously watch declining health of their daughters. So many are cut off by consumption in early years that there is real cause for anxiety. In the early stages, when not beyond the reach of medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore the quality and quantity of the blood and thus give good health. Read the following letter:

"It is but just to write about my daughter Cora, aged 19. She was completely run down, declining, had that tired feeling, and friends said she would not live over three months. She had a bad and nothing seemed to do her any good. I happened to read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and had her give it a trial. From the very first dose she began to get better. After taking a few bottles she was completely cured and her health has been the best ever since." MRS. ADDIE PECK, 12 Railroad Place, Amsterdam, N. Y.

"I will say that my mother has not stated my case in as strong words as I would have done. Hood's Sarsaparilla has truly cured me and I am now well." CORA PECK, Amsterdam, N. Y.

CHRISTMAS.

Christmas-tide is a divinely beautiful paradox—always old—ever new. The deep blue convex of Niagara's leaping crest presents ever the same majestic aspect, yet there is a ceaseless change in its component element, the ever flowing tide of crystal water. The blessed spirit of Christmas is always with us, yet the human elements, the conditions of the hour, perpetually change. From the joyous gatherings, whose happiness brightens even the glow of the home scene, there are absent faces; with all of us there are changes in the material conditions of life, but always the same general spirit of love and good will, the same thoughtful remembrances, hallow the sacred festival.

The associations with this festival are of a joyous and happy character, because it suggests the beginning of a new era in the history of mankind, when the great gift of the All-father was made to the fallen sons of men; and in all Christian lands the day is universally observed as a season of relaxation and rejoicing. And with reason. The anniversary itself is the chief reason, because its beginning inaugurated new relations; it established upon a new basis the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. It reconciled the erring human with the perfect Divine. It established a type of the Elder Brother. All this is cause for rejoicing. Before the Babe was cradled under the star in the Bethlehem stable, the world knew not the evidences of love that now exist. It is only in Christian lands that the charity "that is kind" finds organized expression in the maintenance of asylums for God's afflicted, refuges, charities, etc., the embodiment of the wider spirit of love that came to earth in the form of the Son of Man. Therefore, it is meet that men rejoice and make merry at the Christmas-tide.

There is another reason why Christmas should be hailed with pleasure. It calls a delightful halt in the mad race for wealth and worldly gain and the selfish pursuits that take too little heed of others. At Christmas the most sordid chips the shell of self, and devotes his thoughts to others. This is the season of giving of gifts and of kindly remembrances of those bound to us by the ties of kinship or by social ties. It is the time when millions of little ones are made happy and how little rejoices their young, guileless hearts! Then, this is the season when long absent friends are re-united; when the children who have left the parent roof to plant a roof tree of their own, gather round the old hearthstone and enjoy the bliss of the family reunion. From far and near the plunging ships and the rushing trains bring the welcome guests.

But there is a place for the query as to whether we should be merry at Christmas. How many hundred thousand are there in our sister colony, India, who are perishing for lack of bread! How many thousands are there even in this happy land, the favoured of heaven, to whom the festival brings no significance, the day no gladness. Want, cold, hunger, nakedness, stalk through the wretched rooms of thousands of abodes. For these no Christmas Day dawns, no added brightness shines. In our own merrymaking we should not forget those around us, who feel in their wretchedness and despair that not only Christmas, but life itself, holds no joy, and we should help make the day brighter to them by sharing the blessings that the day has brought to us.

In this spirit of universal charity to all those around us may we observe the dawning Christmas Day, and in this spirit THE EXAMINER wishes all its readers

MANY CATTLE LOST

Through the Severity of Weather in the Northwest.

DEEP SNOW AND TERRIFIC FROST

Prevented the Beasts From Picking Up a Living—New Tariff Schedule of the Argentine Republic Mr. Robertson, M P., Helps the Barnard Out Matons—Ottawa News

Ottawa, Dec. 23.—(Special)—The severe weather in the Northwest has caused the death of a large number of valuable cattel. Reports have been received at the Agricultural Department from Fort McLeod to this effect. The snow is five feet deep and the thermometer 33 degrees below zero. There was no possibility of grazing for the stock, and prospects are disastrous for cattle on the ranges. If the ranchers could corral the cattle, then prospects might not be so bad, but the stock has drifted and the snow is so deep that the owners could not round them up. Writing again, the same official reports that during the last month the cattle suffered terribly. They had nothing to live on but brush for 17 days, and the ranchers could not hunt them up to feed them. It is estimated that fully 50 per cent. will die from starvation and exposure.

A new tariff schedule, prepared by the Government of the Argentine Republic, has been listed at the Department of Trade and Commerce. No changes in the Customs duties are noticeable, but the fixed valuation of the several articles of import have been altered considerably. By this system of fixed Customs' values, the ad valorem duty practically becomes a specific tax. While pine unplaned is valued for duty at 35 cents per square metre, the duty remaining at 15 per cent., the duty on plain lumber is 25 per cent. on a fixed valuation of 50 cents per square metre. In the currency of the republic, however, gold is still at a very high premium.

Capt. Spain, commander of the fisheries protection fleet, has returned from Owen Sound, where an investigation was held by him into the collision last summer in the St. Clair Canal between the Government steamer Petrel and the American steamer Ramapoe. Capt. Spain will report his finding to the Minister.

Mr. J. Ross Robertson, M.P., Past Grand Master of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Canada, has shown his sympathy with the Ottawa brethren in the loss of all their relics, regalia, etc., by the Sparks-street fire, in a practical shape. Yesterday there arrived from Toronto a magnificently bound volume of the Sacred Law, a box of working tools, and three gavels to be used by the W.M.'s and wardens of the city lodges. The working tools are contained in a beautiful case, silk lined, the tools being of the very finest quality. The gavels are replicas of the old-time gavel used in the German operative lodges centuries ago, and now adopted as the gavel in the Lodge of the Quatuor Coronati, No. 2076, London, England. The formal presentation of these magnificent gifts was made at the meeting of Chaudiere Lodge, No. 264, last evening, when Past Grand Warden Cook, on behalf of Mr. John Ross Robertson, M.P., handed them to Mr. E. D. Parlow, D.D.G.M., chairman of the Masonic Hall Committee, and Mr. William Rea, secretary.

Lieut.-Col. Borden, Minister of Militia, Gen. Gascoigne, Col. Aylmer, Adjt.-Gen., and Col. Lake, Quartermaster-Gen., paid a visit yesterday to the proposed site for the new rifle ranges in Nepean Township. There are two available sites, one below Rockliffe and the one referred to in Nepean, beyond the Experimental Farm. The suitability of the Nepean site for a range has now been tested, and it is very likely that the Minister will very soon decide between the two. The new range cannot, however, be ready for next season. Col. Aylmer is in favor of the Nepean site.

The board which will enquire into the Queen's Own troubles and the long-standing dispute over Col. Hamilton's position has been appointed by the Minister of Militia. Lieut.-Col. Maunsell, district officer commanding, will be chairman, and two Lieutenant-Colonels will also act, one from Ontario and the other from Quebec. Col. Starke of the 3rd Vics. will be the latter officer.

Mr. Gilbert Parker, the Kipling of Canada, arrived at the Capital to-day accompanied by Mrs. Parker. They are the guests of Dr. Bourinot, Clerk of the Commons, under whose convoy they made a visit of inspection to the Parliament Buildings this afternoon.

Prof. Prince, Dominion Fisheries Commissioner, who has just returned from the Maritime Provinces, met with great success in the meetings he conducted among the fishermen and canners. A number of suggestions were made for changing of seasons for local reasons, and these will all be taken into consideration by the Minister.

John Lambert Payne, former private secretary to Sir Mackenzie Bowell, has been transferred from the Privy Council Department to the Department of Militia. William Wilfrid Campbell takes the place of Mr. Payne in the Privy Council Department.

Since the present Ministry took office there have been a number of suggestions made to the Trade and Commerce Department for the development of trade between Canada and the British colonies at the Cape. A Canadian trade journal recently published a special edition for distribution in South Africa. There have also been applicants at the Cape for the position of commercial agent there on behalf of the Dominion.

The Penitentiary Committee at Kingston are investigating the circumstances that attended the escape of two prisoners there lately. The new wing of the institution is to be completed by spring, and will afford accommodation for 1000 prisoners.

The Controller of Customs will doubtless order an investigation into the existence of a sort of free trade between North Dakota and Manitoba alleged to have been discovered by some business men of Langdon, N. D. They say that all the wheat of the northwestern part of that county, which has always been hauled to Langdon, has been this year brought across the line and shipped from Manitoba points, the distance being much less, and no duty being charged. They say the custom house officer at Crystal City, Manitoba, keeps the hotel there and permits the farmers from Dakota to bring their wheat duty free to Crystal City.

The condition of the Canadian emigrants in Brazil has again been brought to the attention of the Government. Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain has cabled the Governor-General that the consul at Rio informs him that instructions concerning the emigrants are earnestly needed, and that they should be sent home. Mr. Chamberlain presumes the Canadian Government is taking action in the matter.

A delegation of representatives of city fish and game clubs had a most successful interview with the Quebec Government, who will reduce hunters' license fees to $5. This will be acceptable to local sportsmen.

Messrs. W. L. Hogg and Stevenson, directors of the Granite Creek Mining Company, were here to-day interviewing shareholders regarding the future workings of the company.

Mr. Bostock, M. P., left for British Columbia to-day.

Singers, public speakers, actors, auctioneers, teachers, preachers, and all who are liable to over-tax and irritate the vocal organs, find, in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, a safe, certain, and speedy relief. A timely dose of this preparation has prevented many a throat trouble.

CATTLE TRADE IN THE NORTHWEST.

The Business is Extending in Alberta and Will Soon Outdo Ontario and Quebec Combined.

Montreal, Dec. 23.—(Special.)—Mr. Jas. Gordon of the well-known Northwest cattle exporting firm of Gordon and Ironsides, was in the city to-day, and talked to your correspondent concerning cattle raising in the western country. "We have had," he said, "a very rough November, and if the winter is an ordinary one there will be a considerable loss in cattle, but if the season is favorable they will pull through, although the stock will be quite poor next spring." Mr. Gordon's firm will winter no less than 8000 head of cattle this year in Alberta, and, although there are ups and downs, like every other line of business, he has the greatest faith in the future of the Canadian Northwest as a stock raising country. "Canada," he adds, "exported during 1896, 101,000 head of cattle, and of this number 30,000 came from Manitoba and the Northwest, and I believe that in less than five years the Northwest will send more cattle than the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec combined."

"What does this mean to the Northwest?" Mr. Gordon was asked.

"Well," he replied, "it means that last year the Northwest exported 40,000 head, and they realized the farmers and ranchers $37 per head, while this year the figures will be somewhere near 30,000, at $35 per head.

"Now," said Mr. Gordon, "let us see how this will compare with the returns to the farmers of Montana, the ranching county par excellence of the United States. The average price per head in Montana has been $36.20, and in Alberta $37.30.

"Yes," he continued, "the farmers out there are in good shape, especially those who have been carrying on mixed farming. Business is better in Winnipeg than for years," and returning again to the discussion of stock raising, Mr. Gordon told The World that no less than 15,000 stockers had been sent up to Alberta from Manitoba and even from the Province of Ontario for the purpose of feeding.

The exporter then referred to the political outlook, and said that the people of the Northwest expected great things of Hon. Mr. Sifton, who was a clever and courageous politician, and, he believed, the right man in the right place.

The Crow's Nest Pass Railway would, in Mr. Gordon's opinion, soon be built, and it would place Alberta in the position to sell a great deal of its surplus beef to the great mining centres which that road will pass through.

CHRISTMAS CHIMES.

Church Services in Commemoration of the Great Festival.

And she brought forth her first-born son and wrapped Him in swaddling clothes and laid Him in a Manger ; because there was no room for them in the inn.—St. Luke II-7.

In commemoration of the great Christian festival of Christmas there will be special celebrations in the several churches according to the following schedule of services :—

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.

Services during the day in St. Peter's Cathedral will begin by a high mass at 5 30 o'clock a.m., followed during the morning by low masses until 10 30, when Pontificial High Mass will be celebrated by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor. The choir will render Lambillotte's mass at this service and also at 5 30 a.m. Grand Vespers at 7 p.m. Music during the day will be rendered under the direction of Mr. G. W. Mulligan.

ST. JOHN'S.

The church has been most beautifully and elaborately decorated for the Christmas season. While the decorations are of this character they are in quiet taste befitting the sacred edifice. The services will be as follows : Holy Communion at 8 a.m. ; Morning Prayer, address by the Rector, and Holy Communion at 11 a.m. Special music appropriate to the season will be presented.

ST. JOHN'S MISSION.

The services at this place, conducted by Rev. W. L. Armitage, will be morning prayer, sermon and Holy Communion at 11 a. m.

ST. LUKE'S.

St. Luke's is also beautifully decorated. The services for Christmas day are : Holy Communion (choral) at 8 a.m. ; Morning Prayer and sermon by the Rector at 11 a.m. Special music has been prepared.

It is expected that three memorials will be placed in St. Luke's church on Christmas day. The new oak choir stalls, being a part of the memorial to Hon. Robert Hamilton, the memorial tablet to the late Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, and a brass font ewer by a member of the congregation, in memory of two children.

THE GEORGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

It has been the custom of late years to hold alternate Christmas services in the Charlotte street and George street Methodist churches. The service tomorrow will be held at eleven o'clock in the morning in the George street church and the sermon will be delivered by Rev. J. J. Ree. The collection will be in behalf of the Poor Fund.

SEVERAL ACCIDENTS.

The Patients are Doing as Well as Can be Expected.

Mrs. Edwards, of Ashburnham, was over in town one afternoon during the early part of the week, and slipped on the icy sidewalk, breaking one of the small bones in her wrist. Although the injury is a very painful one it is not serious.

Mr. Frank Baxter, of Ashburnham, an employee of the Geo. Matthews Co. (Ltd.), got caught in some machinery yesterday with the result that the back of his hand and the middle and third finger were badly lacerated. Amputation will not be necessary.

Mr. T. J. Doris, a mechanic with the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co., had the top of the index finger of his left hand taken off the other day, through having it caught in some machinery in the shop. It was feared at first that that the finger would have to be amputated at the first joint, but as no bones are broken, Dr. Moher is endeavouring to have the top of the finger grown on again. The progress of the experiment will be watched with interest, but it will be impossible to form an idea of the success of the operation for a few days yet.

THE GEORGE STREET SCHOOL.

An Informal Reception Held Wednesday Afternoon.

On Wednesday afternoon a large number of the parents of the pupils attending the George street school assembled to witness the closing exercises. Trustees Peter Hamilton, J. J. McBain and W. H. Hill were in attendance.

The routine work of the school was continued until 3 o'clock, and the visitors were given an opportunity of seeing the scholars at work. At three o'clock a short programme was contributed as follows :

Vocal solo.....Miss Lillian Hall
(with autoharp accompaniment.)
Recitation.....Edna Armstrong
Mouthorgan solo.....Joe Cobb
Recitation.....Sadie Rutherford

The pupils of the senior third division then served refreshments to the visitors, and a pleasant social half hour was spent during which Miss Mark, the principal, was presented with a beautiful hand-painted china jardineare by Miss Pearl Carton on behalf of the pupils. The address was read by Miss Wilhelmine Gumpridht.

By an error the name of Jos. Cobb was omitted from the pass list of the senior third division of the George street school, when the results of the examinations were published earlier in the week.

Miss Nellie Brault is spending Christmas week with friends and relatives in Toronto.

Mr. Adolphe Letellier, who is attending Queen's College, Kingston, is home for the holidays.

ADDRESS PRESENTED TO REV. J. C. DAVIDSON.

The Rector of Peterborough Kindly Remembered by the Mission Congregation—His Appreciative Reply.

Last night at the close of the weekly service in St. John's, Messrs. W. B. Bamford, R. W. McFadden, assistant church wardens, and Messrs. W. D. Points, A. Smeaton and J. W. Cranfield, representing the Mission congregation waited upon Rev. J. C. Davidson, rector, to bear the greetings and congratulations of the congregation on the occasion of Mr. Davidson's approaching marriage which takes place in Montreal on Tuesday, December 29th.

The gentlemen named met Mr. Davidson in the vestry, and Mr. Bamford read the following

ADDRESS :

Rev. J. C. Davidson, M. A., Rector of Peterborough :

DEAR SIR,—We, your parishioners of the South Ward Mission, wish to take this opportunity of extending to you our most cordial congratulations and most heartfelt good wishes on the occasion of a most important period in your life. And we would ask you to believe that these congratulations and good wishes are no merely formal expression, but a radiation of the warm feelings of respect and love for you that glow in our hearts. We all remember the faithful work which, as priest and pastor, you have bestowed upon this parish, and we would specially remember the warm interest you have taken in that portion of it which we more particularly represent. Your name is named in love and gratitude in many a home where sorrow and suffering have been mitigated and relieved by and through your tender ministrations.

We believe and feel that the holiday journey you are about to undertake has been earned by faithful and unremitting devotion to duty. We trust that it may be happy and prosperous to yourself and all to the amiable lady, who will share it, as well as the life long companionship, which we hope will be happy and as useful to the interests of the Church as has been the past of both. We trust and pray that we shall have the pleasure and joy of welcoming your safe return, when we hope to be able to give more substantial evidence of our congratulations and good wishes than these few heartfelt words may furnish.

Wishing you, dear pastor, a pleasant voyage and safe return, we are, on behalf of the congregation, of St. John's South Ward Mission,

Yours very faithfully,
W. B. BAMFORD, } Assistant
R. W. MCFADDEN } Churchwardens.

Christmas, 1896.

REPLY.

Rev. Mr. Davidson, who was deeply touched by this evidence of affection and esteem, in a few words most heartily expressed his thanks for the kindly sentiments of the address. He particularly valued this appreciation of his work, and said that it was a very great encouragement and assistance, and would nerve him to renewed efforts to advance the interests of a congregation that had already shown so much zeal, earnestness and progressive spirit in promoting the welfare of the Church in that portion of the Parish. In closing he requested the delegates to convey to the Mission congregation the assurance that he was entirely unable to express, his sense of the encouragement which the kindly act of the congregation through the delegation afforded him. His journey abroad would be all the more enjoyable when he realized that he left behind him so many earnest spirits and he congratulated both congregations on the circumstance that, in his locum tenentes, Rev. Messrs. Stevenson and Armitage, he had representatives who would look well and wisely after the varied interests of the parish he loved so well.

Rev. Mr. Davidson leaves on Monday morning for Montreal followed by the warm wishes, not only of both congregations, but as well of all classes of citizens, who have learned to respect his great zeal and public spirit in every good cause and his self-sacrificing efforts to benefit not only his own flock, but all the citizens of the town, irrespective of denominational lines and social distinctions.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

Miss Emma Might Remembered by her Sunday School Class.

The Sunday School class of little girls taught by Miss Emma Might in the George street Sunday school, met at her residence George street, last evening, and presented her with a very handsome jardinere and palm.

The following address was read by Miss Jessie Dunn :

Dear Miss Might :

It becomes my pleasant duty on b half of your Sunday School class, to remind you that we are not forgetful of the fact that by your patient love and devotion to your class you have won our highest regard and esteem. You have taken that interest in the class that ensures successful results, and by your example you have shown us how we may all labour for the Master's cause.

We therefore ask your acceptance of this gift and trust it will aid in reminding you in the days to come of the hours you spent as teacher of this class.

In presenting this testimonial I assure you, on behalf of your class, that as a patient teacher, a wise counsellor and a most excellent instructor, you will ever be remembered with feelings of the highest regard and esteem.

The presentation was made by Miss Ida Rutherford.

A most enjoyable evening was afterwards spent during the course of which refreshments were served.

A GRATIFYING SUCCESS.

The Christmas Tree Entertainment in Catholic Association Rooms.

The Christmas tree entertainment in the Catholic Association rooms was brought to a successful close last evening.

The hall was crowded to over-flowing in the evening, and the sale of fancy work was kept up until late in the night, and the fish pond and Ferris wheel (which, by the way, was cleverly constructed by Mr. T. J. Doris) were kept busy.

At eight o'clock the following excellent programme was introduced by Mr. T. J. Begley, who acted as chairman :

Instrumental solo.....Mrs T Dunn
Song, "The Phantom Ship,".....Mr Mulligan
Song.....By the Tots
Song (encored).....Miss N Lewis
Recitation, "Little Joe".....Miss L Ball
Dialogue....Misses V Donoghue and M Collins

The committee in charge desire to thank all those who in any way contributed to the success of the Christmas entertainment.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS

TO ALL THE READERS OF

"THE EXAMINER."

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And lo, the angel of the Lord came unto them, and the glory of the Lord shone around about them ; and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, "Fear not ; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto to you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ, the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you, ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger." And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."—St. Luke II.

PETERBOROUGH PEOPLE IN THE NORTHWEST.

Mr. Edward Emmerson Pays a visit to Peterborough—His Favourable Opinion of the Northwest.

Mr. Edward Emmerson, a former resident of Otonabee, but now a resident of Alameda, Northwest Territory, accompanied by Mrs. Emmerson, is on a visit to Peterborough, intending to stay the winter.

Five years ago next March Mr. Emmerson and family went to the Northwest to engage in farming, which he now carries on extensively. He had a square mile of farm—640 acres. When he went west his farm was in its natural condition, not a furrow turned, nor a roof in existence. He had now good farm buildings and some two hundred acres under the plough. He follows mixed farming successfully and both he and the family like the country well. They are three miles from the C. P. R. main line. Mr. Emmerson, though not exactly in love with high rates, has a good word for the C.P.R. which is an inestimable boon to the settlers. The chief drawback is the lack of regular school privileges. Schools owing to the sparse population are not maintained the year round. This is the chief drawback. There are two churches—Presbyterian and Methodist. A Christian Endeavour society meets every Wednesday, and the people go long distances to attend religious services. The settlers are generally of a good class and exceptionally well behaved. There are several Peterborough people within visiting distance in the vicinity, including Mr. E. Crossley, son of Mr. H. Crossley, town, who came down with Mr. Emmerson to pay a visit. Mr. Heaslip, late of Ballilleboro, the Turnbull brothers, Wm., James, Albert and Leonard, and others. Mr. Emmerson and family are well pleased with the Northwest—they have inconveniences in some respects but abundant compensations in others. He and Mrs. Emmerson will return to the Northwest about the first of March.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The Retiring Members by Effluxion of Time in the Several Wards.

The Peterborough Board of Education is by all odds the best local legislative body we have in the town. The members meet to do business and they do it, and do not waste hours in windy declamation at the expense of the interests of legitimate business. The following are the retiring members of the board: No. 1 Ward, Mr. J. J. McBain; No. 2 Mr. W. H. Wrighton; No. 3 Ward, Dr. Burnham, the present chairman of the Board; No. 4, James Edgecombe. It is probable that these gentlemen will again serve if re-elected. It seems desirable that Dr. Burnham's services should be retained, if the electors of his ward so will it. Not that his claims, as an ordinary member are superior to those of the other gentlemen whose term of office expire with the year, but because his presence as the head of the board serves a useful purpose. It gives the board a presiding officer, who maintains with tact a firm hand, keeping the board strictly to the business of the occasion, resulting, as hinted above, in the business being transacted in a business-like manner, without the importation of distracting side issues which result from the mania for oratorical display that characterizes many of the members of a body one could name.

WE ARE INTERESTED IN THEM

Mr. Pakenham and Mr. Walker of Brockville, say Good-Bye.

The Brockville Times has the following reference to two gentlemen, in whom Peterborough is warmly interested, viz., Mr. Pakenham, formerly of town, and Mr. Walker, Peterborough's new Inspector:

"The Collegiate Institute Conversazione last evening proved a brilliant and unparalleled success, the attendance far exceeding the expectation of the most sanguine promoter. Such a crowd was never seen before in the classic halls of the B.C.I. The fashionable audience was estimated at over eight hundred, and they thronged every corner of the tastefully decorated class rooms and corridors.

The chair was occupied by Judge McDonald, and before proceeding, Hon. John F. Wood, George A. Dana, M.P.P., and James Cummiug, Esq., were invited to seats on the platform.

In his opening address Judge McDonald congratulated the staff and students upon their justly successful entertainment. Never in the history of the Institute had the work been performed so successfully as in the past year. "While congratulating ourselves upon these results," said Judge McDonald, "there are mingled feelings of pleasure and sorrow, for we are soon to lose the services of two teachers who have helped to bring the Institute up to its present high standard." Mr. Pakenham and Mr. Walker, he said were both sorry to leave. The promotion each had received was a distinct tribute both to the work they had done and, and their individual worth. He hoped their successors would carry along the good foundation they had laid.

Hon. John F. Wood, being called upon, delivered a pleasing address, full of encouragement to the students and complimentary to the staff of teachers and the Institute Board. He joined with the chairman's regret in losing Mr. Pakenham.

Mr. Dana added his quota of regrets over Mr. Pakenham's departure. He also referred in suitable terms to the removal of Mr. Walker.

Mr. Pakenham and Mr. Walker were called to the platform by the chairman. On behalf of the students, Mr. El. Richardson read an address to Mr. Pakenham and Mr. John Grant presented him with ten volumes of a history of English Literature by Henry Morley.

Mr. Pakenham, in replying made a speech full of feeling. He paid a high tribute to the students and to his fellow teachers. Mr. Pakenham expressed the feelings of sorrow he felt in parting with the students and his last and best wish was a sincere Godspeed.

Mr. Walker was then presented with an address and a set of Ruskin's works. The address was read by Miss Taplin and the presentation made by Miss Smart.

Mr. Walker said that his labours had been labours of sincere pleasure, if they had been such as to lighten the labours of the students. Their kindness, attention and courtesy were evidences of the students' appreciation. He wished every pupil success.

Led by Judge McDonald the students gave three rousing cheers for Mr. Pakenham and Mr. Walker."

MR. CALCUTT'S GENEROSITY.

He Gives Additional Prizes for Writing in the Ashburnham School.

As was noted in these columns a few days ago Mr. Calcutt very kindly gave two prizes, of one dollar and fifty cents, for the best two specimens of vertical writing from the Ashburnham public school. These prizes were won by Mollie Blois and Laura Craig.

In the contest Mabel Scott and Edith Beattie took third and fourth places, being very close to the winners, and Mr. Calcutt has since given prizes of fifty cents each to these also, in recognition of the merit of their penmanship.

Mr. Calcutt takes a genuine interest in the work of education and manifests it in a very practical manner.

Just received, 200 cloth bound books, regular price 40c., this week 25 cents. A second lot, gilt tops, regular price 50c., for 30 cents—at SAILSBURY'S.

Ladies Don't Smoke,

but they have a tender regard for some fellahs that do. The great festival of Christmas will soon be here, and between now and then people will naturally think of buying presents for their friends. Mr. Chas. LeGros, the live George street tobacco and cigar dealer, realizing that money is very scarce, has put everything in the line of cigars and pipes down to cost, and when he says cost, he means business. LeGros is a hustler, and likes to give his customers a benefit at Christmas times. He imports all his goods direct, and saves the wholesalers' profit. A few of the snaps which he offers are to be seen in his window He has the finest lot of pipes in Canada, all of B.B.B. manufacture. In cigars, his imported cigars are of the finest, and this is proved by the testimony of the best people of the town who smoke them. Ladies who know the weakness that their gentlemen friends have for a good cigar or a meerschaum pipe, a swell mouthpiece or a handy tobacco pouch can take a hint and have a quiet talk with Charley on the subject. Call and see him and you will be astonished at the prices and quality of his pipes, cigars and smokers' sundries. ALIVE C. LEGROS, 330 George street. tf

At this examination the examinations in the Senior Third, Junior Fourth, Senior Fourth and Fifth classes were test examinations, and not for purposes of promotion.

There were promotions in all classes below these.

In future there will be no promotions from one room to another in December, but there will be promotion examinations in the First classes, Part I., and in Junior Part II. and Junior Second classes.

In June, each year, there will be promotion examinations in all classes.

By the above-mentioned system of examinations, hasty, imperfect, and superficial work will be avoided, and pupils will receive a more thorough training.

Parents and guardians are urged to see that pupils in their charge attend regularly, for if they fail at the June examinations those in the higher classes will have to remain where they are for the succeeding year.

A report is given to each pupil on the last school day in each month. These are to be signed by the parents or guardians and returned at once to the teachers.

Miss Allin and Miss Wood will attend the Normal School during the next session. Their places are to be filled by Miss Ethel Dawson and Miss Mary Erskine, respectively. By their departure the school loses the services of two efficient teachers, who have been very successful in their work.

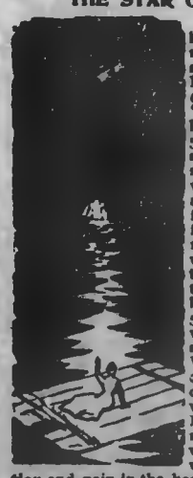
THE STAR OF HOPE.



"I had lost all hope and gone to my father's to die," said Mrs. MOLLIE EVANS, of Mound, Coryell Co., Texas. "I gave birth to a baby a year ago, the 9th of June last," she adds, "and seemed to do very well for 8 or 9 days, and then I began to feel very bad, my feet began to swell, my stomach was all wrong and I seemed to suffer with everything that could be borne. I was in bed 5 months and there was not a day that it seemed I could live. We had the best doctors that our country afforded. I was a skeleton. Every one that saw me thought that I would never get well. I had palpitation and pain in the heart, terrible pain in my right side just under the ribs, terrible headaches all the time; a bearing down sensation; a distressed feeling in my stomach all the time; could hardly eat anything and it looked as if I would starve. All the time I would take such weak trembling spells, and it seemed as if I could not stand it. There were six doctors treating me when I commenced taking your medicine. I had lost all hope and gone to my father's to die. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and his 'Favorite Prescription' together, and I took them regularly until I felt as if life was worth living again."

"I weigh more than I have weighed for ten years. My friends say that I look better than they ever saw me. The first two bottles did me more good than all the medicine I had taken. My stomach has never hurt me since. I can eat anything I want and as much as I want. If you want to use this in favor of your medicine, I am a living witness to testify to it, and will, to anybody who wants to know further of my case."

CATTLE QUARANTINE

Hon. Mr. Fisher and Dr. McEachran Succeed

IN THEIR MISSION TO WASHINGTON

Regulations Will be Relaxed—Michigan Fruit Men are Pretty Warm Against Canadian Competition—The New Australian Liner Aorangi to Sail March 17 Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Dec. 22.—(Special.)—Hon. Sydney Fisher and Dr. McEachran have been successful in their negotiations with the American authorities for a relaxation of the quarantine regulations. An agreement has been arrived at very much on the lines indicated last week. Effect will be given to the agreement by the passage of an Order-in-Council, as our own regulations are concerned, and across the line by corresponding governmental action. The Minister of Agriculture is not expected back till next week. It is his intention to spend a few days in New York before returning home.

A Michigan fruit grower, in giving an account of the late meeting of the State Horticulturist Society which was attended by Mr. John Craig, Dominion Horticulturist, says: "The society placed itself on record as being decidedly opposed to the present tariff laws, which admit Canadian summer fruits without tariff, while that (the Dominion) Government imposes a high import duty on Michigan fruit. A memorial was drafted and passed asking all Michigan Congressmen to use their influence to secure the passage of a law that will get even with the Dominion fruit growers."

The Department of Marine is calling for tenders for the removal of the hull of the United States vessel Grand Traverse, wrecked towards the close of navigation near Colchester reef, in Lake Erie. The wreck lies directly in the channel, and while the operation of removal will be attended with considerable expense the department considers it important that the channel should be cleared before the opening of navigation next spring.

The Canadian commercial agent at Trinidad, Mr. Fripp, has advised the Department of Trade and Commerce that the centennial celebration of that colony will take place on Feb. 15. The steamer Duart Castle, which is due to sail from Halifax on Jan. 23, is timed to arrive at Trinidad on Feb. 15, so that Canadians intending to participate in the centennial will be able to make close connection by the regular steamer.

The Department of Trade and Commerce has been advised that the date of sailing from London of the steamer Aorangi, the new vessel of the Huddart line, which is to ply between Sydney and Vancouver, has been fixed for March 17. She will therefore make her first trip from Sydney to Vancouver in April. The addition of a third steamer to the line will allow of more frequent trips, and will also be taken advantage of for the purpose of enabling New Zealand to participate in the advantages of the service. Hope is expressed at the department that Canadian shippers will embrace the opportunity of the sailing of the Aorangi from London, as they will be able to obtain favorable rates across the Atlantic. This vessel will relieve the congested state of freight accommodation between Vancouver and Australia, which at present is such that steamers of the Canadian-Australian line are coaling at Honolulu in order to save the 450 tons of space required by extra fuel.

J. C. Boyd, Superintendent of the "Soo" Canal, was in the city yesterday. The usual repairs will be carried on to the canal through the winter, to place it in proper shape for next season. Possibly some changes regarded as desirable by the Minister on his recent inspection may be executed.

The Department of Railways and Canals is completing the final arrangements for the winter service on the Baie des Chaleurs Railway. The company have been carrying on repairs to the road bed and trestles, and keeping the line clear of snow, which is the greatest obstruction to transportation in the winter.

News of the arrival of the big guns ordered by Col. Lake in England is daily awaited by the militia authorities.

Mr. A. H. Taylor, for the past 30 years local agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, and who shortly severs his connection with the company, was today presented by leading citizens with a handsome testimonial in the shape of an address, a purse of gold and a beautiful ring. The presentation was made by the Mayor. Mr. Taylor fittingly replied.

The Ottawa Woman's Council purposes tackling the public library question again. A resolution in regard to the starting of a public library in the city will be presented to the new City Council as soon as possible. The ladies say they are determined to push the question to a conclusion.

E. J. Rainboth of Ottawa, who was appointed a commissioner to enquire into charges which were preferred against James Martin, Indian agent at Manlwaki, on the Gatineau, is proceeding with the enquiry. Mr. Martin is accused of having taken an active part in the Conservative interest in the constituency during the last general elections, with a view of defeating C. R. Devlin and electing J. M. McDougall. There were other charges against Mr. Martin besides those of a political character, which Mr. Rainboth has been asked to investigate.

John Crerar, Q.C., of Hamilton, who was appointed a commissioner to investigate the reasons why the writ for Algoma was withheld after it had been issued by the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery, prior to the last general elections, so that the election did not take place until after June 23, has been taking evidence in the case here. He will likely have his report ready about the end of the week.

ROSSLAND DELEGATES

Interview Ministers at Ottawa and Lay Their Requests Before Them—Satisfactory Meeting.

Ottawa, Dec. 22.—(Special.)—The Rossland Board of Trade delegation, who arrived here to-day have had what they consider to be a most successful visit, and they left for Toronto to-night well satisfied with their mission. The deputation consisted of Mr. J. F. McLaughlin, president; J. A. Smith, secretary; D. B. Bogle, vice-president, and editor of The Mining Review and Richard Armstrong, barrister, formerly of Toronto. During the day they saw the Premier, Messrs. Tarte, Sifton, Mulock and other Ministers. One of the chief matters which they impressed upon the Ministry, and especially upon Mr. Sifton, who has just assumed charge of the Immigration Department, was the importance of immediately formulating a vigorous policy regarding immigration. They urged that circumstances were favorable for the Government making British Columbia practically their immigration field for the next few years, the present interest in the mining resources of that country being such as to draw the attention of the world to that wonderful country. They pointed out that if the Government assisted in drawing attention to the mining resources of the province it would lead to a large influx of capital, which meant augmented population. The time was never more opportune, in the judgment of the delegation, for effective work in the direction indicated.

Another important topic which the deputation submitted to the Premier was cheaper transportation facilities for the Kootenay country. The immediate construction of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway was an imperative necessity for the proper development of the district. Three-fourths of the ores which were being mined in Rossland district were what is known as low grade ores, and it was necessary to secure cheap fuel in order to smelt them. The construction of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway would render millions of tons of coal easily accessible, and would enable smelters on the Canadian side to obtain coal and coke at a much lower rate than that now being paid. Much of the coal being used at Rossland and vicinity came all the way from England via Seattle. Blacksmith's coal is at the present time selling at from $35 to $40 per ton, while anthracite brings $25 a ton. In the houses in Rossland wood is being burned for fuel, costing $7 per cord. Unless a supply of coal is secured the smelting business will go to the United States and the delegation desired that it should be retained in the country.

It was pointed out also to the Ministers that the Crow's Nest Railway should be built as a Government work, and operated as such but that running powers should be given to the C.P.R. and all other roads. Pro-Government in the Rossland country is practically unanimous against the C.P.R. being given exclusive control over the Crow's Nest route.

The deputation urged upon Mr. Tarte prompt measures to improve navigation from Revelstoke to Trail, so that steamers would not be impeded during low water. They also saw Mr. Mulock and asked for increased postal facilities for the district.

The deputation have good reason to be satisfied with their visit, the Ministers assuring them that their representations would receive every consideration.

THE NEW PRIMATE.

Appointment of Archbishop Temple—A Sensation Caused During the Ceremony by a Protest.

London, Dec. 22.—The confirmation of the Right Hon. and Most Rev. Frederick Temple as Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of all England, in succession to the late Most Rev. Edward White Benson, took place in the Church of St. Mary Lebow in London to-day. The Most Rev. William Dalrymple MacLagan, Archbishop of York and Primate of England, officiated at the ceremony.

At the beginning of the ceremony the Rev. Edward Brownjohn startled those present by rising from his seat and thrice protesting against the confirmation of the newly appointed Archbishop, on the ground that he held to the doctrine of evolution.

The action of Mr. Brownjohn created a great sensation, and when the congregation assembled had recovered somewhat from their astonishment many persons stood up on their seats and hooted and groaned at the protesting clergyman for some time. When order was restored Archbishop MacLagan refused to entertain the protest, whereupon Mr. Brownjohn left the church amid the groans of the audience. The excitement then subsided, and the services proceeded.

The Danger is Averted by Using

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

CORPSE HELD FOR DEBT.

Man's Inhumanity to Man Demonstrated in Buffalo—But the Money Didn't Come.

Buffalo, Dec. 22.—The body of Jerome Kelly, which was held here for payment of debts contracted to his doctor, druggist and nurse, was finally released Saturday and shipped to Pontiac, Mich. Dr. Patteson, who was charged in a despatch from Pontiac on Saturday with having caused the body to be held and presenting exorbitant bills, denies the charge. The bills in total amounted to but $90, one-half of which only was for the doctor's bill. Dr. Patteson further says: "Jerome Robins, a lawyer from Pontiac, who is a brother-in-law of Kelly, came to Buffalo on the day following Kelly's death. He claimed the body, but had no funds even to pay the undertaker or the shipping charges, and it was not delivered to him."

The doctor made no bones of the statement that the body was held with the hope that Kelly's relative might be induced to settle the charges before the body was shipped, and as this has been the first case of impounding a corpse for debt which has been made public in many years it has created not a little stir.

INJURY AND NEGLECT.

He Failed in Health and Strength—His Kidneys Ached and he Took Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dunsmuir, Dec. 14 (Special)—Among business people here, and especially by his fellow workmen, great interest has been taken in the case of Mr. James Stokes, who for the past fifteen years has been shipper for the Rathbun Company.

Lately he had run down in health and strength to the point of being compelled to quit work, and his recovery now as the result of using Dodd's Kidney Pills is the talk of the town. On seeing Mr. Stokes he said:—

"From over-lifting and strain I suffered greatly from kidney trouble, being advised, after all else had failed, to use Dodd's Kidney Pills; from the first dose I got relief, and hundreds of people here can vouch for my cure."

CATTLE FOR EUROPE.

Samuel Allerton Finds Fault Because of the Recent Concessions to Canadian Shippers.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Samuel Allerton has made reply to the letter of Sterling Morton, Secretary of Agriculture, relative to cattle shipments to European ports. Speaking directly of the shipments of Canadian cattle from American ports recently, Mr. Allerton says: "I am informed Canadian shippers loaded on the Allan Line boat Peruvian 472 cattle (capacity 630); also on the Cunard Line boat Carinthia 630 cattle (capacity 870). In order to take these boats away from the American shipper they paid a premium of 10s a head for the privilege of not taking the entire capacity of the boats. The steamship companies expect to get American shippers to fill the boats, but no American shipper would load those boats to come into contact with Canadian cattle.

"Now, you must see that this reduced the shipments of American cattle in one week 2000 head.

"You see the result of allowing Canadian cattle to be shipped through Vermont to Boston, as they come into competition with our shippers and charter the steamships. This broke our cattle market 15 cents a hundred in one week and reduced the value of 50,000 cattle in one week fully 30 cents a hundred. This was a loss to the American farmer, grower and feeder of cattle.

"Now, is it doing justice to the United States farmer or our Government to open the ports, exposing our cattle with Canadian cattle, which English veterinaries have declared are tinctured with contagious pleuro-pneumonia? Surely, so long as the Canadian Government will not allow American shippers to load from their ports, why should we allow them to load from our ports, and to reduce the value of our cattle by taking the steamships from American export shippers?"

BRAM OR BROWN?

It Appears to be a Question Between Them as to Killed Captain Nash and His Wife.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 22.—There was much speculation in the United States Circuit Court this morning before the judges took their seats on the bench as to how they would rule regarding the sensational testimony which District Attorney Hoar wished to introduce in the trial of Mate Bram. The opinion of the court was delivered by Justice Colt, who said that the evidence was plainly inadmissible and its admission would be a violation of the fundamental laws of evidence. It is, he said, proposed to prove that the defendant had been on another vessel six months or more before he was on the Herbert Fuller and that he had proposed to kill the captain and seize the cargo and vessel. This was no logical connection with the case being tried, and the evidence was rejected. The first witness called was Oscar Anderson, a seaman on the Fuller at the time of the tragedy. He went aft in the cabin with the others and described finding the bodies, the acts of the defendant and others, the signing of the paper and other acts of the crew in corroboration of the testimony of the previous witnesses. The witness described the conduct of Brown the night before the murder. He came up to the witness and said: "You can lie down and take a nap." I lay down, witness said, and he began walking about the deck. Then he came and looked at me and I got scared. He asked: "Are you asleep?" I said "No." I told the steward about it the next morning, and said I wanted something done to him, because I thought he was going to do something to me. After the murder he became very quiet and would not talk. Before the murder he was talking all the time. I never knew Brown to sleep on the deck before the night of the murder, and I never knew any one else to do so.

Francis M. Lobenc, a member of the crew of the Herbert Fuller on the night of the tragedy, agreed with the last witness regarding the conduct of the vessel with the wheel lashed with the conditions as they were on that night. Bram was on deck and at 2 o'clock called out four bells, and witness went aft to relieve Brown at the wheel. After Brown had gone forward from the wheel and while witness was at the wheel Bram went down the steps of the after companionway. Continuing, the witness said: "I then saw him run up the companionway. He was gone about 30 seconds. Hardly had Mate Bram got up on deck, when I heard the passenger Monks say: "I am all right." The mate came up and looked at the compass, and I could see his face by the binnacle light. It was white. Standing at the wheel, witness looked through the window and saw a heap of clothing on the floor in the dark room occupied by the captain. He had one hand on the wheel. When witness went to the wheel he heard what seemed to be a gurgling sound from the cabin.

Witness Lobenc, being questioned regarding Brown's forecastle stories, said that he told about killing a man in Rotterdam and said he got clear by playing insanity.

"Did he use the word insanity?"

"Yes, sir." (Brown, when on the witness stand, professed not to know the meaning of the word insanity).

Continuing, witness said that during this conversation, there was talk about a barrel of kerosene aboard and that Brown had suggested that it be spilled on the cargo and set on fire. He heard him talk to himself and laugh, but witness could not understand what he was saying. Witness took charge of the vessel after the captain's death, having been appointed first mate by Bram. Neither Monks nor Spencer had anything to do with it. Witness said that he had seen the wheel lashed by Capt. Nash a few days before the murder. The vessel was sailing free and the wheel was lashed for five minutes. Had once said, "We suspected Brown on account of his behavior; he behaved so badly." When there was a question about the disposal of the bodies, Brown said: "Throw the bodies overboard." When Brown was at the wheel he wore a blue flannel shirt, white trousers with blue stripes, a pair of slippers and a white hat. Saw shirt and trousers hanging up to dry next day and the shirt was the same that the witness had seen being washed on the Sunday before. When the defendant was put in irons he asked why it was done, and Spencer told him it was for the murder he had committed. He said, "I am an innocent man."

On re-direct examination, witness repeated the kerosene story and said Brown told him just before the night of the murder: "There is a barrel of kerosene on the ship and it would not take long to spill it over the cargo and set it on fire."

Dr. F. W. Draper of Boston, a graduate from Harvard Medical School and a professor there, was now put on the stand. He is an expert on deaths caused by violence. He was asked many hypothetical questions by both sides. Dr. Draper said death must have been caused by an instrument like an ax and that it was not necessarily instantaneous. He said the blows would not make anything but a thud. Asked if the assailant could escape blood under the conditions described, he said "I think so." However, he thought a person would be likely to get spattered.

After a few minutes' recess the prosecution announced that the Government's evidence was all in. Counsel for defense announced that they were physically unable to make their opening to-night, and the court was adjourned until 9.30 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Smith, individual bookkeeper of the Bank of Commerce, which institution is in the hands of receivers, was arrested late to-night on a charge of appropriating $2000 of the bank's money. The discrepancy was discovered by the receivers and when confronted Smith admitted his guilt. He says no one else is connected with the affair.

France Increasing Her Army.

London, Dec. 22.—The Standard will to-morrow publish a despatch from Paris saying that the Cabinet has decided to introduce a bill in the Chamber of Deputies providing for the addition of a battalion to each of the infantry regiments and increasing the war footing of the army by 100,000.

One of the best known residents of Tweed is Mr. W. H. Houston, who relates the following interesting facts: Mr. Houston says, "I have been very bad for several years with pains in my side and back.

"I had to urinate very frequently, in fact my rest was disturbed by frequent rising at night for that purpose. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, at Newton's drugstore, and have experienced great relief from the first.

HON. A. G. JONES TALKS.

Says the New Canadian Government is Pro-American, Also Pro-British.

London, Dec. 23.—A long interview appears in The Chronicle this morning with A. G. Jones, in which he declares that it is wrong to suppose that because the Canadian Ministry is pro-American in its sympathies, it is therefore anti-Imperial. The Ministers, he said, desire commercial reciprocity with the United States, but they utterly reject the idea of discrimination against British goods. An undying sentiment of attachment to England existed in Canada, Mr. Jones added, and would not be affected even if she were obliged to contribute her share to the national defence.

ANOTHER COBOURG RESIGNATION BOUGHT.

Result of the Cobourg Customs Collector Inquiry—Price Offered and Accepted for the Office.

Cobourg, Dec. 23.—The Cobourg customs house commission appointed to inquire into charges that Mr. George Gullet, M. P., Mr. Daniel McAllister, landing waiter at this port, and M. W. J. Maher had negotiated the purchase from the late Mr. C. E. Ewing, the collector, his resignation and have Mr. D. McAllister appointed in his stead, was concluded this afternoon, and the charges were declared by the commissioner to be proven. What action will be taken now remains to be seen, but the judgment was so severe against Mr. Gullet that it is scarcely likely that the matter will rest at this point. The commissioner was Mr. Charles Seager, police magistrate of Goderich. The commissioner said the case was plainly made out, and he decided that Messrs. Geo. Gullet, M.P., Mr. Daniel McAllister and Mr. W. J. Maher were implicated in the transaction.

BIG BLAZE IN GOTHAM

Policemen Carry Children Out of Danger.

LOSS NEARLY A MILLION DOLLARS

The Sohmer Piano Factory and Polyclinic Hospital Among the Places Destroyed —Inmates of the Latter Were Panic-Stricken, But No Lives Were Lost.

New York, Dec. 25.—An early morning fire on East 33rd-street to-day destroyed property valued at nearly a million dollars and rendered 100 people homeless. Four buildings, including Sohmer's piano warehouse and the New York Polyclinic Hospital, were destroyed. The destroyed buildings also include a large five-storey brick factory building.

The piano warehouse occupied a fourth of the block and the polyclinic was a four-storey building, with a front of 50 feet on East 33rd-street. The fire began at 7.00 o'clock on the second floor of Pinaire's snuff factory at 211 East 34th-street. When the first engine arrived on the scene the fire had already communicated with the piano factory adjoining on the east. Several large streams of water were poured on the burning building, but without apparent effect, and third and fourth alarms for engines were sent in.

The police, under Sergt. Gagen, aroused the sleeping tenants of the building on the west of the burning factory. There was a panic when the tenants found smoke pouring in their rooms, and several of them escaped narrowly with their lives. With the aid of the police 18 families, consisting of 75 people, were carried from the building.

Sturdy policemen, carrying small children in their arms, were cheered by the large crowd as they brought them down the stairs and out on the street. Several girls only partially dressed opened the windows of their rooms on the fifth floor and stepped on the fire escape in front of the building. One of them was about to jump to the street when a policeman, who had entered the room, drew her back and carried her to the street. At 8 o'clock the piano warehouse owned by Sebastian Sohmer was on fire from cellar to roof, and 15 minutes later the roof fell in. The fire had by that time assumed such energetic proportions that the hospital in the rear of the warehouse and fronting on 34th-street was in imminent danger.

There were 58 patients in the building, and when they were aroused there was another panic. Patients whose condition had been very serious leaped from their beds and ran towards the stairs. The nurses and employes of the hospital assured them there was no danger, and the panic was temporarily quelled.

The flames communicated with the roof of the hospital at 8.30 and in several minutes the upper floor was belching forth huge waves of smoke and fire. The firemen who were inside the building were ordered to leave the structure, and several lines of hose poured water on it from the elevated tracks on 34th-street. The tenement house from which the tenants had been rescued by the policemen had been considered safe by the firemen until 8.30, when a strong wind blew the flames over it. In a short time the roof caught the heat of the factory fire, and ten minutes afterward the interior was ablaze. Several streams of water had no apparent effect, and in a short time the roof fell in. The front wall of the fifth floor followed a short time afterward, and then the firemen turned their attention to the tenement adjoining on the west. The roof of the building at 221 fell in at 8.45 and carried with it to the ground the four floors. The piano warehouse wall, which was almost solid and nearly 200 feet long and 60 feet high, collapsed shortly afterwards. A part of it fell on the roof of the East River Hotel and damaged the building to a great extent. The firemen poured several streams of water on the hotel, but fire started in the rear of the top floor shortly after the wall fell upon it.

The fire was under control at 10 o'clock. Nothing remained of the three buildings except parts of the outer walls. The building in which the fire started was occupied on the first, second and third floors by J. F. Kaldenberg, a manufacturer of pipes and smokers' materials.

The Sohmer piano warehouse is a total loss. The loss to Sohmer in stock and machinery will reach $300,000, with the probability that when account of the stock which was in it is taken it will reach $100,000 more. The building was assessed at $200,000, but was valued at nearly twice that amount.

Several persons were slightly injured during the progress of the fire.

A HORRIBLE AFFAIR.

Poor Little Tot Found Besmeared With Its Dead Mother's Blood and Badly Frozen.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 25.—Mrs. Frank Watson, wife of a stationary engineer, was shot and instantly killed some time last night and her husband is under arrest, charged with the murder. Watson and his wife had been separated, but recently appeared to have become reconciled. This morning a man occupying the same house heard the infant of the Watsons crying in an unusual manner, and, upon investigation, found the mother dead and the little one covered with blood and badly frozen. Shortly after the arrival of officers, Watson also appeared. Blood was found on his clothing. The baby will probably die from freezing.

IT WAS A WILD RIDE.

The Grand Forks, B. C., Stage Smashed to Atoms in a Canyon—An Awful Leap.

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 25.—Meagre particulars have reached here of a terrifying experience and perilous ride of ten passengers on the stage running between Marcus and Grand Forks, B. C. When the stage left Grand Forks for Marcus it was equipped with runners, the sleighing being good. Everything went along all right until the stage was about to descend a steep hill a mile in length near Hall's Ferry, when in some manner the horses broke loose.

Before the passengers could jump out the stage started down hill at a rapid rate of speed and gaining momentum every second. The passengers simply became paralyzed with fright and clung to each other, momentarily expecting to be dashed to death. For nearly a quarter of a mile the stage kept the road, when a curve was reached. Like a rocket it left the road and shot down into the canyon with its human freight.

About a hundred feet down the stage struck a huge boulder with terrific force. The stage was reduced nearly to kindling wood, while the passengers were thrown out in every direction.

It may be recorded as a miracle that nobody was killed outright. The deep snow in which the passengers landed undoubtedly saved the lives of all. Edward Davis, a well-known mining man, received perhaps fatal injuries. All the other passengers were more or less injured. The names of the other passengers are not known yet nor the extent of their injuries.

WAS SHE HYPNOTIZED?

A Handsome Young Woman Found Herself Married to a Man Who Was Objectionable to Her.

Jamestown, N.Y., Dec. 25.—A man giving his name as Berton M. Main and his residence as Sheldon, Ill., a phrenologist, came here four weeks ago and engaged board at the Woodburn, a high-class boarding house. Last night he was married to Miss Mary Whitman, the handsome young sister of the landlady of the Woodburn, but tonight he is in the city jail, having been arrested on a charge of getting the girl under hypnotic influence, and then marrying her. The bride says she has no recollection of the marriage or even what followed it, until to-day, and can hardly believe that she was married, but the proof is absolute. The groom was arrested on complaint of the girl's parents, and she joins in the petition for release from the man, who she claims is very objectionable to her, but when in his presence she makes no complaint. The bride was engaged to be married to another young man of this city, and claims to have had no thought of marrying any one else.

A MADDENED CROWD.

An Explosion Caused a Stampede of Christmas Shoppers at the Central Market in Cleveland.

Cleveland, Dec. 25.—Central Market was crowded with between two and three thousand Christmas shoppers at about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when an explosion occurred, which was immediately followed by cries of fire. The crowd became panic-stricken, and scores of women, many of them leading children, were knocked down and trampled by the frenzied people. A large number received cuts and bruises, but no one is reported seriously injured. The explosion occurred in the office of the Braudt Provision Company, and was caused by an oil tank connected with a heater. $500 was on a desk when the explosion came, and the money was blown in all directions. The fire was soon extinguished, and then the crowd began fighting for the coin and bills, which were scattered all over the market place. It was only after a hard fight by the police and fire departments that the maddened crowd was restored to order.

CHRISTMAS KILLINGS.

Three Homicides Marked the Day of Peace and Good Will in Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 25.—Three homicides are the result of Christmas in Savannah. One negro boy shot another through the heart this morning, killing him instantly. William Titcombe, a white man, was fatally stabbed in a quarrel early this morning and died in a few hours. Levi Rutledge, colored, was shot and killed by a policeman to-night.

SPRINGHILL MINES

Again Visited by Fire With Disastrous Results.

A GREAT CALAMITY TO THE TOWN

Miners and Their Families Thrown Out of Means of Living—Fire Started in the East Slope and Spread Rapidly—The West Slope is Also in Danger.

Halifax, Dec. 25.—A report was received here to-night that a serious fire is raging in the big Springhill coal mine in Cumberland County. The fire broke out during the day, and despite the efforts made to extinguish them the flames succeeded in getting beyond the control of those fighting to subdue them, until now, it is believed, the company will suffer a very heavy loss. The fire started in the east slope and spread so rapidly that it soon reached the adjoining slopes.

While the fire has not got a foothold in the west slope, it is raging so fiercely alongside of it that it is feared it will also suffer seriously from the conflagration. It is considered that it will be a hard fight to save it, but the miners are working desperately to keep the flames from spreading further.

The other slope, the north one, is not in imminent danger.

The fire originated in an 800-foot level and was caused by the pipeway carrying steam into the mines to operate the machinery becoming overheated. A large gang of men were at work at the time. At the first indication of danger they made a rush to escape and all reached the surface safely.

The flames spread quickly to the 1300-foot level, which it has now converted into a raging furnace. Flames are issuing from every opening to the slope. Two cupolas were burned down and a bank-head had to be torn away. Efforts were made to prevent air from entering the mine, every opening being closed, but so far this has been ineffectual in staying the work of the fire. The men were placing themselves in great danger while performing this work, and the peril finally became so great that they had to be called away.

It was feared an explosion would occur. So far, however, there has been none, but a most disastrous one may occur at any moment. It is stated that the east slope will be unworkable for some time, and may even have to be abandoned. At times flames shoot 100 feet into the air from the main opening to the mine.

The disaster will be a terrible one to Springhill, a town of 6000 people, supported wholly by the men working in the mines, which are owned by the Cumberland Coal and Railway Company. Manager Cowans is at present in Montreal. The total loss from the fire cannot be estimated at present, but it will reach a very high figure.

The Springhill mines have been the scene of several calamities, the most serious being that of February, 1891, when nearly 120 men and boys were killed by an explosion.

The escape of all the men working in the mine when the present fire broke out is remarkable. Had an explosion followed immediately the loss of life would have been great. Measures will be taken at once for the relief of the families whose bread-makers have been thrown out of work. Some hundreds may be deprived of employment for months.

BLEW OUT HIS BRAINS.

A Well-dressed Man Seated on the Steps of the Brooklyn City Hall Shot Himself Dead.

Brooklyn, Dec. 25.—A well-dressed man about 30 years old, while seated on the steps of the City Hall shortly after 10 o'clock, placed a revolver at his right temple and blew out his brains. In the pockets of the suicide were found $11 in bills, some small change, a certificate of four shares of $100 each in the General Investment Company of Buffalo, N.Y., dated March 3, 1895, issued to William Morrow, and several receipts from the company, showing payments on the same. There was also a card on which had been freshly written in pencil on one side, what appeared to be the firm name of Bradley & Porter, and on the other side "Good-bye; August will return again." There was also found a slip of paper, on which was written: "Mrs. Murray, No. 627 East 154th-street." The body was taken to a police station.

BEN JONES ARRESTED.

A Former Paying Teller of the National Bank of Illinois in the Tolls at Chicago on An Old Charge.

Chicago, Dec. 25.—Benj. B. Jones, expaying teller of the National Bank of Illinois, which failed Monday, was arrested last night on an old charge, and the police authorities believe that they can compel him to divulge alleged irregularities in connection with the bank officials. One year ago Jones and Joseph Wilson, the receiving teller of the bank, were accused of absconding with $18,000. Until lately Jones had not been heard of. Wilson, however, was arrested, but through influential friends, it is said, was not prosecuted on the charge. Meanwhile, it is alleged, Jones lived in Topeka, St. Paul and the Dakotas. A short while ago Jones came back to Chicago, and this is said to have been no secret from officials of the banks who charged him with the embezzlement. When seen in his cell to-night, Jones denied that he knew of any irregularities of the bank officials.

WHO KILLED ZANONE.?

He Was Called Out of a New York Saloon and Stabbed to Death

New York, Dec. 25.—Antonio Zanone, a barber, is dying at St. Vincent's Hospital with two stab wounds in his left breast and the police are looking for Luigi Catalone, who is accused of attacking him without provocation. Zanone was drinking at midnight Thursday with Julius Naelone, Salvator Galine and Simeon Calagoire, who live above the saloon at 237 Elizabeth-street. Someone knocked at the hall door and called him out. A moment later his friends heard him fall and found him lying in the hallway bleeding. An ambulance surgeon said that his wounds were mortal, and took him to St. Vincent's Hospital.

THE LIBERAL AND THE CONSERVATIVE PARTY.

Under the heading "Time to Reorganise" the evening Star says:—"It used to be a comforting belief of the Conservative party that if the Liberals did by accident or luck attain to power at Ottawa, inability as practical politicians would prevent them holding office more than a couple of years. Even after the recent elections it the general Conservative opinion that the new government would not retain its power beyond the next campaign, while many were so sanguine as to declare that the Conservatives would be called upon to form an Administration before the life of the Parliament expired. That opinion is not now expressed. It is a delusion, and the party men and journals are not so confident as they were a few months ago. It is admitted that the Liberal party has been revolutionised; the Liberal leaders have become eminently practical in politics and are strengthening their grip on the treasury benches in the most up-to-date and skilful manner possible. Keen, clever politicians, level-headed men with ballast, are directing the job, and are making hay while the sun shines. In the meantime the Conservative party, having recovered from the knock out blow, and learned what struck it, is sitting supinely by. The attempt at reconstruction was botched by incompetent bosses, and apparently has been forgotten. A lethargy has fallen upon the party, and about the only signs of life have been the blunders of Mr. Foster. Good luck will scarcely help the Conservatives back to office, and if they expect to retrieve their political fortunes it is time something was done to put the party in fighting shape."

AID FOR THE ARMENIANS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—A "Thank-offering" sent to the undersigned, to be forwarded without delay to help the Armenian sufferers, who have undergone persecution and suffering so protracted and so indescribably great, would be a most appropriate "Christmas" or "New Year's" gift from the students and scholars of the universities, colleges, high schools and public schools of Ontario, where, thank God, persecution to the death for religion is happily unknown. Will each institution and school endeavour to make as liberal a collection as possible for this purpose? It is much needed; and the giving of a little money for such an object would benefit those who give it, almost as much as those who will receive it. Yesterday I received the following information from the Duke of Westminster, London, England, which speaks for itself: "Four hundred thousand Armenian Christians destitute in Turkey. The Duke of Westminster has received trustworthy information that there are no less than 400,000 Armenian men, women in children in Asiatic Turkey who are in a most deplorable condition, and on the verge of starvation, besides the widows and orphans left unprovided for by the late massacres in Constantinople and in the Asiatic provinces. Many are wandering in the forests without food and almost naked. All funds received are sent to Her Majesty's Ambassador at Constantinople, who directs their distribution, aided by a local European committee. Twenty depots have been opened in Anatolia, and at least £100,000 is required to provide for these destitute people, who must perish unless aided by charity." I should be greatly pleased to see a good response to this appeal, and shall with the least possible delay forward all such "Christmas" or "New Year's" thank-offerings to the sufferers, through the Duke of Westminster, chairman of the Executive Committee in London.

Yours, etc.,
WALTER B. GIKIE,
52 Maitland Street,
Treasurer for Canada.

THE HARVEY SCHOOL QUESTION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR.—Allow me a brief space on the above question re "Lover of Fair Play." I do not purpose again appearing before your readers in this matter, as I do not think that "Fair Play" has given a negative reply to my most important allegations. I charged the trustees that for ulterior reasons they had broken faith with the people. I charged them also of dealing dishonourably with the retiring teacher. I alleged that this was done for private and monetary considerations. I claim now that "Fair Play" has not, in in his answer, touched these, therefore they are not contradicted. I also charged the secretary-treasurer of falsely reporting the Inspector's school report to the teacher, and as positive proof gave his subsequent correction. This charge "Fair Play" said he would not answer—(clever fellow.) He referred it to the school meeting and not to your readers, as in duty bound. I now charge the secretary-treasurer with advising the retiring teacher (I suppose he was pouring oil on the troubled waters, or perhaps it was a balm to his conscience) to apply for a school that was not in the market. It is needless to say that Miss Downs very strongly repudiated a course so dishonourable, and her reply was couched in indignant terms, so much so that partly regretting language so sanguine, she requested the secretary-treasurer to destroy the answer. I say so because the threshing out threatened by "Fair Play" is going to be on the lines of exposing this letter. "Fair Play" will not discuss the merits of the respective teachers. Surely not. How could he? Miss Strachan was never, so far as I know, in this district before coming to usurp this school. Her home is in Southampton. "Fair Play" is hardly fair in his contention that subscribers' to that petition only desire was to keep down taxes, but they contended that it was fair to give an increase of salary to a tried servant rather than an untried one, and a stranger; particularly so when it is known the trustees have at different times spoken highly of Miss Downs, and gave her a recommendation over their own signature.

Yours truly,
L. T. H.

GALWAY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Snow fell to the depth of three inches on Sunday. This will make good sleighing for Christmas. Everybody will expect Santa Claus now.

Mr. Robt. Shaw, reeve of Harvey, and a Mr. Johnston, spent a day in Galway last week. Mr. Shaw, who is a candidate for the County council under the new system, was either looking after the requirements of the division which he intends to represent, or soliciting votes—we believe the latter to be the case. Mr. Shaw has been eight years in the County Council without a break. He was elected Warden in 1894, which position he filled very creditably, and if elected now will no doubt make a good representative.

Mr. John Cain, who had the sad misfortune to lose his beloved wife a short time ago, was again visited by the grim monster, who this time claimed a bright little girl about twelve years old. The community have deep sympathy with Mr. Cain.

Mr. Adam Craig's only child, a little boy about four years of age, was suddenly seized with croup, and expired after an illness of very short duration. His remains were taken to the Kinmount cemetery last Saturday.

ANOTHER BATTLE.

Spanish Reports Claim a Victory—Other Reports Say it Was a Massacre of Non-Combatants.

Havana, Dec. 25.—An official announcement was made to-day that the Spanish troops, under Col. Rabanal, have had an engagement with several rebel parties under Rojas. The scene of the fighting was near Cimarones. A rebel camp was captured and the insurgents were completely routed, with a loss of 36 killed. The Spanish loss was one killed and eight wounded. Advices from a more reliable source than the Government show that the so-called engagement was simply a massacre of unarmed non-combatants by the troops.

Burned to Death.

Louisville, Dec. 25.—At Farmers, Ky., last night, Rod. Padgett, a drunken prisoner, set fire to the city prison and was burned to death.

A CASE OF DIABETES.

No Help from Medical Men—Suffered for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

North Bruce, Dec. 21 (Special).—An old and well known settler in this township, named Thomas Brooks, who lives on lots 7 and 8 in the 14th concession, is rejoicing with his neighbours over his recent recovery, and he said:—

"I was cured by using twenty-four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and, as nothing else ever helped me, I say they saved my life.

"I had tried all the doctors of this locality and was treated for Diabetes, hoping and suffering for years.

"From reading of cures I determined to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I must say that after using the first box I would have considered them reasonable at ten dollars a box."

Cecil Rhodes Delivers a Speech at Port Elizabeth

TOUCHING SOUTH AFRICAN TOPICS

The Ex-Premier of Cape Colony is on His Way to England to be Examined re the Jameson Raid—The United States Warned to Keep Out of Cuba.

Capetown, Dec. 25.—A reception was given yesterday at Port Elizabeth to Cecil Rhodes, formerly Prime Minister of Cape Colony, and manager of the British South Africa Company, who is en route to England to testify before the commission that will examine into the raid by Dr. Jameson into the Transvaal. Mr. Rhodes made a speech, certain parts of which have excited considerable comment here. He treated lengthily upon South African affairs, touching somewhat fully upon affairs in Rhodesia, whence he arrived a few days ago, after taking part in the suppression of the Matabele revolt and then said that he was going home to be examined regarding the Jameson expedition by his fellow-countrymen, whose unctuous rectitude he well knew. This sarcastic reference to the investigating commission is taken to indicate that Mr. Rhodes' testimony will be far more interesting than was anticipated.

In another speech at Port Elizabeth, Mr. Rhodes, who, it will be recalled, some years ago contributed $50,000 to the Irish cause, said that in the course of his negotiations with Charles Stewart Parnell, the latter promised to insert in the Home Rule bill a clause allowing representation of the colonies in the British Parliament.

UNCLE SAM WARNED.

Confidentially Told That European Powers Will Allow No Interference in Cuba.

London, Dec. 25.—The Times will tomorrow publish a despatch from Paris saying that the United States has been confidentially informed in most friendly terms that the European powers could not remain impassive in the event of the United States abandoning the attitude of President Cleveland and his Cabinet. Should the United States presume to exercise pressure on Spain by recognizing the Cuban insurgents, or encouraging them in their resistance, it has been informed that Europe generally might become uneasy at the idea of such an extension of international action by the United States, inasmuch as it might at a given moment threaten almost all the powers whose possessions are in proximity to the United States, and might tempt the spirit of enterprise and encroachment that is inspiring the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations.

"If," continues the writer, "I am correctly informed, the United States has been concurrently informed that Germany is already quite prepared to side with Spain in the event of the United States showing that she is disposed officially to side with the rebels. Moreover, academic conversations are proceeding in certain foreign offices anent the measures the powers should take to form a syndicate against the invasion of socialism which is now menacing all political organizations. It was during these pour parlers that the friendly warning to the United States originated, Senator Cameron's resolutions for the recognition of the Cubans being regarded in some quarters as revolutionary."

REFORMS FOR CUBA.

Premier Canovas Again States His Intention of Introducing Them.

Madrid, Dec. 25.—Senor Canovas del Castillo, the Prime Minister, has again affirmed, in the presence of his Cabinet, that he is determined to introduce reforms in Cuba, dating their application from the conclusion of the negotiations carried on with other powers, which are already tending in a direction favorable to Spain. It is understood that Senor Canovas referred to the attitude of France, Germany, Austria and Great Britain, the Governments of which countries, it is stated here, are of the opinion that the United States cannot overstep President Cleveland's message to Congress.

GENERAL CABLE NEWS.

Count Schouvaloff Gets the Czar's Permission to Retire From Poland.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 25.—The Czar has granted the request of Gen. Count Von Schouvaloff, Governor-General of Russian Poland, that he be permitted to retire on account of ill-health. Prior to his appointment to the position he now holds Count Von Schouvaloff was Russian Ambassador to Germany, where he was very popular. Some time ago he was stricken with paralysis, complicated with other diseases, and several times it has been announced that his condition was critical.

Starvation in India.

Calcutta, Dec. 25.—Ex-Judge Goodridge has written a letter to The Englishman, a newspaper of this city, stating that every day thousands of persons are dying from starvation in the central provinces of India. He declares that the Government arrangements to cope with the situation are entirely inadequate and that the famine is now beyond control.

Armenians Dissatisfied Still.

London, Dec. 25.—The Constantinople correspondent of The Morning Post telegraphs that the Armenians are dissatisfied with the terms of the amnesty granted a few days ago by the Sultan, as it really does not improve the conditon of the Armenian prisoners in Constantinople and comparatively few will benefit from it in the provinces. Armenians who have been convicted of disorder will be confined in fortresses, while Mussulmans will be released.

WEAK, ACHING BACKS.

Many Women Suffer from Them Because of Kidney Trouble.

Hundreds Have Been Cured.

By Dodd's Kidney Pills which Restored the Kidneys to Perfect Health, Whereupon the Aching Symptoms Vanished—Pertinent Cases in Point.

Pity the woman with a weak back! You know her. She feels too ill to do a day's work comfortably, yet not ill enough to hire a doctor. It's her kidneys that are ailing.

Backaches are not confined to working women. My lady of fashion suffers quite as much and often. Young girls often are troubled with weakness of the back and loins.

The way to strengthen the back is to restore the kidneys to health. The medicine that will cure the Kidneys is DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have a marvellous record. Hundreds of women bless them. Read these:

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 4th.—From the little village of Carleton Place comes news of a most startling recovery of strength in a growing girl. Her father makes the following signed statement: "My daughter had been troubled since six years of age with weakness of back and could not get any relief. I procured a half-dozen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and she has used three boxes since, and is completely cured. I believe if she had not taken Dodd's Kidney Pills she would soon be in her bed. She is now sixteen years old and healthy. You may publish this as you see fit so as to help other sufferers.

JOHN GEORGE MUNRO."

MADOC, Ont., Dec. 4.—A woman and and her daughter both have been cured of Kidney disease here by Dodd's Kidney Pills. The mother attests: "I have been troubled with Backache and I heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills curing all backache. I bought half a dozen boxes, and can highly recommend them to all suffering with Kidney Disease. My Daughter Annie was run down, and she has taken them and is now free of all pain. We have no objection to allowing this to be published.

MRS. S. BARNUM;
ANNIE BARNUM."

COLBORNE, Ont., Dec. 4.—No higher testimonial can be paid to any remedy than the voluntary statement of Miss Coburn, which is as follows: "I had been for six months troubled with a severe backache and kidney trouble. I was advised to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. I had before tried other medicines. I have taken your pills and find a great relief. I can safely say they are just the pills for young and elderly women.

MISS ABBIE COBURN."

A Christmas Carol.

The frost gleams white on the house tops high,
And the clouds, they look like snow,
And the plumber man goes briskly by—
Blow, little tin horns, blow!

And I view my cash with a secret sigh,
And I say to my soul, "Go slow!"
But the children come, and I can't look glum—
Blow, little tin horns, blow!

So I'm quite resigned to the rocket's noise
And the roman candle show;
It's hands all around with the girls and boys—
Blow, little tin horns, blow!

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Peterborough Central Poultry and Pet Stock Association.

A meeting of the members of the above association, which was formally organized last week by Mr. Thos. A. Daff, one of the delegates attending the Farmers' Institute meetings, was held Wednesday evening to elect officers for 1897, when it was decided to adopt the above name for the Association. The following officers were elected:

Hon. President—J. R. Stratton, M.P.P.
President—J. Fred Davidson.
Vice-President—Geo. Pratley.
Secretary-Treasurer—Wm. Collins.
Directors—R. Cockburn, Lakefield; Jas. Baptie, Springville; Harry Lush, W. C. Rightmyer, Smith Milburn, Peterborough; John H. Garbutt, Smith.
Auditors—Geo. E. Elliott and S. D. Rightmyer.

The membership fee was fixed at $1 per year. A cordial invitation is extended to all to join the association and help along this important, profitable and interesting line of stock raising. The secretary will be glad to receive the names and subscriptions of any wishing to become members. An offer was made by Mr. Duff to give a setting of eggs from any of his prize varieties for the member procuring the names of the most members up to date of this meeting. It was won by Mr. Wm. Collins with a list of 17.

Mr. Duff has also offered to deliver an address on poultry interests. It will likely be deferred for a time, as there will be a poultry man, Mr. J. E. Myer, of Kossuth, on the deputation for Farmers' Institute supplementary meetings in a few weeks.

The Board will meet in the Morgan House parlours on Jan. 15th at 7.30 p.m., for the purpose of drafting bylaws and constitution, and arrange for a public meeting to be held early in February, at which papers will be read by some of the members and others.

A PRESENTATION.

Mr. John Roseel Remembered by His Pupils.

At the close of the Sunday school entertainment at Burnt River on Thursday evening several of the scholars of the day school stepped forward and presented Mr. John Roseel, their teacher, with a handsome gentleman's companion, and the following address was read:

To our respected teacher, Mr. John Roseel:

It is with deep feelings of regret that the happy and joyous times we have enjoyed under your guidance and oversight during the past school year is about to be severed.

We, your pupils, most deeply feel that your efforts to enstil knowledge and propriety into our expanding minds have, we hope, not been in vain.

Your earnest, kindly and pleasant method of imparting instruction has been highly appreciated by us, and the impressions thus made on our minds will greatly influence our actions and conduct in the future years of our lives.

In token of our esteem and good will we unitedly ask your acceptance of this gentleman's companion as a memorial of the kindly feelings that during the past school year existed between yourself as teacher and us as your youthful pupils.

We unitedly and sincerely desire to express our confident hope that your future career in life will be successful and prosperous, and that, should we ever meet again it will be with as much generous and kind feelings as exist at our parting.

Signed on behalf of the school,
ADA ADKINS,

HOW THE CHRISTMAS WAS SPENT IN TOWN.

THE SICK AND THE POOR REMEMBERED BY FRIENDS.

Observances of the day in St. Joseph's Hospital, the House of Providence, the Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough Protestant Home and Barnardo Home.

It was ideal weather for Christmas—clear and bracing, though of course a little snow would have been greatly appreciated.

In the morning the various services held in the different churches were all well attended. In the afternoon the Oddfellows entertainment and the skating rink were the two principal attractions. All day long the curlers kept things busy in the rinks.

The inmates in the various institutions were all made to feel that Christmas had arrived.

IN ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL and the House of Providence there are now sixty three inmates. Ten of these are in the hospital wards. To all of these Father Christmas paid a visit yesterday and no one was forgotten when the gifts were distributed. Several of the patients who were convalescing were permitted to go home for the day and to the others was permitted all the liberties pertaining to Christmas time, as much as possible being done to make them forget they were not in their own homes.

The halls were all prettily decorated with evergreens, and presents were distributed from a large tree loaded with gifts, in the morning. The chapel was beautifully arranged for the occasion. Transparencies were placed in the windows, and from the altar hung the costly gold lace brought as a gift from Rome by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor. The scarlet altar cloth was a beautiful piece of work executed by the sisters.

There were three masses during the day, beginning at six o'clock, the benediction and sermon being given by the Bishop in the evening.

The benefactors, as usual, remembered the Sisters, and large numbers of gifts were received for the Christmas dinner.

A visitor to the hospital should not leave the premises until the operating room has been viewed. With its new fixtures and modern appliances it has been placed on a level with the largest institutions of the kind in Canada, and the operating table has been pronounced to even excel that in the Toronto General Hospital.

THE NICHOLLS HOSPITAL

was magnificently decorated for the festival season, the arrangements being far more elaborate than any since the erection of the building. The stair cases are draped in red, white and blue bunting, and through the indefatigable energy of Mr. Jas. Head, the corridors and wards have been transferred into bowers of beauty, the walls being almost hidden from sight with evergreens, holly and potted plants. In the lower halls the M. Gill University colours predominate in honour of the visit of the students to town next week, when it is expected they will go through the wards.

The patients were awakened at half past six o'clock yesterday morning by the nurses, who went went from ward to ward singing Christmas carols. During the day Rev. W. L. Armitage, of St. John's church, accompanied by the choir boys, held a service in the reception room, which was attended by all the patients who were sufficiently convalescent. Afterwards the choir visited the different wards, and for the benefit of the bed-ridden patients sang Christmas carols in each. In the afternoon the flower committee of the George street Methodist church Epworth League, visited the hospital and distributed a number of bouquets amongst the patients.

At present there are twenty patients in the hospital—five women and fifteen men.

THE PROTESTANT HOME

as usual was elaborately decorated for Christmas, and every effort was made to lead the old people to forget that there had mayhap been other and brighter Christmases in their past.

The halls were all prettily draped with flags, and wreathings of evergreens adorned the doorways and windows. The interior therefore of the home looked most bright and cheerful. The lady managers saw that all of the inmates were remembered with a gift of a nature which would be most appreciated by each individual. Then quite a number had outside friends who sent in little remembrances. There are two of the Children's Aid Society's wards in the building, and these little ones were remembered on Christmas morning by the society.

The management is to be congratulated on having a Lady Superintendent who, like Miss Launderville, spares no pains in making the path of these old people as smooth as possible in the declining years of their lives. Yesterday they all looked bright and sat chatting happily around the big stoves all afternoon, while they talked over the excellent dinner that had been provided for them, and ate nuts, candies and oranges which were given by the Visiting Committee of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the George street Methodist church. During the day a service was held by Rev. W. L. Armitage, which was greatly appreciated.

THE BARNARDO HOME

children had a merry day of it indeed. On their return from attending service in the George street church in the morning, the entire staff dined with them in the large dining hall, where huge portions of turkey and English plum pudding served to make the little ones think they were back in Old England again or rather made them glad they were not, as what the majority of them knew of such good things in the mother country was gathered by the tales told by more fortunate children who, at least, had a home to boast of. However under the guarding wings of the good angel who guided these little waifs into Dr. Barnardo's care, it is hoped that for them all will be plain sailing hereafter and the day for them is past when a Christmas dinner is only a myth and not such a substantial reality as it was yesterday at the Home.

At the conclusion of their hearty meal the children were taken to the schoolroom which was elaborately decorated with evergreens, and in the corner of which stood a gigantic Christmas tree. Mr. Metcalfe, in fur coat and great hoary white whiskers, enacted the part of old Father Christmas, and distributed the gifts to the thoroughly delighted little ones. At the conclusion of this part of the programme the room was cleared of furniture and the children were allowed to indulge in those round games which are so dear to the heart of every child. In the evening bonbons and sweets were distributed and the games were continued until bedtime, closing a day which was probably fraught with more pleasure for the children than any of them had ever experienced in the past, Mr. and Mrs. Metcalfe and the staff uniting their efforts to make the day one of entire pleasure to their fifty charges.

ST. JOHN'S.

The Christmas services at St. John's yesterday were very largely attended, and were in every way worthy of the glorious festival they commemorated. The material settings, so to speak, of the service, and the magnificent platform decorations were in tune with the joyous key note, Christmas rejoicing. The services were spontaneous, bright and jubilant, and the musical portion full of exultant fervour. The singing throughout was really excellent in every way and reflected great credit on the choir and organist. The special offertory was liberal and very liberally disposed of. The decorations will remain over Sunday and the festival music will be repeated.

AT ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.

The nativity of our Lord was fittingly celebrated in St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday, and large congregations attended the different services of the day. The first mass at 5 30 was celebrated by Ven. Archdeacon Casey and low masses were held until 10 30, when Pontifical high mass was celebrated by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, assisted by Rev. Fathers Canlan and Scanlan. Ven. Archdeacon Casey delivered a short but practical sermon on the gospel of the day, in the course of which he tendered the congregation the Christmas salutations. During the mass His Lordship Bishop O'Connor conferred the Papal benediction and expressed the hope that the festival would be to them a happy and blessed occasion. The choir, which has been rehearsing under the direction of Mr. G. W. Mulligan, rendered the musical portion of the services of the day in an excellent manner.

Grand musical vespers were sung by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor at 7 p. m., and an eloquent sermon was preached by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick on the festival of the day. The sanctary decorations were exquisite, the adornments displaying the greatest taste and beauty, the altar at the vesper service being one grand blaze of light. The offertory during the day was a liberal one. The following was the musical service rendered:

10.30 MASS.

Kyrie, Gloria and Credo.....Lambillotte
Cantique de Noel.....Dressler
Sanctus, Benedictus and Agnus Dei.Lambillotte

The soloists of the day were Mrs. Geo. Ball, Misses L. Hurley, L. Mahoney, M. E. Mahoney, M. Dunn, and K. Dunn, and Messrs. Geo. Ball, T. Mahoney and T. Begley. At 10 30 mass Mr. G. W. Mulligan rendered the beautiful solo, "Noel," in excellent voice.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

Macbeth.

[The columns on Macbeth, of which this is the second part, forms part of a paper read by Sheriff Hall before the National Home Reading Union.]

Macbeth has always been considered one of the best of Shakspere's plays. Hallam calls it:—"The greatest effort of the author's genius, the most sublime and impressive drama which the world has ever seen."

In this play Shakspere shows us that looking, longing irresolute moods of mind, are the devil's special delight, because, with such, he is quite sure of a nibble for his bait. Here we have the perfect type of the wavering, undecided soul, that will peer very cautiously, of course, over the precipice in such a way that the weird sisters are evoked from the shadowy gulf below, and in such a tempting, balancing attitude that it is quite easy for the devil to steal behind and topple the peering spirit over.

The keynote is struck with the appearance of the witches, who represent the spirit of evil working for the destruction of the human souls, but as the German critic Hegel says, "It is not the witches who lead Macbeth on to his crimes, it is his sinful desires to which the witches only give an utterance, that at first dismays him, as when they salute him, "All hail Macbeth who shalt be king hereafter," he "starts and seems to fear." The salutation of the weird sisters awakens ambition, that had no doubt been latent in Macbeth's breast, and this was not, apparently, the first time that visions of future kingship had been entertained by him. Compare the different effect of the salutation upon Macbeth, and the honest, open-hearted Banquo. The latter says: "The earth hath bubbles as the water has, and these are of them."

Macbeth, on the other hand, soliloquizes: "Two truth's are told, as happy prologues to the swelling act." At first Macbeth appears to have allowed his better genius to have control, and he says:

"If chance will have me king,
Why chance may crown me."

The announcement of Duncan, however, that he had nominated Malcolm as his successor, and so placed an impediment on the way of his advancement, makes him give place again to his evil genius.

We are now introduced to Lady Macbeth, by means of the letter, only part of which evidently is being read; the unread part conveying, perhaps indirectly, the evil suggestions which had already been formed in her husband's mind.

She is of a very different character from Macbeth. Evidently a genuine woman, with all a woman's passions and emotions, and weaknesses, loving her husband and proud of his success, yet possessed by an ambition, which makes little of seeming difficulties and of an indomitable will. In Macbeth there is, at first an attempt, feeble, perhaps, to resist temptation, but with Lady Macbeth there is no such attempt. Her prayer rather is for power to carry out the deed. She knows her husband's character thoroughly; knows he is ambitious, but fears his lack of force of will:

Yet do I fear thy nature:
It is too full of the milk of human kindness
To catch the nearest way.

The difference between the two characters, and the supremacy which the strong will exercises over the weaker, are clearly brought out in the dialogue which follows the return of Macbeth.

That it is not from any qualms of conscience, any feeling of heinousness of the intended crime, that there is hesitation on Macbeth's part, is evident from his soliloquy in Scene 7, but rather that his clearer intellect and his larger experience see the risk to be run—the danger that this vaulting ambition may overleap itself, and were it not for the persistent, all-compelling will of his wife, he would now have abandoned the attempt.

After the murder, Lady Macbeth restrains her own feelings that she may support her husband's feebler will. Her words show, however, that her outward calmness is not due to insensibility; in fact her bearing and words all through show her to be a woman of extremely sensitive nature.

But having resolved on the murder her terrible power of will carries her through, and when Macbeth refuses to return to the room of the murdered king saying—

"I'll go no more,
I am afraid to think out what I have done—
Look on it again I dare not."

With what intense scorn she answers—

"Infirm of purpose;
Give me the daggers"

On the morrow we see her woman's nature re-assert itself, when at the recital by Macbeth,

"Here lay Duncan,
His silver skin laced with his golden blood."

she falls fainting to the floor.

After this we see her but seldom. In the third act we hear her sad soliloquy

"Naught's had, all's spent."

Time will not permit me to deal with the banquet scenes, where Macbeth's superstitious fears overcome him and he sees the ghost of the murdered Banquo, and is quite unmanned, and where the extraordinary self control of Lady Macbeth is again brought out. Nor can we speak of the interview of Macbeth with the wierd sisters, the flight of Macduff and the murder of his wife and babes.

In the last act we see the retribution which falls upon the guilty pair. In the case of the high strung sensitive woman, the punishment is terrible. We see the thick coming fancies that keep her from her rest," the "mind diseased," the "rooted sorrow," the "troubles of the brain." We hear her in her agony of mind:

"Out, dammed spot! out, I say! who would have thought the old man to have had so much blood in him?"

The fate of Macbeth is less awful. When he realises that all is lost, and that the web of fate is at last enclosing him, his natural courage returns and he dies a soldier's death.

I think Shakspere intended to represent Macbeth as a man capable, if left to himself, of higher and better things. Naturally brave, of high intellectual power, but like most Highlanders, superstitious and wanting in that moral force of character, which would enable him to assist and overcome temptation, even when presented by a loved and strong willed woman.

There may be a question whether the character of Lady Macbeth is true to the facts of Scottish history, but there can be no doubt it is true to nature. History is full of similar instances. There is the parallel case of the feeble-minded Ahab and the strong willed, ambitious Jesebel. The Herod who would fain have saved John the Baptist, was afraid of his strong-minded, cruel-hearted wife. Messalina and Agrippina, in whose hands emperors and nobles were as puppets. Lucretia Borgia, the fair, fascinating, charming woman, the type of all that is vile and wicked.

Lady Macbeth is a true woman. It is surely a master artist who makes her visit the room where the murdered king lay. It was not the murder alone which so offended her on the morrow after the deed. She had steeled herself against that, but it was the awful sight, which the words of Macbeth recalled, of the "silver skin, laced with the golden blood" of the man who so resembled her father, that overcame her. And, in the sleep walking, it is the same physical sight brought back to her after so many years which holds possession of her mind and makes her cry out in agony: "Out damned spot! Who would have thought the old man had so much blood in him?"

Of the other persons represented in the play, there is not much to be said. More than in almost any of Shakspere's plays, the interest of the drama centres on the two principal characters, Banquo, Malcolm Macduff and others being accessories only. Some of the scenes in which they appear are remarkably fine—that in the fourth act, in which Ross conveys to Macduff the tidings of the murder of his wife and babes being full of pathos.

VILLIERS.

A Delightful Sunday School Incident.

The Y.P.S.C.E. of Villiers held a most successful social on the evening of Monday, Dec. 21st. For about two hours the two rooms of the school house seemed scarcely sufficient for the crowd of young and older people who, in a pleasant and orderly manner, were entertaining themselves with games and social intercourse. One very interesting incident at this part of the evening took place in one corner of the school room. Here the Sunday school class which has been in the charge of Miss Williams for the past two years, gathered themselves into a group, invited their teacher to join them, and then Miss Jennie Gillespie read the following address:—

DEAR TEACHER,—We the members of your Sabbath school class desire to express our regret at your severance from us as our teacher. We also wish to present to you our best wishes for a happy Christmas and New Year, and would ask you to accept this jewel case as a small token of our esteem and appreciation of your efforts for our esteem and appreciation of your efforts for our spiritual welfare. Hoping you may be long spared to continue the good work.

Signed on behalf of the class,
ANNIE WEIR,
MARY NELSON.

The presentation was made by Miss Isabella Robertson. Miss Williams expressed her heartfelt thanks to the class, saying that such a beautiful present should have had a prominent place on the programme, and yet thanking her girls for the partial informality which gave her better opportunity to express a more personal thanks to each member, who would in future years always be remembered by her as dear friends as well as individuals of a class in which she had taken great interest.

At eight o'clock commenced a programme, opening with a chorus and a prayer offered by Mr. Lancaster. Then Miss Nelson and Miss Harris favoured the audience with a duet, which received a hearty applause. A recitation was well rendered by Miss Jennie Gillespie, after which Mr. and Miss Lancaster gave a duet which was much appreciated. This part of the programme then closed with a recitation by Miss Mary Brough, given in a very pleasant manner, and a beautiful solo by Miss Bathgate, which was heartily received. And now for about an hour the assembly were busily engaged in discussing those essential good things from numerous ovens, and yet not so busy but that smiles and more social intercourse, which is also essential to humanity, were indulged in with much evident appreciation. During this time the audience were favoured with some excellently rendered, though impromptu instrumental music, which was much enjoyed.

After the tea Mrs. C. H. Edwards and Mr. Morley Nelson were called on for a duet, and so acceptably was it executed that an encore was called for. Then Miss Williams gave a reading in her usual manner and before she could step from the platform another surprise awaited her. Miss Weir, in the name of the Y.P.S.C.E., read the following address:

Dear Miss Williams:

As you are about to leave us, we, the members of Villiers Y.P.S.C.E. wish you to accept this token of our appreciation of the praiseworthy manner in which you have aided the efforts of the society. It is with feelings of regret that we lose so active and faithful a member, but perhaps to your new field of labour there are those that need your assistance as much as we. You have been a leading spirit in the society ever since its organization, and we hope you will reap the reward in the time to come.

With this souvenir let us on the part of those whom we represent, wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Signed on behalf of the society.
MORLEY NELSON,
Vice-Pres.

Miss Nelson at the appropriate moment, presented an exquisite hand-painted celluloid glove case. Miss Williams expressed her sincere thanks, saying that the deep interest she had taken in the society from the time of its organization would still be retained through her future life, and the delicate remembrance would be valued by her, not only for its intrinsic worth but for the assurance it gave her that she had the sympathy of the members in her efforts to advance the interests of the society, for though her work had fallen far short of her own ideal, she had given her most sincere and best endeavour towards its progress.

After a hymn, in which all joined, Mr. Lancaster was called to the chair, and as he was wondering what was expected of him, Miss Bathgate read the following address:

DEAR SUPERINTENDENT—Your fellow-workers and scholars of Villiers Sunday School take this opportunity of expressing their high sense of your zealous work in the school. You have taken that interest in its progress that ensures successful results, and by your application and example you have shown us all how we may labour for the Master's cause. By your patient love and devotion to the truth, you have encouraged others to go on and assist in the work—a work that we know must bring its reward. The teachers, officers and scholars ask your acceptance of this chair, and trust as you have it in your keeping, it will serve to remind you of the hours you have spent with us in Villiers Sunday school. It is true that your work and our work are one that if cheerfully given, will bring its reward. In your case we are sure you have faithfully done your part and on the records of the school will be found, for the information of those who look back, no name around which gathers more memories of love and devotion, or one more esteemed, than yours.

Signed on behalf of the School.
MRS. BROUGH.
MISS M. M. NELSON.

Mr. Lancaster, in well chosen words, thanked those who had so kindly remembered him and said that though he had tried to fill his position as superintendent faithfully, he felt that the teachers in the Sunday school had been equally as worthy of recognition.

Another hymn was sung and then Mr. Blegard, M. P. P., rose to move a vote of thanks to the Y. P. S. C. E. for the enjoyable entertainment they had furnished and another vote of thanks to the chairman Mr. M. Nelson, who had so efficiently conducted the meeting and who, he thought, deserved high commendation. The motion was seconded by Mr. Lancaster and carried by a hearty hand-clapping. An invitation was extended to all present to attend the regular meetings of the society held on Tuesday evening of each week. The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

A genuine ghost-story has yet to be attested; but not a genuine blood-purifier. Over and over again it has been proved that Ayer's Sarsaparilla stands alone among medicines as the most reliable tonic-alterative in pharmacy. It stood alone at the World's Fair.

EAST SIMCOE VACANT.

Bribery by Agent Proved and the Election Declared Void.

Barrie, Dec. 25.—(Special.)—When the court re-opened this morning to proceed with the trial of the election petition against Mr. Bennett, it was at once apparent that the rumor of last night was about correct and that the fight was over.

Counsel on both sides proceeded to spar for an opening, endeavoring to find a reason sufficiently strong to satisfy the court that the election should be voided, and some very clever skirmishing was indulged in all round. The court, however, reminded the counsel that the respondent could not under the statute law, as at present constructed, relinquish his seat merely on request of counsel, or by agreement, as this proceeding might effectively conceal corrupt practices of such a nature as should be investigated, and such as might disqualify the respondent.

Nothing would convince Their Lordships to the contrary, and charge No. 60 was proceeded with. This was the one added to the particulars yesterday on motion of Mr. McCarthy, and proved the fatal one.

William Arthur of Victoria Harbor was examined, and deposed that he had voted at that place on election day, that on the night before, after he had gone to bed, Mr. Horrell came to the door and knocked. Witness arose and let him in and Mr. Horrell asked him to use his influence for Mr. Bennett, to which he replied by wanting to know if the candidate had sent any money down, as others in the neighborhood had got some. Horrell then extracted a couple of bills from his pocket, and, rolling them up, tossed them to him, saying, "Now you can support Mr. Bennett." Witness picked the money up after Horrell had gone and had heard nothing more from him about it.

This evidence was sufficient to prove corrupt practices, and it remained to be shown that Horrell was an agent of Mr. Bennett's, when the charge of bribery by agent would be complete.

Mr. Aylesworth thereupon arose and stated to the court that he had been instructed by his client to admit agency in this case, and it was at once apparent that the trial was over.

Bribery was again proven in the case of one Burgie of Victoria Harbor, but it was uncertain whether or not Horrell had been the agent, as witness had found the money in his pocket on election day after having talked with Horrell and several others in the village.

The court, in giving judgment, drew attention to the fact that, though bribery by an agent had only been proven in one instance, yet corrupt practices had apparently prevailed, as was shown in many other instances throughout the riding, and apparently with some system, and the seat was declared vacant and the election void.

Costs were not asked and not given and the cross-petition filed against Mr. H. H. Cook was dismissed.

Prior to the judgment voiding the election, Their Lordships dismissed both cases in which they had reserved judgment yesterday.

The unseated member will stand for re-election, probably early in March next, and Mr. H. H. Cook will likely be his opponent again.

One loaf of bread may be light, sweet and digestible. You may use the same materials for another and have it heavy, sour and soggy. The knack is in putting the ingredients together just right. A substitute for Scott's Emulsion may have the same ingredients and yet not be a perfect substitute, for no one knows how to put the parts together as we do. The secret of "how" is our business—twenty-five years of experience has taught us the best way.

CHRISTMAS BUDGET FROM OTTAWA

New Two-Cent Postcards to be Issued—A Quiet Celebration of the Day—Personal Notes.

Ottawa, Dec. 25.—(Special.)—Some time ago the attention of the Government was called to the fact that the two cent Canadian postcard which is used in communicating with foreign countries contravenes the regulations of the Postal Union. One of the infractions complained of was the ugly border on the address side of the card, and in addition it also contained the words, "British America Bank Note Company." An Order-in-Council was therefore passed authorizing the preparation of a new plate to replace the present one. It is of very neat design, and with the objectionable frills removed. The color of the stamp and print has been changed from green to what is known as madder red, or somewhat similar to the color of the three cent stamp. As soon as the present supply of 2-cent postcards is exhausted a new one will be issued to the public.

Captain Sinclair, secretary to the Governor-General, left for Scotland today via New York.

Christmas day passed off quietly at the Capital. The weather was seasonable and sleighing good, so that there was considerable driving during the day. The skating rinks were also well patronized. Services were held in the Anglican, Methodist and Presbyterian Churches during the morning.

Thomas Patterson, for many years customs appraiser at this port, died tonight. Before entering the public service Mr. Patterson was a grocer in Ottawa. Mr. G. M. Bowell, Collector of Customs at Vancouver, and son of Sir Mackenzie, is a son-in-law of deceased.

Members of the Parliamentary Press Gallery presented their faithful doorkeeper, William O'Keefe, with a suitable Christmas present on the occasion of his retirement from that office. Mr. O'Keefe has been doorkeeper of the press gallery over 20 years.

FOUND A JEWEL.

An Important Find by a Brockville Jeweller.

Mr. Joseph Lane, the well-known jeweller of Brockville, says: "For some years I have suffered with severe pains in my back and sides and flashes of heat between my shoulders. I had a tired, wornout feeling.

"The numerous medicines that I took gave me very little relief. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I thought I would try a box, and got one at Curry's drugstore.

"After the first two or three doses I felt much relieved, and the longer I took them the greater the change for the better in my condition. I am much better in every respect and recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble as the best remedy I know of."

THE ISLAND KINGDOM.

Religious and Social Christmas Customs In Japan.

It may seem to us Americans with our preconceived notions that it is hardly worth while to celebrate a Christmas without the blazing Yule log, or the Christmas tree, or mistletoe and holly, or one and all of the accompaniments of that season that have become a part and parcel of our bringing up. Yet the majority of the 37,000 Christianized natives of the Island Kingdom, in their "artless, Japanese way, find pleasure enough in observing the day in a manner that would make us think that the seasons had been turned topsy turvy, and our civilization along with them.

The Japs work all day Christmas because that is their busiest time of year. It is the season when trade is the most active and the export traffic at its height. Churchgoing and holiday making are therefore deferred until evening. In the meantime the churches are trimmed by the women and made veritable bowers of flowers, for December in the greater portion of Japan is a genial month, and flowers are so cheap that enough wagon loads of blossoms and greenery to trim Barnum's circus tent can be bought for $10.

All Japanese seem to possess the artistic instinct in a high degree, and the women are no exception. Of course they chat and gossip in a lively fashion, just as our own women do, while their nimble fingers are at work tying and bunching together the camellias, chrysanthemums and roses that are lying around them in huge piles. Their ideas of color effects in church decoration are different from ours, and perhaps more correct. Instinctively they seem to realize that white is the emblem of purity and green the color of nature; so white and pale yellow flowers are imposed against backgrounds of solid green leafage, into which are interwoven branches of dwarf orange trees with the ripe, yellow fruit upon them.

After church comes the Christmas dinner, though it is as unlike our own feasts as one can well imagine. Turkeys have been introduced into Japan from this country, and the goose they have had with them always. But chicken and duck are the poultry delicacies held in highest esteem, though fish in various forms is the principal feature of the meal. The fowls are boiled and served cut up in small pieces mixed with rice, lily bulbs, mushrooms, cabbage root, onions or other vegetables in the form of salmis or stews. The fish are also boiled and served whole.

Roasting and frying are unknown to Japanese cookery, for all food among the rank and file of the nation is eaten with chopsticks. They are an improvement on the Chinese articles and do not require so much deft juggling to produce satisfactory results. Each guest has his individual small and low table and seats himself on the thick matting with which the floor of the dining room is carpeted. The soup served as the first course is drunk from handsomely lacquered bowls, and the rice wine that is drunk with all of the courses loses nothing of its flavor from being served in dainty porcelain cups.

The Japanese family concludes its observance of Christmas day by giving the children a frolic, while their elders look on sedately. If the Japanese Christians crowd their merrymaking and religious ceremonies into a shorter space of time than we do, they nevertheless appear to enjoy themselves quite as much, and it may be that we can take a leaf out of their book with both pleasure and profit.

Spent Thousands for Health, but did Not Obtain This Greatest of all Blessings Until She Used the Great South American Cure—Suffered Internally for 12 Years.

Mrs. F. It has indeed proved a wonderful cure in my case. I have spent thousands of dollars in doctors' bills and medicines without avail. Five bottles of this wonderworker has cured all pain. I am better in health generally than I have been for ten years." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

The Best Cough Cure is Haggart's Pectoral Balsam. It heals the lungs and cures cough and colds.

The skeleton in many a household is the peculiar weakness of the wife and mother, or of the wife who ought to be a mother and is not. Happiness is destroyed by the presence of the secret sickness that may lurk like a grinning death among the most luxurious homes. The most terrible thing about this condition of affairs is that it is entirely needless. There is no reason in the world why every woman in the world should not be strong and healthful and capable of fulfilling her whole duty as a wife and mother. Many women go on month after month, and year after year, becoming weaker and weaker, because of a very natural hesitancy they feel in consulting a physician. They know that if they go to a doctor for treatment, the first thing he will insist on will be "examination" and "local treatment." This must of course be distasteful to every modest woman. They are generally as unnecessary as they are abhorrent. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures positively, perfectly, permanently, all varieties of "female weakness" and disease. It is designed to do this one thing, and it does it. It is the only medicine now before the public for woman's peculiar ailments, adapted to her delicate organization by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in these maladies. It cannot do harm in any condition of the system. Its sales exceed the combined sales of all other medicines for women.

Every woman will be healthier and happier for following the friendly, practical counsel contained in Dr. Pierce's great universal doctor book: "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." It is the most comprehensive medical work in one volume in the English language. It contains 1008 pages, fully illustrated. 680,000 copies have been sold at $1.50 each bound in cloth. The profits are now used in printing half-a-million free copies bound in strong manilla paper covers. To get one you have only to send 21 one-cent stamps (to pay cost of customs and mailing only) to World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y. TURNING GRAY
AND THREATENED WITH BALDNESS

The Danger is Averted by Using

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

HAMMOND THE SCAPEGOAT.

A Man Who Knows Tells Something of the Inwardness of the First National Bank Failure

Chicago, Dec. 23.—A staff of accountants in charge of an expert was put to work during the day at the Dreyer & Co. and Wasmansdorff & Heinemann banks and next week a report is expected, which will give an intelligent idea of the condition of both houses.

Vice-President Hammond, who is charged with pulling the wool over the eyes of the directors of the defunct National Bank, would not talk for publication when seen to-day at his Evanston home, but a friend, speaking for him, said: "W. A. Hammond is to be made the scapegoat of the failure of the bank. He is a broken man to-day, but he is not any more to blame for the amount of money loaned on Calumet Electric security than are the members of the Finance Committee of the bank and its directors. It was necessary for the purposes of the man connected with the South Chicago City Railway and an officer of one of the biggest banks in Chicago to depreciate the Calumet road stock, and to this end these two men accomplished the wreck of the National Bank of Illinois. Members of the Finance Committee and directors of the failed bank knew the full amount of the Calumet loan, and hoped to make individual fortunes on the success of the venture. They were given stock of the road, and the purpose of the deal was to sell the property and, besides paying the bank loan, make a neat sum for the directors. There has been a sharp contest between the General Electric and South Chicago City Railway Companies to get control of the Calumet bonds. The latter road will be worth $5,000,000 in five years, and the outsiders who ruined the bank know it, but they wanted to buy the bonds cheap."

In the confidence that the scare of savings depositors had practically run its limit, the officers of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, after an hour or so of payment under the present day notice rule for accounts of over $100, decided to remove all restrictions and began payment in full to all depositors in line. The line soon dwindled to a score of people.

At the Hibernian Bank the notice was still adhered to, but the line there had decreased to a few persons and teh run is believed to be over.

E. S. Dreyer and his partner, Robert Berger, of the banking firm of E. S. Dreyer & Co., which failed on Monday, were arrested this afternoon, charged with receiving a deposit knowing their bank to be insolvent, and taken to the Central Police Station. Subsequently they were released by Justice Hall in $500 each, pending the hearing of their case, which will take place Jan. 2.

Brewing Firm Gone Down.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—The American Brewing, Malting and Elevator Company, the George A. Weiss Malting and Elevator Company and George A. Weiss individually assigned last evening. The assignment of the two companies, who are intimately connected, and that of Weiss were brought into court yesterday. The assignee of the American Brewing, Malting and Elevator Company is the Chicago Title and Trust Company. The George A. Weiss Malting and Elevator Company and George A. Weiss assigned to the Security Title and Trust Company. No statement was filed as to the assets and liabilities.

The failure of the two corporations was the result of the failure of the National Bank of Illinois. The two companies were borrowers from the bank and were indebted to it when it failed to the amount of over half a million dollars. The corporations were both organized through the efforts of George A. Weiss, who is President of the George A. Weiss Malting and Elevator Company. The American Brewing, Malting and Elevator Company is the owner of extensive malt houses on North Ashland-avenue, which are leased to the other company and are used by it in the manufacture of malt. The American Brewing, Malting and Elevator Company has a large brewery adjoining the malt houses, and the two are closely related in business, one buying and selling to the other.

Big Failure at Sioux City.

Sioux City, Iowa, Dec. 23.—The Parsons & Pelleter Company, the largest retail drygoods concern in Iowa, was closed to-day, under chattel mortgages aggregating $91,533. Assets are estimated at from $130,000 to $140,000.

WRECKED IN A NORTHER.

Barque Jamaica Went Down and All on Board With Her Except Four.

San Diego, Cal., Dec. 23.—The barque Jamaica was wrecked in a norther off Dos Rosas Tabasco on the 12th inst., and all on board, save three men and a boy, were drowned. The Jamaica was on her way from Campeche to Vera Cruz, and carried 16 persons. The number of the crew is unknown. The passengers took to the boats, which were repeatedly swamped. Most of the crew put on life preservers and jumped into the sea. The captain was one of these. He strapped one hundred Mexican silver dollars upon himself, and, clinging to a barrel, tried to reach shore. The survivors saw him sink owing to the weight of the metal. One passenger after another sank, the boats proving unmanageable. Every member of the crew was drowned, and only three men and a boy escaped of all the passengers.

BARRY AND HARDING

Announce Themselves Willing to Race Gaudaur for the Championship.

London, Dec. 23.—Both Wag Harding and Barry, the oarsmen, are anxious to row Jake Gaudaur for the sculling championship of the world. They prefer, however, to row in England.

Barry has already signed preliminary articles and posted money for a race with Gaudaur for £50 a side, allowing Gaudaur £25 for expenses. Barry is now arranging to row Harding also.

George Bubear, the sculler, said to a reporter of the United Associated Presses today that Barry was certain to defeat Harding, and expressed the opinion that neither Harding nor Barry was the equal of Gaudaur in their present form.

MONTREAL MONEY KINGS

Met at the Festive Board and Count the Year's Profits—Other Notes From the Metropolis

Montreal, Dec. 23.—(Special.)—To-night the brokers of this city had a champagne spread in honor of the ups and downs of the street during the year 1896. There was a good attendance, and when notes had been compared it was found that the operators were considerably better off than they were at the close of 1895. No great sums have been piled up on St. Francois Xavier-street, but considerable money has been made. Forget & Co. made a good deal of money in Chicago, and probably got back all they lost in the Windy City a year or two ago.

Mr. Robert G. Reid, who is building the Newfoundland Railway, and who has been in London for some time past, has given a contract to Messrs. Englas & Co. of Glasgow, Scotland, for the construction of a first-class screw steamer to run between the western terminus of the Newfoundland Railway and Sydney, C. B. The boat, which is to be ready for service next summer, will be 231 feet long, 32 feet beam, and will be able to run from Port aux Basques, Nfld., to Cape Breton in a very few hours.

Mr. W. W. Ogilvie returned from the Northwest to-day and states that he never before found business so good in Winnipeg. He confirms the report that Dakota farmers are bringing wheat over the line and selling it to the Canadian millers, this taking place especially at Clearwater. "In fact," continued Mr. Ogilvie, "this is nothing new, for during many years I have seen the American farmers drive their loads up to the custom house, pay the duty, and sell their wheat to my representative in that locality." If no change is made in the tariff to change the avenues of trade, Mr. Ogilvie will build a new elevator at Winnipeg having a capacity of from half to three-quarters of a million bushels, and another at Montreal of the same dimensions.

Miss Annie Sims, who was shot 17 days ago by John Homer Howell, her rejected lover, died early this morning at the General Hospital. On Sunday last the fatal bullet, which had entered the young woman's left eye and lodged under the right ear was extracted. Since then Miss Sims seemed to lose ground so rapidly that all hope of saving her life was given up, and at 4 o'clock this morning the worst fears were realized. No inquest will be held.

MUST COME TO CANADA.

The Appeal in the Case of Mrs. Sternaman Dismissed by Judge Coxe of Utica.

Utica, Dec. 23.—Judge Coxe to-day handed down his decision in the Sternaman extradition case. Proceedings were taken under a writ of habeas corpus to review the action of Commissioner Joseph L. Fairchild of Buffalo in holding Olive A. Sternaman for extradition to Canada on the charge of poisoning her husband, George H. Sternaman, at Rainham, Haldimand County, Ontario, Aug. 13, 1896. It is alleged the murder was committed to secure $1900 insurance which Sternaman had taken out after his marriage last February. Judge Coxe dismissed the writ. All points of the case, except that of jurisdiction, were decided at the time of the argument on the writ. Judge Coxe holds that the officer authorized to conduct the proceedings placed before the Commissioners facts sufficient to warrant action on his part.

INJURY AND NEGLECT.

He Failed in Health and Strength—His Kidneys Ached and he Took Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Deseronto, Dec., 14 (Special)—Among business people here, and especially by his fellow workmen, great interest has been taken in the case of Mr. James Stokes, who for the past fifteen years has been shipper for the Rathbun Company.

Lately he had run down in health and strength to the point of being compelled to quit work, and his recovery now as the result of using Dodd's Kidney Pills is the talk of the town. On seeing Mr. Stokes he said:—

"From over-lifting and strain I suffered greatly from kidney trouble, being advised, after all else had failed, to use Dodd's Kidney Pills; from the first dose I got relief, and hundreds of people here can vouch for my cure."

MANY LIVES IN JEOPARDY.

Hotel Burned at Rockford, Ill., Due to Santa Claus' Whiskers Taking Fire From a Gas Jet.

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 25.—The lives of many guests of the Huffman House were placed in jeopardy last night, when that hostelry and the block bearing its name was completely destroyed by fire, with a total loss of $100,000. The blaze originated in one of the show windows of Foller Bros.' drygoods store on the ground floor, due to the whiskers of a Santa Claus figure becoming ignited from a gas jet. The flames ran through the store and its combustible stock with great rapidity, and, finding an outlet to the hotel portion of the building, soon ate their way upward through the elevator and shafts. The guests became panic-stricken, but none had retired and all were rescued. The firemen carried several ladies from the structure in a semi-conscious condition. The guests lost all of their personal baggage.

HANNA BROKEN DOWN.

The Man Who Engineered the Campaign for McKinley Will Have to Rest for a While.

Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 25.—A warning to cease his aggressive and indefatigable labors has come to Chairman M. A. Hanna. It was announced last night that he was suffering from that miserable disease, insomnia, and would probably be forced to remain quiet for several days. The family physician says that Mr. Hanna is broken down and advises a rest.

The announcement that Hanna was indisposed was a disappointment to the numerous office-seekers who called daily to "pay their respects" to the man who engineered McKinley's campaign. There were rumors that Hanna has suffered a slight apoplectic stroke, but they are untrue. That affliction has not yet visited him.

Hanna has always employed his brain power. He has practically performed no physical labor in his life. Inherited wealth placed him in a position to conceive schemes for increasing the amount, and success has crowned his efforts. Since McKinley's campaign commenced last spring Mr. Hanna has been constantly at work. He concocted schemes to secure the nomination for McKinley, and then after the struggle at St. Louis with Platt and Quay, the hard work of the campaign commenced.

MURDERED AT A DANCE.

A Melee in a Detroit Saloon Results in the Killing of a Man, Who Leaves a Widow and Orphan.

Detroit, Dec. 25.—A party given in Garborine's saloon, corner of Rivard and Division-street, last night, was attended by many Italians and Poles. Among those in attendance were Filouere Faudeckis and Frank Jandancil. During the progress of the festivities these men had a quarrel and went out into the yard back of the saloon to fight it out. Friends interfered, and at 1 o'clock the men returned to the room in which the dance was being held. Here the quarrel was renewed and during the fracas, revolvers and knives were drawn by several men. The trouble again quieted down, and according to the onlookers, a set was formed for a dance. Faudeckis was standing with his partner ready for the dance to begin, when, as the story goes, Jandancil rushed toward Faudeckis, and, pointing a revolver at his hear, fired, the bullet striking him full and fair in the forehead. The man fell to the floor dead, and the murderer was grabbed by bystanders. The police were called and Sergeant Jants took Jandancil to the Gratiot Police station. The crowd made threatening demonstrations toward the prisoner, and the decision of the officers in removing probably saved him from an attack. The murdered man was about 35 years of age and leaves a widow and one child in the Old Country.

A THIEF RELENTS.

Articles Stolen From Ex-President Harrison's Home Returned to the Great Joy of Mrs. Harrison.

Indianapolis, Dec. 25.—A package reached General Harrison by express yesterday and it was found to contain the gold watch and chain and the diamond pin belonging to Mrs. Harrison that were stolen by a porch climber from his residence some six weeks ago.

The local police knew nothing of the finding of the articles, and the Harrison family refuse to say anything further than that they have been received. Who sent them or whether the General himself knows is an open question. Some members of the police believe that the thief, knowing that the articles were widely advertised and fearing to dispose of them, returned them through a friend of the ex-President.

Mrs. Harrison was delighted to receive the stolen property, as the watch was a present to her first husband and the pin an heirloom in her family. She said that a more highly-appreciated Christmas gift could not have been made her.

HEART PAINS LEAVE IN A DAY.

Unable to Attend to Her Daily Duties—And a Great Sufferer From Heart Trouble—Induced to Try Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart, and it Proved a Wonder Worker.

These are the words of Mrs. W. T. Rundle, of Dundalk, Ont.: "I was a great sufferer with severe pain in the region of my heart. For a time I was quite unable to attend to my household duties. I was induced to try Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart, and I must say the result was wonderful. The pain immediately left me, and after the first day I have had no pain or trouble since." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

HOCKEY.

The Globe says,—The score in Peterborough against the Imperials was 7 to 2, not 10 to 2, as was reported. From all accounts the easterners have a crack collection gathered together, and they expect to give the teams in the senior series a warm wrestle for the chief honours. Their forward line is very fast. Lionel King, the old U. C. C. player, is back on the the team, and with Phelan as his side partner, has worked up a great combination.

PILL-OSOPHY.

There are pills and pills—but Dr. Agnew's Liver Pills at 10 cents a vial lead in demand. The sale borders on the phenomenal.

Sluggish liver, constipation or irregular bowels are the precursors of many physical disorders.

These little wonders remove the cause.

They are entirely vegetable. They act on the liver and bowels without disturbance to the system, diet or occupation. They never gripe. They act pleasantly. 40 in a vial for 10 cents. Sold by H. S. Mcdonald.

GRAVEYARD ROBBERY.

The Cemetery at Toledo Denuded of Corpses to Such an Extent That Very Few are Left.

Toledo, O., Dec. 25.—Dr. Frank G. Hunt has been arrested under the Ohio statute prohibiting grave robbery and another well-known physician and druggist are under surveillance by the police department.

It is now said by the police that this is not the first case of the kind that the doctor has been mixed up in, as a package directed to the same address in Cleveland, to which he tried to ship Cartwright's body, was accepted by the express company Nov. 20. There is other evidence in the possession of the police, which would indicate that, in addition to the college at Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago medical schools have received a number of cadavers from this point.

A Toledo councilman hazarded the statement that of the bodies that have been buried in the Infirmary Cemetery in recent years, not half a dozen were allowed to rest quietly.

WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

Is the Testimony of Frank S. Emerick, of Alvinston, Ont.—Says South American Kidney Cure Saved His Life—It Relieves in Six Hours.

"For two years I was greatly troubled with kidney disease, I suffered intense pain, and frequently was unable to work. I doctored at intervals, but got little or no relief. I began to grow worse, and the pains were frequent and intense. About this time I saw South American Kidney Cure advertised as a speedy relief for all kidney troubles. I purchased a bottle, and it gave me wonderful relief in a few hours. I improved steadily and after taking four bottles I am completely cured. I consider it worth its weight in gold, for it assuredly saved my life." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Ladies Don't Smoke,

but they have a tender regard for some fellahs that do. The great festival of Christmas will soon be here, and between now and then people will naturally think of buying presents for their friends. Mr. Chas. LeGros, the live George street tobacco and cigar dealer, realizing that money is very scarce, has put everything in the line of cigar and pipes down to cost, and when he says cost, he means business. LeGros is a hustler, and likes to give his customers a benefit at Christmas times. He imports all his goods direct, and saves the wholesalers' profit. A few of the snaps which he offers are to be seen in his window. He has the finest lot of pipes in Canada, all of B.B.B. manufacture. In cigars, his imported cigars are of the finest, and this is proved by the testimony of the best people of the town who smoke them. Ladies who know the weakness that their gentlemen friends have for a good cigar or a meerscham pipe, a swell mouthpiece or a handy tobacco pouch can take a hint and have a quiet talk with Charley on the subject. Call and see him and you will be astonished at the prices and quality of his pipes, cigars and smokers' sundries. ALIVE C. LEGROS, 339 George street. tf

Ladies and Gentlemen, too, who desire to make a particularly happy hit in the way of a Present are advised to shop at MISS MELVILLE'S FANCY GOODS STORE, 424 George Street. Save you much thinking.

MUST HAVE THE ROAD

Railway Through the Crow's Nest Pass is Necessary.

SO THINKS THE HON. A. G. BLAIR

The C.P.R. May Build the Line, But the Government Will See That Rates are Kept Within Reasonable Bounds—Grand Trunk Requests—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Dec. 27.—(Special.)—Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, on his recent trip to the Pacific coast, made it his business to look over the Kootenay country in order to advise his colleagues in a practical way on his return to Ottawa as to the needs of Southern British Columbia in the way of improved and cheaper transportation facilities, and a definite announcement of the Government's policy regarding the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway may therefore be expected very soon. Your correspondent ventures to predict that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company will build the road, but in any loan or subsidy to that company conditions will be attached so as to keep down transportation rates. Mr. Blair foreshadowed this in his speech at Victoria a few days ago. He said he had found since coming to British Columbia a very strong feeling in favor of the continuation of the Crow's Nest Pass line to the coast. He believed that it would be built, and he believed that it was a necessity. The low-grade ores required to be handled cheaply and given low transportation rates in order to be profitable. He had no prejudice against any of the great railway companies, but he did not think that the true interests and welfare of the country could allow any corporation, no matter how great, to have control of all transportation interests. He would, therefore, impose on the railways some supreme control that should regulate their tariff rates. Cheap fuel must be guaranteed, too, and they could not have that if the coal lands were locked up in the hands of a railway corporation. Therefore the question arose in his mind, that whether the Government took upon them the railway to the coast, in whole or in part, the great coal lands should not be locked up in monopolistic hands. He would say the same, too, as regarded timber lands.

The Grand Trunk Railway Company will apply to Parliament next session for an act authorizing the company to aid financially certain railway companies with which the Grand Trunk Railway Company have traffic arrangements; also authorizing the company, with the sanction of the proprietors, to capitalize the revenue over-draft at such time as the directors of the company may determine, and to an amount to be approved by the proprietors; also to increase the borrowing powers of the company by the issue of a further amount of four per cent. consolidated debenture stock, or by the issue of terminable bonds for the general purposes of the company, to an amount the interest on which shall not exceed £50,000 sterling per annum, thus extending the borrowing powers to an amount of principal the interest on which shall not exceed £1,434,000 7s 8d sterling per annum; also granting power to apply the unexercised powers granted for specific purposes by the acts of 1887, 1890 and 1892, to the general purposes of the company, and for other purposes.

BRAM REMAINED FIRM.

The Mate of the Herbert Fuller Could Not be Shaken in His Testimony by Cross-Examination.

Boston, Dec. 26.—Mate Thomas Bram of the barquentine Herbert Fuller, when he was conducted into the United States Court room this morning, found his way obstructed by the largest crowd that has yet been in attendance on this remarkable trial, and many were excluded from the court room for lack of room. On resuming the witness stand, defendant denied that any angry words had passed between him and the second mate, as has been alleged by the witness for the Government. The manner in which the lumber was stored on the deck and its relation to the windows of the cabin and its rooms were described by the witness substantially as on his direct examination. He repeated, by direction of the District Attorney, what he had told on Thursday regarding the events of the night of the murder, but though the cross-examination was searching and direct he did not vary in the slightest from his previous testimony. Neither was anything new developed. During the examination the defendant maintained the confident and self-contained attitude that has characterized his appearance since he took the witness stand on Wednesday morning.

Mr. Hoare resumed the examination of Bram this afternoon by putting a series of questions in regard to the log-book and the loose leaves in the book. Bram related the positions of the bodies and the marks and scratches in the rooms. He also described where the blood was found, and he said he looked the place over to learn all he could. He was in the cabin when the bodies were brought up, and he followed up each body. He never asked Monks to tear up the statement first drawn, which contained the theory of the triple murder. Witness said he thought the statement correct at the time, but later in the afternoon began to think differently. He said he did not suggest to Monks to write that he was sick, and he signed on general principles.

Bram was asked what course he was on on the day after the tragedy. He asked for the log-book, and here both sides got into a discussion over the right to refer to it. Finally he was allowed to tell the course, which was about southeast. The matter of lashing the wheel was again reverted to, but Bram only repeated his former testimony. The witness was again asked if he told Lohse, "If we don't get Brown guilty we will all get two years each." Bram emphatically said "No."

Thus the accused went through another day's trying ordeal without flinching in his testimony. The court adjourned until 10 o'clock Monday.

More Skirmishing in Cuba—Spanish Claim Victory and Cubans Say it Was a Massacre.

Havana, Dec. 26.—News from Mantua, in the Province of Pinar del Rio, gives the details of an encounter on Dec. 20 between Lieut. Liamlo, commanding a body of local guerillas and volunteers. The Spanish force, arriving at a place called Dancho, found an insurgent camp, from which they were fired upon. The soldiers returned the fire, whereupon the rebels fled in disorder, leaving 23 dead on the field. The arms and effects of the insurgents were captured and their camp destroyed. Eight of the dead rebels were identified, but who the others killed were is unknown to the people residing in the locality. The Government forces sustained no loss.

This information comes from a Spanish source, and it is added that by the defeat of this band of rebels the zone in which they were found is entirely clear of insurgents. It is learned from other sources that the affair was similar to others, and that the dead rebels were simply pacificos, who had no means of defending themselves against the Government troops.

Last night bands of rebels fired on the towns of Santiago de Los Vegas, Rancho Boyerer and Calebazar, all in the Province of Havana. The attacks caused great excitement among the inhabitants, who feared that the insurgents were able to raid the towns and give them to the flames. After firing a few shots, which were productive of no results beyond scaring the people, the rebels withdrew.

The latest report concerning the movements of General Weyler, who was encamped near San Cristobal, is that he marched to-day. No information is given regarding his objective point. He has had no encounter with the enemy since his return to the Province of Pinar del Rio from Havana, notwithstanding his elaborate plan of campaign, which necessitates the use of 30,000 troops.

Given Up as Lost.

PRINCESS DE CHIMAY

Has Caused a Great Sensation in European Society.

STOPPING WITH HER GIPSY LOVER

The Man is Described as Coarse and Vulgar But the Princess Appears to be Infatuated, and is Only Awaiting a Divorce From Her Husband to Marry Him.

New York, Dec. 27.—A special from London to The World says: The Princess De Caraman-Chimay, the former Detroit girl, is actually, with her coarse and vulgar gypsy lover, at his home in a remote village in Hungary. Vienna despatches of yesterday and to-day assert, defiantly satisfied with him and her position.

The statement seems absurdly extravagant, but it is in entire conformity with her course in Paris before she eloped.

The World representative in Paris has obtained the exact history of the events which preceded her flight. The necessity for excluding the public from her husband's suit for divorce, now in progress at Charleroi, Belgium, seems useless to the many in Paris and Belgium who are fully acquainted with the details of the young woman's extraordinary actions in Paris.

The Prince de Caraman-Chimay is of French origin. Several of his ancestors performed splendid service in the French armies.

Miss Clara Ward, as is now well known, is the daughter of a very wealthy Toronto woman. They met first at Nice and were married in Paris, the American and British Ambassadors being present, among many other distinguished people. There was a magnificent marriage settlement upon the Prince. Two children were born.

Janos Rigo, the gypsy, was born at Paks, in the district of Samogy, Hungary. He is anything but an Adonis, being a tall, skinny, awkward animal of about 35, with straight black hair, which seems pasted on his head, and is scrupulously parted in the middle. He is pitted with small-pox.

Rigo has a wife. Their two children died. He went to Paris five years ago and joined a gypsy band of musicians. His fiddling attracted the attention of the benevolent Russian Prince Jablonowsky, who advanced to him money to start a band of his own.

Princess Chimay, who had already fearfully risked her reputation in other affairs, happened in the restaurant where [illegible] last winter, and conversed with him. In a day or two there was no secret about their intimacy and not the slightest attempt at concealment on the part of the Princess.

Rigo's wife was the first to object. Her husband not coming home at the usual hour aroused her suspicion, and she began to watch him at the restaurant. Violent scenes resulted, and to end them Rigo made this proposal to her: Go back to Hungary with your father, your mother and your brother and live at Paks with my parents. I will pay the fares and send you a thousand francs a month. Then, when I have made a fortune through the gifts of the Princess, I will rejoin you and we will live quietly on our income.

Mrs. Rigo was easily persuaded, and returned to her native country, but no thousand francs a month were forthcoming, so she returned to Paris, accompanied by her husband's mother, and even introduced her to the Princess, who invited her to luncheon, but with his wife he would have nothing to do. A fortnight later the poor woman left Paris, broken-hearted.

Up to this time the gypsy had worn a blue Swiss Admiral's uniform every night, and the Princess was his most faithful listener. She used to pass the evening and half the night at the restaurant, and when the concert was over used to take him away in her carriage.

The scandal became so crying that the proprietor of the restaurant gave Rigo the choice of leaving the woman or losing his place. The gypsy, without hesitation, threw up his engagement. At the same time the Princess left her husband. All this happened at the beginning of the summer. The pair went to the seaside and afterwards traveled. They were in Paris in August at a hotel on the Boulevard des Capucines, where one day Rigo gave a banquet to his former colleagues.

"Are you happy, madam?" asked one of the guests of the host's.

"Not wholly," was the answer, "because my husband is not yet trying to get a divorce, although I have done everything I could to make him do so."

"And your children?"

"I love them very much, but I love Rigo better, and my only wish is to be able to marry him as soon as possible."

A package addressed to her arrived at the hotel. She refused to receive it, saying: "I am no longer a princess. My name is Mme. Rigo."

The gypsy's wife reappeared on the scene at about this time, and as she applied to the police, Rigo became afraid and disappeared with the Princess. They are now in Hungary, tranquilly awaiting the decision of the Charlerol tribunal.

Rigo is said to be negotiating with his wife to get her also to sue for a divorce.

Young Ward, the Princess' brother, abandoned his wife and children about two years ago to elope from Dinard with the maid of Lady Eden, a famous English beauty.

The press despatches have already informed the world that two persons known to be the Princess and her lover arrived in Huhlweissenberg, Hungary, Rigo's home, on Tuesday. They went together that night to the opera, where the Princess wore splendid diamonds.

In answer to enquiries by the chief of police, Rigo confessed his identity and that of his companion.

The Princess visited Rigo's mother in her little hut and embraced her.

CHRISTMAS IN A HUT.

London, Dec. 27.—The Standard's Vienna correspondent telegraphs that the Princess of Caraman-Chimay, formerly Miss Clara Ward of Detroit, Mich., who eloped with Janos Rigo, a Hungarian gypsy musician, spent Christmas evening at the hut of Rigo's parents at Stuhlweissenberg, Hungary. The Princess has purchased a house and several acres of land, which she has given to her paramour's parents. On Christmas Day a number of gypsy bands serenaded Rigo and the Princess. The couple will go to America in the spring.

Herring Fishery a Failure.

St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 26.—The winter herring fishery is a total failure all around Fortune Bay. All the American fishing schooners which were waiting there hoping to secure cargoes have abandoned the place and sailed for Placentia Bay. This is the second season that the herring fishery has failed at Fortune Bay. The result means starvation to thousands of people, because the herring industry is the only possible occupation of the residents during the winter months. The Government will have to help relieve the suffering.

Whole Family Dead.

Verndale, Minn., Dec. 26.—A party of hunters two days ago discovered the badly decomposed remains of Charles Bettler and his wife and three children in their house near Hewitt. It is not known whether it is a case of foul play or freezing.

Deaf Mutes Had a Party

Belleville, Ont., Dec. 26.—The pupils of the institution for the deaf and dumb received their presents yesterday morning and had a party in the evening.

Mr. Gilbert Parker was interviewed here this afternoon as to his play, "The Seats of the Mighty," as to which he said Mr. Tree is satisfied with it and will open his new theatre in London, England, with it.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

MR. J. ROSS ROBERTSON, M.P., East Toronto, it is understood, very reluctantly went into politics. At the same time he is a poor politician. He has the knack of doing nice things in a nice way. His record of munificent aids to charity is a long one and the fraternal way he came to the relief of the distressed Masons of Ottawa indicates his thoughtfulness and consideration. In the great fire their lodge rooms, furniture and craft tools were burned, Mr. Robertson came to their relief and presented the Ottawa Masons with working implements, etc.

THE EXAMINER has much pleasure in being able to contradict the rumour that the Liberals of Ottawa contemplate establishing a new journal in the interest of that party. It is true, we believe, that a few interested parties, with a view, perhaps, of providing profit and employment for themselves, have been exploiting such an enterprise, but apart from these it is a pleasure to know that there is no intention on the part of the bulk of Ottawa Liberals to withdraw the confidence that, with good reason, they have reposed for so many years, and still have, in the Free Press. This journal has for the past eighteen years ably and valiantly fought the battles of Reform. During these eighteen years the Free Press has fought its fight against the discouragements incident to a prolonged opposition, and it was as loyal and energetic in the cause in the darker days as it is and has been since the dawning of a new era. The basest of human passions—ingratitude—would be brought to the front if a journal, which has struggled for the principles of the Liberal party and has stood staunch as steel to the honoured leader of the party, should be rewarded by being supplanted by a new rival for party favour—doubtless incited to the venture by a hope of spoil—of reaping what another has sown. It should not be so; the reward of legitimate patronage and what is better, the reward of grateful appreciation of faithful service at no little sacrifice, should be to the journal that has borne the burden and heat of the day. There will always be found in every community persons who think themselves better qualified to conduct a journal than those who have had a lengthened experience, and by very virtue of that experience have compelled success against all opposition; but these very persons, when they have the chance, improve it by exhibiting themselves as the most dismal and disastrous failures. We believe that the honoured leader of the government, and his cabinet have too fine a sense of gratitude and too high an appreciation of faithful service to countenance for one moment a scheme to supplant the Free Press, with, perhaps, no higher object than to furnish employment to two or three individuals.

BIG RAILWAY DEAL.

Central Vermont, St. Lawrence & Adirondack and Delaware & Hudson Go Into a Pool.

Montreal, Dec. 27.—(Special.)—One of the most important arrangements ever entered into by railway corporations in this country will be consummated on the first of the New Year. The Central Vermont, the St. Lawrence and Adirondack (which is the New York Central), and the Delaware and Hudson have agreed to pool receipts and equally divide between the three companies. The object is to save expenses on New York traffic.

The proposal of the Grand Trunk to rebuild the Victoria bridge has caused a good deal of speculation here as to the sum required for the completion of the work. It is understood that the Grand Trunk will ask the Dominion Parliament for $150,000 and a like amount from the Quebec Legislature, while the cost of the work is estimated at $1,500,000.

Over five hundred tickets have been disposed of for the Laurier banquet at the Windsor Hotel. It is said that the Premier's address will dwell chiefly on the tariff and the Manitoba school settlement, and it is likewise held that Hon. Mr. Greenway will say something of importance. It is stated that the Manitoba Premier will tell his hearers that he will faithfully carry out the arrangement entered into between the Dominion and local Governments, but that he is ready to take a Roman Catholic into his Cabinet to show his good will towards the minority in that Province.

The opening of the shipping season of 1898 will be marked by the arrival in Montreal of a 10,000-ton freight boat. This magnificent vessel will form one of the Allan fleet of steamers, and it is not improbable that it is but one of several others. The new vessel will be 470 feet long, 52 feet beam, with a depth of 37 feet. Her engines will be of 3000 horse-power, giving her a speed of 12 1-2 knots, and the steamer will be completed in December, 1897.

The Tariff Commission will sit again in Montreal on Tuesday and Wednesday next.

William U. Lippe, ex-M.P. for Joliette, is dead, having been ill a long time.

SCHOONER RUN DOWN.

The Allan Liner Scandinavian Sent Her to the Bottom—The Crew Saved.

Boston, Dec. 25.—The overdue Allan Line steamer Scandinavian, which arrived from Glasgow to day, reports that she collided last night off Cape Cod with a lumber-laden schooner, the Carrie Walker, from St. John, N.B., for New London, Conn. Her crew of six men were brought here by the steamer. The accident was due to the steamer's captain mistaking the schooner for a pilot boat. The schooner's crew had hardly time to get their personal effects, as the vessel filled rapidly. They abandoned her and she was picked up by the steamer. The schooner must have capsized, as she was nowhere to be seen shortly after the accident. The Carrie Walker was owned by C. W. King of Eastport, Maine.

Simcoe, Dec. 25.—About midnight last night Mr. Fred Brook was going from his place of business when near his home he was attacked by a man, who struck him over the head with a large club, which rendered him insensible. When he saw the man pursuing him he shouted and alarmed his family. His father came rushing to his help, and the man fled without securing the booty which he was after. Mr. Brook did not regain consciousness until this morning. The blow was very severe and may prove fatal. As yet there is no clue to the perpetrator of the deed.

Grabbed for Steve's Diamond.

Cincinnati, Dec. 25.—Steve Brodie, the bridge-jumper and actor, was entering the Gibson House with his manager, Charles Bolton, early this morning, when two men staggered up. One of them made a grab for Brodie's big diamond, when Brodie hit him. A fight followed, in which one of the men drew a knife and cut Bolton on the right cheek. Policemen arrested the men. They are James Connelly of Buffalo and James Haley, a St. Louis burglar.

THE DUTY ON LUMBER

Michigan Mill Men are Getting Rather Anxious.

MUST DEPEND ON CANADA FOR LOGS

They Will Resist Any Attempt to Impose Protection on United States Lumber Because Canada Might Retaliate and Then They Would Have to Move Over Here.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 26.—An evening paper says: It is understood that E. Murett Hopkins, formerly secretary of the Saginaw Board of Trade, is the man chosen by the lumbermen in the eastern part of Michigan to represent them in Washington this winter. There is a proposal to restore the former tariff on lumber and Eastern Michigan manufacturers are opposed to the bill. They say that it will destroy the lumber trade in Michigan and compel the removal of the mills to the Canadian shores. It is understood, though, that the fact has not been confirmed, possibly will not be confirmed, because it is regarded as private that Arthur Hill, the big Saginaw lumberman, is back of the organization of lumbermen that Mr. Hopkins is now forming. It will make an effort to unite the influence of the Michigan lumbermen to prevent protective legislation at Washington, which, in the present status of lumbering in Michigan, they believe would be hostile to the lumbering interests in this State. They will raise money to send Mr. Hopkins to Washington as a private confidential representative of their interests. It is said that the forests of Michigan, of Eastern Michigan at any rate, have been well-nigh exhausted

All the mills along the Huron shore are dependent upon Canada for logs. If the United States attempts to protect American lumber by imposing a tax upon Canadian lumber, which is now shipped into this State in such large quantities, the Canadians will put an export tax upon Canadian logs. This will compel Michigan mills to remove to Canada. This is the argument Mr. Hopkins will employ. On the other hand, the opponents of the present free lumber say that the Michigan mills are going there as it is, that it is impossible for them to compete with Canadian lumber. It is intimated that the only purpose of the lumbermen in retaining the present Wilson bill schedule, which admits lumber free, is in order that the Michigan lumbermen may remove their mills to Canada and still have a free market in this country.

Two so prominent men as Gen. Alger and David Whitney take directly opposite views of this important question, two men whose interests in lumber and vision as to the final effect of legislation upon these interests are as wide as those of any two men in the United States. Gen. Alger disclaims any direct interest in the present or proposed legislation. He has no mills in Michigan. He owns pine lands in Canada, it is known, but he declares it makes no difference whether that pine is manufactured in Canada or this country. "There are two sides to this question," said Gen. Alger this morning. "It is a question that requires careful consideration and discussion. I am a protectionist, you understand, so that it seems rather inconsistent in me to favor now free trade in lumber, but what shall and what shall not be taxed upon the principle of a protective tariff is a practical not a theoretical question." If we had abundence of pine in this State there would not be the slightest difficulty. I should say a protective tariff is all right. I don't say it is not all right now, but we are largely dependent on Canada for our logs. More than half of the lumber that is manufactured in the eastern half of the State comes from Canada in the form of logs. The Cheboygan mills have not a foot of pine that does not come from Canada. It is very largely so at Alpena and Tawas and Saginaw. If we should put a duty on Canadian lumber I have no doubt that Canada would retaliate by putting an export duty upon logs. It's the law of self-protection. The result would be that the Michigan lumber industry would be transferred to Canada."

Gen. Alger, who has been widely mentioned as a probable member of President-elect McKinley's Cabinet, says, considering the relations of the United States with Cuba, he would not favor a recognition of the independence of Cuba until the Cubans had at least established a seat of government. He would not favor purchasing Cuba, as he believes she would be a great burden to the United States.

POOR MRS. HALPIN.

A Woman Who Was Born in Canada Went Out to Buy Christmas Toys and the Effort Killed Her.

New York, Dec. 26.—Mrs. A. Antoinette Halpin, wife of ex-Assemblyman William Halpin, died last night at her home, 339 West Twenty-second-street, from nervous exhaustion, collapse and gastritis, caused by the excessive use of Jamaica ginger. Mrs. Halpin was 28 years old, born in Canada, and had been in this city 21 years. She was the daughter of John O'Donough.

The circumstances attending Mrs. Halpin's death, which resulted from gastritis, were singularly sad. Mrs. Halpin, who had been extremely ill for several weeks, insisted upon accompanying her husband Thursday on a shopping expedition, insisting that she be allowed to select the Christmas toys. With the dawn of Christmas, however, she suffered a serious relapse. Dr. Muson was sent for, but medical aid was of no avail, and her death occurred early Christmas evening. The Halpins had been married only a few years.

The Fire in the Springhill Mines is Under Control and Mining Operations Will be Resumed Soon.

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 27.—The fire in the east slope of the Springhill colliery is practically under control. It is expected that mining operations will be resumed in a few days. The closing of the east slope will not affect the output of the miner, as every ton of coal needed can be raised by the other slopes. It was intended to close the east slope at the end of the year.

Train Fell 110 Feet From a Bridge, Took Fire and 29 Dead Bodies Have Been Taken Out.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 27.—Birmingham mineral train No. 40, which is a local train making a circuit of the mining towns in the Birmingham district, went through the Cahaba River bridge near Guernee, 27 miles from Birmingham, at 7.50 a.m. The wreckage took fire and was rapidly burned. Twenty-nine bodies have been taken out and nine persons were injured. The relief train has not yet returned with the dead and injured. It is thought train wreckers removed a rail, which caused the wreck. The bridge was 110 feet high.

WM. YELLAND AND W. H. MOORE

CANDIDATES FOR THE MAYORALTY.

A Big Batch of Candidates in the Field For the Council.

School Trustees Dr. Burnham, W. H. Wrighton and J. J. McBain Re elected by Acclamation—A Contest in No. 4 Ward Between Jas. Edgecumbe and Jos. Burnett—Addresses in the Council Chamber by Mayor Yelland and W. H. Moore—Ashburnham Nominations.

The nominations for the municipal representatives of Peterborough took place today.

The nominations for Mayor took place at 10 o'clock at the council chamber, when the following nominations were made:

Mr. Wm. Yelland, proposed by Mr. John P. Metheral, seconded by Mr. Benjamin Armstrong.

Mr. W. H. Moore, proposed by Mr. Adam Hall, seconded by Mr. Thos. Irwin.

On motion of Mr. Yelland, seconded by Mr. Moore, Mr. S. R. Armstrong, was appointed chairman for the speaking.

MR. YELLAND'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Yelland, as the retiring mayor, was the first to address the electors. He said :

Gentlemen,—A year ago on being nominated for the office of Mayor I asked for your support, and you gave it to me generously. I told you then that if I were elected I would devote time to the duties of the office, and would perform the duties to the best of my ability. I have kept that promise. I do not say that I have not made mistakes during the past twelve months, but I do say that I have attended to the duties of the office punctually, carefully and to the best of my ability, and I believe, too, with a measure of success, and that the business of the town has been managed in the best interests of the ratepayers, so far as my efforts have been concerned.

This has been a busy year in the history of the municipality, and public works of importance have been pushed forward. It had been recognized for a number of years that sewerage was needed, especially in the more crowded district in the centre of the town. A good beginning had been made, and when the members of the council of this year took office last January they found the outfall sewer completed to Townsend street, and the George street sewer completed to King street. This left for the council of this year the work of extending the sewers through the business portion of the town in order that the work which had been done might be utilized. Early in the year, steps were taken to carry on the work, and it was pushed forward with such success that at the close of the year we have the whole business portion of the town furnished with good sewers and a long felt want properly supplied. In doing this there were circumstances that made the work somewhat difficult. The old brick drain on George street had to be taken out, and the connections with the old drain had to be looked after while the new sewer was being constructed, which was a class of work entirely new in Peterborough. It is a source of satisfaction to the council, and I think also the ratepayers, that the work was carried out and completed, and the contract settled up, smoothly and without any friction. We hope that as a result of this work our town, which has been recognised as a healthy one, will be even more healthy and that the citizens will reap the benefits in increased comfort and absence of sickness.

The financial position of this municipality has for many years been a satisfactory one. The debt, considering the public works and public institutions we have, is small, and this is owing to the generosity with which hospitals, parks and other public institutions have been endowed, and also to the foresight and carefulness of those who have had charge of the town. The rate of taxation tion this year was one mill higher than it was last year, which made it the same as in 1894, but this increase cannot be charged to the council this year. Seven-tenths of the increase went to the public schools and two-tenths to the Town Trust Commissioners, so that of the one mill additional the council only get the benefits of one-tenth of a mill. There were extraordinary expenditures which had to be met, including the judgment in the Mason case, yet with the increase of one-tenth of a mill in the rate we were able to present a financial statement showing a balance on the right side, a result that I am certain must be considered satisfactory. The debentures which have been issued in connection with the sewers, as well as those which have still to be issued, have been sold at par to Messrs. Hall and McGill, trustees of funds held for the benefit of parks and other public institutions of the town, so that the town has, in borrowing this money, provided a good investment for funds held for the benefit of the citizens and practically sold the debentures to themselves. Not many towns or cities are in this position, and we have reason to congratulate ourselves on the financial position of our town.

Notwithstanding the general dullness of trade, the town is making progress. The population has increased steadily every year for a number of years past, and this year among the marked evidences of progress, is the construction of the commodious and substantial building of the Young Men's Christian Association. The council, of course, had no hand in this, but it is a pleasure, in reviewing the public work and events of the year, to mention the erection of this handsome edifice, the result of private generosity.

We were honoured last fall with a visit from the Queen's representative, the Governor-General of Canada, and it was a pleasure to me to join in the loyal welcome extended to him by the citizens of Peterborough. It was also a pleasure to assist in the honour paid to a former mayor of this town, the Hon. George A. Cox, on the occasion of his elevation to the Senate of the Dominion. Another pleasant event was the visit of the Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, although the visit partook more of a business nature. The inspection by the Minister of the route of the Trent Valley Canal, including the sections under construction, will, I hope and believe, bear fruit in the work being pushed on and in this great waterway being completed.

There are several matters of importance which the council will be called upon to deal with next year. The sewers having been completed in the centre of the town, it will be the duty of the council to consider, promptly and carefully, the question of more permanent roadways and sidewalks. The private drain connections should be hurried forward as soon as the frost will permit, and the construction of permanent roadways taken up.

The question of extension of the system of sewers will also come up, and provision should be promptly made meeting the wishes of ratepayers who may wish extensions. With this in view, and also to finally settle what has been done, the council should, as soon as possible after it has been organized for next year, have the assessments made according to law for the sewers that have been completed and have the debentures issued.

It has been suggested that it would be in the interests of the ratepayers and of the town to have the taxes collected in two instalments, a suggestion with which I agree, as I believe it would be more convenient for most of the people and would result in the rates being more promptly collected. A change which has been made in the system of assessing, by which the owner of property is assessed as well as the tenant, and the more general custom of payment of taxes by owners which has grown up, would facilitate this desirable change. The council could not bring this improvement into effect in 1897, but it could make provision for the new system going into operation in the succeeding year.

It has long been the policy of this town to encourage manufacturing and other industries, and this is a policy which I shall, if you re elect me to the position which I now have the honour of holding, continue to advocate. Peterborough is now a manufacturing centre, and anything which will improve its position in this respect I will support, so long as it can be done without injury to the general interests of the ratepayers.

MR. W. H. MOORE, CANDIDATE FOR THE MAYORALTY.

There will, no doubt, be many other questions for the council to deal with next year, and I again promise you that, if elected, I will use my best endeavours to protect and forward the interests of all classes of the citizens and of the town generally.

I have endeavoured to do my duty in the past year, and I believe, as I said before, not without success. It has been a custom in Peterborough to allow a Mayor at least a second year in office without a contest, and I do not know of any reason why the custom should be departed from on this occasion. I therefore appeal to you with confidence for a renewal of your confidence and support.

Mr. Yelland added that what he had set forth he would try to carry out if elected. He did not take all the credit for the favourable financial showing the town had made, for his opponent in this contest, as "finance minister" was entitled to a degree of credit. But if Mr. Moore was entitled to some credit, he must also bear his share of the responsibility of any mistakes in administration of public affairs that may have been made. As he had just said he had expected that he would be allowed to be returned unopposed, as had been the custom for the past twenty years to be returned without opposition, but Mr. Moore had seen fit to enter the field in opposition to him. He (Mr. Yelland) would stand on his record. He had done what he thought was right, and he would, if elected, do so again. His record during his residence in town had been before all men, and he was not afraid of any charge of wilful wrong doing brought against him. The people knew him well, and they could approach him at all times and be sure of a civil answer. He had only the friendliest of feelings towards Mr. Moore, but he still felt that he had a good claim to the confidence of the people, and appealed to the electors for their support to again return him to the responsible position of Mayor. (Cheers.)

MR. MOORE'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Moore, in opening his address, thanked his nominators for the honour they had done him in presenting his name to the electors as a candidate for Mayor for 1897. He made no apology for appearing as a candidate opposed to Mr. Yelland for it had not been his desire nor ambition to occupy the seat of the Chief Magistrate of the town, but rather to retire from his municipal life, which had been devoted to the town at various times since 1873, and he declined to accede to the desire of representative men to be a candidate but a request having been afterwards presented to him, the names upon which covered several pages of foolscap, with sentiments containing flattering reference to his ability to fill the office, he still hesitated to accept the responsibility implied and and the sacrifice that he must make, until representations were made to him that he should not ignore the request of the electors. He had accepted in deference to their repeated wishes. It could not be said that he had acted impertinently. He was now before the ratepayers asking their support. He had no personal quarrel with Mr. Yelland, but only with the policy or want of policy which has marked his twelve months' incumbency of the office of Mayor. Mr. Yelland, a year ago, had dealt in promises for the necessary reason that he had not served the town for many years previously. Therefore promises were excusable, but it was feared that what he had performed was in inverse ratio to what he had promised. Mr. Yelland, a few days ago, had published an address to the ratepayers, and had cast it abroad by thousands, and by that, prepared in a deliberate manner, the electors should rather judge him than by anything he might speak or that he might promise. This address was remarkable for its omissions, and Mr. Moore pointed out that when a man appeals for a renewal of confidence he never fails to put forward all he can show of what he has done during his official life. This address was as bare and empty of a claim for the accomplishment of any design for the amelioration of the present condition of the town as a bird's nest of eggs in this month of December, and this, notwithstanding the various specific promises he had made of what he proposed to do if elected for Mayor, a year ago and notwithstanding he had taken $250 of the town's moneys given as pocket money but had applied it to his own purposes. The address which had been published was one simply of calling upon the ratepayers to "Trust me again."

Now as Mr. Moore has said this address was more to be remarked upon because of what had been omitted than what filled its four corners and this was well for Mr. Yelland, for otherwise it would not have been a very acceptable presentment to the rate-payers. The first omission to which Mr. Moore called attention was what occurred at the first meeting of the council when he (Mr. Yelland) relieved a worthy servant of an office, held by him for a number of years, and in which he had given much satisfaction, viz: that of auditor by Mr. F. E. Bell, (whose only crime so far as Mr. Moore could discover was that he was possessed of little of this world's goods) and by the appointment in his place of the Mayor's nephew, Mr. Brownscombe. The second omission was that the Mayor by his vote had placed this same nephew in the office of treasurer of the town in preference to Mr. Henry Deane and had thereby provided his relation with the same salary that had been paid to Mr. McGill for a number of years. Mr. Yelland had also omitted to

MR. YELLAND'S COMMITTEE ROOMS.

In another column will be found a notice that Mr. Yelland's committee rooms will be opened this evening in the rooms above Messrs. Loch & Sons' fur store, George street.

Mr. Yelland is now in the field for mayor, and he feels that he has a reason to count upon the Liberal support of the electors to place him in the mayor's chair for a second term. Mr. Yelland has occupied the position of Mayor for the past year with credit to himself and has shown unremitting devotion to his duties. During that time the affairs of the town have been economically managed, and so far as a mayor could be expected to control affairs, it does not seem that any important interest has not received attention. Mr. Moore, who is also an aspirant for the position of mayor, has not submitted any platform that would lead the rate payers to expect anything in the way of great reforms that would justify a withdrawal of the confidence that has been reposed in Mr. Yelland, and certainly no reasons have yet been advanced why the custom of the past 20 years should be departed from in refusing a second term, where no important reason exists for the adoption of another practice. Mr. Moore has had frequent opportunities during the past year to propose many of the reforms which in his address to-day he accused Mr. Yelland of neglecting. That he did not do so does not, it seems, strengthen the position he now occupies of appealing to the electors to give him their support in in preference to Mr. Yelland.

Mr. Yelland in this contest counts upon the earnest co-operation of his friends, who will be welcomed to his committee rooms.

MR. BROOKS CANED,

And Also Presented With a Pair of Fur Gauntlets.

On Thursday evening last Mr. Thos. Brooks, Manager of the Peterborough Lock Co., was presented with a cane and a handsome pair of fur gauntlets by the employees at the works. Mr. Frank Adams, secretary of the company, read the address as follows:

Dear Mr. Brooks:

On behalf of the employees of the Peterborough Lock M'f'g Company, we hereby present you with the accompanying gauntlets and cane as a slight appreciation of the many kindnesses we have received at your hands, during the many years we have been in the employ of the Company, and we hope that the pleasant relations existing between us as employer and employees may long continue.

We sincerely hope that you may long be spared to make use of the accompanying gifts. Wishing you and yours a merry Christmas and a happy New Year, we are,

Yours very truly,

JOHN EMMERSON,
C. J. TABER,
F. BURDETTE,
} Committee.

The presentation was made by Mr. John S. Judge, who has been with Mr. Brooks for the last 25 or 30 years.

In thanking the men for their kind remembrance of him, Mr. Brooks expressed the hope that the pleasant relations mentioned in the address, as existing between himself and them might ever continue.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Miss Vair's rendition of Adam's "Star of Bethlehem," as a solo last evening in St. Paul's church was greatly appreciated.

The Christmas anthem "The King of Love my Shepherd is" was well sung in the Charlotte street church last night.

"Let me now go to Bethlehem," was the title of a most harmoniously rendered anthem in St. Paul's church yesterday morning.

Mr. G. W. Mulligan sang "O Holy Night," as a solo, in St. Andrew's yesterday, the choir taking the solo parts in an able manner.

St. Andrew's church choir gave a very fine rendering yesterday morning of the Christmas anthem "Let us now go even unto Bethlehem."

Miss Hendren took the solo work remarkably well last evening in the anthem "Calm on the Listening Night," in the Charlotte street church.

A new arrangement of the anthem "Behold how Beatiful upon the Mountain" was given with good effect by the choir of St. Andrew's church yesterday morning.

During the offertory yesterday morning in the Charlotte street church Miss Hendren and Mr. A. L. Davis sang the duet "Hark! my Soul," their voices blending perfectly in the rendition.

"Glory to God in the Highest," was rendered with fine effect as an anthem in St. Paul's church last evening. As a concluding voluntary the choir sang "Hark! What Mean these Holy Voices?"

Rev. Father O'Sullivan, recently ordained at Campbellford, celebrated the 10.30 o'clock morning mass and vespers at St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday, and at the conclusion of the mass conferred his blessing on the congregation.

As a morning anthem yesterday the choir of the Charlotte street Methodist church sang "That Glorious Song of Old." Mr. A. L. Davis took the solo parts in excellent voice and the entire anthem was sung in noticeable harmony.

ST. LUKE'S.

The services at St. Luke's yesterday were in effect a continuation of the Christmas day services. The beautiful Christmas decorations remained and added to these of the usual character was be noticed two permanent additions to the beauty of the interior of St. Luke's church. One, a memorial to the late Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, is a marble tablet placed upon the north wall of the chancel, and was executed by Messrs. Coughlin Bros. of Peterborough. The following is the inscription: "To the glory of God and in memory of Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, who, during fourteen years (1876-1890) laboured earnestly in the erection of this church, and the organization of the parish, this tablet is erected by his former parishioners, died June 25th, 1896." Below is the text, "One soweth and another reapeth." The new brass font ewer is of a handsome design, by Keith and Fitzsimmons, with the following engravings: "One Lord, one Faith, one Baptism." "In Memoriam Mary Nita and Fredk. H. Le M. Grassett, 1892-1895."

At the evening service there was a large congregation and the musical portion of the service was especially attractive and excellent—Magnificat, Garrett in C; Nunc Dimittis, Plummer in F; Anthems—"Sing, O Heavens" and "While Shepherds Watched their Flocks by Night;" Carol—"In Excelsis Gloria." In this selection the solo was very capably and pleasantly taken by Miss Tivey. The hymns were in the joyous and excellent character appropriate to the Christmas-tide. The rector preached the sermon on "The Work and Writings of St. John the Evangelist," yesterday having been St. John's Day.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Mrs. George Postlethwaite, of Lakefield, is the Victim of an Awful Accident.

One of the sadest accidents in the annals of Lakefield occurred on Saturday evening about 6.30, by which Jennie, wife of Mr. George Postlethwaite, and second daughter of Mr. David Smith, met with a fearful death.

When her husband returned from work at the Strickland Canoe factory a little after 6 p.m., to his home on Regent street, he found the hall full of smoke, and on making his way into the kitchen was horrified to see his wife's body on the floor surrounded by flames which were fast spreading over the room. He managed to get hold of the body and dragged it into the hall, his hands being severely burned whilst so doing. He then ran into the kitchen and obtained a pail of water which he dashed over the still blazing body.

By this time the Rev. Geo. Edmison arrived on the scene, followed by Dr. Bell, when the fire in the room was soon extinguished, and attention turned to the body which was found charred beyond recognition, almost every particle of the clothing being burned off. The unfortunate lady, who was aged 30, has been subject for some years to epileptic fits and has seldom been left alone, one of her sisters remaining with her. Of late she has been better and was alone at the time of the accident, having been up to the post office and some stores an hour before.

From the appearance of the body and room, it is surmised she was sitting in an arm chair by the table, and was seized with a fit, pulling or knocking the lamp off the table when she fell. Her body was first discovered where she must have fallen or slid off the chair, which was almost entirely consumed, while the broken lamp lay on the floor beside it.

No inquest was held, as the cause of death was purely accidental. The body when coffined was removed to her father's residence on Smith street, from where the funeral took place to-day at 3 o'clock to the Lakefield cemetery.

The announcement of the death of Mrs. Postlethwaite will come as a most distinct shock to the entire community, as she was a great favourite in her large circle of friends.

Deceased was a daughter of Mr. David Smith, the village blacksmith, and had only been married about two years when she met her death in so sad and tragic a manner.

TWO EXTREME CASES

With Which the Children's Aid Society Purposes to Deal.

Two cases are now being dealt with by the Children's Aid Society, in which desertion and destitution are painfully in evidence.

In the one case a family of three children, the eldest being ten and the youngest five years of age, live in the back country. The parents go out sometimes and leave them for two or three days without food or fire. Urgent complaints have reached the society and an officer will be despatched at once to bring the children in.

The other case concerns a family of imbeciles, living on beds of boughs in an Eastern township, with scarcely any food and in a remote part of the country. This family has been known for some time, but the township concerned has refused to take any steps to improve their condition. The Aid Society will also take up this case.

A well selected text is half of the sermon. Given a good text and a preacher who is in earnest, and the result is sure to be good. The text of this article is a plain simple statement that proves itself in the reader's own mind without argument. The text is "Good health is better than great riches."

Without health nothing really matters very much. A hacking cough takes all the beauty out of a landscape or a sunset. Erysipelas or eczema will spoil the enjoyment of sprightly conversation, of a beautiful concert, of a wonderful painting. The biggest bank account in the world won't pay a man for his health, but a very small amount of money will make him healthy and keep him healthy.

Most all bodily troubles start in the digestive or respiratory organs. It is here that improper living first makes an opening for disease. The development differs as constitutions and temperaments differ. The causes are almost identical. To get at the root of the matter is simple enough if you start right.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine for the whole body. It works through the digestive organs on all the others.

It cures the first thing it comes to and after that, the next. It puts health in place of disease in the stomach, and from the vantage ground thus gained, it reaches every fiber of the body and drives disease before it — indigestion, liver troubles, kidney complaint, biliousness, skin and scalp diseases, salt-rheum, tetter, eczema, and all the troubles caused by impure blood.

IN THE DAYS OF QUEEN BESS

Puritans Could See No Fun In the Christmas Jollifications.

Many people are aware of the general passion for feasts and amusements which distinguished the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, but few persons are aware of the character of the sports which were then so popular. Among the many customs which prevailed in the days of Queen Elizabeth, the investure of a person with the power and privileges of assembling a number of persons and teaching them tricks, tumbling and fantastic performances for the purpose of amusing the peasantry, and, indeed, the higher classes of the community, is one of the most remarkable.

That uncompromising Puritan Stubbs, who, indeed, could see good in nothing that partook of the nature of harmless and innocent enjoyment, in his "Anatomie of Abuses" descants with the greatest fervor on the proceedings of "this heathen companie." In speaking of a parish festival he says:

"First of all, the wilde heades of the parish, flocking together, chose them a graunde captaine of mischefe, whom they enoble with the title of Lord of Misrule, and him they crown with great solemnity and adopt for their King. This King annoynted chooseth for the twentie, fourty, threescore, or an hundred lustie guttes, liketo himself, to waite upon his lordly majestic and to guard his noble person.

"Then every one of these men he inveasteth with his liveries of greene, yellow, or some other bright wanton color, and, as though they were not gawdie ynouf, they bedeck themselves with scarfs, ribbons and laces, hanged all over with gold rings, pretious stones, and other jewels. This done, they tie about either legge twenty or fourtie belles, with riche handkerchiefs in their handes, and sometimes braide across over their shoulders and neckes, borrowed for the most part of their prettier Mopsies and loving Bessies.

"Thus, all things set in order, then have they their hobby horses, their dragons and other antiques, together with their pipers and thundering drummers, to strike up the devil's dance withal. Then march this heathen companie towards the church, their pipers piping, their drummers thundering, their stumpies dancing, their belles jyngling, their handkerchiefs fluttering about their heads like madmen, their hobby horses and other monsters skirmishing amongst the throng, and in this sorte they go to the church, though the minister be at prayer or preaching, dancing and singing like devils incarnate, with such a confused noise that no man can heare his own voice. Then the foolish people they looke, they stare, they laugh, they fleere, and mount upon the formes and powes to see these goodly pageantry solemnised."—Boston Herald.

MAHER'S EASY VICTORY.

He Whipped Steve O'Donnell in Just One Minute and a Half.

New York, Dec. 25.—It took Peter Maher just one minute and a half in the first round to send Steve O'Donnell of Australia down and out this afternoon at the Greater New York Athletic Club at Coney Island. The men were matched to go 20 rounds or more, which practically meant a finish fight, but Maher saved the management from infringing on the Horton law by giving the Australian his quietus with three left hand punches. Maher also sent a right hander to the head, but it was too high to do any damage. O'Donnell's solitary contribution was a very short left, which opened the battle and barely grazed Peter's breast.

The last time the pair met in the Empire A.C. at Maspeth, L.I., Peter sent his man to sleep with the three punches in one minute and 8 seconds. O'Donnell demonstrated clearly this afternoon that he is what is known in sporting parlance as a stiff. After the Maspeth battle he claimed that he was not in condition, and vaguely hinted at drugs and foul play. This afternoon he was just as nervous and ill at ease as he was at Maspeth and showed plainly that he was afraid of the Irishman. The Australian displayed unmistakable nervousness when sitting in his chair during the preliminary arrangements of trying on the gloves, etc.

There were fully 3500 persons present. After Alec Brown of Brooklyn and John Suter of the same place had been announced as the official referee and time-keeper respectively, the opening pair were put on. They were Fred Wright of Peabody, Mass., and Jerry Sullivan of Brooklyn, who boxed ten rounds at 120 pounds. Wright was substituted for Elwood McCloskey of Philadelphia, as the latter was over weight. The Peabody boy displayed unusual cleverness, and after the fifth round had all the best of the battle. The referee declared Wright the winner.

Although the principals in the main event lost no time in getting into the ring there was some delay before they shook hands, as O'Donnell's seconds insisted on having one of the windows through which the sun was streaming on their corner darkened and then the first set of gloves was found to be too small for the Australian, and the mittens had to be changed. O'Donnell was looked after by Billy Madden, Sam Fitzpatrick, Gus Rutling and Mike Butler. Maher's aids were John J. Quinn, Peter Lowery and Pete Burns. After all the preliminaries were satisfactorily adjusted Time-keeper Suter gave the signal at 3.37.

The men sparred for about five seconds. Maher's face wore a determined expression, while O'Donnell appeared nervous and shifted uneasily on his feet. The Australian thought he saw an opening; he shot out his left in a half-hearted manner and just reached Maher's breast. Maher swung his left to the head and they clinched.

While they were locked together they exchanged lefts at close quarters, and Maher shoved his right up under O'Donnell's arm, but the blows were harmless. The referee broke them, and then Maher shot his right to the top of O'Donnell's head. The Australian looked astonished and dropped his guard.

The Irishman came in like a tiger, and sent his left hand on the jaw. The Australian fell and stayed down about four seconds. When he got on his feet Maher came at him again and with the left-hander, that was a combination of hook and swing, caught the unfortunate Australian on the left cheek just under the eye. O'Donnell went to the floor with a — — turned over on his back and was counted out. His seconds helped him to his corner, and he walked out of the ring all right after a few seconds.

When Maher landed the final blow he did not wait to see what O'Donnell would do but went quickly to his corner. Then he went over and shook hands heartily with Billy Madden.

It was announced that a challenge had been sent on behalf of Maher to Tom Sharkey to fight in the Greater New York A.C., and also that if Maher was successful in that contest he would challenge the winner of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight.

QUEEN LIL'S PLANS.

The Ex-Monarch of Hawaii Will Visit Friends in Boston—Would Not Talk On Political Topics.

New York, Dec. 25.—Liliuokalani, ex-Queen of the Hawaiian Islands, arrived in Jersey City from the South at 1.25 o'clock this afternoon. A crowd of curious people was at the station to meet her, and when her private car came to a stop in the Pennsylvania Rail. Station, they gathered close around it in order to catch a glimpse of the deposed Queen. After a brief interval the ex-Queen appeared on the platform of the car and addressed those present. She said: "I certainly have received a royal reception. Americans are most cordial as a race."

Later, in conversation with a reporter of the United Associated Presses, she said that she was not here on any political errand and that her visit was purely a friendly one. She further said that she did not know whether she would go to Washington or not, as her plans are not arranged for more than a month. "I will go to Boston," she said, "to visit a relative of my late husband, William Lee of the firm of Lee & Shepard. I will stay with the Lees for four weeks at least and then I shall go wherever my fancy dictates."

"What about the annexation of Hawaii?" she was asked.

At this point the former queen seemed to forget her fluent English and feigned not to understand. When the question was put again, she was equally dense, and it was evident that the annexation question was not to be discussed by the deposed Queen. The interview over the ex-Queen, her traveling companion, Mrs. E. H. Mahoolena, and her private secretary, Joseph Hulehule, escorted by the passenger agent of the Southern Railroad, boarded the Pennsylvania Ferry boat Maryland, which brought them to this city. Later they took a train for Boston.

No Help from Medical Men—Suffered for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

North Bruce, Dec. 21 (Special).—An old and well known settler in this township, named Thomas Brooks, who lives on lots 7 and 8 in the 14th concession, is rejoicing with his neighbours over his recent recovery, and he said:—

"I was cured by using twenty-four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and, as nothing else ever helped me, I say they saved my life.

"I had tried all the doctors of this locality and was treated for Diabetes, hoping and suffering for years.

"From reading of cures I determined to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I must say that after using the first box I would have considered them reasonable at ten dollars a box."

DIED OF HEART FAILURE.

Mr. W. S. Campbell, One of Brantford's Old and Popular Citizens, Passes Over to the Silent Majority.

Brantford, Ont., Dec. 25.—W. S. Campbell, County Treasurer, died at 4 o'clock this morning; cause, heart failure. On Wednesday evening Mr. Campbell was occupying the vice-chair at the Warden's annual dinner, and during the evening he fell from his chair to the floor in an unconscious condition. He was removed to private apartments in the hotel and two doctors present attended him. He rallied somewhat yesterday, but last night took a change for the worse. Mr. Campbell was one of Brant County's best-known and highly-respected residents. He held many positions of honor and trust from the electors of the county. At different times he was asked to accept the Reform nomination for Parliamentary honors in North Brant, but declined to accept a position he might have easily obtained. In Mr. Campbell's death, Brant County loses one of our most progressive and enterprising citizens. His family have the heartfelt sympathies of the citizens of Brant County in their sad loss.

The Danger is Averted by Using

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

THE LEADING MAN.

A CHRISTMAS STORY BY ALICE E. IVES.

[Copyright, 1896, by the Author.]

"A Christmas tree!"

"Yes, and you must come to it."

"Thank you—I"—

"Oh, but you must! The whole company are to be there, and every one is to have a present, if it's only a box of toothpicks. If we can't be home, we're going to play we're all one big family."

"I hope your play will be a 'hit,'" laughed the new leading man; "but, really, I've lots of letters to write"—

"On Christmas night!" cried the soubrette, with horror.

"Yes. Christmas is no more to me than any other day. You really must excuse me, Susie." And the leading man's face became a bit hard as he turned away.

"So his high and mightiness won't come. I thought so," said the heavy woman.

"No," said the soubrette, slightly crestfallen; "he isn't in the humor."

It was the day before Christmas, and "The Great Gold Mine" company were all on the stage for rehearsal. How they hated it on the day of all others when they wanted to be free! But the leading man had quarreled with the stage manager and left suddenly, and rehearsals had to be called for the newcomer.

"WELL, THERE ARE ALWAYS TWO SIDES TO A STORY."

Do you know what Christmas means in a traveling theatrical company, you who on that blessed day can sit safely housed under your own rooftree, beside your own fires and beneath your own spray of holly, where the one you love can call to you a merry Christmas and the eyes that love you can look into yours?

Have you thought how those wanderers who find themselves 1,000 miles from home, husband, wife, sister, mother or the babies at Yuletide may perhaps flick off a tear or two while putting on the grease paint?

At "The Great Gold Mine" rehearsal the heavy woman rushed in from the express office after sending a box of dolls and toys to her youngest, and the low comedian, who was a very vulgar person every night, looked tenderly at a sample of black silk from the gown for mother. Others talked in a jolly spirit of comradeship about the Christmas tree. Susie Sunly pondered a little over the new leading man's refusal to join them.

"He's too big," went on Mrs. Cowles. "He always wanted the earth. I wonder we got him. Well, I've no patience with a man who will treat his wife as he did. It's a shame! Jennie Bruce was as nice a girl as ever lived, and to think of his leaving her for that Blanche Kendrick! Poor Jennie! She just about worshiped him. I thought they were too happy to have it last. Oh, these men!"

"Well, there are always two sides to a story," said the soubrette, "and I happen to know something of the other side. His wife was that jealous of him she just made a small sized hades and carried it around with her. I know she thought her eyes of him, but she didn't go the right way to show it."

"I guess he gave her cause enough to be jealous."

"Not at first he didn't. But you know he's a handsome, fascinating fellow, whom women have always been good to, and he can't help doing the agreeable to save his life. I've heard her nag him even in the wings if he stopped to chat with one of the ladies."

"Now, Sue, you know it went beyond innocent chats."

"I'm not saying it didn't in the end. I was in the same company, and I saw the whole thing."

"You did!"

"Yes. Blanche Kendrick was doing the leads, and one night I heard Jennie going for him in the dressing room about her."

"He stood it very quietly for a time. Then he blazed out: 'See here, Jennie, I've borne your senseless jealousy about long enough. I've told you you had no real cause. But, by Jove, I'll give you one now, so that you may know what the real article is like.'"

"The brute!" broke in Mrs. Cowles.

"Yes, it was rather brutal, but it was pretty natural, too, and I don't know that I blamed him much.

"Well, that night Forrest Burrows took Kendrick out to supper and didn't ask his wife.

"Two or three of us were on to the frame and were watching out for the climax. It came bright and early the next morning. Jennie went to the manager—oh, she was a determined little thing!—and she told him if he didn't give Kendrick notice she would leave and take her husband with her.

"Poor Barry, the manager, was in a bad fix. But Jennie was just playing small parts, and they could spare her a great deal better than they could Blanche Kendrick."

"The hussy!"

"Yes, she wasn't any too good, but she was a great 'looker,' and she could act.

"I was on the stage when Barry called Burrows aside to speak with him. I heard Burrows say: 'Why, I haven't the least idea of leaving. As for my wife, that's only a little fit of jealousy. It'll blow over.'

"It didn't blow over, though. In one week from that time Jennie left and went home alone. I think Burrows never imagined she'd do it, for he came near going to pieces in the first act after he found she had gone. I believe at first he thought of going after her. But you know what throwing up an engagement in the middle of the season means, and after that Blanche Kendrick just wound herself around him. She knew how to do it."

"Did Jennie get a divorce?"

"I don't know. Wasn't there a child?"

"Seems to me I heard so, but I'm not sure. Anyway poor Jennie has been having hard lines."

"Burrows was ill for nearly a year and couldn't work. I suppose he couldn't do much for her."

"I dare say he gives it all to the Kendrick."

"Oh, no; that was off long ago. Do you know the way he spoke a few minutes ago about Christmas? It seemed to me he was thinking of his wife."

"More likely of the new part," sniffed the heavy woman.

"First act!" shouted the stage manager, and the soubrette made a dash for her entrance.

Things seemed bound to go crisscross in "The Great Gold Mine" company. That very day Paquita, "the child wonder," who played the infant role, was taken with the measles, and a new child had to be speedily secured.

She was rather a pretty little thing, with large, blue eyes and curly, golden hair, but as she was not yet 4 years old the manager feared she was too young, but the woman who brought her assured him she was very clever and would soon learn the two or three lines she was to speak.

"Great Cæsar! A new kid, too!" sighed the leading man. "She'll be afraid of me, and the audience will think I've kidnaped her instead of being her lawful parent. I must try to cultivate her."

"Come here, midget," he said kindly.

"I'm not midget. I'm Little Pearl," answered the mite, with great dignity.

"That's a very nice name." And he put out his arms to her.

She hesitated. "I don't think I like you," she said doubtfully.

"Dear me! Why don't you like me?"

"You're too handsome."

There was a chorus of laughter at Burrows' expense.

"That's the first time my fatal beauty ever proved to be a drawback in the profession," laughed Burrows.

"My mamma said I was not to like handsome men," said the child gravely.

"Mamma has evidently had a history," added Burrows in an aside voice. "But," he went on, determined to conciliate the child, "I am your papa, you know. You must be good to me anyway."

"Oh, are you really my papa? Then mamma won't mind if I kiss you." And the tot suddenly flung her chubby arms around the leading man's neck and put her little cherry lips up to his.

The situation was, to say the least, embarrassing. Titters were heard in various directions, and a smothered guffaw exploded in the wings.

"Oh, I mean I am your papa in the play! We are just making believe," hastily corrected the actor.

The little one drew away from him, and the childish lips quivered.

"Oh, I thought you were my really, truly papa!" she said, with a strangely pathetic look in the big blue eyes.

"Didn't you ever see your papa?"

"No, never."

"Is he dead?"

"I don't know. Mamma cried when I asked her."

"I hope he was good."

"Oh, he was! My mamma said so."

"Then he must be dead," said the leading man in a decided tone. "The good men are all dead. It always proves fatal. I'm quite bad, you know."

"I don't think you're bad," gravely shaking her head.

"Bless you! That's comforting—to have some one have faith in you. I mean I'm bad in the play, not always. You will like me, won't you?"

"Oh, yes, if mamma lets me."

A truce being thus arranged, the rehearsal proceeded. That night the leading man made a hit, and Little Pearl acquitted herself with credit. When she came to the line, "Papa, won't you kiss mamma?" she got a round of applause. But there was something wrong with Burrows. He stopped suddenly, as though he had seen a ghost in the wings, faltered in his speech and was only saved by the leading woman throwing him his line. In two minutes the curtain was down and the people had scattered to their rooms. But Burrows still held the child's hand. He led her to some one who was waiting for her. She was a pale, thin little woman in shabby clothes.

"Jennie," he cried, "are you ill?"

The woman became a shade paler and caught at the heavy set beside her.

"Come," she said to the child, "come, Edith."

"Edith! My God, my own child, and I didn't know it!"

He caught the little one to his heart, almost crushing her in his strong caress.

"Give her to me," said the woman, with a sort of fierceness. "It is time for her to go home."

"Won't you let me see her just a moment? Am I not her father?"

"Oh," cried the little one gleefully, "are you really and truly my papa? Then why don't you kiss mamma too?"

"I would," said Burrows very softly, "if she would let me. Tell her, Edith, I would like to very much, and I would like to go home with her and stay with you and her and"—

"Well," broke in the child, "why don't you kiss her?"

WM. YELLAND AND W. H. MOORE CANDIDATES FOR MAYORALITY.

state for the information of the public, that within six months after his nephew's appointment, at a salary of $300 and his nephew had applied to the council for an increase which they appeared to be tardy in recognising, he, Mr. Yelland, had moved an increase of $500 with a deduction of $200 or $300 from the clerk's salary.

At this point Mr. Yelland challenged the correctness of Mr. Moore's statement, and the latter asked if he (Mr. Yelland) wished to say that Mr. Moore had deliberately stated what was untrue. Mr. Yelland said he did if Mr. Moore insisted on what he had stated. Mr. Graham was appealed to for confirmation of Mr. Moore's statement, and his explanation did not seem to altogether bear out the construction Mr. Moore had placed upon the incident, which Mr. Moore concluded by saying that the circumstance bore out the charge that at any rate Mr. Yelland was looking out for the interests of his own family. Mr. Moore then continued his address.

Another omission from this address was a confession which he should have made that he had shirked the most important vote of the year, viz., that which agitated the council and occupied their time a great deal, the public lighting of the town. Mr. Yelland had full notice of the meeting of the council while he was holidaying at Stony Lake, where other councillors were, who were able without great effort to be present. He Mr. Yelland, had made it convenient to stay away, and this was at a time when it was hoped and expected that a saving would have been made to the town of $1,000 a year, or on a seven years' contract—which was the one now made—of $7,000. Mr. Moore said that Mr. Yelland had always professed super abundance of independence, but it was a pretty clear case that he had been pressed by the contending contractors to give his support to both, and had probably promised it, and in order to escape the ill-will of either and trim his sails for the coming election, he had purposely remained away from that, the really most important meeting of the year.

Mr. Moore also called attention to the absence of a true statement respecting what was known as the Tax Bylaw. $53,000 had been paid into the treasury; some $20,000 remained. The majority of the taxpayers of $10 00 or $12.00 each had paid their taxes. Large cheques were waiting to be paid in if the by-law was not passed yet this by-law was forced through the council by a bull-head majority and against all principles of business. Mr. Moore urged that if the ratepayers who had already paid in the above large sum could be put upon the same footing as those who had not, there might be some reason in it, but it was a measure that should have been framed a month or more before, and not after two-thirds of the taxes had been paid; that those who had paid in should receive interest on the moneys they had paid so as to make all equal, but Mr. Yelland had ignored this and every business principle for the carrying out of a scheme which he imagined would bring grist to his mill in the present elections. When the matter was first brought up some evenings previous by Mr. Moore, he had expressed the opinion that any resolution on the subject would not be worth the paper it was written on and that the collector would pay no attention to it. He had always been opposed to the measure as opposed to principles of equal justice to all. The by-law had come to its third reading when Mr. Moore first moved that it be re-committed for the purpose of striking out the objectionable clauses, which was lost. He then moved that the by-law should not take effect until the sureties for $30,000 had given their consent in writing and delivered it to the clerk, which had not been done, and which to this day has never been done, and we are now and have been ever since without any security whatever for the $30,000 still unpaid, and this also was lost, the Mayor opposing Mr. Moore's motion. It was then moved by Messrs. Langford and Sawers that the clause imposing 5 per cent should be repealed for this year. This also was lost. The Mayor had, during the discussion of these motions, opposed Mr. Moore's contentions, had been abusive, calling him a puff of wind, etc., and now we are without a surety for the payment of our taxes. Mr. Moore asked: "Does conduct of this kind ensure confidence for the ratepayers, or does it entitle Mr. Yelland to their support and votes?"

In dealing with Mr. Yelland's respect for the rights and interests of the poor man, Mr. Moore instanced his action in appointing Mr. Denne, collector of taxes, instead of another person who had on the score of sympathy a better claim to the position. Mr. Moore also instanced Mr. Yelland's indifference to a proposal he (Mr. Moore) had made to procure 200 cords of stone to be used in giving employment and wages to poor ratepayers, instead of supporting them as claimants upon the charity fund. Another evidence of Mr. Yelland's sympathy with the poor man was his want of action in reference to a proposal Mr. Moore had made to impose a tax of $1 each on bicycles, the proceeds to be separately funded and used to construct cinder paths along the streets for the use of wheelmen. Many clerks were too poor to pay for their board down town and had to live in outside localities, and their bicycles were depended upon as a means of making the journey. Upon his suggestion no action had been taken by Mr. Yelland, who had thus failed to show his sympathy with the poor man. Mr. Moore also set himself right on the charge that he had opposed the use of Central Park for an Orange demonstration. He had not opposed it, but had insisted upon the trees being protected, and the booths being under the supervision of the town. Mr. Moore said he had moved a resolution asking that at certain hours bicyclists should have the use of the walks, but the council of which Mr. Yelland was the head, had voted it down.

Mr. Moore said that he did not deal in empty promises, but certain things suggested themselves for the betterment of the town. First.—Industrial and manufacturing interests should have a large share of the attention of the council. We had the best railway facilities in Canada and one of the best water powers in North America, but we wanted more industries and must have them or our town was bound to languish as it had done during the past year, for the mayor had never during his official life directed the attention of the council into channels which were likely to work for the best good. He had simply been chairman of their meetings, and he either had not, or did not use the skill which was necessary for a man holding so high an office.

Mr. Moore concluded an address of about three-quarters of an hour by appealing to the electors for their support, and wishing them all a Happy New Year.

MR. YELLAND REPLIES.

Mr. Yelland then proceeded to deal with some of the statements and charges contained in Mr. Moore's address. In regard to shirking the vote upon the electric light contract matter, Mr. Yelland said that the meeting was the only one he had missed during the year. He had been absent up the lakes and knew there was a meeting but did not know that the electric light matter was to be brought up and consequently was not guilty of shirking the vote in question. He repeated that he had attended all the meetings of the council except the one named as well as every committee meeting, and he said the clerk could confirm his statement. He never shirked any vote, he had the courage of his convictions. In regard to the tax extension matter Mr. Yelland said Mr. Moore and Mr. Sawers had been electioneering in the council and when he the mayor, proposed extension of time for the payment of taxes Mr. Moore had said that it was "a good thing and that he (Mr. Yelland) had the start of us."

Mr. Moore—A good thing to catch votes.

Mr. Yelland—Well, we'll let it go at that.

Continuing Mr. Yelland said that he still thought it was a good thing and that Mr. Moore would find that he (Mr. Yelland had gained and not lost votes by it. As to Mr. Denne's appointment, Mr. Denne was deserving of the position by virtue of his long services to the town. His appointment was in the interest of the ratepayers and the town. As to Mr. Might's claims, Mr. Yelland said that a member of the council had said to him in reference to Mr. Might that he supposed it would be "another d—d Methodist clique." In reply to that the Mayor pointed out amid much laughter that that there was enough Methodists in official positions—the Mayor, the clerk, the treasuer, the sewer inspector, etc., and that he was not there for any other purpose than to serve the best interests of the town, Methodist or no Methodist, and he had no reason to apologize for his action in reference to the appointment of Mr. Denne. Mr. Yelland said he had not opposed the proposal to procure 200 cords of stone to be broken by poorer ratepayers—he had simply objected to the greater expense of drawing them in the summer than in the winter. He did not oppose the proposition, though Mr. Moore tried to make the electors think he did. As to the charge re the treasurer, he said it was a parliamentary practice to consider friends first. Mr. Moore was one of Mr. Browncombe's friends, and supported an increase of salary. He says he is a good officer, and therefore he (Mr. Yelland) did a good act in appointing him.

Mr. Yelland after saying that Mr. Moore had written out a resolution for the extension of time for the payment of taxes and handed it over to Mr. Best, charged that Mr. Moore had acted as an obstructionist to him (Mr. Yelland) in the council. He concluded by appealing to the support of the electors and wishing them a Happy New Year.

Mr. James Bogue asked the candidates if they were in favour of publishing the assessment roll, and both stated that they thought the expense would be very great.

Mr. Moore explained that Mr. Browncombe, the treasurer, had a considerable income outside of his salary as treasurer. He also stated that he had asked Mr. Yelland to agree to omit a personal canvass, but to this Mr. Yelland had refused to agree.

Mr. Yelland rejoined that Mr. Moore evidently thought it too much of a humiliation to ask a poor man for his vote.

Mr. Moore proposed three cheers for the Queen, which were heartily given and followed by three cheers for Mr. Yelland, and the meeting dispersed.

In cigars, his imported cigars are of the finest, and this is proved by the testimony of the best people of the town who smoke them. LET THE BEST WIN!

As in elections, so in business. Let the best win! Because you voted a certain way last year that's no reason why you should vote the same way this year. Because you have been wearing some other make of Clothing this year, that's no reason why you should pass the best Cutter and Tailor in town now. To be a candidate in one of Pete Simons Suits or Overcoats goes a long way towards winning your election or electing your man.

It don't look very well to go round canvassing or shouting for your man in a shivering cold day with a badly battered outfit, and your Boy, too, aching for warm winter Clothing. Let us have your vote and influence

THE U. S. AND CUBA

An Audience With Canovas, the Spanish Premier.

TALK OF A COMMERCIAL TREATY

Between Spain and the United States as a Solution of the Trouble Spain Should Stand Before the World a United Country, Says the Prime Minister.

New York, Dec. 28.—The Herald's Madrid correspondent cables the following: I have been granted an audience with Canovas del Castillo, the Spanish Premier, who, renews his assurances of satisfaction at the policy of the United States Government and effectually sets at rest disquieting rumors.

I have also been favored by Senor Motely Prendergast with an interview, in which, for the first time, he makes public a new and practical solution of the Cuban question, based upon the hope of a new commercial treaty between Spain and the United States.

While Senor Sagasta is recognized as the leader of the Liberal party, he has ceased to criticize the Government, because he believes that Spain should stand before the world as a united country so long as the jingo spirit continues in Congress.

The ebullitions of Senators Morgan, Cameron and Sherman are looked upon in Madrid as threats of war and Spain is no longer a divided country. The effect of the resolutions in favor of Cuba introduced in the Senate has been to make Spain much stronger.

Premier Canovas, as the mouthpiece of the Ministry, says that no proposition concerning Cuba can be considered until important victories are obtained. The military spirit must prevail first.

The Liberals, on the other hand, believe that the Cuban question can be settled upon a commercial basis, and that the first step in that direction will be a treaty of reciprocity. This, he believes, would renew friendly relations between the countries, and, by bringing prosperity to Cuba and millions of new business to the merchants of the United States, would make peace with Cuba possible.

When asked whether the Competitor prisoners were to receive the legal assistance of advocates, as provided in the protocol, the previous trial not having been under those provisions, the Government is granted a new hearing.

"Have you received an official report of Maceo's death?"

"We have the report and are satisfied he was killed in battle. The report that Maceo was poisoned has no truth in it."

"Do you feel assured that Mr. Cleveland will maintain his attitude of friendliness until the close of his term of office?"

"Yes, sir, we feel that Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Olney are doing all in their power to help Spain and not to hinder us. But you see you are on the eve of a change of government."

"Mr. McKinley has practically said that Mr. Cleveland has taken the right course," I ventured to suggest.

"That may be true," replied Senor Canovas. "It is not the President-elect we doubt, but matters would be complicated with Mr. Sherman as Secretary of State. He has said some very hard things about Spain. You see, it is not a question of Mr. McKinley, but of Mr. Sherman."

"Are you satisfied that the present administration is doing all that can be done to prevent the departure of filibustering expeditions from the United States?"

"We are assured that the efforts to prevent these expeditions are all that we could expect, and I am satisfied that Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Olney are exerting themselves in this direction."

In speaking further of the administration, Senor Canovas said: "I have just received the official translation of Mr. Cleveland's message and am greatly pleased with his attitude."

Child Burned to Death.

Buffalo, Dec. 28.—Charlie Amogonia, 2 years old, got hold of a box of matches about noon to-day, ignited them and set his clothing afire, and before help reached him he was so badly burned that he died within two hours.

Fifteen Men Drowned.

Malaga, Spain, Dec. 28.—The fishing smack Colon, belonging at Euengirola, 20 miles southwest of this city, has been wrecked in the Mediterranean and her crew of 15 men drowned.

ROBBERS IN JAIL.

State Rangers Have Captured the Rascals Who Held Up the Southern Pacific.

Houston, Tex., Dec. 28.—Information has been received by the Wells-Fargo Express officials that the robbers who held up the Southern Pacific passenger train at Comstock, Texas, a week ago. The robbers are in jail at Del Rio, Texas. The leader of the gang is A. H. Perrerance of Del Rio, and the others are Bud Newman, Frank Gable, and H. M. Shackelford, who live in that section of the country. Two of the men arrested have been identified as the men who boarded the train at the station to purchase fruit and stopped it at the point where the robbery occurred. A GOLDEN JUBILEE.

St. John's Catholic Church at Worcester, Mass., the Scene of Most Elaborate Ceremonies.

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 28.—St. John's Catholic Church closed the year of its golden jubilee yesterday of the anniversary of the feast of its patron saint with the most elaborate services ever given in a Worcester church.

Archbishop Martinelli, apostolic delegate to the United States, was the special guest of the parish, and pontificated at the solemn mass, which was celebrated at 10.30 o'clock.

As a compliment to the papal delegate every man wore on his breast a badge of yellow and white, the papal colors. At the altar were Archbishop Martinelli, Very Rev. Dr. Thomas J. Conaty, rector of the Catholic University at Washington; Very Rev. Philip J. Gunnigan, D.D., vice-rector of the same University; Right Rev. Thomas B. Havey, Bishop of the Diocese of Springfield; Rev. HOG-RAISING FOR EXPORT.

In a letter to the Lindsay Post Mr. Geo. Matthews says:

There appeared in your excellent report of the Farmers' Institute held in Lindsay on the 11th inst., a paper on "Selection and Breeding of Swine," by Mr. Dennis Hawkins of Woodville. Six years ago I would have seconded all Mr. Hawkins says in his article about the Berkshire hog, for at that time they were great favourites with the trade. Plump in body and light in bone, the Berkshire hog was very desirable for my business, which was at that time confined to Canada. But the last six years have witnessed a great increase in the production of hogs, especially in Ontario, and the packers have found it necessary to look to outside markets for the disposition of their meats, and have found the English market desirable if the requirements of the trade there can be met. According to the government returns the exports of Canadian hams and bacon to England have grown marvellously in the past four years, the returns for the last year being about $5,000,000. This is the market we are trying to supply, and in order to be successful, not only must the cut and cure of bacon be perfect to satisfy the demands of that most critical market, but the style of hog from which the meats are cut must also be in every particular suitable, and if their ideas of cut, cure and thickness of sides are not complied with, the dealers refuse to buy our product, excepting at ruinously low prices.

The requirements of the English trade are, briefly, a long, lean side, with a light shoulder and light back. The fat on the back must not exceed in thickness 1¼ to 1½ inches, and should be of a uniform thickness from head to tail, with a thick flank. The Berkshire hog does not comply with these important conditions, and is not therefore, as acceptable for export purposes as other breeds. Their shoulders are thick, and when cut, if the fat on the loin is, say, 1½ inches thick, the shoulder will often show 2½ inches of fat. The sides also are short and thick, and on this account the English buyers have decided objections to them.

When in London last August I saw a number of boxes of Canadian bacon opened, and the buyers admitted that in regard to cut and cure the sides were equal to those received from Denmark. I asked how it was that, although they admitted the cure of Canadian bacon was equal to that of Denmark, they were willing to pay from one to two dollars per cwt. more for the Danish. They explained that it was on account of the irregularity of Canadian sides, some of which were very choice long lean sides, but many were short and heavy in the shoulder, and they considered the latter very unprofitable sides to buy; when buying Danish they could depend upon receiving a regular run of select long lean sides of a uniform length and thickness, much more desirable in this particular than any received from Canada.

If we, as Canadians, are ever to place our pork products on a par with Danish goods in the English market, it can be accomplished only by the united efforts of farmers and packers. Their interests in obtaining the highest prices on that market are identical, and the packers cannot succeed in this particular without the co-operation of the breeders of swine in producing the proper hog. A cross of a thoroughbred Berkshire sow with a Yorkshire boar makes a very good class of hog for the English trade, the long flat side, lean back and thick flank of the Yorkshire correcting the thick heavy shoulder and back of the Berkshire.

I consider the best thoroughbred hog for that trade is the Tamworth at six or seven months old and weighing 180 to 200 lbs. each. A drover brought me a few of these very desirable hogs for export bacon, raised by Hon. John Dryden, and weighing about 200 lbs. each alive; when dressed these hogs filled the requirements of the English bacon dealer in every particular.

I was pleased to notice that at the Swine Breeders' Association meeting, held at Guelph last week, it was decided to ask the agricultural societies to award a special prize for hogs suitable for the English bacon market.

EIGHT TAKEN OUT DEAD.

Seventeen Buried in the Explosion of a Mine at Princeton, Indiana.

Princeton, Ind., Dec. 26.—A terrific mine explosion occurred in the coal mines of Maule & Son, a mile from this city, at 2.30 o'clock to-day. Seventeen men were in the mine at the time of the accident, and up to this hour (10 p.m.) eight have been taken out dead and five badly injured. Two of the latter died shortly after being taken out. Their names are unknown. Four more are still under ground, and there is no hope for them, as the rescue cannot be attempted until the mine is cleared of fire-damp to enable the men to go down.

The dead are: Robert Maule, treasurer and general superintendent of the Maule Co.; James Turner, Robert Poneylight, David Nolan, A. Colegate, Will Cruz, John Holmes (miner), James Ryan, Carl Poneylight, single, of Belleville, Ill., two unknown.

The injured are: W. Grills, will recover; Will Booker, jaw broken, eye blown out and badly burned; Frank Turbee, seriously burned; Thomas Price, single, severely burned.

The men, after a lay-off one day for Christmas, went down in the mine to assist in clearing up the debris of a small explosion of fire damp. It is but a short time since coal was discovered here. It is believed that the mine was not sufficiently guarded. The injured are in such condition that they are receiving all possible attention, and nearly all will recover rapidly. Immediately after the explosion all the men were summoned to the shaft, but all efforts at rescue were balked by the fire-damp. The men were put to work as quickly as possible drawing the gas from under the ground. The force of the explosion was terrible, and some of the bodies are in an awful condition. In two other cases limbs were blown off and found mangled in other ways. The dead brought to the surface were taken to the undertakers or morgue. It will probably be 24 hours before any attempt at rescue can be made, and there is held out for them but little hope.

Later—Shortly after 11 o'clock the fan had done such good work that the mine was nearly cleared. A rescuing party reported that they could hear men groaning, and it is believed that Mr. Maule may be rescued alive. The work is being pushed to the utmost, and they hope to bring others to the top before to-morrow.

A CASE OF DIABETES.

No Help from Medical Men—Suffered for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

North Bruce, Dec. 21 (Special).—An old and well known settler in this township, named Thomas Brooks, who lives on lots 7 and 8 in the 14th concession, is rejoicing with his neighbours over his recent recovery, and he said:—

"I was cured by using twenty-four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and, as nothing else ever helped me, I say they saved my life.

"I had tried all the doctors of this locality and was treated for Diabetes, hoping and suffering for years.

"From reading of cures I determined to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I must say that after using the first box I would have considered them reasonable at ten dollars a box."

TWEED TOPICS.

Mrs. James Davenport Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Davenport is well-known in Tweed, and this is how she spoke to our representative concerning Doan's Kidney Pills. Said Mrs. Davenport:—

"I have suffered for some years from dizziness puffing under the eyes, pains in the side and back, sleeplessness, poor appetite, and in fact, was in a bad state generally.

"I took two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at P. K. Newton's drugstore, and experienced immediate relief from their use.

"I am now very much better indeed; appetite improved, pain almost disappeared and I feel stronger and healthier in every particular.

"I heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

MR. E. W. HAZLETT, Reeve of Chatham Township, Kent County, Ont., says: "My daughter has been very weakly for some years; she was very pale and always felt tired; she was prevailed upon by a friend to try a box of Miller's Compound Iron Pills. I must say it was a good investment; she at once began to improve. The colour came to her cheeks, she got stronger rapidly, and now is quite well." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

List, ye Horsemen!

All lovers of that most useful of domesticated animals, the horse, will be glad to learn that the Christmas number of "The Horse Review" (Chicago), is issued this week. It will not be necessary to go into a full description of this mammoth cyclopaedia of horse literature, as publishers claim it to far excell those published in past years, and their veracity being unquestioned and the Horse Review so well known to our readers as the leading horse-paper of America, we will simply state that it is printed on the finest paper, profusely illustrated by half-tone engravings and contains four separate supplements on heavy paper, suitable for framing, representing champion trotters and pacers of 1896. Splendid stories, statistical tables, original poetry and horse love will make this a souvenier number to be preserved for future reference. The cover is beautifully lithographed in colours and the price is only twenty-five cents. Leave your order for one at the Peterborough Bookstore, where "promptness" is the watchword, and receive one of the first printed. Or, better still, leave your subscription for the paper, two dollars per annum, and the Xmas number thrown in.

MARRIED IN MONTREAL.

Nuptials of Rev. J. C. Davidson and Miss Fanny Maude Lewis.

A matrimonial event which has created more than usual interest in the congregation of St. John's, as well as in the social circles of the town generally, owing to the prominent position of the contracting parties, was solemnized this morning.

At the Church of the Advent, Montreal, this morning at 8.40 o'clock, Rev. John Cheyne Davidson, M.A., Rector of Peterborough, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Fanny Maude Lewis, eldest daughter of Mr. F. J. Lewis, 23 Prospect street, Montreal, formerly manager of the Bank of Montreal in Peterborough.

The solemn ceremony was celebrated by Rev. Canon Ellegood, M.A., Rector of the Church of St. James the Apostle, assisted by Rev. Henry Kittson, M. A., rector of the Church of the Advent, in which the marriage was solemnized. The bride was given to be married by her father, and both groomsman and bridesmaid were dispensed with, in deference to the extreme simplicity of the wedding. There was also no marriage license, the wholesome old custom of "publishing the banns" having been followed on this occasion. There were no invited guests—only the intimate friends of the contracting parties being present.

The bride was attired in her travelling costume, which consisted of a heather-mixture tweed coat and skirt, with shot silk vest, and brown velvet collar and cuffs. She wore a green and brown hat and brown gloves to match.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the happy pair at once took carriage and drove to the railway station, where they embarked on the 2.50 express for Ottawa. From the capital they proceed to Toronto, where they will pass a few days.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson will sail from New York on January 9th, on the Wilhelm II. of the North German Lloyd line, direct to Naples, Italy. They will make a tour of indefinite length, in southern Europe, and proceed across the continent to England, where the trans-Atlantic portion of their tour will end.

The circumstances of this wedding are of more than usual interest, especially to Peterborough, where both Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson are held, and deservedly so, in the very highest esteem. During the seven or eight years Rev. Mr. Davidson has been rector of St. John's he has won, to an unusual degree, the love of his parishioners of every rank in life. Especially in the homes, where sickness, need, sorrow or any other adversity have claimed his attention, is he remembered in love for his tender and thoughtful ministrations. In his relations as a citizen he has shown such public-spirited qualities, has personally identified himself so actively and so judiciously with every enterprise aiming to advance the good name of the town and to promote the material, moral, social and educational interests of the people of all classes, irrespective of denominational distinctions, that he has received a prominent place in their respect. His wife has also a particularly warm place in the affections of the social circles of her native town, in which she has passed the most of her life. Especially is she regarded with esteem and appreciation in Church circles, where her faithful work has been of the most devoted character and has especially fitted her for the larger and more direct responsibilities of her new relation. In a word both have very warm places in the hearts of Peterborough people, and their happy union is a reason for the most cordial congratulations, in which the EXAMINER begs leave to heartily join.

As an indication of the respect felt by St. John's congregation for Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson, the grand old Union Jack, which Mr. Davidson loves so well, was this morning run up on the tower of St. John's, and at the hour corresponding to the conclusion of the ceremony the glad chime of the wedding bells rang out from the ivy-covered tower.

A Farewell Greeting.

On Rev. Mr. Davidson's departure for Montreal on Monday morning a large number of the members of the congregation of St. John's assembled at the station to bid him good bye, and the following was presented :

Rev. J. C. Davidson, M. A., Rector of Peterborough:

DEAR RECTOR,—Your parishioners, in whose love and esteem you have won a very dear place by your faithful ministrations for the past seven years, wish to take this opportunity of congratulating you with the most earnest cordiality upon your approaching marriage, and we venture to say that, as faithful and as fruitful of good results as have been your former labours, your future will be even more so by virtue of having associated with yourself in the most sacred of human companionships, a lady, whose gracious and graceful personal qualities and devotion to the advancement of every interest of the Church, constitute her in every sense a help meet for a minister of Christ. We know this from a happy past experience, and we shall gladly welcome her amongst us again; as warmly for her own worth's sake as we should, in any event, for your own.

We assure you that we shall very greatly miss you during the next few months, but we are glad to know that you have before you a holiday which, as we heartily wish it to be, will need to be a very happy one to be in any sense anything like a reward for the seven years' faithful service you have given our beloved Church and your flock in this Parish. We shall the less deplore your absence when we all remember that; though wide seas separate us, and though new scenes claim your attention, you will still be with us in spirit.

We pray that you and your wife may have a safe voyage, and hope that, when the hour of Sunday service comes, wherever you may be, you will be comforted and cheered by the thought that dear old St. John's will be vocal with the prayer:

O, Trinity of love and power,
Our brethren shield in danger's hour;
From rock and tempest, fire and foe
Protect them wheresoe'er they go.

We also pray that you will be safely restored to the congregation of St. John's, in whose hearts you have so warm a place, and in whose name we wish you God-speed and bon voyage.

Signed on behalf of the congregation.

R. M. DENISTOUN, HARRY LONG, } Church Wardens

Mr. Davidson's reply was, owing to the departure of the train, necessarily very brief but nevertheless hearty and appreciative. He was very much touched by this parting evidence of the love and thoughtfulness of his parishioners.

Is Your Piano in Tune?

The change of season affects pianos as well as anything else. Mr. Geo. Gumpricht, practical piano maker and tuner, with 28 years experience, attends to all orders left at Mr. H. S. Macdonald's drug store.

Sizing up the Situation.

For the few remaining days of the year there will be bargains at Routley's fancy goods store, enough to loosen the purse-strings of a skinflint. Stock-taking will be going on while a continued slaughter of the goods is in progress. The less stock we have to take the better, and almost any offer will influence sales. Mr. Routley is is open to receive offers for his valuable houses and other town properties, particulars of which will be cheerfully given to all enquirers. C. B. ROUTLEY.

Fans for Evening Parties, etc.

The magnificent exhibition of holiday goods at the Peterborough Bookstore has been reinforced with new and attractive lines to meet the continued demand of holiday shoppers. Regular stocks have not been neglected, nor will they be. We have a lovely selection of new fans for evening parties, festivals and other fashionable functions. For the first three days of next week we will take a discount of 20 per cent. off every fan. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will therefore be bargain days in fans—including the choicest we have in silk, feather, hand-painted, etc. At the same time our stock of New Year's cards, calendars and booklets must be sold at "last moment prices."—A. THE MASONIC BROTHERHOOD.

THE FESTIVAL OF ST. JOHN, THE EVANGELIST.

Installation of Officers at the Masonic Hall—Social Gathering and Union Banquet.

United by that Mystic Tie,
Which all good Craftsmen understand,
Watched o'er by God's All-Seeing Eye,
Freemasons meet in every land;
While thus we meet, both near and far,
In every land, on every sea,
No discord should those meetings mar
From first to thirty-third degree.

Speak not of faults which you have heard
Have marred an honoured brother's life,
Remember that an unkind word
Cuts deeper than the sharpest knife;
Forgive the brother if you would
Have others do the same for you,
Love links our ancient Brotherhood
With all things noble, pure and true.

Remember when, aspiring youth,
You first essayed the Mystic Art,
Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth
Were mottoes taught you at the start.
You saw the Warden's pointer trace
Your duty to your fellow-men,
While memory lives can time efface
The lessons that were taught you then.

And later, when a Craftsman, you
Were taught the use of Plumb and Line,
You swore by all that's good and true
The secret life should ever shine.
While bright stars gild the dome of night
And Luna sheds her silvery ray,
While O'd Sol, with glorious light,
Illumines each succeeding day.

As Master Masons we know why
That royal arch is seen above,
God set his rainbow in the sky
To show His all-forgiving love;
Guided by Compasses and Square,
We prize no gift of royal court
So highly as that Jewel rare,
The loving tongue of good report.

—BRO. W. D. ANDREWS,

That spirit of universal unity and true brotherly love which is propegated by the fraternity of Freemasons prevaded the local brethren yesterday, being the occasion of the Festival of St. John the Evangelist, when, in accordance with the time-honoured custom, the annual installation of officers took place. The Masonic hall, on Water street, was filled to its utmost capacity by local and visiting brethren. The impressive ceremonies connected with the investment of the elected and appointed officers constituted the principal business of the evening. R. W. Bro. R. E. Wood, D.D.G.M., assumed the gavel and officiated during the installation. He was assisted by the following well-skilled board of Installing Masters :—

Wor. Bros. T. C. Hay, H. Rush, A. Dawson, W. H. Walkey, H. C. Winch, D. Spence, R. Max Dennistoun and R. A. Morrow.

The following is a list of the officers duly installed for the current Masonic year :—

IN THE REFRESHMENT ROOM.

After a brief intermission for an exchange of fraternal greetings, the brethren repaired to the adjoining Chapter hall, where tables were spread out under the directions of the J. W's of both lodges, and a splendid collation was served under the skillful catering of Bro John Watt. The spread was a very inviting one, the Wardens and their assistants discharging their duty "without scruple or diffidence," and the craftsmen all heartily enjoyed themselves in toast and speech and song. At the head of the table the presiding chairman was R. W. Bro. R. E. Wood, D. D.G.M., the vice-chairman, R. W. Bro. H. C. Rogers and second vice-chairman V.W. Bro. D. Spence.

After the refreshments had been cleared off, the chairman called the brethren to their feet by proposing the toast of "The Queen and the Craft," which was received with Masonic enthusiasm and appropriate Masonic honours, the brethren all joining in "God Save the Queen."

The 2nd Vice-Chairman, V. W. Bro. D. Spence, proposed "The Grand Master and the Grand Lodges of Canada."

R. W. Bro. R. H. D. Hall thanked the brethren for coupling his name with this important toast. As, however, his acquaintance with Grand Lodge affairs of more recent date was not of so intimate a nature as some of the other brethren who would reply, he preferred to allow them to do proper justice to the toast.

R. W. Bro. Benj. Shortly replied to the toast in a few well chosen remarks, making some interesting references to grand lodge affairs and its importance as a body composed of able representatives from the craft.

Rt. W. Bro. William Miller replied very fully to the toast and delighted his hearers with a eulogistic address on the ancient and historical work of the order. He elaborated on the life of their patron saint St. John, the evangelist, and associated his name with much that was of interest to the craft.

The 1st vice-chairman, R. W. Bro. H. C. Rogers proposed the toast of "The Newly Elected Officers," which was received in the most lively manner.

W. Bro. A. Stevenson, the W. M. elect of Corinthian Lodge, responded in a very genial speech. He thanked the brethren for the honour they had conferred upon him, and asked for their hearty co-operation in the work.

W. Bro. Bamford, W. M. elect of Peterborough Lodge, also replied. His response was characterized with a full sense of the responsibility of the duties of the office he had been called upon to fill. He assured his brethren that he would work for the best interests of the craft, and trusted he would be accorded that support, which alone would enable him to "look well to the East." He thanked the brethren for the very hearty manner in which they received the toast, and was pleased to have his name associated with the office he was called to fill.

The toast was also responded to by others of the newly-elected officers of both lodges.

V. W. Bro. R. M. Denistoun favoured the gathering with a song.

The chairman next proposed the toast of "Our Visiting Brethren."

Bro. W. R. Young (Rev.) replied with an impressive speech, in which he alluded to the grand principles recognized in Freemasonry, and the fundamental truths of Christianity which it revealed, corroborated by the Bible, were the foundation stones of the Order where to be found.

Bro. Melrose, of Perth Lodge, sang a rousing Scottish song.

W. Bro. P. N. Clarke, one of the visiting brethren, returned thanks for the kind and fraternal spirit with which he had been welcomed around the hospitable board.

Bro. Green, of Farmo, N. S., W. Bro. Eastwood (Dr.) and V. Wor. Bro. R. J. Winch also responded to the toast.

"The Retiring Officers'" healths were then toasted and brought out happy responses from W. Bro. Johnston, of Corinthian Lodge, and W. Bro. Alex. Gibson, of Peterborough Lodge.

"The Installing Master," was proposed by the second Vice-Chairman in a very felicitous manner, and the toast was enthusiastically honoured.

R. W. Bro. R. E. Wood's reply was made in a few well chosen words, characterized by a sense of the pleasure it afforded him in being able to discharge the important duties allotted to him. He thanked the brethren for the heartiness with which the toast was drank.

A number of songs was pleasingly interspersed, with volunteer toasts which followed, in which Bros. Rossel, R. B. Roger, H. C. Winch, W. Stocker and others were called upon to respond.

Then came the Junior Warden's toast, followed by "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the Queen," and the usual fraternal parting, which closed one of the most enjoyable meetings "on the Square" ever held.

MR. JOS. FORSTER REMEMBERED.

Presented With a Complimentary Address on Nomination Day.

A pleasing incident of the nomination proceedings in North Monaghan was the formal recognition of the services of Mr. Joseph Forster as reeve of the township, he being a candidate for a seat in the council under the new County Councils' Act. The following address was presented amidst much enthusiasm:

Joseph Forster, Esq., Reeve of North Monaghan:

We, your fellow members and officers of the municipal council of the township of North Monaghan, having heard of your intentions to sever your connections with the local council, feel that we cannot allow this opportunity to pass without expressing to a slight degree our deep appreciation of the many years of faithful and efficient services you have rendered both as a councillor and as reeve of this municipality.

We are sorry to lose that generous, impartial and business like judgment with which you conducted the affairs of the township.

We feel sure that we express the sentiments of the whole municipality when we say we sincerely regret this loss.

However, we trust that your long experience and ability as a county councillor will secure your election as our representative to the county council of 1897-98, so that you may continue to exercise that same satisfactory conduct of the affairs of the county, and so represent the township in the future as in the past.

We extend to you and your family the season's greeting and wish that you may long be spared to exhibit that sympathy and charity for which you have been so highly esteemed in your intercourse with your neighbours and the entire community.

We have the honour to be your sincere well wishers.

Ladies Don't Smoke,

but they have a tender regard for some fellahs that do. The great festival of Christmas will soon be here, and between now and then people will naturally think of buying presents for their friends. Mr. Chas. LeGros, the live George street tobacco and cigar dealer, realizing that money is very scarce, has put everything in the line of cigars and pipes down to cost, and when he says cost, he means business. LeGros is a hustler, and likes to give his customers a benefit at Christmas times. He imports all his goods direct, and saves the wholesalers' profit. A few of the snaps which he offers are to be seen in his window. He has the finest lot of pipes in Canada, all of B.B.B. manufacture. In cigars, his imported cigars are of the finest, and this is proved by the testimony of the best people of the town who smoke them. Ladies who know the weakness that their gentlemen friends have for a good cigar or a meerschaum pipe, a swell mouthpiece or a handy tobacco pouch can take a hint and have a quiet talk with Charley on the subject. Call and see him and you will be astonished at the prices and quality of his pipes, cigars and smokers' sundries. ALIVE C. LeGROS, 330 George street. tf

MR. CAHILL DECLINES.

To the Editor of the Examiner

DEAR SIR.—Please allow me space in your valuable columns to say that I shall not be a candidate at the approaching elections. I wish to thank very sincerely the gentlemen who were good enough to propose and second my nomination and others who have offered me their support. It is now some 23 years since Mr. Sproule did me the honour of nominating me for a seat at the council board. Since then he and Mr. Williams have given me their continuous support, so that I look upon them as my municipal godfathers, and if anything would again induce me to be again a candidate it would be the knowledge of their continuous confidence which has existed for nearly a quarter of a century. I am, gentlemen,

Your grateful and very obedient servant,
THOS. CAHILL.

CURLIANA.

The Thistles were in possession of the ice last night and two out of the three rinks were kept going all evening, the results being as follows:

W E Loch,	J S Knapman,
C Rutherford,	A Slade,
J Stanger,	D Bellegham,
S Ray, skip.....16	G Brown, skip.....18
O Shortly,	R Kerr,
Alf Terrill,	J Ames,
A McNeil,	T Rutherford,
Judge Weller, skip.17	Jno McClelland, sk...21

The curlers, says the Bobcaygeon Independent, are getting down to active work, the skips have been appointed and the rinks chosen. Messrs. A. E. Bottom and W. J. Read will lead the valiant forces to victory in foreign contests, while the home skips are Messrs. W. T. C. Boyd, R. Ventress, J. T. Robinson, and the two foreign skips. It is the fixed determination of the club to capture everything in sight this year, from the Ontario Tankard down.

HOCKEY.

Every night a score or more hockeyists are at the rink getting into shape for the winter matches. That the senior team will be fast goes without saying, and apparently the intermediate and junior sevens will be hard nuts to crack. If assiduous practice will fit the boys to win the three championships they will most assuredly do it, as they are to be commended for their regular attendance at the rink every night.

Arrangements are being made for a trip to New York by Manager Hopkins and about a dozen of the boys will be taken along. A number of games will be played en route and four will take place in New York and Brooklyn. As several of the senior men will find it impossible to get away there will be a number of openings on the team for the juniors.

The hockey season was opened in Millbrook on Xmas Eve, when the home team defeated the II Ontarios of Port Hope by a score of 3 to 0. The teams lined up as follows:

Port Hope.		Millbrook.

TO THE RATEPAYERS OF WARD NO. 2

PETERBOROUGH, Dec. 29th, 1896.

Having been requested by a large number of influential ratepayers to allow myself to be nominated as a candidate for the councillorship, and believing that personal considerations should, if at all possible, be subordinated to public good, I respectfully solicit the votes of the ratepayers of No. 2 Ward. The very heavy demands of my business, (always abnormally large at this season of the year), will in a measure prevent my making a personal canvas, but if elected, I shall use every legitimate effort to further the interests of the town of Peterborough, and while endeavouring, as far as in my power lies, to oppose all useless expenditure, I shall as earnestly support every measure that may tend to build up the prosperity of the town, with which my interests are so closely connected.

I am, yours respectfully,
6d151 R. NEILL.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 3.

PETERBOROUGH, Dec. 29th, 1896.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—As you are doubtless aware by the newspapers, I have accepted nomination as candidate for Councillor for No. 3 Ward. In respectfully soliciting your vote and influence, I consider the position I seek of so great importance, that I should state my position, in definite form, upon some of the leading questions that should engage the attention of a representative in the council of Peterborough, and I shall do so briefly.

I believe that in the interests of the town, as well as those of the great bulk of the ratepayers, our taxes should be collected in two instalments. I would be in favour of so changing the system of assessment as to permit of the first instalment being collected early in the autumn and not later than the first of October, and the second instalment on or about the first of February following.

I will advocate, if elected, the system of performing, as far as practicable, all works required by the town by contract, based upon public tender, and that it be made a provision of every such contract that labouring men should be paid not less than $1.25 per day of nine hours. This seems to me to be only a measure of fair play, when we consider that no man can keep a family in comfort on less wages, especially in view of the fact, as a rule, not being in any way constant during the year.

I believe that the agreement with the Street Railway Company should be carried out, especially in respect of providing better street car facilities for the western portion of the town by extending the line so as to give readier access to the beautiful resort in the western part of the town—Jackson Park—and a corresponding benefit to the residents of the west, to enable them to reach George street more conveniently.

I shall feel it my duty, if honoured with a seat in the council, to employ every reasonable means to add to our already extensive list of large and important manufacturing industries. But while I am in favour of offering reasonable inducements, I shall oppose every proposition of granting large and burdensome bonuses. We have in our own Ward a sample industry that has grown to a position ranking with the best in Canada, unaided by monetary favours and relying solely on perserverance and well directed enterprise.

I believe that it will be the best economy in the end to adopt the practice of looking to permanency in the construction of our streets and bridges, as it must be apparent to all that in the past a large proportion of the large annual expenditure on our streets has been wasted by makeshift construction, necessitating constant repairs, and, of course, unsatisfactory results. At the same time the streets would be kept in a condition that would reduce to a minimum the danger of accident, for which the town would be responsible, and saving a large expenditure in lawsuits and for damages, besides causing inconvenience and suffering to ratepayers who have paid their taxes in good faith.

While it may be in the interests of the country at large that party government should be the rule, I believe that only evil can result from introducing party politics into the management of municipal affairs.

As it will be impossible between this and the day of polling for me to call personally upon every ratepayer in the ward, I trust that if I find it impossible to call upon you that you will see your way clear to giving me your vote and support, upon my assurance that in addition to what I have stated above, I shall, if elected, make the interest of the town my first study, and that I shall oppose everything that will not tend to the promotion of the interests of this ward, and the town at large.

Wishing you the compliments of the season, I have the honour to remain

Your Obedient Servant,
J. B. McWILLIAMS.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD NO. 1.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—At the request of numerous ratepayers of Ward No. 1, to become a candidate for councillor, for 1897, I have decided to do so, and respectfully solicit your vote and influence. Should you elect me for the position I will use my best judgment in all matters that may come before the council, but more especially in the interests of economy and retrenchment in public affairs. I will endeavour to explain my views personally to as many of the electors as possible before election day.

Yours respectfully,
THOMAS J. MOORE.

Yours Respectfully,

Possibly I may not be able to see you before the election day to personally solicit your vote, and state my intentions, but you can rest assured, that if elected by your kind support, I shall do all in my power, and in as economical manner as possible, to press forward the interests of Peterborough so as to make it one of the most important centres of business and manufacturing life in the Province of Ontario.

Hoping to be favoured with your hearty support, and wishing you the compliments of the season, I am,

BABY'S COMING.

Nature intended that every woman should look forward to the coming of her baby with joy and hope, unclouded by anxiety. Almost painless parturition is quite the usual thing among uncivilized people. Even in our own country it occasionally happens with women in robust health and good condition. It ought to be the rule instead of the exception; and it is a fact that a very large proportion of the usual pain and suffering may be avoided by looking after the mother's general health, and specially strengthening the particular organs concerned in parturition.

Many mothers have been brought through the trying time almost painlessly by the aid of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It prepares the system for delivery by imparting the organic strength and elasticity which the mother specially needs; shortens the time of labor and of confinement; promotes the secretion of abundant nourishment for the child and fortifies the entire constitution against the after period of depression and weakness. It's use should begin in the early months of gestation—the earlier the better.

Mrs. FRED HUNT, of Glenville, Schenectady Co., N. Y., says: "I read about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription being so good for a woman with child, so I got two bottles last September, and December 13th, I had a twelve-pound baby girl. When I was confined I was not sick in any way. I did not suffer any pain, and when the child was born I walked into another room and went to bed. I never had an after-pain or any other pain. This is the eighth child and the largest of them all. I suffered everything that flesh could suffer with the other babies. I always had a doctor and then he could not help me very much, but this time my mother and my husband were alone with me. My baby was only seven days old when I got up and dressed and left my room and stayed up all day."

Mrs Fred Hunt

MESSNER WAS A POO-BAH,

Postmaster, Storekeeper, Banker and Magistrate and He Failed for $100,000.

Walkerton, Ont., Dec. 26.—(Special.)—One of the most sensational business failures that ever occurred in this country took place in the village of Formosa during the past week. For over thirty-five years Mr. Francis Xavier Messner has been king of the village. Rich, pious, benevolent, kind-hearted, clever and industrious, Mr. Messner was held in universal esteem and trusted with unbounded confidence. His house was never without one or more orphan children, whom he reared and started comfortably in life. His hand was always open to the calls of charity. He contributed generously to the church and gave lavishly to charitable institutions all over Canada.

The announcement, therefore, that he had been compelled to assign fairly stunned the community. And well it might, for he was the trusted custodian of everybody's money. Formosa is a German village, situated in the midst of a rich and prosperous farming community. It possesses one of the finest Roman Catholic churches in Canada, and all the people in the village and country around are of the same faith. For the most part they are German Alsatians by birth or parentage. They are models of industry, sobriety and piety. Every morning of their lives the whole village and country around before beginning the labors of the day attend religious service in the church. The place is in fact like a slice of mediaeval Europe transplanted to Canada, and looking strangely out of harmony with the modern surroundings of the nineteenth century.

Mr. Messner was the storekeeper, postmaster, magistrate and banker of these people. Everybody placed their money in his hands for safe keeping. Instead of taking their savings to the bank they took them to Mr. Messner. In this way he handled vast sums during his career, and at the time of his failure was liable for nearly a hundred thousand in solid cash.

He owes little or nothing to the wholesale men, his liabilities being entirely to the villagers and farmers around him for moneys entrusted to his hands for safety and investment. There are about three hundred creditors, many of whom are old people, several are poor widows and a number are orphan children. To a large number of these the failure will bring great distress.

Mr. Messner has life insurance policies for sixty thousand dollars, but his other assets are comparatively trifling. He lost largely in Manitoba some years ago and of late years by disastrous fire and bad investments. With the hard times came collapse, and now the king's reign is over.

BLOODSHED IN GEORGIA.

The Arrest of a Negro at Macon Aroused the Whole Population of Blacks —Merchant Shot Dead.

Macon, Ga., Dec. 26.—A special from Hahira, Ga., says: The marshal at this place arrested a negro last night, which enraged the entire black population. Negroes gathered about the scene to rescue their comrade from the officers. Armed with guns, pistols and rifles, they threatened to wipe out the whites. A scuffle ensued, in which the marshal and several whites were injured. Assistance was asked from neighboring towns, and soon the disturbance was quieted by arresting a carload of black leaders and carrying them to Valdos County Jail.

A special from Valdosta says: A terrible tragedy occurred to-day at Sparks, 20 miles below here, in the killing of J. Z. Millott, a prominent merchant and cotton broker, by James Chambers, also well known. The town marshal was attempting to arrest a drunken man, when Chambers took the part of the disorderly person. Millott stepped out to prevent bodily harm being done the marshal, when Chambers drew his pistol and shot Millott down, from the effects of which he died.

A FRACAS IN COURT.

Dreyfus Was Bound to Have Mrs Marcus' Heart's Blood—He Was Overpowered.

New York, Dec. 24.—J. Sam Dreyfus, 24 years old, attempted to shoot Mrs. Caroline Marcus in Yorkville Police Court this afternoon. Dreyfus was prevented from shooting the woman by Roundsman Griffin. There was great excitement in the court and a rush for the doors, but nobody was hurt.

Mrs. Marcus was complainant against Dreyfus, whom she charged with assaulting her in a butcher shop on First-Avenue, on Dec. 14. The woman was testifying before Magistrate Wentworth this afternoon in Dreyfus' preliminary examination. She said that Dreyfus, who is a meat cutter in the butcher shop, hurled a bone at her, striking her in the face. Dreyfus' face hardened at this, and putting his hand to his pocket he drew a revolver and aimed it at Mrs. Marcus' head.

"You common woman, this will settle you," he exclaimed in a fury.

Roundsman Griffin was standing close beside Dreyfus, and he quickly clutched the revolver, his fingers tightly clasping over the hammer so that Dreyfus could not pull the trigger. The officer threw Dreyfus' hand upward, and all the other court officials rushed upon the prisoner and overpowered him. Even the magistrate took a hand in the melee. Dreyfus was standing against his desk on "the platform" when arrested, and Magistrate Wentworth reached across the desk and clutched Dreyfus by the throat and hung on until Griffin had wrested the revolver from his hand.

When the officers searched Dreyfus they found under his white shirt a knife, two-edged, and a razor. Dreyfus was held under $2000 bail for trial.

During his examination Dreyfus said to the Magistrate: "By —— I'll swear, Your Honor, that just as soon as I get out of prison, if it's ten years from now, I'll have that woman's heart's blood. When I am placed on trial I will tell the jury about the two men that this woman lives with at the Irving Hotel."

On hearing this Mrs. Marcus screamed again, and began tearing her hair. She was removed from the court room by officers again, and Dreyfus was taken down to the Yorkville prison.

Dreyfus said later: "My father, Isaac Dreyfus, secured a job for Mrs. Marcus' husband some time ago in the United Dressed Beef Co. at 44th-street and First-avenue. A short time afterwards her husband was caught stealing meat, and my father appeared against him. He was sentenced to three months in the penitentiary. My father has been on intimate terms with her for the past ten years. She said she knew she could not do anything with my father for sending her husband away, and she would get square on me. On Dec. 14 she came into the shop where I worked, picked up a cleaver and was about to hit me with it. I warded it off and struck her in the face with my fist. Nothing more was done till I got a summons Thursday evening to appear in court to-day. In the meantime I bought this 38-calibre British Bull-dog to be prepared for her. I bought the knife thinking I might get close enough to her to use it if the pistol was taken away from me."

Mrs. Marcus is a stocky woman of 35 years. She has dark hair and is fairly attractive. She was dressed in a brown skirt and waist with a heavy cloak. Her face and eyes were swollen and discolored, and she said that it was the result of the attack upon her by Dreyfus. She says she has two children and that she had been ill since the assault, which was why the complaint had been postponed so long. She refused to say anything more.

Dreyfus is a short, well-built man, with dark and smooth shaven face. He was dressed in a neat business suit.

A STAGGERING WOMAN.

Mrs. Theophile Le Blanc Arrested on the Street in New York on Intoxication.

New York, Dec. 26.—Mrs. Theophile Leblanc, 45 years old, of No. 318 East Thirty-Third-street, was arraigned before Magistrate Kudlich in Jefferson Market Court this morning charged with intoxication. She is the widow of the late Theophile Leblanc of Montreal, who died of starvation in Bellevue Hospital some time ago. Policeman Bowes of the West Thirtieth Station found her staggering along Fifth-avenue near Thirty-Third-street yesterday afternoon, accompanied by a man whose gait was not that of a sober man. The policeman found that the man had been taken out to dinner by her and that she had paid the bill. He had pocketed the change, 90c, and her keys. He said that he was taking her home. The woman seemed much out of place in the line of prisoners, her mourning weeds giving her an appearance of refinement that aroused sympathy. She was discharged.

Mrs. Leblanc was seen at her rooms this afternoon. The man who was with her last night was also there. He said that he and Mrs. Leblanc had dined last night at Moupulin's and both had drunk considerable. They went up Sixth-avenue to take a car at Thirty-Fourth-street. Near the corner of Thirty-Third-street and Sixth-avenue Mrs. Leblanc became excited and asked the policeman to protect her. She said that the man who had been to dinner with her had taken her change and also had the keys of her home. At the station house the man was forced to give them up. The woman was so intoxicated she was locked up. Mrs. Leblanc's case when her husband was starving excited much pity at the time, and many kindly disposed persons sent her money. It will be remembered that the aged architect went without food for days that she might have her wants gratified.

KENTUCKY'S CRIME LIST.

Seven Lynchings in a Week, Supplemented by About a Dozen Other Shooting and Stabbing Affrays.

Louisville, Dec. 23.—Kentucky's crime list this week is long and bloody. In addition to the seven lynchings for the week, the past 48 hours have been enlivened with the following deeds of violence.

On the Big Elkhorn, near the Virginia line, Tom Edelson stabbed Bud Stein to death.

Charles B. Walt, a prominent white man, killed Harry Foster, colored, at a dance in Boone County.

Last night a man was murdered in a Christmas row in a logging camp near Pineville.

At a frolic in Breathitt County four men were cut and one named Riley was mortally wounded.

Tollgate raiders celebrated Christmas by chopping down the gate near Mortensville, in Woodford County, the second time this gate has been destroyed.

Bill Morrow amused himself by shooting candles off the Christmas tree at Kavanaugh Chapel in Lawrence County, and when George Pack remonstrated, Morrow shot him in the abdomen and escaped on horseback.

Joe Robertson ejected John and George Rexrot from a Christmas tree celebration at Columbia, and they returned and shot him in the abdomen, inflicting probably fatal wounds.

THEY WORKED WONDERS.

Two Years of Bladder Torment—Had Attacks of Inflammation—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Owen Sound, Dec. 28.—(Special)—The people of this town are talking again of another cure credited to Dodd's Kidney Pills. This is the case of Mr. W. Cruse, caretaker of the town buildings, who, when seen, had this to say of the matter:

'For over two years I have been an intense sufferer from kidney disease, with occasional acute attacks of inflammation of the bladder.

"Was under doctors' treatment and have been compelled to resort to instrumental relief many times.

"I have taken eighteen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am satisfied with results, being perfectly relieved of all suffering."

TURNING GRAY
AND THREATENED
WITH BALDNESS

The Danger is Averted by Using

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

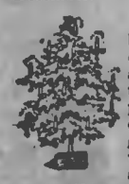
CHRISTMASANA.

JUNIUS HENRI BROWNE'S PHILOSOPHIC REFLECTIONS.

A Day That Is Not Only Revered by All Creedsmen, but by Rationalists and Even by Infidels—Originally a Pagan Festival, Now a Universal Holiday.

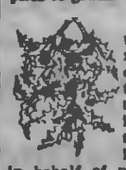
[Copyright, 1896, by the Author.]

Although Christmas is now universally regarded as the anniversary of the birth of Jesus Christ, although during the fourth century a rigorous examination was made by the theologians of the east and west as to the exact time of his nativity and Dec. 25 finally agreed upon, it seems almost certain that that is not the day. As that is the acme of the rainy season in Judea, it is not in the least likely that shepherds would then be watching their flocks on the plains at night, when, as is recorded, they saw the star of Bethlehem rise in the east to guide them to the sacred manger. Some of the earlier churches celebrated the divine event in January, some in May, others in June, and any one of those periods would have been more probable than is December.



The time of fixing the religious festival was not chosen, however, without ample cause. Like most of the Christian holidays, it is primarily due to pagan precedent. Nearly all the pagan peoples considered the winter solstice, Dec. 21, as a momentous point of the year. Then nature began the renewal of her active powers, and the gods, who were originally but the celestial personifications of those, were supposed to revive their care of and interest in man. Consequently those peoples marked the period with festivities and celebrations of many sorts. And when Christianity arose the old heathen spirit was transferred to evangelical agencies and reproduced in evangelical rites.

The ancient Germans held their great Yule feast at the winter solstice (Yule is still a synonym of Christmas) to solemnize the return of the fiery sun wheel—the sun is styled in the Edda the shining wheel—as a part of their nature worship. This worship survived in Europe until 50 or 60 years ago. The inhabitants of some of the villages on the Moselle were long in the habit on St. John's eve of carrying a big wheel wrapped in straw to the top of a hill, firing the straw and rolling it down. If it reached the river still ablaze, they regarded it as a good omen, evidence of a fine vintage. The greenery with which we still ornament our homes and churches at this season and the gifts we hang on Christmas trees are probably relics of the symbols with which our rude ancestors expressed their faith in the power of the returning sun to clothe the earth with greenness and so produce new crops of fruit. And the frumenty (made of hulled wheat, boiled in milk and seasoned), still eaten in parts of Great Britain, and in some of our southern states, at Christmas time, would seem to be a tradition of the offerings paid to Hulda or Bertha, the embodiment of fertility in the Teutonic mythology, to whom the Germans looked for fresh supplies of grain.



Many of the beliefs and usages of the ancient Germans as well as of the ancient Romans concerning the Christmas period, between Dec. 25 and Jan. 6, in which those peoples thought they could trace the interference of their deities in behalf of mortals, survive to a great degree, with new interpretations, to the present time, and exercise no little influence. We think paganism was extinct ages since, and so it was in form; but its animus continually crops out in our creeds, our opinions, our modes of thought, in all our conduct. We are as men much the same now that we were in Egypt, Judea, Greece and Rome. The kernel of human nature is ever the same.

Inasmuch as Christmas, whether the date be correct or incorrect, stands for the birth of Jesus, everybody must revere the day, because everybody reveres him. A great many men who do not at all believe in his divinity believe in his transcendent goodness, his love of humanity, his spirit of self sacrifice. They do not think that his being the Son of God would add to his merit, but would rather detract from it, because his Godship would remove him from the plane of humanity and from human sympathies. They prefer to regard him as only a man, but the very best, the noblest, the grandest of his race. All creeds, all schools, all philosophies honor him to the fullest. Even the Jews, who are charged with putting him to death and hating his memory, sincerely respect him, though they do not allow the supernatural claims made for him. It was only one of their sects, the Pharisees, who clamored for his execution. The body of the chosen people hold themselves guiltless of his blood. The educated Brahmanists, Buddhists, Mohammedans, Shintoists, Parsees, place Jesus in the front rank of mortals. The savagest iconoclast, the rankest infidel, always speaks of him with admiration. Of God there is no end of opinions; of Jesus, morally, humanly, there is but one.

Christmas is scarcely thought of now by the multitude as other than a day of recreation and pleasure. From the earliest times it was devoted to merrymaking, with which its religious observation was never allowed to interfere. It is the first and most joyous of all holidays, especially to children, whose festival it is often called. Hardly an American any more than a German child but has delightful associations with Dec. 25, the very poorest in this country receiving presents from their parents and every opportunity and encouragement for joyousness. Unfortunate indeed is the child who has not remembrances of a happy Christmas. Christmas is really blessed in what it means and brings, whatever their circumstances, to the world of children.

Dec. 25 naturally suggests, being accepted as the anniversary of the birth of Jesus, the idea of resurrection, about which the theologic no less than the nontheologic differ so widely. There is probably no other subject about which thoughtful, cultured people more radically disagree. The vulgar notion that they who reject the orthodox doctrine are materialists, atheists, persons destitute of all faith, is an egregious error. Atheist is literally far more a word than a thing. What it is supposed to represent can scarcely be found in the flesh, freely as the term is used by the orthodox toward those holding adverse views. Rationalists refuse to accept authority or dogma and wholly renounce supernaturalism. They have, however, discrepant views of the same topics often, but always eschew what they call superstition. Death they consider natural as life, as not substantially varying therefrom, as bringing neither reward nor punishment specifically, but merely a fulfillment of the cosmic relations.

Some rationalists hold that all life ends with death; others that it continues indefinitely, though without consciousness, so that it is equivalent to extinction. The larger part of the world believes that man dies numberless times, each time being newly incarnated, so that life is but a series of births and deaths through ages. Plato definitively believed and taught this, and many philosophers before and since, maintaining that with each rebirth the soul, which is indestructible, advances and ameliorates.

JUNIUS HENRI BROWNE.

A Long Trip.

From the far northwest of this country to Norway, Sweden and Denmark seems a great way to go to spend the Christmas holidays, and yet thousands of Scandinavians do it every year. They go to New York city in trainloads during the latter part of November and the first part of December, the jolliest, happiest, most contented emigrants that leave this country.

The trip across the continent is shortened by good nature and a recounting of experiences, for they are a simple folk and readily make friends and exchange confidences. They are a home loving people, and after being here for a few years and accumulating a little money they almost invariably return to Scandinavia to visit and to tell of their successes here.

Those who have gone home to visit this fall are generally men in the prime of life who have established interests here, and who will return in the spring, after two or three months of enjoyment and wonder telling among their relatives and friends. All these emigrants carry much ready money, with which they are liberal to a fault. That which they have is entirely due to their own energy. They are producers of the most valuable kind. They come here with the idea of becoming citizens and landowners, and although they retain their affection for the old home and the old life they never forget or belittle the advantages that they have received here or the allegiance that they have promised to their adopted country. A large percentage of those who are now visiting at their birthplaces will bring wives back with them.

THE BEAUTIFUL STAR.

The wise men came out of the east,
Following the beautiful star,
And the camels they rode
Were weighed down with their load
Of spices and gold from afar.

They came to Jerusalem's gate,
And a message to Herod dispatched Saying, "Tell us the news
Of the King of the Jews,
Whose wonderful birth star we've watched."

King Herod sprang up in alarm,
And the seventy summoned at morn,
And demanded of them.
"O King, Bethlehem,"
They replied, "is where Christ shall be born."

So the wise men to Bethlehem came,
Still following the beautiful star,
And they laid at the feet
Of the Christ Child so sweet
Their spices and gold from afar.

Then they rev'rently worshiped him there,
Though a rude manger cradled the boy,
And gave thanks to the Lord
For fulfilling his word,
And returned to their country with joy.

And the low bending heavens rang out,
While the thrilling, seraphic refrain
Filled the earth like a flood—
"Glory be unto God,
And on earth peace, good will unto men!"

MENTAL ACTIVITY IS MARVELOUS

Plans Opened for the Canadian Building at Bisley—Death in San Francisco of Mr. James Johnson—The Coming Postal Union Convention—Other Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Dec. 28.—(Special.)—Sir James Grant, Ottawa's famous physician and orator, was honored by being presented to the Queen on his recent visit to Great Britain. His views, therefore, as to Her Majesty's health will be received with some satisfaction at this time. Speaking to-day he said: "The statements made in the correspondence of the New York papers have little or no foundation. Her Majesty doubtless is experiencing in a moderate degree the usual disability for active movement seen in age and in very many individuals of a younger age than the Queen. She drives out regularly every day with her usual attendants, and enjoys the mountain air of her residence at Balmoral. Her mental activity appears to be marvelously acute, and she seems to take in thoroughly almost everything connected with her vast empire and its people. There is no appearance whatever of infirmity, and the present prospects are that her subjects will enjoy for some years to come the great pleasure and gratification of having Her Majesty at their head."

The plans for the Canadian building at Bisley have been opened. They come from architects in Montreal, Hamilton, Halifax and Quebec. Many are of great merit, showing buildings of a very pretentious character, but it is questionable whether any single one can be constructed for the sum fixed by the council of the D.R.A., viz.: $7500. The idea of the association was to get a building typical of Canada and constructed almost entirely of Canadian material, but it is probable there will be some disappointment on this score. The plans will be judged at a meeting to be held in a few days.

Word has been received in the city of the death in San Francisco of Mr. James Johnson, late Commissioner of Customs, at the ripe old age of 79 years. The late Mr. Johnson was a native of New Brunswick, where he filled many important offices prior to coming to Ottawa. Among them were those of Accountant of Construction of the European and North American Railway, Chief Clerk of the Provincial Office of Audit and Auditor-General of New Brunswick, and Assistant Provincial Secretary and Registrar of Record. He was also at one time Mayor of Moncton. In November, 1867, he was appointed Assistant Commissioner of Customs at Ottawa, and in 1874 appointed Commissioner, which position he held till about five years ago, when he was superannuated. About three years ago he removed to California with his two daughters for the benefit of his health. Mr. E. V. Johnson of the Department of Railways and Canals is his son. The late Mr. Johnson spent a blameless life, and was much respected and loved for his many Christian qualities.

The Postal Union Convention is to be held at Washington during the coming year, and great preparations are already being made for the reception of delegates. The convention is to last a month, and the program of business to be taken up has arrived at the post-office here in the form of several large volumes. They naturally cover a variety of suggestions, none of them likely to materially alter the system that has been found to work so well. The Postal Union now extends practically over the entire globe, embracing almost every civilized country. From the continental countries of Europe come many new ideas as to registration. It is expected Hon. William Mulock and Colonel White, Deputy Postmaster-General, will be the Canadian delegates.

The Journal discredits the Victoria despatch stating that Senator McInnes is to be Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia. No matter what Mr. McInnes' intentions may be, he has certainly the refusal of the position.

Not many applications have yet been received from parties in Ottawa anxious to appear before the Tariff Commission next Monday.

for 1897. It's the duty and privilege of the ratepayers to elect the best men for the position, so that the best interests of our town may be safe-guarded.

LET THE BEST WIN!

As in elections, so in business. Let the best win! Because you voted a certain way last year that's no reason why you should vote the same way this year. Because you have been wearing some other make of Clothing this year, that's no reason why you should pass the best Cutter and Tailor in town now. To be a candidate in one of Pete Simons Suits or Overcoats goes a long way towards winning your election or electing your man.

It don't look very well to go round canvassing or shouting for your man in a shivering cold day with a badly battered outfit, and your Boy, too, aching for warm winter Clothing. Let us have your vote and influence.
